All indications point to a late opening of lake navigation in this season. Not only because the severe winter will in all likelihood keep the Straits of Mackinac closed by ice much longer than usual, but also because vessel owners, particularly of the large fleets, such as the Pittsburg Steamship Company, which operates the vessel fleet of the United States Steel Corporation, are bent on a thorough overhauling with labor before the season's work is commenced.

A Chicago commission man who is in the Southwest wired, Monday, from Oklahoma City: "Arkansas and Oklahoma extensive parts of territory has plenty of moisture, but when you reach the Wheat belt it is very dry. Farmers and merchants talk discouragingly. Wheat very small and not stooling properly. While rains yet could do much good, but every day endangers crop. The Government estimate April 1 must be very low. Weather clear and cool."

Thomas Fortune Ryan, president of the Manhattan Trust Company, has been elected the third member of the committee which was appointed by the boudholders of the Pere Marquette Railway Company to consider ways and means for the raising of $1,400,000 additional capital needed by the company to pay off the floating debt, complete the plant, and provide working capital. Mr. Ryan succeeds Mr. Depew, who represents a New York interest on the $500,000 of the bonds of the Fore River Company.

Bernhusch's Buda Pesth correspondent, writing under date of March 12, says: "Plans of Dealers and consumers being overbought, the market has this week been quite lifeless; even second-hand holders do not make progress, notwithstanding their extremely low offers. Country this week closes with a weak and depressed tone. Deliveries on old contracts have been irregular, some mills refusing to receive, others complaining of a great shrinkage. Feeding stuffs are quiet in the absence of stock."

Professor Hicks' annual weather predictions for the year 1903 say: "The Easter Sunday rains will cause severe squalls and probably killing frosts in early April. Very general and severe storms will probably later part of this month. May promises few beneficial rains. There will be severe storms of the present season. Rains in central part of June will be sufficient for a time, but many localities in the north will need more; drought will be felt over much of the Western Grain belt before the season ends."

A Dupont International Powder Interest says: "Of the total of 160,000 shares of International company common stock, 100,000 shares have already been exchanged, so that the Dupont International owns all but about 20,000 shares. The quarterly dividend declared by the International Smokeless Powder Company of three-fourths of 1 per cent puts the Dupont funds in the treasury of the International Powder Company for the payment of the first quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on its preferred stock in April."

The final report of the census bureau on Cotton ginning, showing the total Cotton production for 1902, gives it as the following: 10,140,478 running bales, including linters, 10,399,858, against 11,275,105 for 1902. The distribution of the crop, exclusive of linters, in the United States is as follows: 10,305,-073 commercial bales, 10,338,972 equivalent 500 pound bales, and 25,393 sea island bales. The total crop reduced to a common basis as to size of bales is an equivalent of 9,861,191 bales of 500 lbs. as against 10,630,915 bales of 500 lbs in 1902.

The Commercial Trust Company, Indianapolis, Ind., closed its doors, Monday, in anticipation of a writ from the Marion Superior Court by the State Auditor for the appointment of a receiver. The president of the company said that his company would be able to pay the depositors 100 per cent, but that the stockholders would suffer losses. The company has nearly 2,000 depositors, nearly five or six having more than $500 00. The company has $1,000,000 paid up capital stock. Judge Carter appointed the Union Trust Company receiver.

President Thomas of the Lehigh Valley is quoted as saying in reference to the discussion of dividends this summer, that the matter has not come before the board in any way. The earnings to March are about $3,400,000 ahead of the charges but it is doubtful whether for the remaining months the road can be earned anything like the $2,000,000 realized last year. The disposition of about 2,000,000 tons of Coal will be accumulated for Western consumption and it takes considerable capital to dispose of coal sold and not paid for.

One of the stockholders and former managers of the Hecla Portland Cement and Coal Company has filed a sensational bill in the United States Circuit Court, Chicago, praying for a change of receiver. The bill alleges all sorts of improper acts on the part of directors. It states that they have been careful in the expenditure of $600,000, and wants that amount returned to the treasury. It asks to have the Detroit Trust Company removed as receiver on the ground that it is an interested party. The Hecla Cement Company's buildings represent $2,800,000 of investment.

With Oregon Short Line participating as selling at 94¾, with control of the Short Line, it is interesting to remember that the underwriting syndicate that underwrote the $10,000,000 of Union Pacific 5 percent notes at 93½ retains an option on $12,500,000 of these Oregon bonds at 92½ and interest. There is a rather handsome arbitrage in the carrying of this option under present market conditions. Since the right to purchase the bonds does not go to the buyer of the notes, but remains in the hands of the "original subscribers," there is no opportunity to obtain an equity in this arbitrage.

The Montreal Trade Bulletin says, "There is still a demand for Potatoes in this market for the United States, and a number of cars have been purchased here within the past few days for New York at 65c, the duty on which is 25c per bu going into the States. American buyers have also been operating in the country on the same trading basis of prices paid here. Sales of car lots within the past few days have transpired at 65c to 68c and 70c on cars at country points. It is thought that a considerable quantity of our Potatoes will be wanted for shipment across the border."

The Wheat situation in Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest, March 1, as summarized, shows small reserves, as follows:

Total yield	50,280,974

In store at country points	12,000,000
In transit, not inspected	129,000
Total marketed	38,200,000
Allow for seed	7,800,000

	17,500,000

The directors of the Detroit United Railway made the quarterly dividend of 1 per cent on the common stock, recently declared, payable May 1, instead of April 1. It is understood that for more than a year past the active officers of the company have been urging the board of directors to change the dates of the payment of the dividend from January, April, July and October to other months, so that it would not fall due on the same date that the coupon interest is due. The board of directors has postponed action on this matter until the present time, when they decided to make the change.

The receiver of the Tennessee Oil, Gas and Mineral Development Company, filed in the Court of Chancery at Trenton, N. J., Monday, a bill of complaint against William A. Dunn and other directors of the company, asking that they be required to give testimony concerning the true value of the company's property. The receiver claims he has been unable to find any property representing anything like the value of $1,000,000 worth of stock issued. He further charges that the lands acquired by the company have not been productive, and that the company was organized purely for speculation.

A dispatch from Kansas City says: "The option on the Kansas City plant of the Dold Packing Company was secured by the projectors of the independent packing organization ten days ago, and not six days, as reported. The treasurer of the combination said, Friday: 'It has not as yet been decided whether the deal for the lease on the Dold plant will be closed. Not until $600,000 has been subscribed, however, will the deal for the Dold plant be consummated. A meeting of stockmen of the Southwest is to be held at Dodge City, Kan., on March 30, when evidence is to be taken as to the desired amount will be made.'"

A Denver dispatch says: "That the Stockmen of the West, backed by the National Live Stock Association, propose to carry on their project of establishing an independent packing plant in which the Beef trust is evidenced by the option that has been taken upon the packing plant of Jacob Dold of Kansas City, Kan. The option was taken by one of Vice-President L. F. Wilson and Treasurer F. W. Plato of the organization. The option carries with it a lease for ten years on the property. The Dold packing house has always been one of the strongest competitors of the trust. Its capacity is sufficient to kill 2,000 head of Cattle, 4,000 Hogs, and as many Sheep daily."

The Chicago Inter Ocean says: "The agreement of the Western railroads not to give return passes to shippers of Live Stock has proved a failure. Within a few days, by their executive officers, pledged themselves not to issue any free transportation because of the return trip of shippers of Live Stock after Jan. 1. It has been ascertained that some of the roads have never stopped the practice. During the past week detectives have been placed at many watchmen at the gates of certain depots have passed without question persons holding passes issued on account of shipments of Live Stock. The laws of Missouri and rulings of the railroad commission require the railways to furnish free return trans-portation to persons who have accompanied shipments of Live Stock to market. It is expected the railroads found guilty of violating the agreement will make the excuse that they had to do so in order to comply with the law."

Assurances have been given the Quaker Oats Company would abandon its Chicago plant, the president is quoted as saying: "The Quaker Oats Company has no intention of abandoning its Sixteenth Street plant. The report is wholly untrue that the company intends locating at Battle Creek, Mich. The Chicago plants have never been used for much more than experiments. During the last few years the Company has developed several foods known as 'Zest' and 'Appetizo,' and the popularity of the new brands has made it necessary to provide ample facilities for manufacturing them. Such have been provided in Chicago. The company simply has made temporary arrangements there, and plants may be built later. The new plants will, of course, reduce the working forces now employed in the Chicago plants until further experimental work is taken up. The new brands of goods mentioned have a large sale in the New England States, and the Battle Creek location is a splendid field for experienced labor on cereal products, and also is nearer to the largest market for the new goods."

It is authoritatively stated that the International Salt Company has made an offer to the minority stockholders of the National Salt Company to receive $3 00 in cash on deposit under the original reorganization plan with an assessment of $1 05 a share now and $2 00 a share on demand, as reported. It is said that the proposition is that recently made by the majority of the preferred stockholders' committee, who offers to act as depositary for the holders of the common stock on the following terms: They will deposit their certificates at once with the Central Trust Company of New York company, receiving therefor a negotiable receipt, and also pay at the time of deposit $1 00 per share on account of the proportion of the expenses, no further payment to be required unless each share of common stock deposited be made to have a value of over $10 per share, but Mr. Terry to have the privilege of assessing each share of money or value in the amount of $10 per share or over, or exchanging each share of common stock for other securities, bonds, stock or both—of the market value of $10 per share, or which the depositor and Mr. Terry shall agree are worth $10 or over. Any sum or value in securities received above $10 per share or any amount which said stock may be worth over $10 per share shall be divided equally between the depositor and Mr. Terry. The agreement may be terminated by any depositor at any time, on the deposited stock receiving without payment by the depositor of $2 00 for each share of stock withdrawn.

Decreases—Legal Tenders, $201,600; Circulation, $56,000. Banks hold $27,755,050 in excess of legal requirements.

Orange Judd Farmer makes condition of Wheat a fraction above 80—rather better than early reports indicated. Condition low in Ohio Valley—Ohio, 69; Kentucky, 69; Tennessee, 68; Indiana, 72; Illinois, 83; Missouri, 81; Kansas, 80; Oklahoma, bad; Pacific Coast, high. Present condition only a little below ten years' average.

The Modern Miller says: "Since the freezing weather early in the week conditions have favored the Winter Wheat crop, which has made seasonable advancement. In Oklahoma, where rainfall has been the least, advices indicate a satisfactory outlook. Elsewhere the crop appears to be in promising condition. In the more Southern sections the plant is growing nicely and a marked improvement is noted."

Export clearances for the past week from Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport News, New Orleans, and Galveston included 162,000 brls of Flour and 202,000 bu Wheat, against 139,000 brls of Flour and 371,000 bu of Wheat the preceding week, an increase of 23,000 brls of Flour and a decrease of 169,000 bu of Wheat. For the corresponding week last year the exports were 292,000 brls of Flour and 890,000 bu of Wheat.

REVIEW OF TO-DAY'S MARKETS.

FLOUR—The demand is slow and market quiet and steady as quoted on second page.

WINTER WHEAT—Ruled firm. Demand good on milling account. Receipts small and fresh arrivals taken up readily and a lot of 10,000 bu low grade sold. No. 3 Hard local sold at 87c and ranged at 85@96c. No. 4 Hard sold at 86c.

SPRING WHEAT—In good demand on milling and on shipping account. Market steady and choice Wheat was held rather firmly. No. 1 Northern sold to the extent of 115,000 bu at ½c over May, and ranged at 91¼@96⅞c and fresh arrivals free on board quotable at 92c@$1 01. No. 2 Northern fresh arrivals free on board ranged at 95c@$1 00. No. 3 Spring fresh arrivals quotable at 88c@$1 00 for ordinary to fancy hard variety. No. 4 Spring sold at 72@83c and ranged at 65@93c for poor to very choice.

REGULAR WHEAT—The trade was mainly local and professional and the feeling a little unsettled. Closing prices showed May ⅝c higher, while July gained ⅛@¼c and the September ¼c better. Crop news was generally more favorable, but the strength in coarse Grains and Provisions tended to stimulate values early in the session. Locals were the principal buyers at the start, but many sold later on. Argentine shipped 3,232,000 bu. Modern Miller and Orange Judd Farmer reports were construed as "bearish" and Government weather crop bulletin noted improvement in the Wheat condition, as also does the Illinois State report. Argentine visible was reported 4,784,000 bu, or 1,104,000 bu larger than in 1903. Southwestern receipts were small, and total cars in the Northwest for the week 1,663 cars, against 1,957 cars last week and 1,663 cars one year ago. Local weekly receipts were 158,000 bu and shipments 303,000 bu. The English visible decreased 446,000 bu, against 413,000 bu increase same week in 1903. Map showed showers through the Ohio Valley, with moderate temperatures, and fair weather indicated except possible showers for Kansas. Primary receipts this week 2,042,000 bu, last week 2,900,000 bu and year ago 2,685,000 bu. Northwestern interior elevator stocks decreased 2,407,000 bu last month. Berlin ⅛c higher; Buda Pesth 1⅜c lower. Exports were moderate, and total for the week 1,267,000 bu. Seaboard reported 3 boat loads accepted, and cash sales here 115,000 bu. A condition of 80 per cent for Winter Wheat and area of 32,000,000 acres would indicate crop of about 455,000,000 bu. Receipts at Duluth 17 cars and at Minneapolis 402 cars, a total of 419 cars, against 202 cars Thursday, 203 cars a week ago, and 332 cars last year. Local receipts included 5 cars Winter, 16 cars Spring and none mixed, a total of 21 cars, against 21 cars last year. Included in the above was 1 car of contract grade. There were 11 cars and no bu taken from unlicensed elevators. The estimated receipts for to-morrow not reported. Withdrawals were 58,200 bu. Receipts at Western points were 643,003 bu, against 411,748 bu last year. At Eastern points 63,170 bu, against 94,151 bu last year. Shipments from Western points were 567,675 bu, against 215,123 bu last year, and from Eastern points 81,232 bu, against 171,391 bu last year. Shipments of Flour were 65,141 brls. Exports of Wheat in Flour were equal to 341,701 bu.

CORN—Fairly active and stronger, the close being ½c higher for May, while July gained ½@⅝c, and the September ⅝c. Sentiment was "bullish" the fear of May congestion being the dominent influence. Commission houses and "shorts" bought and the "long" interest was credited with selling at the advance. Receipts were small, the map showed considerable rain, and the Illinois report stated Corn was spoiling in the cribs, and seed Corn was scarce. Antwerp estimated the Argentine crop one-third less than last year and Odessa cabled receipts were small and stocks light. OATS—Were active and advanced ⅜@¾c early, but reacted and closed at a gain of ⅛@¼c. There was buying early in sympathy with Corn. On the advance most of Thursday's buyers turned sellers. BARLEY—Offerings were not increased so much by the adjournment over yesterday as might have been expected. Good malting Barley was salable and steady. Choice to fancy would sell, but there was none. Unsound not cared for by maltsters and was quotably dull and weak. There was a little mixing Barley around, none of it really of best grade, and it ruled easy. A very fair business in Screenings was done, at the former range of prices, real fine steady and poor, dirty, easy. Thirty eight cars inspected in, but they did not all come on sale. Sales of Screenings were over a range of 30@39½c for poor to very choice—outside for city recleaned. Barley mixing, about 37@39c local, depending on soundness and color, nice bright, suitable for some special want, possibly shade over. Feed Barley about 38@40c to good; musty below. Malting—low grade, 40@41c; common, 42@44c; fair was about 45@47c; good, 48@52c, choice, 53@55c; fancy above.

SEEDS—No price changes particularly developed. Common grades of Timothy were easy. Outside of Timothy offerings there was little Seed on sale.

Timothy—A very fair quantity of cash Seed was sold. Some of it was Seed which had been held over and was let go at previous quotations. There was some good Seed in the offerings, also some common, but no fancy. Ordinary and common met with an indifferent demand and ruled easy. High grade Seed quotably steady and would sell very well. Sales to-day were at $2 30@2 50, with tailing down to 50c@$1 50. There was no essential change in cash prices. Country lots were quotable at $2 00@2 75 for poor to very fancy; outside would have to be extra fine, not hulled; fair to good quotable at $2 35@2 45; choice, $2 50@2 55, and rough, dark and foul lots about $2 25@2 35. Such lots as usually come to market when ordinary to good quotable at $8 50@9 50.

Other Seeds—Some German Millet of rather ordinary quality was all that was offered. General tone of market easy, no changes noted. Hungarian, common and light color to choice, dark about $1 15@1 65. Common Millet $1 00@1 40 for poor to fancy. German Millet, $1 00@1 40. Siberian, 80c@$1 05. Broom Corn and Early Fortune Millet, 80@95c. Mustard, 85c@$1 65. Buckwheat easy; good quality, $1 30.

HOG PRODUCTS—A fair trade was reported in Hog Products, and the feeling was stronger in a general way. Offerings were not very large, while the demand was fair, and mainly from "shorts" in outside and foreign markets. Hogs were in light supply and higher, with a fair supply estimated for the coming week. Receipts at the leading Western packing points were estimated at 25,100, compared with 25,800 one year ago. WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

MONEY AND STOCKS.

CHICAGO, FRIDAY EVENING, March 31, 1904.

There was a steady tone to the money market, with a moderate business at 4½ to 5 per cent for call loans, the majority being at the outside figure. Bankers believe that were concessions made it would not increase the demand for money. Time money was 5 to 6 per cent. Some commercial paper of high character sold at 4½ per cent, but the average is 5 per cent. The State banks of Chicago in their statement made the best showing of deposits in their history, being $250,300,319, an increase of 7.25 per cent from Dec. 22, 1903. Cash resources were $83,802,157, an increase of 19.65 per cent. In New York the market was quiet and steady at 3¼ to 4¼ on time and 1½ to 1¾ per cent on sharp call on the Stock Exchange.

New York exchange was firm at 10c to 20c premium and closed at 20c premium.

Foreign exchange developed more strength and advanced to near the Gold export basis, with the possibility of Gold being exported in the near future. Shippers' sixty-day documentary sterling bills on London ranged at 4.83¾@4.84 and closed steady.

Cotton in New York averaged higher and although there were numerous weak spots on selling for profits the "longs" had the best of it, and closing prices were at gains of 26 to 100 points over the previous week. Those who bought on the "bullish" census report at the close of last week were sellers for profits on the advance. Buying for short account was liberal and the market extremely nervous. These nearby reflect the ability of spot holders to depress them from time to time through the influence of notices of delivery or sales made with that intention. The movement from first hands is light.

Local Securities were liberally traded in and prices moved within moderate range. There was good activity and steadiness in National Biscuit which is holding relatively better than any other stock on the list. Tin Can was rather neglected. Illinois Brick which was recently put on the list is attracting considerable attention and is selling at a low price. Swifts gave notice that its recent increase of $10,000,000 in stock had all been taken and the number of stockholders increased by 2,000. Pneumatic Tool shares and bonds were bought on the supposition that at the next annual report soon to be issued there will be a good showing made. Bonds in general were bought fairly and prices held well.

In the New York Stock market there was good activity and much uncertainty although the average of most of the list was higher and a good part of it was maintained at the last. A feature was the large trading in Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and St. Paul. Traders were kept in uncertainty regarding the real condition of the final disposition of Northern Securities, Harriman being dissatisfied with settlement made last week. There was heavy buying of the shares of his roads and also of St. Paul, it being reported that it is to be in some way connected with dissolution of the Northern Securities Company. United States Steel was under pressure and weakened while railway shares showed strength and advanced. This was due to the revival of the rumors regarding its next dividend which is to be acted upon at a meeting April 1. An advance in prices of Copper strengthened the market for its shares. London was a large buyer of all stocks during a good part of the week. Bonds were more actively handled and prices held well. Reports from the West regarding the crops were rather more favorable and influenced buying to some extent. Total sales on the New York Stock Exchange for the week were 2,087,000 shares, compared with 4,462,000 shares the previous week, and 3,372,000 shares for the same time last year.

The principal Stocks traded in on the New York Stock Exchange and the number of shares disposed of during the week was as follows:

Improved weather was a great help to the dry goods trade locally and throughout the country. A great deal of buying has been deferred until the weather became milder and the orders the past week were largely increased. There was a strong feeling to the market in Cotton goods and no pressure to sell. The most encouraging feature in the business situation is the continued liberal purchases of finished Iron, Steel and pig Iron and the general strength in values. Consumers have allowed stocks to come down and are forced to replace them. Specifications on previous orders are also coming in more freely and recent advances are well maintained. Furnace men are selling pig Iron at present prices where delivery is not too far ahead, a majority preferring to restrict them as near to the opening of the second half of the year as possible. Consumption is heavy and supplies in the Middle West are not accumulating. The hardware trade shows increased activity in a general way, the feature being the readiness with which wire and nails are taken from jobbers and manufacturers. Lumber and building materials moved in larger volume and indications point to a greatly reduced cut of white pine this year, most of which has already been contracted for. Groceries, paints, oils and colors were all bought with more freedom and a satisfactory trade was reported. Collections are good.

COMMERCIAL.

Business in commercial circles on the Chicago Board of Trade was quite active the past week, all the leading markets attracting a good deal of attention. Outside orders were quite numerous and local interest was quite pronounced, professional traders being conspicuous in the Grain markets. The feeling prevalent was quite unsettled, but the leading markets displayed an advancing tendency most of the week. "Bull" leaders added to lines already supposed to be large, and "shorts" becoming uneasy, covered freely, resulting in higher prices being establised. Values, too, were influenced by legitimate conditions, the weather, movement and prospective supplies being dominant factors. Realizing on the hard spots was a feature, but offerings on the whole were well taken. The period for crop scares is not at hand and no doubt the next few weeks will witness sharp flucuations in Wheat as well as coarse Grains.

Cables this week indicated no material change in the crop situation abroad. The improvement in the outlook through the United Kingdom has been slow and conditions are far from satisfactory. No change was reported in France, Germany, Hungary, Roumania and Italy. A few complaints were received from Russia and the ultimate results are very uncertain. Arrivals at ports are expected to enlarge in the near future. Reports from India continue satisfactory and some increase in the Wheat area in Australia is expected this season. Spring work is reported well under way in Southern Europe.

The past week was generally favorable for growing Wheat and farm work. Further moisture occurred in sections where much needed and the outlook on the whole is much better than one week ago. Rains were beneficial in the Ohio Valley, while out on the Pacific Coast the same were excessive, and in certain districts the Wheat and Barley area was cut down in consequence of the rivers overflowing their banks. Advices from the Southwest are a little conflicting and sections of Kansas and Oklahoma are still in need of moisture. Temperatures as yet have not been forcing enough to test the condition of the roots in important growing sections and it is too early to form any definite idea as to ultimate results. Reports from the Northwest would indicate that the season will be late, owing to the abundance of snow and ice and severity of the past winter. Seed Wheat, too, is reported scarce in sections of the Red River Valley. Oats seeding is later than usual, but a large area will undoubtedly be sown. Corn planting through the South is making fair progress.

Recent rains and mild weather, in addition to the frost coming out of the ground, has caused country roads to become almost unpassable in some sections, and the interior movement of Grain from first hands was in consequence curtailed. Arrivals of Grain at distributing centers showed a marked falling off this week. Receipts in the Northwest were very moderate, and interior elevator stocks are said to have been reduced 2,500,000 bu this month. Through the West and Central-West the marketing of Grain showed a marked falling off and in the Southwest the shrinkage was most noticable. Farmers are now busy with spring work and in a measure accounts for the decreased marketings. The movement toward the seaboard was moderate and as yet there is nothing doing in cargoes to load and hold until the opening of navigation. Bookings on the Coast, too, were small. Exports were moderate, rather light of Wheat and Flour. According to the weekly report of the visible supply of Grain in the United States and Canada, as compiled by the Secretary of the Chicago Board of Trade, there was a decrease in the stocks of Wheat, Oats and Barley, and an increase in Corn and Rye.

A good speculative business was transacted on 'Change the past week and sentiment was rather more "bullish" on the leading cereals as well as the Provision list. Influential local interests were inclined to favor the "long" side on the weak spots and Wheat as well as coarse Grains ruled higher. Sharp advances were established the opening days, Wheat leading, the moderate movement, rather "bullish" statistics and crop news being the dominating influences. Corn was advanced, due to "shorts" covering, the attitude of the "bull" interest being the chief factor. Oats advanced in sympathy. Realizing caused a sharp reaction all round, but at the decline "bull" leaders gave the market good support and sentiment again leaned to the "bull" side. Hog Products attracted considerable attention and prices ruled comparatively steady. Outside orders were more numerous. Prices ruled higher on all the leading articles early, and extreme figures were well supported to the close. July delivery met with considerable favor. Hogs were in fair supply and prices averaged lower. Receipts of Product were fair. Packing of the West for the week was reported at 300,000 Hogs, against 355,000 in 1903, a decrease of 55,000 Hogs.

A fair trade was reported in the markets for cash Grain the past week. The demand for all cereals was more active and the moderate offerings were more readily absorbed. Wheat sold well at higher prices. Choice lots were taken by millers and carriers. The No. 1 Northern sold at 4c over May and No. 2 Red 5@6c over May. Corn was wanted and advanced sharply, particularly anything that could be used to make contract Corn. Sales of round shipping lots were limited. Oats sold well and were in small supply. Rye was quiet. Hay was quiet and steady. Hog Products were in moderate request and offerings rather light. Exporters were out of the market. Sales were moderate and prices without special change. Cattle were marketed with moderate freedom and prices on choice Beeves ruled firm, while common lots were easier. Sheep were in fair supply and prices well maintained.

FREIGHTS—Traffic conditions are much improved both East and West. In the latter section the car situation is easier. On Eastern roads the accumulations have been removed and shippers are getting more cars. The tariff is as follows:

To—	From Chicago. Domestic	From Chicago. Export.	From Miss. River. Domestic.	From Miss. River. Export.
Boston	22	15	25	17½
New York	20	15	22	17½
Philadelphia	18	14	20	16½
Baltimore	17	13½	19	16
Newport News	17	13½	19	..
Buffalo	13	....	15	..

Flour rates are 20c domestic and 16½c for export. Provision rates are 30c per 100 lbs, Chicago to New York.

Rail rates at and east of Buffalo were steady on Grain and are 2 mills per bu on Wheat, 3½ mills on Corn and Rye, and 4 mills on Oats.

Ocean rates on Grain steady with a light demand. Rates on Grain are ¾@1d per bu from New York and ⅝d from Boston. Through rate on Wheat from Chicago to Liverpool is 11¼c per bu and Corn 11½c. Flour 24.94c per 100 lbs and Provisions 44.06c per 100 lbs.

There is no chartering of lake boats, as agents want a strike clause inserted and shippers refuse to charter under such conditions.

FLOUR—There is very little, if any, change to note under this head the past week. The market almost without exception is called dull by local millers and representatives of large outside manufacturers. Sales the past week were very moderate in the aggregate, and no essential change was established in values. While millers report the local situation as unsatisfactory, there is, at the same time, rather a better domestic inquiry, and foreign bids, while still out of line, were closer to a working basis. Considerable Flour is being delivered on old contracts, bought at higher prices than at present ruling, and jobbers in some instances have fair supplies on hand. The best Hard Spring Patents are still held at $5 61 by the large outside mills, while local jobbers at the same time are said to be selling an equal grade, in a small way, at $5 50. City mills are only running on part time, and the production at the principal Spring Wheat centers the past week was about 323,000 brls, as compared with 543,000 brls for the corresponding week in 1903. Not a great deal of improvement is anticipated in the demand until the Wheat market becomes more settled. The domestic situation is summed up in the following views of a prominent outside miller: "This is the best kind of a Wheat market for a Flour man. These wide swings in prices are much better than a market with no fluctuation. When the speculative situation is so flat there is always some Flour man who cannot wait and who in his anxiety to sell his product takes a little off the price, and then somebody else follows with a little more off, and that keeps on until the Flour market is in a situation where something has to be done to correct it. But, with these wide fluctuations in Wheat, the miller has no temptation to shade prices. He is kept busy trying to keep in line in his manufacturing. It makes a much more satisfactory condition for the miller than where the speculative Wheat market has no fluctuations at all." The week closed steady at the following prices:

MILLSTUFFS—Ruled easier and prices during the week declined 75c@$1 00 per ton. The offerings have been fair and the demand of a limited character. Trading slow. Bran in bulk sold at $15 25@15 50 per ton and in sacks, sacks included at $17 00@17 50. Corn Screenings sold at $12 00.

WINTER WHEAT—There has been a firm feeling in the market during the past week and prices were quotably from 1@4c higher. A good milling demand has existed, and occasional round lots were taken during the week. Not enough Wheat was received to supply the demand and some in store lots were drawn upon. Both fresh arrivals and in store lots of No. 2 Red brought liberal premium over the May prices. Choice Wheat of all kinds, whether soft or hard, wanted. For the week the receipts aggregated 29 cars, against 52 cars the previous week. There were withdrawn from public elevators 85,500 bu and from private warehouses 37 cars. No. 2 Red in store ranged from May prices to 5c over and was quotable at 95½c@$1 02⅞, prices depending on location and quality; fresh arrivals free on board ranged at $1 00@$1 05, with sale of a car at $1 05. No. 3 Red fresh arrivals free on board ranged at 95c@$1 03. No. 2 Hard local sold at 96@97c and ranged at 92@98c. No. 3 Hard local sold at 85@97c for poor to choice—outside for bright, yellow Wheat. No. 4 Hard sold at 79c.

SPRING WHEAT—A rather firm feeling has existed for cash Spring Wheat, and prices were advanced 1@2½c during the week. A good demand existed on milling and shipping account and besides the car lots of fresh arrivals, there were sales of round lots made. The improved demand on shipping account had the effect of bringing prices for No. 1 Northern closer to the May figures, and for special lots ¼@½c premium was asked. The receipts have been small and scarcely enough fresh arrivals coming to make a market, and quotations for the most part have been nominal. The hard variety was mostly wanted and sold quite well. Of the poor Wheat there have been a number of cars received; there has been no special call for it, and low prices had to be accepted to make sales. The receipts of the week aggregated 40 cars, against 49 cars the previous week. There were withdrawn from public elevators 139,950 bu, and some 38 cars were taken from private warehouses. No. 1 Northern in store quotable 95¼@98c, and later 95¾@98⅝c and fresh arrivals at at 98c@$1 03. No. 2 Northern fresh arrivals nominally 91c@$1 01. No. 3 Spring fresh receipts free on board ranged at 85@98c and later at 88c@$1 00. No. 4 Spring of which a few cars were received sold 68@93c for ordinary to choice hard variety; at the river a sale was made at 7?c.

REGULAR WHEAT—Was active with a good trade and the feeling in a general way was "bullish," the close showing gains of ⅞c for the May, while July gained 1⅝@¾c and September lost ½@¼c. The news and surrounding influences all leaned to the "long" side the opening days and the buying side of the market became the popular one. Later on, however, sentiment changed about and liquidation followed, causing a sharp reaction, a very fair recovery following. On the early bulge May touched 97⅞c, old July 90¾c and old September 85¼c. Among the "bull" helps at hand at the start were the firm cables, cash situation, foreign and domestic statistics and crop news from the Winter Wheat belt. The news from the Northwest was in a more "bullish" strain, the movement falling off in that section as well as in the Southwest. The report that the Chancellor of the Exchequer intended to re-impose the duty on imports of cereals into the United Kingdom was looked upon as a "bull" factor for the nearby deliveries and a "bear" argument for the distant futures. "Shorts" covered freely and for a time the situation was decidedly strong. Minneapolis predicted that by April 1 there would be not over 2,000,000 bu in country elevators, half of it sold to country mills. One elevator man claimed he had sold all the Wheat that remained in his country elevators to mills. Some were estimating that the country elevator stocks would show a decrease of 2,500,000 bu this month from 5,136,000 bu March 1. A year ago April 1 country elevator stocks were 1,763,000 bu, the decrease in March 2,824,000 bu. For two months these stocks have not been decreasing as rapidly as the Northwestern prophets predicted. It was claimed the Pillsbury mills had received 1,200,000 bu of 2,000,000 bu Wheat stored in their country houses and 600,000 bu more were on the way, leaving only 200,000 bu. Another Minneapolis message stated that the weather this winter has been unprecedentedly cold and the ice in the Red River Valley extremely thick, while huge snowdrifts fill the ravines everywhere. As the river runs due north, this ice and snow will melt first at head waters and undoubtedly will cause frequent ice gorges, a high stage of water, and incidentally late seeding, or, in some sections of the Red River Valley proper, no seeding at all. Another message claimed only one farmer in five in the Red River Valley had any seed Wheat, owing to the fact that there was so much smut and wild Oats in last year's crop. They sold every bushel they raised. They also say seeding will not begin before April 15 with the best of weather. The Minneapolis Journal said: "The weather has put a check to seeding in localities far advanced. Inquiry in the country brings out conditions somewhat more favorable than at this date last year as regards moisture and soil conditions. With a few days later of fine weather will come renewed seeding on high land." The visible decreased 414,000 bu, against 1,763,000 bu decrease same week last year. Total is now 32,511,000 bu, against 43,291,000 bu in 1903 and 49,015,000 bu in 1902. The points gaining 50,000 bu or over were: Port Arthur, 246,000 bu; Minneapolis, 194,000 bu; Duluth, 174,000 bu; Fort William, 140,000 bu; New York, 56,000 bu. Points losing: Buffalo, 338,000 bu; St. Louis, 337,000 bu; New Orleans, 171,000 bu; Kansas City, 140,000 bu. Local public stocks decreased 211,000 bu, and are now 2,585,000 bu, compared with 7,623,000 bu same date last year. Stocks here in all positions were reported at 5,207,000 bu, a decrease of 302,000 bu, and are 5,605,000 bu smaller than a year ago. Contract stocks were reduced 177,714 bu to 1,436,159 bu, as compared with 3,248,317 bu same date one year ago. Bradstreet's world's available supply decreased but 451,000 bu, as against 4,905,000 bu decrease the corresponding week in 1903. World's shipments were 9,232,000 bu, previous week 10,584,000 bu, year ago 9,616,000 bu. The quantity on ocean passage decreased 672,000 bu, to 43,232,000 bu, compared with 29,848,000 bu in 1903. Stocks of Wheat in store at Fort William, Port Arthur, Keewatin, Winnipeg and interior country points are approximately 11,485,000 bu, against 11,361,000 bu a week ago, 19,375,000 bu a year ago, 18,800,000 bu two years ago, 5,138,000 bu three years ago, 9,000,000 bu four years ago and 8,850,000 bu five years ago. The Manitoba Grain Dealers' Association estimated farm reserves March 1 at 3,090,000 bu, compared with 6,800,000 bu a year ago, and the total exportable surplus 10,000,000 bu, compared with 20,000,000 bu last year. Stocks in public warehouses in Liverpool reported at 2,376,000 bu, against 1,960,000 bu one week ago and 2,272,000 bu one year ago. As the week advanced crop news came in a less sensational strain. The Wheat belt had more moisture and private reports from Kansas, Missouri and Oklahama indicated the late rains had improved the outlook. "Bear" leaders became more aggressive and professionals in Southwest added to "short" lines. May declined to 93½c and July to 88⅛c, but rallied to 96⅝c and 89⅞c respectively. The San Francisco Commercial News of March 24 said: "While the recent heavy rains in the south have been of inestimable benefit to the growing Grain, there are heard complaints from the Sacramento Valley and the northern part of the State that too much has been received. In some sections of the Sacramento it is feared that the crop will be considerably curtailed on account of the incessant rainfall unless warm weather comes along soon. In the San Joaquin Valley, however, the crop is making rapid growth and the outlook in the South is better than at any time this season. With normal weather conditions during the remainder of the spring there is no doubt but that a crop much exceeding that of last year will be reaped. Primary receipts fell off and milling conditions were reported better. The Flour output the past week was 323,000 brls, compared with 543,000 brls the corresponding week in 1903. The following is an abstract from a letter received this week from one of the prominent Grain houses at Liverpool: "Europe appears to be able to get on fairly well with little or no export from United States. Argentine and Russian shipments liberal. We think Russian shipments with the opening of the rivers will continue about as they have done. Difficult to buy in Russian and stocks at shipping points are small, but there is a considerable invisible which will come out in May and June. As to Argentine, there is undoubtedly a better holding power there than there used to be. The country is prosperous. Farmers have not the same necessity for selling, and they are sufficiently well informed to know Europe must require free supply for next four to five months and will have to pay the price the Argentine farmer demands. Crop undoubtedly big—how large hard to say—probably not over 80,000,000 bu for export. Apparently we have sufficient until harvest without drawing on United States. With poor crop prospects prices would advance, but markets on this side will never come to your basis." Exports were very moderate this week, and the new business booked with the other side was small. There was some talk this week of Wheat being damaged in the shock in Argentina by unfavorable weather. Shipments from there this week are estimated at 3,040,000 bu. The following table exhibits the exports of Breadstuffs from the following countries from July 1, 1903, to March 26, 1904, compared with the corresponding period in 1902-3:

Russia	105,952,000	89,674,000
Danubian	47,980,000	46,224,000
India	34,760,000	12,872,000
Argentina	46,096,000	21,128,000
Australasia	14,504,000	....
Austria-Hungary	4,910,000	2,344,000
Chili, North Africa	8,590,000	14,340,000
Totals	393,480,000	372,315,000

CORN—The Corn market was quite active and the feeling greatly unsettled the past week. Fluctuations were more on the violent order and the trade in a way professional. Sentiment was on the whole rather "bullish," the attitude of the "bull" party causing considerable uneasiness. The close showed the May up 3½c, while the July gained 3c and the September 2⅜c. The fear that a "bull" campaign in May was about to set in caused prices to bulge sharply the closing days, May selling up to 56¼c, the July to 53½c and the September to 52⅜c. Among the "bull" helps were the small receipts in all directions and the fears in some sections of the interior that the Corn will not keep well and that in some districts there is a lack of good Corn for seed. Argentine crop advices, too, were not of the best and Liverpool claimed offerings from Russia and Roumania were falling off and that United Kingdom would be obliged to depend upon America for supplies. A Rosario cable read: "Corn gathered so far is wet and damaged. Of the Corn plants 15 per cent of the cobs were sprouted. The harvest is going slowly, owing to scarcity of hands. Too much rain will delay it a month. All depends on the state of the weather. Cold, dry weather is wanted. The surplus is generally estimated at 80,000,000 bu, my estimate is 60,000,000 bu, or 20,000,000 bu less." The following reports were samples of the advices received regarding the condition of Corn in the country: Maryland, Ill., said: "Corn in farmers' hands not keeping very well. As near as can estimate, not more than half the Corn in this vicinity will grade No. 3." Deer Grove, Ill.: "One farmer states he opened a crib of Corn a week ago and found lots of it rotting on the cob. The balance of the farmers I have talked with claim the Corn is keeping all right so far." Highland, Iowa: "Have talked with several farmers in this neighborhood with regard to the Corn in cribs. They tell me there is a good deal of it spoiled." Hurndon, Iowa: "There is quite a good bit of mold Corn and black Corn in farmers' hands." Collins, Iowa: "Considerable complaint in the past few days of Corn being unusually damp, and in some cases beginning to show mold. Some will shovel Corn over to keep the air circulating through it. Corn that looked nice and dry a month ago is very wet and damp now." Sac City: "Corn around here is not very good and is not keeping well." The director of the Iowa crop bureau confirmed the reports of poor quality of Corn in that State, and Illinois advices were "bullish." At the advances established "long" Corn came out with considerable freedom and "bear" interests became more aggressive in their operations. May declined to 55¾c, the July to 52⅞c and the September to 51⅜c. The "bear" argument was the relatively low price of cash Corn, but the "bull" party this week came into the cash market and absorbed all the really desirable Corn, such as with careful handling would make contract. No. 3 sold within 3c of May and No. 2 and No. 2 Yellow sold at May price. The general supposition is that there is a large shortage in May and many operators are inclined to the "bull" side on the theory that the prestige of the principal "long" will be of some import later on. Receipts were small this week, but contract stocks are steadily increasing, and should there be a strike in marine circles the spring supplies will likely accumulate. March arrivals 4,657 cars, compared with 6,332 cars for the same month in 1903. The statistics were generally construed as moderately "bearish." World's shipments were 3,3?0,000 bu, against 3,571,000 bu previous week and 4,061,000 bu one year ago. The quantity on ocean passage decreased 747,600 bu to 10,615,080 bu, compared with 12,787,000 bu corresponding date one year ago. The visible supply increased 539,000 bu; last year decreased 435,000 bu. Total now 10,005,000 bu; in 1903 it was 10,202,000 bu and in 1902 8,799,000 bu. Points gaining 50,000 bu and over: Baltimore, 200,000 bu, Galveston, 141,000 bu; New Orleans, 50,000 bu. Points losing: Boston, 139,000 bu; Peoria, 67,000 bu, Toledo, 53,000 bu. Local public stocks increased 307,000 bu, to 3,798,000 bu; last year, 4,249,000 bu. Stocks here in all positions were reported at 8,482,000 bu, an increase of 70,000 bu, and are 815,000 bu smaller than a year ago. Contract stocks were enlarged by 282,523 bu and now include 3,325,8?? bu, against 2,527,285 bu same date one year ago. Bradstreet's available supply increased 219,000 bu, compared with 2,544,000 decrease same week in 1903. Receipts abroad were moderate and stocks of Corn reported at Liverpool were 934,000 bu, against 754,000 bu one week ago, and 153,000 bu last year. The call for the cash article was better this week, but the higher prices ruling tended to restrict shipping operations. Local industries were in the market for supplies and all offerings were readily absorbed. Clearings at Atlantic and Gulf ports were fair, but the new business booked was very meagre. An Antwerp letter of March 18 says of the Argentine Corn situation: "News from the river platte is that weather has interfered with the harvesting of Corn, and the prospects, which were already for half a crop, have not been improved."

OATS—There was more active trading and a nervous market. A higher range was established, and entirely held. It was due to buying of May and July by the leading elevator interest, which started the "shorts," and competition for the reduced offerings carried prices up 1c to 3c, May leading. The advance was also helped by the upturn in Wheat and Corn and by the strength in the cash market, small supplies of samples being taken readily at advanced prices. The market has had a good decline and was oversold and it only needed something to give it a good upturn. May sold from 39⅛@42⅛c, and closed at 41½@41⅝c. July was down to 38c at the start and advanced to 39¾c, and closed at 39⅜c. September at the low point was 32¼c and touched 33¼c on the bulge. At the close it was 33c. Light arrivals were due to wet weather and to the disposition on the part of holders to keep stocks back. Arrivals for the week were 608 cars, compared with 91? cars the previous week and 1,086 cars for the same time last year. Export clearances were 99,300 bu, compared with 112,000 bu and the previous week and 111,600 bu last year. In the sample market there was an active trade among local buyers, with a fair demand from interior shippers, but the large Eastern markets were said to be slow to bid early, but good sales were made later. Local stocks in public elevators decreased 5,423 bu and were 3,044,027 bu, compared with 516,400 bu last year. Stocks in all positions decreased 115,000 bu and were 5,301,000 bu. Contract stocks increased 38,000 bu and are 2,937,000 bu, against 433,000 bu last year. In the visible supply there was a decrease of 334,000 bu, and supplies were 10,358,000 bu, against 7,357,000 bu last year. Farm work is being pushed as fast as possible and it is expected that a good acreage will be put in this year. At the last, there were claims of delayed seeding in Illinois, due to wet weather.

RYE—A firm feeling has existed during the past week and there has been a steady improvement in prices, but trade has been light. Prices were advanced 2@3c, with but few trades either for future or spot delivery. There has been no special interest in the market. Buyers have not been particularly anxious to purchase and holders not at all anxious to sell. To buy, however, buyers had to meet holders views. A few cars of cash fresh receipts were sold, and now and then a lot for May and July delivery was dealt in. There has been no shipping demand and no round lots sold. The fresh arrivals were taken mostly for manufacturing purposes, but some went to carriers. The receipts were small and aggregated 29 cars, against 26 cars the previous week. There were no withdrawals from public elevators and 10 cars and 10,000 bu from private warehouses. Export clearances from the seaboard none. Visible supply decreased 21,000 bu and was reported at 980,000 bu, against 959,000 bu the previous week and 1,077,000 bu one year ago. The local stock in store was 268,000 bu and a year ago was 376,000 bu. No. 2 in store at the opening of the week was nominally 69c and later sold at 71c, fresh arrivals free on board sold at 71@73c. No. 3 fresh arrivals sold free on board at 62@70c for poor to good. No. 4 sold at 50@59c—inside for poor. For future deliveries of No. 2 Rye in some demand and offerings light. May early in the week was 71c bid, later 72c bid and later sold at 73c and closed at 74c bid. July was 67c bid early and sold later at 68@69c and closed at 69c bid.

BARLEY—There was a further decrease in arrivals. Supply on the regular market was smaller than for a long time. Aside from it being more quiet, the market presented no change. Decreased receipts attributed to the country elevator being in many cases well cleaned up, and deliveries by farmers small, they being busy with farm work. Requirements by maltsters evidently were not urgent. They manifested no anxiety to purchase. They were on the market for good to choice goods, of which the offerings were exceedingly small. Fair malting, sound but lacking color, also very salable. When it came to low grade Barley few cared to; such a kind was slow and heavy; toward the end the offerings also became very light. Below medium, feed, and No. 3 Barley were scarce. All ruled slow and easier. The latter touched 1@2c on the outside range. Some to arrive Barley was sold, not much. Some lots remained back. They were not offered for sale as yet, and there was some demand, but buyers and sellers were rather apart. Values in a general way were not subject to any important change during the week. There were inspected in 87 cars, compared with 171 cars the previous week and 230 cars two weeks ago. Taken from store 12,450 bu, a week ago none and two weeks ago 6,125 bu. No export clearances from New York reported. Visible supply decreased 96,000 bu; last report gave 3,600 000 bu, against 1,020,000 bu a year ago. Local stock changed very little; this week was 903,533 bu; a year ago it was 1,231 bu. Sales of Screenings were over a range of 30@39c per cwt for every choice—outside usually briefly recleaned. Barley, mixing, was quiet at 37@38c local, depending on soundness; may be called fancy bright up to 40c. But little doing finally that the market became almost nominal. Feed Barley about 36@39c for good; musty below. Malting—low grade was quiet, 40@44c; common, 45@46c; fair to an about 46@47c; good, 48@52c; choice, 53@55c; fancy above.

RYES—There was a fair business in Timothy Seed, but in other lines very little was done. There was a tone of dullness over the entire market. The Spring season so far, has not been right for Grass Seeds. The only notable change in prices was in Clover, which scored a fair decline, and in Hungarian there was a small depreciation, otherwise values did not change perceptibly.

Timothy—There was no essential change in the market. The tone of the market was rather heavy for the general run of such Seeds as comprise the main offerings. It was usually common to good; very seldom was any choice offered, and there was no fancy. Arrivals and offerings continued free and some store Seed appeared on sale. Output was smaller than for several weeks and much less than a year ago, and was mostly on about full. Order trade was not brisk at all. The whole season's trade has been backward. Weather conditions also have not been right. Early in the week it was too cold and later too wet. There was no trading in futures. Speculative orders seemed to be absent. Movement for the week was as follows:

Receipts the past week, lbs	1,249,182
Two weeks ago	1,874,015
Same time last year	2,107,363
Shipments the past week, lbs	949,125
Same time last year	1,345,160

Contract grade March, April and May deliveries were quoted at $2 85@2 90, finally at $2 90. For September $3 00 was usually bid and $3 05 asked. For country lots prices usually covered a range as follows: $2 60@2 75 for poor to fancy, outside would have to be extra fine, not hulled; on sales about 12 60 reported. Fair to good quotable at $2 40@2 45; choice, $2 50@2 55, and rough, dark and foul lots about $3 25@2 35.

Flax—There was about as quiet and uninteresting a market as could well be imagined. Some days there would not appear a single offer to sell, and no transactions whatever would occur. The movement was very small. As there would be doing would be in the way of occasional sales of a few cars. There was no speculative interest shown, no shipping demand was present, and there was just as much an absence of offerings. One or two occasions there were good receipts, but they did not appear in the offerings. Such cars evidently went to local mills and did not come on sale. Stocks in Minneapolis showed a decrease of about 181,000 bu. There was 283,869 on increase at Duluth, 107,570 bu decrease at Minneapolis and no change at Chicago. Total quantity at these three points, counting private stocks, was 8 259,327 bu, made up as follows: Chicago had 18,722 bu, Duluth 6,971,736 bu and Minneapolis 1,468,869 bu. Receipts during the week were 73 cars, compared with 146 cars a week and 108 cars two weeks ago. Withdrawals were 7,874 bu, a week ago they were 6,030 bu and two weeks ago 8,887 bu. In prices there was no essential change the past week, but on 1 was nominally $1 09 during the week, and No 1 Northwestern or No. 1 from the Northwest was $1 15@2 16. Rejected was quoted at $1 05@1 10, outside for choice Northwestern. Cash was nominally $1 09. For May $1 11 was usually bid, and September was nominally $1 17.

Clover—There was a slow and easier market. The weather has been unfavorable for Clover, too cold. Spring orders have been slow and conditions have not been right to change them. Holders have not been reducing their stocks as they should be, and with prices higher there were not the buyers to show nervousness. The advices were of such a tenor also from other markets. Prices sustained $@$c decline. At the close with the weather somewhat warmer there was a stronger feeling and partial reaction from the early decline, so that final quotations were as follows: Contract spot Seed about $12 50@12 60. Outside quotations ranged from $12 @13 00; fancy above; mixed with Buckhorn or other weed Seeds, $7 00@8 00; poor, cleaned out of Timothy, very foul, down to $3 00@5 00. Such lots as usually come in market when ordinary to good quotable at $8 50@9 50.

Corresponding week last year	200,000

Other Seeds—There was an easy feeling. Occasionally there would be offerings of Hungarian and Millet. Buckwheat continued in demand and different in fact. There was an easy feeling and Hungarian prices sagged a trifle. Movement very light, compared favorably with recent weeks and was much larger than a year ago. Movement with comparisons was as follows:

Same time last year	70,317
Shipments—The past week, lbs	1,272,036

The range which prices covered during the week is the same which appears elsewhere.

Buckwheat was nominally unchanged. Demand for Milling account about over, and it is too early for seeding orders.

Hay—The receipts week, the 3,794 tons, against 3,157 tons for the previous week. Shipments for the week were 180 tons, against 339 tons for the previous week. Only a moderate business was transacted in both Timothy and Prairie Hay during the past week. The arrivals were only fair, but the demand was also restricted, local dealers taking hold rather sparingly, with no demand on shipping account. Prices show no material change, and the market ruled quiet. Quotations at the close ranged as follows: Choice Timothy, $12 50@12 50; No. 1 Timothy, $11 00@12 00; No. 2 Timothy, $9 00@10 00; No. 3 Timothy, $7 50@9 00; Choice Prairie, $10 00@11 00; No. 1 Prairie, $9 00@9 50; No. 2 Prairie, $8 00@8 50; No. 3 Prairie, $6 50@7 00. Inside prices on Prairie Hay for State and outside for Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa Hay. Sales ranged at $4 25@7 50 for hot and poor, $8 50@13 50 for fair to choice Timothy, $14 00@15 50 for hot and poor State, and $17 50@21 00 for fair to choice No. 1 Timothy and Nebraska Prairie Hay. Rye Straw sold at $9 50. Wheat Straw at $7 00 and Oat Straw at $6 50@7 00.

COUPERAGE—Very little business was transacted in Cooperage during the past week. Offerings were moderate, and the demand was somewhat limited. Local packers were backward about purchasing, and outside orders were light. Prices ruled lower—in fact, it was difficult to obtain strictly reliable quotations. Ash Pork Barrels were dull and lower, closing at $5@$5 75c. Oak Pork Barrels were dull and slow sale at lower prices, closing at $1 00@1 10. Lard Tierces were in small request, and offerings were moderate. Prices ruled lower, and closed at $1 30@1 35. Iron bound Lard Tierces were easier and dull. Prices entirely nominal.

HOGS—The receipts of Hogs during the past week were quite large in the aggregate—light early in the week, and very liberal during the latter part. Quality was fair, there was a good supply of light averages, which were slow sale. Market rather active. Packers bought a fair proportion of the arrivals, and the demand on orders from the Eastern markets was quite active—larger than usual at this season of the year. The competition between buyers tended to considerable firmness, and prices averaged 5@10c higher early, but toward the close the market was weaker and prices declined 25@30c, and closed rather steady. Sales during the week were made at $4 95@5 55 for light, $4 95@5 40 for rough packing, $4 95@5 60 for mixed, and $5 10@5 60 for heavy packing and shipping lots, with the bulk of the trading within the range of $5 10@5 60 for fair to good averages. At the close about 15,000 Hogs remained in the pens unsold. Pigs were in fair supply and in rather good demand, and sales were made at $4 30@5 25, according to size and weight. The receipts of Hogs at the other large Western packing points were moderate, and the quality was only fair.

PACKING—A fair business reported in packing circles during the past week. Hogs were in larger supply, and prices averaged lower, but packers purchased cautiously. Manufacture of Products was fair and confined as much as possible to descriptions most in request. Mess Pork made sparingly. Quite cuts of Pork made in moderate quantities. Lard produced in fair quantities, and the average yield was fairly good. A little larger proportion placed in tanks. Domestic cuts of Hams made moderately, and the bulk were packed for manufacturers. Skinned Hams met with a little more favor and the production was fair. Foreign cuts of Hams made sparingly. Shoulders cut in limited quantities, and a fair proportion sold from the block. Picnic Hams made moderately, and only a small proportion sold from the block. Long Clear Sides and Extra Long Clear Sides negligible. Short Clear Sides met with little favor. Extra Short Clear Sides made sparingly. Short Rib Sides made in fair quantities. Extra Short Rib Sides made in limited quantities. Rough Sides made moderately, and chiefly of medium averages. Bellies cut in moderate quantities. Backs made in limited quantities. Plates and Butts made sparingly. Loins cut in fair quantities to meet current requirements. Foreign fancy and special cuts of Meats made in very small quantities.

PROVISIONS—Only a moderate speculative business was transacted in Hog Products during the past week, and offerings were lighter in a general way, and local speculators and packers were not inclined to do a very large business. The feeling was a little unsettled, and fluctuations in prices were irregular. Early in the week the course of the market and the changes in prices were mainly in sympathy with the changes in Grain, but the decline in Hogs, with a better supply and less influence toward the close. A good share of the speculative trading was in the way of transferring contracts from May to July. Hogs were in better supply and ruled higher early in the week, and lower again toward the close. Supplies only fair at the leading Western packing points. Returns of the packing of the West for the week established a record of 80,000 Hogs, compared with the corresponding week in 1903. Foreign markets were quiet and rather dull, with prices favoring buyers. Domestic markets were quiet, with merchants not distributing points since to purchase. Exports were moderately free, but not as large as during the corresponding week in 1903. The receipts from the interior were fairly liberal as packers are anxious to deliver Products on maturing contracts. Shipments were not very large, and mainly to the domestic markets. Early in the week, there was a moderate inquiry for contracts on account, but it was not very broad later. Prices were advanced slightly, but a weaker feeling was soon manifested, and the advance was lost. Later, there was quite a good general, but not urgent, speculative and packers' demand for purchase, and packers and investors accepted fair quotations. Offerings were not very large, and prices were advanced materially only for a short time. There was some improvement, but there was some inclination to realize, while the demand slackened considerably. Prices declined sharply on all descriptions. Toward the close, a better demand for cash was manifested, with a fair rally in prices generally, and the market closed comparatively steady. Very little demand on shipping account. Merchants in the interior were not disposed to purchase to any extent, and the export demand was extremely light. Offerings were fair, but holders rather firm in their views for most descriptions. Sales were moderate, and chiefly of small lots.

Pork—There was a fairly good speculative trade in Mess Pork during the past week, but the feeling was unsettled and at times irregular. Receipts were light, and the demand was moderately active on miscellaneous account. Stock on hand moderately large, and production at present rather limited. Considerable speculative trade of transferring contracts from May to July at 20@22½c difference. Trading in the latter month gradually enlarging. Early in the week, the feeling was quite firm, and prices ruled higher. Later, prices on the whole range, but a little pressure to sell developed a weaker feeling and the advance was lost. Later, the market was firmer, and closed with considerable strength, with fair general buying, and prices were advanced 30@35c, with rather good trading at the advancing scale. The sharp advance was followed by a decline, and rallied, while the demand slackened, and prices declined 0@25½c. At the reduction, the demand improved, and prices rallied 30@31½c, and the market closed rather steady. Demand on shipping account was limited and offerings were moderate. Holders generally asking May figures. At the close, cash lots were quotable at $13 10@13 15. Other cuts of Pork were in small request, with fair offerings, and prices without material change.

Lard—The Lard market attracted only fair speculative attention during the past week, and the demand and the volume of business was moderate. PORK PACKING AND PROVISIONS.

(From the Cincinnati Price Current, March 31.)

There has been a reduced number of Hogs marketed past week. Total Western packing 300,000, compared with 370,000 the preceding week, and 350,000 two weeks ago. For corresponding time last year the number was 355,000, and two years ago 285,000. From March 1 the total is 1,455,000, against 1,405,000 a year ago. The quality is from fair to good. Prices are somewhat higher, with prominent markets at the close indicating a general average of $5.30 per 100 lbs, compared with $5.20 a week ago, $5.3- two weeks ago, $7.30 a year ago, $6.70 two years ago, $6.00 three years ago.

The speculative Provision market was only moderately active the past week, and the change in values was not important. There was a firm undertone, as the advance in the Grain markets and higher prices for Hogs encouraged some buying. General trade conditions are not materially changed from a week ago. Domestic markets are quiet and steady, and foreign markets rather dull and not essentially changed. The export clearances of Products were fair, and about the same as for the preceding week, but there is shown a decrease as compared with the corresponding week last year.

The week's export clearances of Hog Products compared with corresponding time last year:

	Past week.	Last year.

MONTHLY WEATHER BUREAU REPORT.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The monthly crop and climate bulletin of the Department of Agriculture says:

From the Upper Mississippi Valley to the Middle Atlantic Coast the season is generally reported backward, although the average temperature for the month in these districts was generally in excess of the normal. In the Southern States the month has been mild and favorable for farming operations. The northern portion of the Central Gulf States, however, the Central Valleys and the greater part of the Lake Region suffered from excessive rains and Western Texas and the Southern Plateau Region from drouth.

From Northern Wisconsin Westward to the Rocky mountains the ground is still frozen deeply and no farm work has been done. On the Pacific Coast the month has been cold and wet, wholly preventing farm work in Washington and Oregon. The highest water known in many years, flooding thousands of acres of valuable Grain lands, occurred in Northern California during the first and second decades.

Over the Western portion of the principal Winter Wheat area the reports indicate an improvement in the condition of Winter Wheat, and in some of the more Easterly sections a slight improvement is also indicated. As at the close of the previous month, the least favorable reports are received from the Central and Eastern districts. In Indiana the crop has been badly washed on high lands and much injured by floods on low lands, but where not thus damaged it is healthy and growing. In the Western portions of the Wheat area of Nebraska and Kansas the crop has suffered from drouth.

Good progress has been made with Oat seeding in the Southern States, with the exception of Western Texas where it has been too dry, and the general outlook for this crop is promising. Seeding is in progress as far north as Southern Missouri and Kansas, but no seeding has been done farther north.

In the Gulf States much Corn has been planted and good stands are reported. Some planting has been done in the southern portions of Kansas and Missouri; preparations for Corn planting in the Central Mississippi and Ohio Valleys and Middle Atlantic States have progressed slowly.

In the central and western portions of the Cotton belt Cotton planting was progressing rapidly at the close of the month and some planting had been done in all the eastern districts. In Southern Texas about half the crop has been planted and the early planted is coming up nicely.

In the Central Valleys, Lower Lake region and New Eng and Peaches are reported to have been injured, but have thus far escaped injury in the Middle and South Atlantic States.

GRAIN TRADE AND CROPS.

(From the Cincinnati Price Current, March 31.)

Copious rains and some moderately freezing weather prevailed the past week over practically the whole of the Winter Wheat belt, except in the most western part of Kansas and Nebraska, where the rainfall was light. These conditions were not regarded as unfavorable for the Wheat, and as the temperature was too cool for any material growth, the general situation has not been perceptibly changed. Beginning from Central Ohio and Kentucky, where the appearance of the Wheat is unpromising, some estimating the prospects as low as 50 per cent, the situation seems to improve going westward, through Indiana, Illinois and Missouri. In Missouri and Eastern Kansas the condition of the crop is favorable. In Central Kansas the plant has good root growth and has a fair appearance. From Western Kansas and Oklahoma there are some conflicting reports, but it is believed that in that region and Texas the crop lately has been holding its own. Taking the situation as a whole, while still accompanied by more than usual uncertainties, it may rather indefinitely be regarded as having a basis for about a medium crop, hardly up to the average of recent years, but not an especially small one, with possibilities of marked improvement under favorable conditions.

At this time Oats seeding should be in active progress, but the past week or two have been too wet to continue the work which had already begun. But there is yet plenty of time to put in a large crop. More than the usual amount of fall plowing had been done, and this in some degree relieves the pressure of spring work.

The interior movement of all Grains has been restricted largely by the prevalence of bad roads over most of the country. Complaints of poor Corn or rotting Corn have increased somewhat in recent reports. In Iowa supplies are generally scarce. East of the Mississippi River supplies of Wheat are generally reported as rather light, although there are some who are still holding for an advance.

In Ohio there has been much rain and some freezing weather during the past week. The Wheat crop has made practically no growth, and there is no change in prospects, which on the whole are unpromising, yet uncertain. In the western part of the State a small portion of the Wheat land, it is reported, will be broken for Corn. In the northern counties the condition of the plant seems to be somewhat better than in central and most southern counties. In a limited portion of the southern districts the Wheat is reported favorable. Very little Oats seeding or other spring work has been done, owing to the cold and wet weather. More complaint is received of Corn spoiling. Very little Grain moving. Large acreage of Corn is expected.

In Indiana weather conditions have been about the same as in Ohio, and the character of reports on Wheat are about the same, but not quite so bad. Little spring work is being done, and the season is becoming a little backward. Some complaint of poor quality of Corn in the country.

In Illinois the growing Wheat crop is in fair condition, and is doing well, with ample moisture. Oats seeding retarded by wet ground. Not much Grain moving.

In Iowa there had been a large amount of fall plowing done, and Oats seeding had commenced, but was stopped by rains and freezing weather of last week. Not much Grain is moving. Corn scarce.

In Missouri the growing Wheat is in good condition, with plenty of moisture. Oats seeding has been retarded by wet weather. Not much field work at present. Conditions on the whole are favorable. Grain movement moderate.

In Kansas recent rains have done good to the crops in central and eastern counties. Over most of the State there has been some rainfall, and the present condition of the crop is about an average. Oats seeding has not been completed, owing to the recent wet and cold weather. Large acreage of spring crops is expected. Some fear that the recent freeze hurt the Oats that had been sown. Not much Grain moving.

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

A few light showers shown in Ohio Valley. The map yesterday showed a light rain in Northeast Kansas. There were rains yesterday in the Middle West, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Iowa. The temperatures to-day are moderate.

Indications are for fair weather. Temperatures will not change decidedly.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

The Comptroller of the Currency has issued a call for the condition of the National Banks at the close of business Monday, March 28.

During March Chicago received 374,680 Sheep, compared with 304,372 in March, 1903. The shipments were 103,897 and 31,984 respectively.

Business failures in the United States and Canada for the past week were 221, against 241 the previous week and 191 for the corresponding week last year.

Bank Clearings of the leading financial centers of the United States for the past week aggregated $1,709,479,876 a decrease of 2.2 per cent compared with the corresponding week last year.

E. H. Harriman says he is not yet prepared to make any statement with regard to the Northern Securities matter, but will do so as soon as final opinion has been rendered by Union Pacific counsel.

Average weight of Live Stock at Chicago for months mentioned follows:

	Mar., 1904.	Feb., 1904.	Jan., 1904.	Mar., 1903.	Mar., 1902.
Sheep	87	89	93	92	92

Bradstreet's reports the exports of Wheat and Flour from the United States and Canada for the past week at 1,267,000 bu, against 1,892,000 bu for the previous week, and 3,139,000 bu for the corresponding week last year. Exports from July 1 reported at 115,982,000 bu, compared with 173,970,000 bu for the corresponding time in 1902-3.

A cable from Sydney, N. S. W., says: "The work of harvesting this year's Wheat crop is nearly completed, and the Government estimates place the yield at 11,000,000 bu above the best previous record. Seventeen million bushels are now available for export. New Zealand's crop is estimated at 6,012,000 bu, compared with 4,171,000 bu last year, 6,733,000 bu two years ago, and a five years' average of 7,818,000 bu. Exportable surplus of this year's crop estimated at 1,800,000 bu."

The closeness of the race between the clearing figures of the Chicago banks this year and last was illustrated again, Thursday, by the figures for the month of March. They showed a gain of $10,792,144 over those of last year, or 1.43 per cent. The total of this year is now $21,187,130 ahead of the last year to date, or a little less than 1 per cent. But since this year has had one more working day than last year up to this time, and since the average clearings for a day are above $25,000,000, there has been theoretically a falling off in clearings this year over last.

Assents to the proposed plan for financing the improvements contemplated by the South Side Elevated Railroad Company, Chicago, have been made in very satisfactory volume by the stockholders, and nearly all of the stockholders are now enrolled in the underwriting syndicate which is to take the new issue of stock. The meeting to vote the new issue will be held April 7. Notice is given that, in accordance with the by-laws, the transfer books of the company will be closed on April 1 for the special meeting of the stockholders, and will be opened the day after the meeting adjourns.

In the New York stock market the features were the break of 2¾ points in Peoples Gas after an advanced of ⅞. The decline was on the adverse Supreme Court decision. The decline, however, was regained. A process for whitening Flour, by which cheaper grades are given the appearance of more expensive brands, led to a heated discussion, Friday, between Missouri millers and millers from other States who are attending the delegates' convention of the Millers' National Federation at Chicago. Six Missouri millers are said to have a monopoly on the new process. At the close of the convention feeling grew intense, and as a compromise the Missouri millers expressed willingness to have all Flour assessed 10c per brl for experimenting with an electrical bleaching process. The offer of such a compromise was indignantly rejected by the millers not in possession of the new process No settlement was reached, and the matter may cause a controversy in the National millers' convention at Niagara Falls, June 8-10.

No. 3 Spring quotable at 87@93c, depending on quality. No. 4 Spring local sold at 72@88c for fair to good and at 90@91c for choice.

REGULAR WHEAT—Only a moderate speculative trade, largely professional, with resting prices 1½c lower for the May, while July lost 1¾@1⅞c and September 1¼@1⅜c. Market started rather indifferent, but was indirectly helped by strength in Corn. As the session advanced sentiment became "bearish" and the selling was more pronounced The weakness in the Northwest, more favorable weather indications, financial troubles in the East, lack of trade, and rumored condition in Missouri of 81 per cent were among the "bear" influences. Condition in Missouri last year 91, and ten year average of 84 per cent at this time of the year. The quantity on ocean passage increased 1,648,000 bu, and is now 44,680,000 bu, compared with 33,712,000 bu one year ago. World's shipments were about as expected at 9,572,000 bu, compared with 9,232,000 bu the previous week and 12,472 000 bu one year ago. At the close the seaboard reported no boat loads accepted Clearings were very meagre The Ohio report made the condition 67 per cent, against 69 per cent one month ago, and strengthened the market when announced. Primary receipts were 49,000 bu smaller than a year ago Arrivals in the Northwest about in line with those of 1903. Flour news from the Southwest was "bearish" and St. Louis was credited with selling here Cash sales here were 10 000 bu Some reports from the Northwest stated seeding would be late Late messages stated that seeding was in progress all over South Dakota to-day and soil conditions reported good Receipts at Duluth 28 cars and at Minneapolis 370 cars, a total of 398 cars, against 410 cars Saturday, 540 cars a week ago, and 391 cars last year Local receipts included 4 cars Winter, 8 cars Spring and 3 cars mixed, a total of 15 cars, against 48 cars last year. Included in the above was none of contract grade. There were 16 cars and no bu taken from unlicensed elevators The estimated receipts for to-morrow not reported Withdrawals were 39,500 bu. Shipments from Western points were 369,585 bu, against 291,399 bu last year, and from Eastern points 2,400 bu, against 332,720 bu last year. Shipments of Flour were 32,219 brls. CORN—Just a fair trade, with the close 1c lower for May, while July lost ⅞@1c and September ⅞c. Market was fairly firm at the start owing to the fact of the "long" interest chartering room for 250,000 bu contract to go out upon opening of navigation. The strength, however, proved but temporary, as it soon developed commission houses had large quantities of July for sale which the trade imagined was for the "long" interest. Support was lacking, and while the trade in May was light, that delivery sold off in sympathy. The weather, present and prospective, was favorable, and out of the 178 cars received 8 cars were contract, against 117 cars in last year when none were up to the speculative standard Southwestern markets were all weaker. World's shipments were smaller at 2,209,000 bu, Russia shipping but 300,000 bu. Previous week 3 309,000 bu and a year ago 3 589 000 bu The quantity on ocean passage decreased 728,000 bu and is now 9,917,000 bu compared with 11,037,000 bu same date in 1903 Visible supply decreased 371,000 bu the decrease a year ago being 361,000 bu Total 9,670,000 bu; in 1903 was 9,811,000 bu and in 1902 8,508,000 bu Local public stocks increased 309,000 bu, to 4,107,000 bu, against 4,501 000 bu same date last year. Omaha wired there was considerable Corn there this morning and that prices were lower Reports from Illinois as to the condition of Corn in cribs were more favorable than those at hand one week ago. The Ohio report made the condition of Corn in cribs 80 per cent, with 15 per cent unhusked, and this damaged 14 per cent. New York reported that 3 loads had been shipped back from Europe to this country Shipping demand moderate and sales small. Seaboard reported no boat loads accepted. Carlots were weak and ½@1c lower Offerings freer and demand only fair. No. 2 sold at 55¾@56⅞c, and closed at 56c. No. 2 Yellow sold at 55¾@56c, and closed at 56c. HOG PRODUCTS A fair speculative business was transacted in Hog Products, and the feeling was somewhat unsettled. Outside orders were fair and local trading moderate. Early, the feeling was stronger in sympathy with the strength in the Hog and Grain markets, and prices ruled higher on some descriptions. Later, there was considerable pressure to sell and an easy feeling was developed. The Grain markets were easier and the stocks reported on hand had a little influence—in the aggregate were fully 50 per cent larger than returned one year ago Prices declined considerably all around, and the market closed rather steady around inside figures. Hogs were in fairly good supply and prices higher. Indications are for light showers in Missouri Valley and Middle Mississippi Valley.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

During March Chicago packers received 44,188 Hogs direct, against 80,678 in February, 79,631 in January, 28,418 in March, 1903, 55,465 two years ago, and 12,940 three years ago.

The total yield of the Indian Rice crop for 1903-4 is officially returned as 444,143,600 cwt, against 469,484,800 cwt last season, and 450,745,760 cwt average of five preceding years.

From Russia and the Danube the exports of Flax Seed from Aug. 1 to March 12 have amounted to 4,001,000 bu, against 4,314,000 bu in the previous year, and 2,208,000 bu in 1901-2.

Creditors, Wednesday, filed a petition in bankruptcy against the Majestic Copper Mining and Smelting Company at Salt Lake, Utah, and receivers for the property were appointed.

Directors of Street's Western Stable Car Line have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 50c a share on the common stock, payable April 25. Books close April 12 and reopen April 26.

The American Paper Company has been incorporated under the laws of New Jersey with a capitalization of $250,000. It is said the company will rival the United Box Board and Paper Company.

The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business March 31, 1904, the debt, less cash in the Treasury, amounted to $915,422,101, a decrease for the month of $2,612,533.

The shipments of Flax Seed from India from April 1 to date amounted to 18,640,000 bu (Calcutta 11,968,000 bu and Bombay 6,672,000 bu), against 12,-272,000 bu last season (Calcutta 8,816,000 bu and Bombay 4,456,000 bu), and 15,032,000 bu in 1901-2 (Calcutta 10,840,000 bu and Bombay 4,192,000 bu).

A London dispatch says: "The president of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners' Associations has issued an exhaustive statement on the situation of the Cotton trade. It shows that the loss to the wage earners resulting from the necessity for short time amounts to $550,000 weekly, or $6,875,000 since the short time started. This amount is borne by 500,000 people. The total loss to the employers is $200,000 weekly, making that loss to Lancashire $750,000 weekly."

Another move in the litigation involving the Stock Yards properties of the International Packing Company, Chicago, was made in the Circuit Court, Thursday, when the Illinois Trust and Saving Bank filed suit to foreclose a trust deed on the packing plants involved. The bank claims to act in the interest of owners of $2,165,000 of the $2,438,000 outstanding bonds of the International company. It is declared there are 210 owners of the companies' bonds and debentures, scattered all over the United States and Europe. The suit follows the action in which the bank is codefendants with other bondholders, charged by the Hibernian Banking Association and three others with putting the interests of owners of $165,000 bonds in jeopardy, and in which, it is alleged, over $1,000,000 was lost in gambling operations by the companies' directors on the Chicago Board of Trade. It is alleged both the International and Consolidated companies are insolvent and that $65,000 interest on their bonds has been unpaid since May 1, 1903.

The adjourned annual meeting of the stockholders of the Lake Street Elevated Railroad Company, Chicago, was held, Thursday. The secretary of the securities committee voted the stock deposited with the committee. The name of the company was changed from the Lake Street Elevated Railroad Company to the Chicago and Oak Park Elevated Railroad Company by a vote of nearly all the stock. The meeting was then adjourned until April 20. The change of name is taken to mean that no new company will be incorporated, and that the securities to be exchanged under the reorganization plan for the present issues of the Lake Street Company will be those of the Chicago and Oak Park Company. It is stated that the certification of the change of name will be sent to Springfield at once for registration. It is considered that these steps argue a rapid carrying out of the reorganization plan.

STREET PRODUCE MARKETS.

BUTTER—The receipts at Chicago (not including through shipment) for the days mentioned were as follows:

	This week. Tubs.	Last week. Tubs.	Last year. Tubs.
Monday............	4,375	4,685	4,343
Total	7,791	7,964	7,637

The feeling was easier and prices favored buyers. Trade was not so brisk and buyers acted more cautiously. There was some demand from the usual buyers, but all approached the market more timidly and reduced their bids. Holders claim they are not cleaning up their receipts, and while there is no supply or accumulation to speak of, yet the fact of being compelled to carry some lines over, makes holders feel a little uneasy and more anxious to sell. Local consumption holds up all right, but the outside orders are fewer.

Extras in Creameries are quotably easy at 24½c. Demand is fair and offerings are only moderate.

June Creameries are dull. They can be bought at 16@19c, depending on quality.

Firsts in Creameries are quotably 19@20c. They are slow sale and unless very fancy holders find it slow work to clean up.

Seconds in Creameries are quiet and quotable at 14@16c.

Thirds in Creameries quotable at 14c.

Imitation Creameries in light supply and in light demand. Quotably about 16½@17c.

Process Butter (renovated) is quotable at 16@19c per lb.

Ladles are quiet. Offerings light. Demand light. Quotably about 14c for No. 1.

Dairies are steady. The demand is fair and offerings moderate. Fine makes quotably 21c. Firsts are quotable at 16@17c. Seconds or such goods as lack flavor and not of uniform color are quotably 12½c—occasional lots sell in with packing stock.

Packing stock is in moderate supply and in moderate demand. Fresh, sweet, solid stock is salable at 11@11½c, and ranges down to 8@10c for soft, cheesy drawing and rancid stock.

Roll Butter is meeting with moderate sale. Supply is fair, and fresh sweet stock is quotable at 11@12c—outside for solid stock; and when nicely put up, each roll wrapped separately and all sweet, uniform color, it sells in a small way above current quotations. Stale stock quotably 8@10c.

BEANS—There was no change in values, yet the tone of the market was easy. Offerings and arrivals were both light, yet they were equal to the demand. Local stocks were reported as small and it was said that country dealers have only small quantities on hand. Quotable:

Pea Beans—
Hand-picked, new.................. $......@1 70
Off color .... 1 65 @1 60
Screened and low grades............ 1 00 @1 35
Mediums—none offered: nominally about 5c under Pea Beans.
Red Kidney, per bu .... 2 90 @3 10
Limas, California, per 100 lbs ... . 4 25 @4 37½

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Very little demand. Dealers generally supplied. Quotable at $1 80@2 00 per 100 lbs.

CHEESE—There was a quiet and easy market for regular lines. Stocks are liberal here and there are some new Cheese coming, which caused a rather easy feeling. Special makes exhibited little or no change and they were reported as rather slow sale. Quotable:

FALL MAKE.
Twins, choice .... 9 @....
Daisies .... 9½@10
Young Americas .... 10 @10½
Long Horns .... 10 @10½
Off goods .... 4 @ 8
Skims .... 3 @ 5

NEW GOODS.
Twins, choice .... 9 @....
Young Americas .... 9½@.. .

SPECIAL LINES.
Swiss—

Limburger—
Choice, fall make .... 11 @11½
Brick—
Choice .... 12½@....
"Off" grades .... 8 @11

DRESSED HOGS — The receipts of country killed Hogs are moderate. Real fine Hogs are selling all right. Poorly handled, dirty and staggy Hogs will sell but only at considerable discount from the more desirable lots. Hogs get dirty in the cars and at freight houses and this affects the sale.

Per 100 lbs—
Choice, smooth, clean, straight stock, medium weights .... $5 50@6 00
Very heavy .... 5 00@5 25
Pigs, 50@75 lbs weight .... 5 00@5 75
Staggy and crippled ....@3 50

DRESSED LAMBS—Not many on sale to-day and the demand light. They sell better later in the week. Quotable as follows:

Spring Lambs, pelt on, 35@45 lbs each.. $5 00@5 50
Spring Lambs, 25@35 lbs, good, not fancy 3 50@4 50
Spring Lambs, 20@35 lbs thin ... . 3 00@4 00
Spring Lambs, 15@22 lbs . . .. 1 50@2 50
Yearlings pelt off, poor to choice, per lb. 3@ 7
Mutton, pelt off, poor to good, per lb ... 3@ 6

EGGS—The receipts at Chicago (not including through shipments) for the days mentioned were as follows:

	This week Cases.	Last week Cases.	Last year. Cases.
Totals........ .	34,421	23,629	28,913

The market was quotably easy. Prices were not quotably any lower, but it was easier to buy and the tendency was rather toward a lower level. Trade was good, but buyers naturally wanted to purchase as cheap as possible, and were not taking up the offerings as eagerly as last week, as they were aware that the supply on sale was liberal. The demand was to supply home consumptive wants and to fill shipping orders, and some lots were taken for storage purposes. The receipts show some increase and the offerings were large both for spot and for future delivery.

Fresh Eggs at mark, as received, cases returned, are quotable at 15¾c per dozen.

Fresh Eggs at "mark" general receipts, new cases included, quotably 16¼@16½c, and shipping cases included at 16@16¼c. Small miscellaneous lots do not sell for as much as large lots of straight packing.

"Prime Firsts" are quotable at 16½c, but freely offered at that figure and sales made at 16¼c. To meet this classification the Eggs must be fresh gathered, be packed in new white wood 30-dozen cases, unless otherwise specified, shall be reasonably clean, of good average size, and between Feb. 15th and May 15th shall contain 85 per cent of fresh, reasonably full, strong, sweet Eggs; the balance, other than the loss, may be defective in strength and fullness, but must be sweet. There may be a total average loss of one dozen per case, but if the loss exceeds this amount by not over 50 per cent the Eggs shall be good delivery upon allowance of the excess.

"Extras" are quotably 17½c. This is a very high grade of Eggs, put up by some of the city merchants to meet the requirements of a particular high class of trade. It requires going through a good many cases to get one case up to this standard, as nothing but large, full, strictly fresh-laid Eggs are taken.

Dirties very quiet; few of them; quotable at $4 50@4 65 per case of 30 dozen, depending on quality.

Seconds, including small, shrunken and dirty, and there are not many on sale, quotable at $4 20@4 35 per case, depending on condition.

Storage—There were liberal offerings of April storage packed at 17c and 16½c was bid.

Duck Eggs—A few were received and they are quotably 20c per dozen.

Goose Eggs—A few on sale and quotably about 40c per dozen.

FRESH FISH—Only small consignments offered. Not much demand early in the week. Fish sell best about Thursday.

Fine Bass, and Pickerel will sell at all times. Carp, Buffalo and Suckers are always dull. Perch of good size will sell. Sun Fish very dull. Occasionally a consignment is received.

Black Bass smaller than 11 inches in length, should not be sent to market; the State laws prohibit the marketing of Bass smaller than this. They are liable to confiscation.

Medium size Bass are preferred to large. The very large ones are not as desirable as the medium size for the reason that restaurants want to serve a whole Fish, and the large ones are too large to serve—they do not care to serve half a Fish.

The quotations given are for small lots received to be sold here on commission. The quotations do not represent the prices obtained by the regular Fish houses.

POULTRY Live—Was unchanged. The express runs were moderate, and there were two car loads in by freight, but only one car unloaded. The demand was moderate and prices unchanged.

Some of the young Roosters show large spurs and are staggy, and buyers discriminate against these and will not pay as much for them as they will for stock not showing spurs.

Live Turkeys were quiet, not many offered and little demand for them. The Turkeys coming are rather poor.

Live Chickens in fair supply and in fair demand.

Live Ducks remain steady. Not many coming and they meet with moderate sale. Most of the Ducks are thin and poor and for that reason sell low.

Live Geese selling fairly well when fat, but the poor Geese are dull.

Dressed Poultry—Trade is small in Dressed Poultry. Very little coming and very little wanted. The season is about over. If it is real fine and in good order it will sell, but nearly all of it arriving shows the effects of the mild weather and does not look bright and fresh. Most of the Chickens coming are big, fat, heavy Hens and these in particular are slow. Dealers are giving more attention to the live Poultry.

With the warmer weather, country shippers should be careful and not pack stock until thoroughly cooled off, to guard against it heating. Perhaps it would be better to ice stock or to send it in alive.

Young Gobbler Turkeys are getting flabby and most of them sell in with old Toms or command about 14@15c.

Iced Poultry—The receipts were small and a few odd lots around. The demand was very light and sale very slow. Thursday and Friday usually the best day to sell.

Country shippers should arrange so as to have stock come on the market not later than Friday morning.

Country shippers should be sure and ice the stock thoroughly. When icing, dealers should be sure that the stock is thoroughly cooled off and the animal heat out of the body. Parties say the best way to cool off stock is to hard cool it, by which is meant to place the stock in ice and water as soon as picked and left there until the bird is cold and then pack and ice in barrels and it will be sure to come through all right. Shipments should be made in refrigerator cars.

Small receipts made a stronger market, with sales at higher prices. Cold weather in the Northwest Friday and Saturday prevented shippers from loading box cars, as they did not care to take the risk of having stock frozen. This made receipts to-day small. From now on, however, shippers intend using unlined box cars as there will be little risk from frost. Some box cars from Michigan arrived to-day with stock badly frosted.

There was a good demand, especially for fancy and dusty. Rurals sold at $1 06 and $1 07 in bulk. Several cars of choice in bulk or sacks sold at $1 05 and there were a few cars good at $1 02. A car of Rurals sold in sacks at $1 06. One car medium Rurals with some Kings at $1 02 in bulk and 1 car Burbanks in bulk at $1 05.

Seed stock was in fair request and firmer at $1 10 for Early Ohio and $1 05@1 08 for Rose. Triumphs are about cleaned up and are slow.

TAME PIGEONS Demand for Live Birds is only moderate and feeling is weak. Dead Birds are in moderate demand. Squabs are in fair supply and in fair demand. Squabs just ready to leave the nest, full feathered, are the most desirable. They are fatter before they commence to fly. HOW TO DRESS CALVES.

Calves from three to six weeks old, and weighing about one hundred pounds, or say from eighty to one hundred and twenty pounds, are the most desirable weights for shipment. The head should be cut out, so as to leave the hide of the head on the skin. The legs should be cut off at the knee joint. The entrails should all be removed, excepting the kidneys; the liver, lights and heart should be taken out. Cut the carcass open from the neck through the entire length—from head to bumgut If this is done they are not so apt to sour and spoil during hot weather. Many a fine carcass has spoiled in hot weather because of it not being cut open. Don't wash the carcass out with water, but wipe out with a dry cloth. Don't ship until the animal heat is entirely out of the body, and never tie the carcass up in a bag, as this keeps the air from circulating, and makes the meat more liable to become tainted.

It is very essential that the directions for dressing Calves is followed, especially in regard to letting the Calves cool off properly before shipping in hot weather, as hundreds of Calves are received in bad order and sold for not much more than charges and some do not bring freight. Numerous carcasses are also condemned by the health officers. They should hang up 6 to 8 hours or over night in an airy place to properly cool off before shipping.

Calves under fifty pounds should not be shipped, and are liable to be condemned by the health officers as being unfit for food. Merchants, too, are liable to be fined, if found selling these slunks, for violation of the law. Very heavy Calves, such as have been fed on buttermilk, never sell well in our market—they are neither Veal nor Beef.

Fasten the shipping tag with your name and address written plainly thereon to the hind leg.

The best selling days for Calves are Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday morning. The first and last days of the week there is not much demand, and after Friday morning—that is, Friday afternoon and Saturday—buyers generally have their wants supplied.

Of course there is some demand every day, but usually the best days to sell Calves are Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday morning.

[From the Cincinnati Price Current, March 31.]

Copious rains and some moderately freezing weather prevailed the past week over practically the whole of the Winter Wheat belt, except in the most western part of Kansas and Nebraska, where the rainfall was light. These conditions were not regarded as unfavorable for the Wheat, and as the temperature was too cool for any material growth, the general situation has not been perceptibly changed. Beginning from Central Ohio and Kentucky, where the appearance of the Wheat is unpromising, some estimating the prospects as low as 50 per cent, the situation seems to improve going westward, through Indiana, Illinois and Missouri. In Missouri and Eastern Kansas the condition of the crop is favorable. In Central Kansas the plant has good root growth and has a fair appearance. From Western Kansas and Oklahoma there are some conflicting reports, but it is believed that in that region and Texas the crop lately has been holding its own. Taking the situation as a whole, while still accompanied by more than usual uncertainties, it may rather indefinitely be regarded as having a basis for about a medium crop, hardly up to the average of recent years, but not an especially small one, with possibilities of marked improvement under favorable conditions.

At this time Oats seeding should be in active progress, but the past week or two have been too wet to continue the work which had already begun But there is yet plenty of time to put in a large crop. More than the usual amount of fall plowing had been done, and this in some degree relieves the pressure of spring work.

The interior movement of all Grains has been restricted largely by the prevalence of bad roads over most of the country. Complaints of poor Corn or rotting Corn have increased somewhat in recent reports. In Iowa supplies are generally scarce. East of the Mississippi River supplies of Wheat are generally reported as rather light, although there are some who are still holding for an advance.

In Ohio there has been much rain and some freezing weather during the past week. The Wheat crop has made practically no growth, and there is no change in prospects, which on the whole are unpromising, yet uncertain. In the western part of the State a small portion of the Wheat land, it is reported, will be broken for Corn. In the northern counties the condition of the plant seems to be somewhat better than in central and most southern counties. In a limited portion of the southern districts the Wheat is reported favorable. Very little Oats seeding or other spring work has been done, owing to the cold and wet weather. More complaint is received of Corn spoiling. Very little Grain moving. Large acreage of Corn is expected.

In Indiana weather conditions have been about the same as in Ohio, and the character of reports on Wheat are about the same, but not quite so bad. Little spring work is being done, and the season is becoming a little backward. Some complaint of poor quality of Corn in the country.

In Illinois the growing Wheat crop is in fair condition, and is doing well, with ample moisture. Oats seeding retarded by wet ground Not much Grain moving

In Iowa there had been a large amount of fall plowing done, and Oats seeding had commenced, but was stopped by rains and freezing weather of last week. Not much Grain is moving. Corn scarce.

In Missouri the growing Wheat is in good condition, with plenty of moisture. Oats seeding has been retarded by wet weather. Not much field work at present. Conditions on the whole are favorable. Grain movement moderate.

In Kansas recent rains have done good to the crops in central and eastern counties. Over most of the State there has been some rainfall, and the present condition of the crop is about an average. Oats seeding has not been completed, owing to the recent wet and cold weather. Large acreage of spring crops is expected. Some fear that the recent freeze hurt the Oats that had been sown. Not much Grain moving.

MONTHLY WEATHER BUREAU REPORT.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The monthly crop and climate bulletin of the Department of Agriculture says:

From the Upper Mississippi Valley to the Middle Atlantic Coast the season is generally reported backward, although the average temperature for the month in these districts was generally in excess of the normal. In the Southern States the month has been mild and favorable for farming operations. The northern portion of the Central Gulf States, however, the Central Valleys and the greater part of the Lake Region suffered from excessive rains and Western Texas and the Southern Plateau Region from drouth.

From Northern Wisconsin Westward to the Rocky mountains the ground is still frozen deeply and no farm work has been done. On the Pacific Coast the month has been cold and wet, wholly preventing farm work in Washington and Oregon. The highest water known in many years, flooding thousands of acres of valuable Grain lands, occurred in Northern California during the first and second decades.

Over the Western portion of the principal Winter Wheat area the reports indicate an improvement in the condition of Winter Wheat, and in some of the more Easterly sections a slight improvement is also indicated. As at the close of the previous month, the least favorable reports are received from the Central and Eastern districts. In Indiana the crop has been badly washed on high lands and much injured by floods on low lands, but where not thus damaged it is healthy and growing. In the Western portions of the Wheat area of Nebraska and Kansas the crop has suffered from drouth.

Good progress has been made with Oat seeding in the Southern States, with the exception of Western Texas, where it has been too dry, and the general outlook for this crop is promising Seeding is in progress as far north as Southern Missouri and Kansas, but no seeding has been done farther north.

In the Gulf States much Corn has been planted and good stands are reported. Some planting has been done in the southern portions of Kansas and Missouri; preparations for Corn planting in the Central Mississippi and Ohio Valleys and Middle Atlantic States have progressed slowly.

In the central and western portions of the Cotton belt Cotton planting was progressing rapidly at the close of the month and some planting had been done in all the eastern districts. In Southern Texas about half the crop has been planted and the early planted is coming up nicely.

In the Central Valleys, Lower Lake region and New England Peaches are reported to have been injured, but have thus far escaped injury in the Middle and South Atlantic States.

PORK PACKING AND PROVISIONS.

[From the Cincinnati Price Current, March 31.]

There has been a reduced number of Hogs marketed past week. Total Western packing 300,000, compared with 370,000 the preceding week, and 350,000 two weeks ago. For corresponding time last year the number was 355,000, and two years ago 385,000 From March 1 the total is 1,455,000, against 1,405,000 a year ago. The quality is from fair to good. Prices are somewhat higher, with prominent markets at the close indicating a general average of $5 30 per 100 lbs, compared with $5 20 a week ago, $5 35 two weeks ago, $7 30 a year ago, $6 70 two years ago, $6 00 three years ago.

The speculative Provision market was only moderately active the past week, and the change in values was not important. There was a firm undertone, as the advance in the Grain markets and higher prices for Hogs encouraged some buying.

General trade conditions are not materially changed from a week ago Domestic markets are quiet and steady, and foreign markets rather dull and not essentially changed. The export clearances of Products were fair, and about the same as for the preceding week, but there is shown a decrease as compared with the corresponding week last year.

The week's export clearances of Hog Products compared with corresponding time last year:

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Illinois crop report indicates an improvement in the condition of Winter Wheat.

Agents ask 2¼c freight for Corn to Buffalo and want a strike clause inserted. Shippers bid 2c.

Business failures in the United States and Canada for the past week were 221, against 241 the previous week and 191 for the corresponding week last year.

Directors of the Continental National Bank, Chicago, Thursday, declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable April 1 to stockholders of record March 31.

Bank Clearings of the leading financial centers of the United States for the past week aggregated $1,708,479,378, a decrease of 2.2 per cent compared with the corresponding week last year.

E. H. Harriman says he is not yet prepared to make any statement with regard to the Northern Securities matter, but will do so as soon as final opinion has been rendered by Union Pacific counsel.

Average weight of Live Stock at Chicago for months mentioned follows:

	Mar., 1904.	Feb., 1904.	Jan., 1904.	Mar., 1903.	Mar., 1902.
Sheep	87	89	93	88	92

Bradstreet's reports the exports of Wheat and Flour from the United States and Canada for the past week at 1,267,000 bu, against 1,802,000 bu for the previous week, and 3,130,000 bu for the corresponding week last year. Exports from July 1 reported at 115,982,000 bu, compared with 173,970,000 bu for the corresponding time in 1902-3.

Orange Judd Farmer makes condition of Wheat a fraction above 80—rather better than early reports indicated. Condition low in Ohio Valley—Ohio, 69; Kentucky, 69; Tennessee, 68; Indiana, 72; Illinois, 83; Missouri, 81; Kansas, 80; Oklahoma, bad; Pacific Coast, high. Present condition only a little below ten years' average.

The Modern Miller says: "Since the freezing weather early in the week conditions have favored the Winter Wheat crop, which has made seasonable advancement. In Oklahoma, where rainfall has been the least, advices indicate a satisfactory outlook. Elsewhere the crop appears to be in promising condition. In the more Southern sections the plant is growing nicely and a marked improvement is noted."

A cable from Sydney, N. S. W., says: "The work of harvesting this year's Wheat crop is nearly completed, and the Government estimates place the yield at 11,000,000 bu above the best previous record. Seventeen million bushels are now available for export. New Zealand's crop is estimated at 6,912,000 bu, compared with 4,174,000 bu last year, 6,733,000 bu two years ago, and a five years' average of 7,818,000 bu. Exportable surplus of this year's crop estimated at 1,800,000 bu."

The closeness of the race between the clearing figures of the Chicago banks this year and last was illustrated again, Thursday, by the figures for the month of March. They showed a gain of $10,792,144 over those of last year, or 1.43 per cent. The total of this year is now $21,187,130 ahead of the last year to date, or a little less than 1 per cent. But since this year has had one more working day than last year up to this time, and since the average clearings for a day are above $25,000,000, there has been theoretically a falling off in clearings this year over last.

Assents to the proposed plan for financing the improvements contemplated by the South Side Elevated Railroad Company, Chicago, have been made in very satisfactory volume by the stockholders, and nearly all of the stockholders are now enrolled in the underwriting syndicate which is to take the new issue of stock. The meeting to vote the new issue will be held April 7. Notice is given that, in accordance with the by-laws, the transfer books of the company will be closed on April 1 for the special meeting of the stockholders, and will be opened the day after the meeting adjourns.

Cotton in New York was lower early, but higher later. The South had liberal rains, and Fall River mills are closing. But the market was oversold on yesterday's break, and a movement to cover and buying by spot houses caused an advance. Closing sales were at gains of 6@13 points.

Stocks in New York were more active and strong. London bought liberally and there was good support from insiders, also covering by "shorts." Prices advanced materially and despite heavy selling for profits, closing sales were at gains of ¾ to 1¼ points on Western Railway shares, ¼ to 4¼ on Coalers, and ⅛ to 2⅜ on Industrials. East-bound roads are distributing their cars more generally where they are most needed, and are able to supply more cars to Grain shippers than at any time in three months. Their general tonnage has not increased any the past week. The congestion has been relieved throughout the West, and in the East there is a rapid cleaning up. Freight officials say they are out for new tonnage, as they can handle it more rapidly, and they want to keep their equipment busy.

Broomhall's weekly foreign crop summary: "United Kingdom—Crop conditions during the past week have continued to show a gradual improvement. REVIEW OF TO-DAY'S MARKETS.

FLOUR—Demand slow and prices easy. Liverpool stocks, 107,000 brls, increased 4,000 brls during March.

WINTER WHEAT—The general market for cash was dull and depressed and prices from 1c to 3c lower—the poorest Wheat showing the greatest decline. Choice and fancy milling Wheat held its own better than the ordinary Wheat. There was less milling demand. Buyers appeared afraid to stock up beyond actual wants. No. 2 Red in store quotable at 93½c@1 00⅞ and fresh arrivals free on board quotably $1 00@1 03. No 3 Red fresh arrivals free on board sold at 98½c@$1 00. No. 2 Hard fresh arrivals free on board quotable at 92@98c. No. 3 Hard local quotable at 84@94c, with a sale at 86½c.

SPRING WHEAT—Was quiet and prices quotably 1@2c lower, but closed rather steadier. There was less demand from millers and no shipping business to-day. A lot of 50,000 bu of No. 1 Northern was sold yesterday and brought ¾c premium over May and ranged in store at 94½@95¾c, and fresh arrivals free on board quotable at 93c@$1 00. No. 2 Spring fresh receipts free on board sold at 97c. No. 3 Spring fresh receipts quotable at 87@98c for ordinary to choice hard variety. No. 4 Spring sold at 61@81c for poor to fair and quotable at 90c for choice.

REGULAR WHEAT—Just a fair trade and rather weaker tone early, but rallied sharply later, the close being unchanged for May, while July gained ⅜@½c and September ¼c. The breaking of the drouth, weakness in outside markets, decline in coarse Grains, and lack of outside speculative interest induced local professionals and the Southwest to sell freely the first half of the session. There was continued liquidation, as was the case on Monday, but at the decline "shorts" came in, and many of the early sellers turned buyers, the impression prevailing that a prominent elevator concern was taking on the old July. Reports of some improvement in the Flour demand in the Northwest was one of the late influential factors. Liverpool quoted spot ¼d lower to ⅛d higher; futures were 1⅛@1¼d lower. Stocks there April 1 were reported 2,176,000 bu, an increase of 1,072,000 bu during March. London was ⅛@1¼d lower. London quoted cargoes on passage steady, but very inactive. Paris was steady to ⅛c higher. Antwerp declined ⅝c, while Berlin lost ¾c and Buda Pesth 1⅛@1½c lower. English farmers' deliveries last week were 360,000 bu and the price, 84½c, was ¾c lower than a week ago. Map showed rains through Missouri, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Tennessee. Fair and colder weather was predicted for Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas. Showers for Indiana, Minnesota and Iowa. Minneapolis wired: "Weather bright in the Northwest and looks all right for seeding operations over most of the area." Stocks here in all positions decreased 322,000 bu to 4,885,000 bu and are 6,230,000 bu smaller than a year ago. Contract stocks decreased 241,559 bu and are now 1,194,591 bu, against 3,127,892 bu same date in 1903. Bradstreet's world's available increased 396,000 bu, compared with an increase same week in 1903 of 313,000 bu. Primary receipts were 13,000 bu less than a year ago. Receipts in the Northwest were larger. Minneapolis wired stocks had increased 125,000 bu past four days. Exports were liberal and 14 boat loads were accepted at the seaboard. Local cash sales included 50,000 bu No. 1 Northern at ¾c over May and 7,000 bu No. 2 Red at $1 02¼c. Receipts at Duluth for Tuesday were 70 cars, at Minneapolis 127 cars, a total of 197 cars for the two points. Receipts at Duluth Wednesday were 21 cars and at Minneapolis 189 cars, a total of 210 cars, against 398 cars Monday, 260 cars a week ago, and 115 cars last year. Local receipts included 11 cars Winter, 14 cars Spring and 6 cars mixed, a total of 31 cars, against 37 cars last year. Included in the above was none of contract grade. There were 18 cars and no bu taken from unlicensed elevators. The estimated receipts for to-morrow were not reported. The withdrawals to-day were 44,950 bu. Receipts at Western points were 653,278 bu, against 666,130 bu last year. At Eastern points 59,569 bu, against 21,261 bu last year. DAILY TRADE BULLETIN.

Devoted Exclusively to

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL NEWS.

HOWARD, BARTELS & CO., Publishers, 28 Sherman St.

Chicago, Wednesday, April 6, 1904.

Communications addressed to the publishers of the DAILY TRADE BULLETIN will not receive attention unless postage is enclosed for reply

Important Notice.

In March, 1884, when it was alleged that certain market circulars compiled for the use and benefit of members of the Chicago Board of Trade, were being furnished daily to alleged "bucket shops," the following resolution was passed by the Board of Directors:

Resolved, That the President of this Board notify the above mentioned firms that such action on their part is detrimental to the interests of this Board, and that they are requested to discontinue sale of said circulars to such "bucket shops."

Exporters of Provisions are virtually out of the open market.

***

Macaroni Wheat, it is claimed, is being used for mixing purposes.

***

Light weight Hogs reduce the average yield of Lard considerably.

***

Floods in the West during the past ten days have checked farm work.

***

It is claimed that the area seeded to Oats will be quite large this spring.

***

Crop advices from parties who are speculating in Grain are apt to be biased.

***

Are the Spring Wheat millers of the Northwest making Winter Wheat Flour?

***

It is estimated that about 10,000,000 Hogs are slaughtered annually on the farms.

***

The "merger" decision was another "I told you so"—what everybody expected.

***

The exports of Wheat are unusually small, while those of Flour are fairly liberal.

Rye market inclined to quietness, owing to small supplies, and prices slightly lower.

***

The bad condition of the interior roads has curtailed the receipts of Grain and Live Stock.

***

Millers have fairly good supplies of Flour on hand, and expect to realize profitable prices.

***

Grass Seeds have been rather weak during the past month, and prices declined moderately.

***

The arrivals of Breadstuffs in the United Kingdom are quite liberal for the season of the year.

***

The growing crops of Grain on the Pacific Coast have improved in condition within the past month.

***

The Cincinnati Price Current has issued fifty-five annual reports of the packing of Hogs in the West.

***

Prices of Cattle, Hogs and Sheep have been well maintained, owing to the moderate supplies marketed.

***

Cooperage suffered quite a sharp decline in prices during the past month. Packers were slow purchasers.

***

Trade in Barley rather good, but quality of offerings rather irregular, and fluctuations in prices quite wide.

***

The consumption of Wheat in the United States at present is generally estimated at about 34,500,000 bu per month.

***

It is claimed that the quantity of Breadstuffs on passage to Europe will probably increase twenty-five per cent by June 1.

***

Stocks of Hog Products on hand in the United States on March 1 were about 110,000,000 lbs larger than one year ago.

***

The receipts of Corn at Chicago during April and May, 1903, were 9,227 cars, of which 511 cars, or about 5½ per cent, were contract.

***

The quarterly edition of the "Red Book Annex" will be issued from the office of the DAILY TRADE BULLETIN about April 15.

Rather more life in the market for Stocks and Securities, and the undertone is stronger in a general way since the "merger" decision.

***

Some of the newly formed "breakfast food" companies are not progressing very favorably. Probably too many names for the same article.

***

Calculations are made that the area of Spring Wheat will be enlarged somewhat this year, and the areas of Barley and Flax Seed reduced.

***

The exports of Breadstuffs from all countries since July 1, 1903, have been about 20,000,000 bu larger than for the corresponding time in 1902-3.

***

The Live Stock dealers of the West are talking seriously of purchasing packing plants to slaughter Live Stock in opposition to the large packers.

***

There is considerable discussion over the quality of Corn for seeding purposes. It is an important item for farmers to have good Corn for seed.

***

Russian and Japanese governments have purchased rather liberally of Beef and Hay during the past two months—"food for man and beast."

***

Board of Trade memberships are not quite so strong—the effect of the war scare having died out, and the time for paying the annual dues is at hand.

***

Foreign Provision markets are dull, owing largely to alleged liberal consignments of Products direct from manufacturers, which tend to depression.

***

Packers are disposed to hold their Meats fo higher prices, especially as prices of Hogs are well maintained, but buyers are unwilling to follow any advance.

***

While stocks of Flax Seed are quite liberal, the market presents rather a firm undertone, due mainly to the opinion that a reduced area may be seeded this year.

***

Hay has been marketed with considerable freedom within the past month, and the demand was quite good, especially for the better qualities, and prices ruled higher.

***

One of the surprises of the Provision trade is the urgent demand from the Eastern market for Hogs. The competition between packers and shippers assisted in maintaining prices.

***

Parties who figure on the movement of Grain and arrive at results different from those indicated by the visible supply, should bear in mind that there are private elevators in existence.

***

The packing of the West during the twelve months ending March 1, according to the Cincinnati Price Current, exhibited an increase of 1,770,000 Hogs, compared with the returns of the previous twelve months.

***

Speculative trading in Grain and Hog Products was quite active during the past month. The May, July and September deliveries of Grain, and the May and July deliveries of Hog Products were most in favor.

***

Millers in all parts of the country appear to be anxious buyers of the best grades of Wheat. Farmers rather slow to sell. Inspection returns at the leading markets show the quality of the receipts to be rather poor.

***

The public should understand that the DAILY TRADE BULLETIN is an entirely independent publication—its publishers have no interest in the general markets, nor in any commission house or firm. Therefore its reports are made on general information, and not in the interest of any particular faction or combination of traders.

Should Be Discontinued.

It is quite evident to the farming interest and the members of the Grain trade, that the April report of the Department of Agriculture on the condition of Winter Wheat is of very little, if any, value to those directly interested. It is too early to give any information that is reliable—anything that can be depended upon. The Secretary of Agriculture should ask Congress to amend the instructions for issuing the report on the condition of Winter Wheat so that the April report may be omitted. This would give the correspondents ample time by May 1 to thoroughly investigate the changes in the area, should there be any, and also to investigate the effects of the winter weather on the growing plant in all sections of the country.

CROPS IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

[From Broomhall's Corn Trade News, March 22.]

United Kingdom—The weather has been favorable, on the whole, during the past week, and there is a slightly more hopeful tone about some of the agricultural reports, both in this country and in France.

Russia—Of definite news regarding the crops there is little or none. It is well known that the area seeded in the South last autumn was reduced owing to the drouth, and the crops did not get a good start The winter has not been unfavorable, but we can hardly think the crops have finished the winter better than they started, but as Spring Wheat is of more importance than the Winter crop, and as, moreover, it seems possible to grow the crop in any part, it may be that with a favorable spring, many of the defects of the winter crop will be made good. Navigation on the Sea of Azoff has now been officially reopened as far as Taganrog and about a score of steamers are reported as fixed to load at the various ports. Shipments last week were smaller, but with mild weather throughout the Southern districts, there should soon be plentiful supplies coming down by water.

Roumania The weather generally is favorable for the crops, and growers are busy with spring plowing There have been no complaints so far, but a Braila report mentions that the snowfall the past winter has been light and the effects of this may be felt later in the season Arrivals at shipping ports are increasing, but are still rather light.

Bulgaria and Turkey—Both official and unofficial crop reports are quite favorable and as the land has good supplies of moisture, hopes are entertained that the spring as well as the winter seedings will do well.

Austria-Hungary—The crops have wintered in good condition and give rise to no complaints. Wheat is freely offered in Buda Pesth.

Argentina—The strike on the railways is now definitely settled, and arrivals at the ports increased last week Shipments were about the same as in the week previous The gathering of the Corn crop is now proceeding satisfactorily.

Australasia—We have no fresh news of the crop situation Liberal quantities of Wheat continue to be put afloat and it looks as if the total will reach 16,000 000 bu by the end of this month. It is easy to see that the total for the season will establish a new record, although it may not reach the big figures of the early estimates.

India—Everything is going on well and there is no reason to doubt that a splendid Wheat harvest will be secured, unless heavy rains should spoil the late crop of the North at the eleventh hour. Shipments are on a liberal scale, and will increase before long, for with April we start the new Indian season as usually reckoned.

France—The weather last week was again favorable and the crops continue to receive favorable mention. Spring cultivation and seeding are making good progress. Provincial markets have been weaker, but native Wheat is not freely offered, and supplies are likely to keep on the small side in the near future, as growers will be busy with field work

Italy—Recent weather has been favorable and crop conditions are satisfactory.

Spain - Very changeable weather has been experienced lately. It has not been unfavorable on the whole, but a dry period is now much wanted.

Germany—There is not much news of the winter crops, and the absence of complaints at this period can be regarded as a satisfactory feature. Spring seeding has commenced in the south under favorable weather conditions, but the work is generally backward.

North Africa—Owing to copious rains hopes are entertained that the next harvest will be unusually abundant.

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The weather map shows a rain at Wichita, and rains through Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Tennessee The rainfall at Wichita is 20. There is a heavy fall at Fort Worth, Texas, .74. There are heavy rains through Missouri and the Ohio Valley. There have been rains through Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas for two days.

The record in the paper this morning shows .62 at Wichita and light rains at Concordia and Dodge, and yesterday's map showed more or less rain at all Kansas and Oklahoma points. Temperatures this morning are spring-like over most of the area, although still low in the extreme North.

Indications are the present disturbance will pass away, but the storm West will move East and cause showers in this section Thursday. No marked change in temperatures.

Many houses have no quarter blood Wool, and a demand for foreign cross breds has resulted."

The Mark Lane Express of March 21 says: "The improvement in the weather has enabled the farmer to make fair progress with spring sowings in the less heavy lands, while the heavy clays have at last become possible for the plow. It is understood that the plan of reorganizing the Chicago and Oak Park Elevated, formerly the Lake Street Elevated, contemplates a holding company and an operating company. The exchanges of Securities and the capitalization of the new company will be according to the reorganization plan now being carried out.

Dornbusch's Buda Pesth correspondent, writing under date of March 22, says: "Business in Flour is still very limited. New purchases have been of very moderate dimensions, and order books are generally being cleared by the fairly liberal weekly deliveries. Business has, in fact, reached a dead level at the moment, and a natural revival at an early date may the more confidently be expected, as consumption usually undergoes a considerable expansion at this season of the year. Stocks have again been considerably reduced, but are still very large. Offal is scarce and firmly held."

Fully one-half of the wooden vessels on the lakes will go without insurance the coming season if the estimate of the prominent vessel owners, made when the new rates were received, Saturday, was correct. The new tariff is the highest ever issued on the great lakes. It advances rates from 5½ to 6½ per cent on steamers valued at $10,000 and over and from 6 to 7 per cent on boats valued at $30,000 to $10,000. The rate on steamers valued between $20,000 and $30,000 is 7½ per cent and under $20,000 8 per cent. The tariff rate on wooden schooners and barges valued at $30,000 and over is 7½ per cent, on valuations between $20,000 and $30,000 8½ and under $20,000 9 per cent. With the unfavorable outlook for business in lake carrying, these rates are prohibitory to a large number of ships'

March was a favorable month for elevated traffic in Chicago, and good gains were shown by the lines as compared with March of last year. Some of the figures broke all records in the history of the lines. Metropolitan Elevated redeemed its poorer showing of the first two months of the year by making a gain of nearly 5 per cent, and a daily average of 122,507, the highest record in the company's history. The South Side Elevated made a gain of 5 62 per cent, but did not quite equal the figures of last December, which were the largest outside of the month during the strike on the Chicago City Railway lines. The Northwestern made the largest percentual gain—6.1 per cent—of any of the roads, and nearly equaled the figures of last December, the high record.

The Chicago Inter Ocean says: "The report comes from New York that the Northwestern and St. Paul systems will buy the Great Western Railroad and divide it between them. An attempt to do this was made in 1901, but was abandoned because of the panic caused by the Hill-Harriman fight for the Northern Pacific. To buy the Great Western now will cost a great deal more than three years ago, because of the extension to Omaha and important improvements which have been made all along the railroad. One thing that has been demonstrated to Wall Street is that control of the Great Western Railroad cannot be secured without the co-operation of its president, A. B. Stickney. To learn this fact cost J. Pierpont Morgan, or the companies for which he was acting, quite a sum of money several years ago At a recent session of the Inter State Commerce Commission in Chicago one of its members said: 'If it wasn't for the Great Western there would be no such thing as competition in rates among the Western railroads'"

The Chicago Inter Ocean says: "Hope of an early settlement of the Grain rate war has been abandoned by the Western railroads. To prevent it from spreading all the other roads have refrained from meeting the cuts made alternately by the Great Western and Northwestern roads. The result has been that from competitive points those two roads carried all the Grain and the others were obliged to haul many cars empty east from Omaha. Because of these conditions the Rock Island system, Tuesday, announced that it would make a rate of 4c per 100 lbs on Wheat and 3c on Corn from Omaha and Council Bluffs to Chicago and Peoria, on Grain coming from trans-Missouri territory. This meets the rates of the Chicago Great Western Railway and practically makes the Rock Island system its ally in the fight against the Northwestern. The St Paul, Burlington, and other lines from Omaha will be forced to make similar reductions in Grain rates. The war will last until either the Northwestern or Great Western recedes from its position regarding proportional rates from Omaha."

REVIEW OF TO-DAY'S MARKETS.

FLOUR—The market is tame and practically nothing doing on domestic and export account. Prices are easy.

WINTER WHEAT—The market was easy without special change in prices. There was not much of any demand and trade was slower. Millers holding off. No. 2 Red in store quotable at 97¼c@$1 00⅛—some offered 5c over May and fresh arrivals free on board quotable at $1 00@1 03. No. 3 Red fresh arrivals free on board ranged at 97c@$1 01. No. 2 Hard fresh arrivals free on board sold at 98c and was quotable at [illegible] depending on quality. No. 3 Hard fresh receipts free on board sold at 80@95c and was quotable at 85@93c. No. 4 Hard poor Wheat sold at 62c.

SPRING WHEAT—Was very quiet and feeling easy. Millers holding off and there was less demand than of late. Prices were not quotably lower but an easier feeling existed. No. 1 Northern in store quotably 95@98c, and fresh arrivals free on board quotably at 95c@$1 00. No. 2 Northern quotable at 92@98c. No. 3 Spring ranged at 80@95c for poor to choice. No. 4 Spring sold at 84@85c for good, some offered at 70c with 68c best bid, and ranged at 60@80c for poor to choice.

REGULAR WHEAT—A good trade and very nervous feeling was prevalent in this market, which closed with the May ⅛c higher, July being down ⅛@¼c and September up ⅛c. Yesterday's buyers were the principal sellers at the start, the weakness shown in outside markets and further moisture in the Winter Wheat belt being the principal factors. The Missouri Pacific report noted satisfactory conditions Southwest and the Price Current stated past week had been favorable for the growing crop and moderate improvement indicated. Spring seeding delayed. The map showed more rain in Kansas and Oklahoma, and there were rains and snows in the Northwest, and local rains in Iowa and Nebraska. The signal service predicted cloudy, cooler conditions for Kansas and Nebraska, showers and cooler for Illinois and Indiana; snow and colder for Minnesota and Dakotas. As the session advanced the demand improved and on buying credited to a prominent elevator concern prices rallied. The bulge was supposed to have been started to aid the Corn market. The news from the Northwest was construed as "bullish" and there was buying by the Northwest. Primary receipts were 18,000 bu larger than a year ago. Kansas City and St. Louis received 85,000 bu, against 136,000 bu last year, and shipments 101,000 bu. Receipts in the Northwest were 64 cars larger than in 1903. Hillsboro N. D., wired: "Five inches of snow and still snowing; country a sea of water and snow; no seeding in valley before the 25th with best of weather." Liverpool quoted spot steady to ½d lower and futures ⅛@⅜d higher. London came steady to ⅛d higher. Cargoes on ocean passage were quoted steady. Paris was ⅛c higher to ⅜c lower. Antwerp was unchanged. Exports were small, and only 8 boat loads accepted at the seaboard. Some selling of new September by elevator interests. Flour output the last week in the Northwest was 431,000 brls compared with 537,000 brls same week in 1903. The break in Corn was a late feature. Minneapolis and Duluth increase 100,000 bu for five days, against 161,000 bu increase last week. Cash sales here small. Argentine shipments this week estimated at 3,200,000 bu. Receipts at Duluth 52 cars and at Minneapolis 199 cars, a total of 251 cars, against 210 yesterday, 202 cars a week ago and 183 cars last year. Local receipts included 33 cars Winter, 15 Spring, 3 mixed, total of 51 cars, against 41 cars last year. Included in the above was none of contract grade. There were 18 cars and no bu taken from unlicensed elevators. The estimated receipts for to-morrow were not reported. The withdrawals to-day were 37,200 bu. Receipts at Western points were 374,176 bu, against 358,181 bu last year. At Eastern points 34,829 bu, against 84,088 bu last year. Shipments from Western points were 282,597 bu, against 677,345 bu last year, and from Eastern points 4,800 bu, against 25,968 bu last year. Shipments of Flour were 31,218 brls. CORN—Was weak and lower, the close showing the May off 2¼c, while July lost 1⅝c and the September 1⅛c. Local professional operators sold freely from the start, while the "long" interest purchased liberal quantities. The chief "bear" incentive was the improved grading, 69 cars out of 255 cars passing contract, compared with 175 cars in a year ago when none were up to the speculative standard. As the session advanced the offerings increased and the trade imagined the "bull" party was selling through commission houses and prices broke badly, selling off 1¾c to 2c and closed at inside figures. DECEMBER—First trades were made at 45c and 45⅛c.

OATS—Were irregular, following Corn down and up and finally closing easy at almost the low point with net losses of ⅜@¾c, the latter on May. A break of ⅛@1c was made early on general selling, which was followed by a partial recovery, but it failed to hold. Outside commission house business was moderate. BARLEY—Sound malting Barley was in demand. It was steady and firm; very little offered. The season is getting late, and maltsters want only the better class of goods; they do not care for the common and poor. Latter grades dull dragging and easier, fortunately there were not many spot cars offered, but samples from other markets sent on in the hope of being able to sell here. Barley below malting, feed and mixing, very dull and ½c lower. No demand except for an occasional car of thin good color. Heavy dark mostly not salable. Future market depressed for all but good goods. Seventeen cars inspected in. HOG PRODUCTS—Quite a good speculative trade was reported in Hog Products, and the undertone to the market was rather easy, especially early in the day. Outside orders were fair and local trading was more active. "Longs" realized on fair quantities, and packers sold moderately. "Shorts" provided for a fair number of outstanding contracts. Hogs were in fair supply and prices lower. Receipts at the leading Western packing points were estimated at 69,100, compared with 50,900 one year ago. *Minnesota, Dakota and Iowa mills outside of Minneapolis and Duluth.

Two large mills in operation a week ago were shut down Friday morning, and because of this, together with other shrinkages, the Flour output lacked considerably of equaling the estimate. However, compared with the week before, the production increased 81,050 brls. This week only twelve mills are in operation. While one more will be started on Thursday, the week's output is not likely to exceed 240,000 brls. For the corresponding week in 1903 it was 352,000 brls. From this it will be noted that the mills are running a good deal lighter than a year ago.

If possible, the Flour trade with Minneapolis mills last week was the dullest yet experienced. Light as the production was, less Flour was sold. The limited business done was practically all in domestic markets. The East continues to entertain "bearish" views as to prices, Wheat in the last few days encouraging them in this view, and trade consists of scattering lots. The mills have old orders about exhausted, and since their avowed policy is to run only to meet the current demand, a heavy curtailment in output results.

It is hard to describe the export trade, except to say that it is dead. Only one mill is known to have sold a little Patent abroad, and then the price was paid to get a certain brand that was specially wanted. Mills commonly report the few bids received is 6d@2s too low. Clears are very dull.

Prices of Patent have changed very little during the week, though a 10c reduction was made to-day. The range of quotations now is $4 80@5 05 per 196 lbs in wood f. o. b. Minneapolis.

The range of Eastern prices, April 5, asked by Minneapolis mills for patent in wood was: Boston rate points, $5 55@5 75; New York rate points, $5 50 @5 75; Pittsburg rate points, $5 30@5 50; Baltimore rate points, $5 4 @5 60, Philadelphia rate points, $5 45@5 70; Albany rate points, $5 50@5 75; Rochester and Syracuse rate points, $5 45@5 60; Buffalo rate points, $5 30@5 50; Michigan, $5 0 @5 25 in sacks; Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin, $5 00@5 25 in sacks; Missouri points, $4 85@5 10 in sacks.

BREADSTUFFS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

[From the Portland Commercial Review, Mar. 31.]

Wheat—The local market is exceedingly dull and very little new business is reported. Holders have not as yet changed their ideas as to values and will only sell when price suits them. Millers and exporters are not in need of any Wheat at present, neither of them have any important wants to fill. Vessels on berth are receiving good dispatch, and in a fortnight there will not be any chartered tonnage in port either here or Puget Sound for foreign loading, unless some unforeseen demand should show up. A great difficulty at present for millers is, in case they should be in need of any Wheat for milling purposes, to obtain first-class quality of the same. There is plenty of Wheat in the country, but not all or half suitable for milling purposes. The European markets are of a dragging character, and cables denote no demand for our Wheat. Europe can buy cheaper from other exporting countries, and buyers are not compelled to come to the Coast for Wheat. Spring work is in full blast all over the country and seeding is going on rapidly, the weather for the time being very good, allowing farmers to do a little work, the same being quite late this year. The fall-sown Grain is doing very well, and indications point to a very good crop at the present time. We quote club Wheat 75c per bu, bluestem 81c and valley 82c.

Flour—The market for Flour is dull. There have been a number of cables received for Flour, but prices offered are entirely too low for any one to accept, notwithstanding millers have cut the prices for export brands 10c per brl. One of the greatest difficulties to go through for the export miller is the large stocks on hand in China and Japan; fully 1,750,000 bags are in the China market unsold, and in Japan almost as much. These stocks will have to be reduced considerable before any new business can be had. Of course, buyers are always in the market if they can secure Flour at a great reduction in price, but when millers take into consideration the price they have to pay for Wheat and then accept offers on the basis of $3 25 per brl it does not look hardly feasible that they will come out even. The demand for South and Central America is only fair, and to California is without change. Some demand comes from Europe—not enough to cut any important figure in the trade. On the whole, the market is exceedingly dull. A few in the trade expect a revival in the next thirty days. We hope so. Quotations for export range from $3 40 to $3 50 per brl, with 5c additional for extra choice brands. Patents are without change and bring $4 00 to $4 25 per brl.

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

There are light rains in Eastern and Southern Kansas—.18 at Concordia; Dodge, trace; Wichita, 14 and raining; rain at Oklahoma and Fort Worth. There are snows in Manitoba and rains and snows in the Dakotas and Minnesota. There are rains over Iowa and Nebraska and light rains in the Ohio Valley. Temperatures are seasonable.

There is a little too much rain in Nebraska and Iowa for the farmer who has his work to do. The moisture in the Southwest, though not heavy, is an improvement.

Much comment has been caused in Pittsburg because of the fact that the Union Trust Company of Pittsburg has been made the Eastern fiscal agent of the recently organized Pacific Steel Company, whose capital is to be $100,000,000. One of the largest stockholders of the Union Trust Company is Henry Clay Frick.

The Wall Street Journal says: "With regard to current rumors for issues of securities by Kansas City Southern we have authority for the statement that no such issue is impending. A plan to issue some millions of securities was considered by the company, but it has now been abandoned, at least for the time being."

The directors of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company have negotiated with a New York banking firm for a loan of $4 000,000 on notes to run two years at 5 per cent and secured by collateral now in the company's treasury. This money is to be used to pay for regular construction work already planned.

It is understood that in addition to the new issue of General Electric stock, amounting to $3,325,000, the directors propose to issue the stock remaining unissued in the treasury, amounting to $1,062,600, which will make a total issue at this time of $4,387,600. Stockholders will have the right to take a new share for every ten shares of stock now held.

The investigation by the Illinois Insurance Commissioner has resulted in a decision that the bonds of the North American Investment Company of St. Louis do not come under the life insurance laws of the State, as there is no life insurance feature in the contract. The company has been licensed to do business in Illinois and has complied with the laws of the State governing such foreign corporations.

It is understood that the new issue of stock from the General Electric Company is not intended for any specific purpose, but for the general uses of the company. The basis of the new issue is not given, but it is understood that it will permit stockholders to subscribe at par for $3,325,000 of stock. On the basis of the stock at present outstanding, $43,944,700, this would be one share of new stock for every thirteen shares held. This would make rights on the present selling price of the stock, 167, worth about $5 00.

Traffic from Minneapolis, St. Paul and other Northwestern points will then come to Milwaukee by rail, be taken by the car ferry system across Lake Michigan to Ludington, thence by rail to Detroit, and by the second car ferry to Buffalo, where it will be delivered to the Pere Marquette's connections for transportation to the seaboard.

The net earnings of the United States Steel Corporation by months are: January, $2,968,213; February, $4,540,673; March (estimated), $5,800,000—showing a steady improvement. The total net earnings in the fiscal year ending Dec. 31, 1902, were $133,308 763, while for the year ending Dec. 31 last they were $109,171,152. The amount deducted for the interest on Steel corporation bonds, including the sinking fund on the bonds, was $6,815,442. Unfilled orders on hand March 31 were 4,136,961 tons, as compared with 3,215,123 tons on Dec. 31 last. The net earnings for the quarter ending Dec. 31 were $15,037 181.

Prices for electric lamps are to be increased at the rate of 2c per lamp, and but two grades will be provided for the trade. This action is the result of the organization of a new electric lamp combine under the domination of the General Electric Company, and a marked change will take place in the future operations of this business. The meeting in New York is reported to have concluded, Wednesday, with the formal signing of the agreement by all independent companies to operate under the General Electric license, thus placing that corporation in absolute control of the electric lamp trade.

The American Locomotive Company has obtained a controlling interest in the Rogers Locomotive Works at Paterson, N. J. It is believed in Paterson that in time the Rogers works will be abandoned and the business concentrated in the Cook branch of the American Locomotive Works, which also is in Paterson. The capacity of the Rogers works is one engine a day. The company which purchased the plant at receiver's sale about two years ago, after the death of Jacob H. Rogers, received valuable concessions from the City of Paterson on the assumption that it would remain an independent company.

The monthly comparative statement of the Government receipts and expenditures shows a surplus for the month of March of $3,057,101. The receipts are $44,761,499, and the expenditures $11,704,398. The receipts from customs amounted to $23,711,069, an increase of $1,101, from internal revenue, $18,360,972, decrease $462,779; from miscellaneous sources, $2,689,457, decrease $912,000. The expenditures show a falling off compared with March, 1903, of about $3,283,000. The War Department shows a decrease of about $3,000,000 and civil and miscellaneous a decrease of $2,000,000. The navy shows an increase of $1,500,000 and pensions an increase of $1,105,000.

The Mackay Companies has declared a quarterly dividend of 1 per cent upon preferred stock, payable April 9 to stock of record March 31. Stockholders of the Commercial Cable Company were given two shares of Mackay Companies preferred stock and two shares of common for each share of Commercial Cable. The Commercial company pays 8 per cent per annum to the Mackay Companies, which distributes it in preferred stock dividends. A large majority of the stock of the cable company has been exchanged for stock of the Mackay Companies. The time for the deposit of this stock with the Old Colony Trust Company, Boston, and Manhattan Trust Company of New York has been extended to and including April 18.

The monthly comparative statement of the circulation issued by the Comptroller of the Currency shows that at the close of business March 31, 1904, the total circulation of national bank notes was $431,909,912, an increase for the year of $52 390,684, and an increase for the month of $4,595,633. The amount of circulation based on United States bonds was $395,600,234, an increase for the year of $57,250,420, and an increase for the month of $5,247,743. The circulation secured by lawful money aggregated $30,809,702, a decrease for the year of $4,859,736, and a decrease for the month of $602,111. The amount of Government bonds on deposit to secure circulating notes was $398,034,650, and the amount of bonds on deposit to secure public deposits was $175,652,768.

The report of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company for the year ended Dec. 31, 1903, while reflecting the depression in the Iron and building industries, yet makes a very fair showing. Following the announcement made at the time dividends were reduced, that the company's profits were to be used for extraordinary expenses and betterments, such as are usually charged to capital account, the earnings for the year, outside of 6 per cent dividends, were all charged off for betterments and various extraordinary expenses, so that no surplus was carried forward. Gross profits were $701,464, as compared with $807,059 the previous year. After interest and sinking fund charges and liberal writing off for depreciation, profits applicable to stock were $107,134, or 6.75 per cent on the outstanding capital stock, as compared with $566,969, or 9.44 per cent, in 1902.

Individuals who are to be identified with the management of the reorganized Ship Building Company state that it will not be possible to accomplish complete rehabilitation before July 1. By that date it is expected to have everything in readiness for resuming work at all the plants. It has been decided not to risk starting subsidiary companies under the receivership, but to wait until the new company is able to do business under its own name. Until the New York complications are cleared away, the property of the company put under the hammer and bought in at a foreclosure sale, thus invalidating the $45,000,000 of common and preferred stock, no further steps can be taken toward resumption. The two foreclosure suits, one for $16,000 000, and the other for $10,000,000, must be joined and the foreclosure made effective. A member of the reorganization committee says: "The new company will probably be called the 'Bethlehem Steel and Ship Building Company,' so that we can get away from the ill-fated United States Ship Building Company. At the same time this name will enable us to advertise the Bethlehem Steel Company—our chief asset—as the holding company for the new enterprise."

Local Securities were unsettled with the feature the advance of 4 points in Pneumatic Tool. It had good support and traders claimed that all "bearish" conditions had been discounted. Carbon preferred, Union Traction preferred, and most of the Industrials averaged higher, but Box Board and Metropolitan Elevated preferred declined.

Stocks in New York were advanced in the morning, but weakened on realizing sales by several large operators who were leaving the market for a vacation. This took the edge off and made a good decline and a lower close for Railway shares. Industrials were irregular. Consolidated Gas advanced 3⅝, and Brooklyn Union Gas 6½, but Steel declined ½. Money 1½ to 1¾ per cent

The Modern Miller says: "Continued improvement has been made in the condition of the Winter Wheat crop under the favorable influence of rains and the warmer weather. In localities in Kansas and the Territories, where there has been much complaint of insufficient moisture, good rains have relieved the situation. The plant has a strong healthy growth. Complaints of field pests are exceptionally few."

The St. Louis correspondent of the Northwestern Miller, writing under date of April 4, says: "All reports coming into this office from the surrounding territory give emphasis to former reports which were to the effect that the growing plant is promising well, and under continued favorable conditions will result in a fair average crop. The weather last week was all that could be desired—plenty of moisture and warm enough to advance the plant in its growth."

REVIEW OF TO-DAY'S MARKETS.

FLOUR—Market is reported dull and sales are slow. Prices barely steady

WINTER WHEAT—Was quiet and easy. Millers holding off and cash lots little better than nominal. No. 2 Red in store was offered at 5c over May and 3c over was bid—ranging at 97¾@$1 00½ and fresh arrivals free on board entirely nominal at $1 00@1 03. No 3 Red fresh arrivals free on board quotable at 95c@$1 01. No 2 Hard local sold at 95c and quotable at 93@98c depending on quality. No 3 Hard local sold at 88c and quotable at 85@94c. No 4 Hard sold at 83@78c

SPRING WHEAT—Quiet and easier. Demand light—millers holding off and there was no shipping business. No 1 Northern in store sold ¾c over May to the extent of 15,000 bu, and ranged at 94½@95¾c, and fresh arrivals free on board quotable at 97c@$1 00. No 2 Northern fresh arrivals free on board ranged at 90@96c. No 3 Spring quotable at 85@95c for poor to choice. No 4 Spring sold at 68c for ordinary, to 83@85c for good and at 92c for choice.

REGULAR WHEAT—Was only moderately active and at the same time somewhat unsettled, with the close ⅝c higher for May while the July gained ⅝@⅞c and September ⅛c. The start was rather easy, with yesterday's buyers among the principal sellers, the liberal Argentine shipments and showing of the visible there being the chief factors. Argentine shipped 3,808,000 bu making 36,536,000 bu since Jan. 1, against 23,370,000 bu same period in 1903. Visible there 5,888,000 bu, against 4,781,000 bu last week and 3,760,000 bu in 1903. Liverpool quoted spot steady to ½d lower and futures ⅛@¼d lower. Receipts there past three days 618,000 bu and only 64,000 bu from America. London came ⅛@¼d lower and quoted cargoes on passage quiet, with very little bidding. The showing of the Continental markets and flood talk from the Northwest brought about the rally and "shorts" covered. Paris was up ¼@1¼c and Buda Pesth 1c higher. Map showed light but general rains in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. There were heavy snows in Minnesota, snow in Nebraska, heavy rains in Missouri, Illinois and through the Ohio Valley. The signal service predicted fair and cooler weather for Kansas, rain, turning into snow for Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, snows for Nebraska and the Dakotas. Farming interests around Hillsboro, N. D., predicted the biggest floods in the northern part of the Red River Valley since 1882. Seeding is expected to be very late and more talk of reduced Wheat area and increase in Barley and Flax Seed. Minneapolis reported fifteen inches of snow at Fargo and two feet on the level at Grand Forks. The Modern Miller summary was "bearish," and a local crop authority claimed Winter Wheat condition was maintained if not slightly improved this week, and Spring Wheat seeding making fair progress, with excellent soil conditions, with indications of enlarged acreage. The DAILY TRADE BULLETIN reports stocks of Breadstuffs afloat and in store in Europe and Argentina April 1 at 86,114,000 bu, compared with 81,316,000 bu March 1 and 62,244,000 bu April 1, 1903. Russian and Argentine Wheats are said to be offered c. i. f. North American ports equal to 9½c, and India Red Wheat offered in some positions at 3½c. Part of the late buying was credited to the Northwest. Clearings were small and the total for the week 1,884,000 bu compared with 2,633,000 bu one year ago. Seaboard reported 8 boat loads accepted. Cash demand here was rather indifferent, and No. 1 Northern offered ¾c over May against sales at ¾c over the first of the week. Sales were 15,000 bu. Private cables claimed conditions in India less favorable. Receipts at Duluth 38 cars and at Minneapolis 191 cars, a total of 233 cars, against 251 yesterday, ... cars a week ago, and ... cars last year. Local receipts included 7 cars Winter, 5 Spring, no mixed, total of 12 cars, against ... cars last year. Included in the above was none of contract grade. There were 2 cars and 10,000 bu taken from unlicensed elevators. The estimated receipts for to-morrow were not reported. The withdrawals to-day were 31,200 bu. Receipts at Western points were 359,077 bu, against holiday last year. At Eastern points 64,419 bu, against holiday last year. Shipments from Western points were 102,109 bu, against holiday last year, and from Eastern points no bu, against holiday last year. Shipments of Flour were 22,616 brls. Exports of Wheat in Flour were equal to 101,107 bu

CORN—Was a fairly active, nervous market, with a good trade and better undertone, the close being ⅜c higher for May while July gained ⅜@⅝c and September ½c. The stormy weather was the chief "bull" incentive and there was good buying of July early in the session, the "long" interest purchasing openly. Later there was selling by commission houses which was credited to the "bull" party. The map showed snows as far South as Missouri and soft weather was generally predicted. Liverpool quoted spot unchanged and futures ⅛d lower. Receipts there the past three days were 376,000 bu. Argentine shipments were larger at 746,000 bu, and the total 9,375,000 bu since Jan 1, against 903,000 bu same period in 1903. Visible reported 591,000 bu, against 626,000 bu last week and 557,000 bu in 1903. Local receipts were moderate, 191 cars, with thirty-six cars grading contract. There were 93 cars switched from private to public elevators, of which 56 cars were contract. On the other hand there was 228,400 bu loaded out, of which 208,400 bu was contract. Western receipts 315,000 bu and the shipments 199,000 bu. Local arrivals 152,000 bu and shipments 52,000 bu. Southwestern markets were quoted stronger. Exports were moderate at 200,000 bu. Cash sales here were small and 3 boat loads accepted at the seaboard. Car lots were in moderate demand and fair supply. Prices were easy. No 2 sold at 53⅛@53¾c and closed at 53¾c. No. 2 at 53⅛@53¾c. No 2 Yellow at 54½c. No 3 White at 46@51c. No. 2 White at 53½@53¾c. Ears at 41c. Billed through: No Grade at 39@40½c. No 4 at 43@44c. No 3 Yellow at 49@49½c. No 3 White at 48¾@51½c. No 2 White at 52½c

Future Deliveries of No. 2 Corn—Fairly active and stronger, closing ⅛@⅜c to ⅝c higher.

APRIL. Closed nominally at 52¾c

MAY. Sold at 53⅛@54¼c. Opened at 53¼c to 54¼c and sold at 54c, to 53½c, to 53⅞c, to 53⅜c, to 53⅞c, to 53¾c, to 53⅞c, to 53⅜c, to 53¾c, to 53½c, to 53¾c, and closed at 53¾c asked

DECEMBER—Sold at 45⅛c, and closed at 45¾c

OATS—Advanced ⅝@1c over yesterday's close and finished at a net gain of ⅝c. It was a good deal of a weather market and derived part of its strength from other Grains. There was a "bearish" feeling among most of the local traders who sold early, but liberal buying kept prices strong most of the day. There was considerable selling of July at ⅞c difference. The discount of July and September has been materially reduced. Reports of delayed seeding in Illinois were numerous, but a private crop report said seeding was making fair progress with prospects of a heavy acreage in Ohio and Mississippi Valleys. Weather was cold in Northwest with snow and snow is predicted as far south as Missouri. Cash lots were inquired for at May price for Standard in cargo lots. Arrivals were 61 cars and 95 cars Standard were taken out of private elevators. Withdrawals were 4,700 bu. Seaboard clearances were 22,000 bu. Car lots to go to store were unsettled, with good ⅛c higher. No. 4 White sold at 40¼c. Standard in store closed about 39¼@39⅜c

Oats by sample were in better request and ½c lower for poor and steady to ½c higher for good. Offerings were lighter. Sales on track and free on board. No 4 at 36c. No 4 White at 36@40c. No 3 at 38¼@41c. No 3 White at 40½@42c. Standard at 41@43c. No 2 at 39¼@40c. Billed through: No 4 White at 38@40½c. No 3 White at 40@42c. Standard at 41½@41c. No 2 at 39c. No 2 White at 41c. At the river: No. 4 at 36½c. No 4 White at 35@39c. No 3 White at 41½c

Future Deliveries of Contract Oats—Were liberally traded in at a higher range

APRIL—Closed about 39¼@39⅜c

MAY. Fairly active. Sold at 38¾@39⅝c. Opened at 39 to 39⅛c, sold to 38¾c to 39⅝c to 39¼c, closed at 39¼@39⅜c

JULY. Good trading. Sold at 37¾@38⅝c. Opened at 37¾c to 38⅛c, sold to 38⅝c to 38⅜c at close

SEPTEMBER—Sold at 32¼@32⅝c. Opened at 32¼c, sold to 32⅝c, to 32⅝c, to 32½c at close.

RYE—Was dull and about ½c lower. Offerings fair and demand light. Only three cars received to-day. There were no withdrawals from store here and no export clearances from the seaboard. No 2 in store nominally 69c and fresh arrivals free on board about 71c. No 3 nominally 55@68c for poor to good, with a sale at the river at 55c. No. 4 sold at 55c.

Future Deliveries of No. 2 Rye—Quiet. May offered at 71c, no trading. July sold at 67½c.

BARLEY—Since yesterday's session liberal sales of Barley to arrive have been made. Transactions involving 325,000 bu were learned of. The quality ranged from good to very choice and sales were at 50@57c. Bids for other lots were out but not yet accepted. That maltsters wanted good to choice Barley was made evident by these sales. To take such lots was about the only way to secure good Barley. The car-lot offerings contain none to speak of. Car-lot offerings were moderate of low grades, for which there was sale only for occasional cars. Good to choice Barley very scarce, in fact, car-lot market bare of it. Low grades quotably weak and good to choice malting steady to firm. Only 21 cars received. Screenings again dull, easy and quotable over a range of 30@38c for poor to choice, outside for city recleaned. Barley, mixing, about 35@37c local, depending on soundness and color. Feed Barley about 35@37c, very poor feed or mixing down to 32c. Malting low grade 40@41c, common 42@43c, fair was about 44@47c, good 48@52c, choice, 53@55c, fancy 56@57c

SEEDS—Little trading. Of all kinds the quantity on sale was small. A further improvement in Timothy prices quotable, but there were no other changes.

Timothy—Was quotably 5@10c higher again. Arrivals have fallen off very much. Little Timothy on sale to-day and that offered was mainly Seed held over. Some sold at a figure which previously had been asked, but could not be obtained. Country lots quotable at $2 00@2 80 for poor to very fancy, outside would have to be extra fine, not hulled; fair to good quotable at $2 50@2 60, choice $2 65@2 70, and rough dark and foul lots about $2 35@2 45. PORK PACKING AND PROVISIONS.

[From the Cincinnati Price Current, April 7.]

There has been considerable gain in the marketing of Hogs the past week, reflecting the arrivals of supplies delayed previously by weather conditions. Total Western packing 420,000, compared with 390,000 the preceding week, and 370,000 two weeks ago. For corresponding time last year the number was 335,000, and two years ago 355,000. From March 1 the total is 1,875,000, against 1,740,000 a year ago—an increase of 135,000. The quality of current offerings is good. Prices have receded somewhat, prominent markets at the close indicating a general average of about $5 20 per 100 lbs, compared with $5 30 a week ago, $5 20 two weeks ago, $7 25 a year ago, $6 75 two years ago, $5 90 three years ago.

The speculative Provision market was only moderately active the past week. Fluctuations in prices followed the changes in the Grain markets. Toward the close the liberal offerings of Hogs and the easier prices in Hog markets had some influence, as well as the monthly report of stocks of Provisions on hand. The various influences were on the side of depressing values, and the market as a whole was easy. Foreign markets were restricted by the Easter closings, and domestic markets ruled quiet. Distributing centers were slow to purchase. The export clearances of Product were light, and show a decrease as compared with the preceding week and a falling off compared with the corresponding week last year.

The stocks of Cut Meats at centers making monthly returns show the comparisons as to totals, in pounds, according to Cincinnati Price Current compilations, as follows:

	Apr. 1, 1904.	Mar. 1, 1904.	Apr. 1, 1903.
Kansas City	44,611,000	43,368,000	32,779,000
Omaha	47,627,000	42,514,000	42,709,000
Milwaukee	18,114,000	20,389,000	10,750,000
St. Joseph	27,622,000	25,269,000	33,706,000
Total, lbs	290,297,000	281,557,000	231,961,000

This indicates an increase of 9,000,000 lbs in the total, compared with a month ago, while the stocks were decreased 7,000,000 lbs last year for the corresponding period. The total at these points is now 58,000,000 lbs more than a year ago and 16,000,000 lbs less than two years ago. The total stocks of Lard at the five centers named in the foregoing table on April 1 were 126,000 tcs, compared with 110,000 tcs a month ago and 31,000 a year ago.

The total stocks of Cut Meats, of Short Rib Sides, of Sweet Pickled Hams, in pounds, and of Lard in tierces, at Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, Milwaukee and St. Joseph, compare as follows, for dates indicated

	Apr. 1, '04.	Mar. 1, '04.	Apr. 1, '03.
Total Cut Meats	290,297,000	281,557,000	231,961,000
Short Rib Sides	45,138,000	45,143,000	17,001,000

[From the Cincinnati Price Current, April 7.]

During the past week weather conditions have been favorable for the growing Wheat crop, and a moderate improvement is indicated by recent correspondence. Rainfall has been liberal over practically the entire Wheat belt, even the western part of Nebraska. Kansas and Oklahoma getting some showery weather. It has been a little too cool for much increase in growth. This is not an unfavorable condition, but it leaves the situation in the Ohio Valley still rather uncertain, as an accurate estimate for that region can not be made until tested by a week or two of good growing weather. In Kentucky and Tennessee, where the promise was decidedly unfavorable early in the season, some improvement has appeared recently. North of the Ohio River there has not been much change in the tenor of reports, but such change, if any, has certainly been toward a more cheerful view of the situation.

In Ohio there are many reports that indicate no more than two-thirds of a crop, and some of the area will be abandoned for Oats and Corn. The damage by floods in Indiana was rather heavy in limited sections, but slight in the proportion of the aggregate. Reports from Illinois, Missouri and the eastern half of Kansas and Nebraska are nearly all of a favorable nature, with some tendency lately toward improvement. Further west and southwest there have been sufficient showers to maintain previous conditions or better.

There has been too much rainfall for field work, and the season is becoming a little late. Very little Oats was sown the past week, but the expectations are for a full acreage. There is general comment on the good condition of the ground for spring seeding.

Country roads have been very muddy for several weeks, and this has restricted the marketings of Grain. Supplies of Corn are generally reported as comparatively small or scarce, and much in poor condition. Wheat supplies in the Eastern Wheat States are small.

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The extreme Northwest is missing, indicating a storm there. There are very heavy snows in Minnesota—about 3 feet at Moorehead—and general snows and temperatures under freezing. There are light general rains in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas—.08 at Concordia .02 at Wichita, .28 at Oklahoma and .02 at Fort Worth. There are heavy rains in Missouri, general rains through Illinois, Ohio, Tennessee, Indiana and generally through Ohio Valley. There are heavy rains over the Corn belt.

The Western storm will move slowly eastward accompanied by rain turning to snow in Eastern Lake region and Upper Mississippi Valley. Snow in Missouri Valley will be continued for 24 hours. Severe and dangerous gales. Temperatures now below freezing as far south as northern portion of Kansas and Missouri.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway has declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent on its common stock, payable June 1. Books close May 12 and reopen June 2.

President Fish, of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, says that the report that an issue of bonds of the company has been sold is incorrect. No bonds have been sold. When asked as to whether an issue of bonds had been considered, President Fish said: "Everything has been considered. Nothing has been determined upon as yet."

The annual report of the Pere Marquette Railroad, now in preparation, for the year ended Dec. 31, 1903, will show gross earnings of $11,431,901, compared with $9,955,375 in 1902, an increase of $841,456; operating expenses of $7,934,718, a decrease as compared with 1902 of $43,237, and net earnings of $3,467,048, against $2,444,641 in 1902, an increase of $885,237.

F., with 20,000 Seals, and reports that the steamer Vanguard has a catch of 17,000 Newfoundland 14,000, Bloodhound and Ranger 7,000 each, and that other ships have smaller fares. Only 216,000 Seals are accounted for, and the total catch is not likely to exceed 240,000, whereas last year it exceeded 300,000.

The Fore River Ship and Engine Company has defaulted the interest upon its $1,250,000 5 per cent bonds. This default is in pursuance of a plan for a rehabilitation of the company. A bondholders' committee is looking after the interests of the bondholders, and a plan of reorganization will shortly be announced.

The circulation statement issued by the Treasury Department as of April 1 shows the general stock of money in the United States $2,805,960,136, as compared with $2,798,811,428 March 1. The per capita circulation, estimating the population of the country at 81,522,000, is $30 87. The amount of money in circulation, April 1, was $2,516,639,223.

Record has been made at Chicago of the recently authorized bond issue of $163,000,000 of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company. These bonds bear 4 per cent interest and refund a 5 per cent issue. The refunding bonds are due April 1, 1934, but they are redeemable on or before April 1, 1905, at 105. They are secured by all the property of the railroad company.

The Detroit correspondent of the Northwestern Miller, writing under date of April 4, says: "Many bad reports are reaching here regarding the condition of the Michigan Wheat crop. The plant appears to be badly winter-killed over some of the best sections of the State. Dealers, however, are still entertaining hopes that good spring weather will do a lot for the weak-looking plants, and that a fair crop may yet be secured."

The Exchange Bank, of Dow City, and the bank of Buck Grove, Crawford County, Iowa, have failed, with reported total liabilities of $500,000, and assets of only $160,000. Both are owned by H. S. Greene of Dow City. Mr. Greene says the assets are between $75,000 and $100,000 greater than the direct liabilities, and depositors will be paid in full. He says the direct liabilities aggregate only $200,000. Speculation in Western Cattle is the cause of the failure.

A dispatch from Akron, Ohio, says: "The Akron Savings Bank, which closed, Tuesday, reopened its doors, Wednesday, for business, with the receivers in charge. While the officials have not issued a formal statement, it is believed the depositors will be paid in full. Suits to enforce the stockholders' liability law have been filed in court here, and as the majority of the stockholders are people of wealth, it is practically certain that the depositors will not lose a cent."

The Kansas City correspondent of the Northwestern Miller writes as follows under date of April 4: "Occasional rains over a large part of Kansas greatly benefited growing Wheat last week. The rains extended farther west than any of the former showers and were vastly beneficial in counties where the drouth has been most prolonged. The weather has been warm with a somewhat moist atmosphere and has been all that could be desired for the prosperity of the growing plant."

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the American Beet Sugar Company was held at Jersey City, Tuesday. The report of the president showed that during the season of 1903-4 the company produced 81,053,100 lbs of refined Sugar. The estimated factory profit was $533,511; a year ago it was $191,300. After deducting general expenses, interest, charges, etc., a net profit was left of $271,458. The company owns factories in California, Colorado and Nebraska, and is capitalized at $20,000,000.

Secretary John M True, of the Wisconsin Board of Agriculture, says that the Grains and grasses are in a highly satisfactory condition, having passed through the severe winter with little injury, on account of the protection of heavy snows. The acreage of Winter Wheat, which was small last year, is 14 per cent less now, and that of Winter Rye has fallen 9 per cent. Tame meadows and grass pastures are 10 per cent better than last year, owing largely to the excellent results from seeding.

The annual report of the Tamarack Mining Company shows that the receipts from Copper, etc., reached a total of over $2,000,000, an increase of $100,000. After paying a dividend of $90,000, an item which did not figure in the previous annual report, there was an increase in surplus of over $152,000. This increase in surplus is explained in considerable measure by the fact that the sum of only $22,648 was set aside in connection with the construction account, against $154,878 in the preceding year.

Suit to set aside the $20,000,000 consolidation of the Missouri Electric Light and Power Company, the Union Electric Light and Power Company, and the Citizens' Electric Light and Power Company, now constituent corporations of the North American Electric Company of 30 Broad Street, New York, alleging that the merger was effected by fraud, was instituted by Morgan Jones of Denver, Colo., in the United States Circuit Court at St. Louis, Tuesday. The merger was effected on Sept. 8, 1903, and ratified on the following day.

A dispatch from St. Paul, Minn., says: "It is said here that J. D. Rockefeller has secured the Wisconsin Central after many years' effort. He has been buying up the stock, until now he and his associates have absolute control of the property. Mr. Rockefeller has in prospect improvements which will place the road among the most valuable railroad properties in the country. The Rockefeller interests have carefully prepared for an Eastern connection in anticipation of wresting control of the Northern Pacific from J. J. Hill."

While certain stockholders of the Corn Products Company are agitating the question of forming a protective committee, the matter has not as yet assumed any definite shape. The principal grievance of a number of stockholders who attended the annual meeting was that the company does not issue full and comprehensive statements of its operations. A financial report will soon be sent to each stockholder, and it is believed that it will satisfy many of those who were disappointed because a full statement was not issued at the stockholders' meeting.

The annual report of the Guffey Petroleum Company will show that the annual interest and charges of $300,000 have been earned three or four times over, after liberal charges to depreciation and the purchase of new properties out of earnings. The business of the Guffey company is in a satisfactory condition. This company is the power in the Texas Oil industry so far as the Beaumont, Sour Lake and Batson's Prairie fields are concerned. It is now producing 25,000 barrels of Oil daily from its Batson's Prairie wells and 10,000 barrels daily from its Spindle Top wells.

The Wall Street Summary says: "In view of the revival of rumors of a contest for control of the Union Pacific Railroad it may be of interest to note the extent of the capitalization, a majority of which must be secured. The following gives the amount of stock and convertible bonds outstanding:

	Par Value.	Market Price.	Market Value.
Common stock	$108,772,900	89	$96,806,881
Preferred stock	99,560,100	92	91,595,292
Convertible bonds	87,257,000	99	86,384,430

A Boston dispatch says: "In investment circles here it is stated that the appointment of a receiver for the Majestic Mining Company of Beaver County, Utah, and its petition in bankruptcy fall heavily on New England people. A large portion of the $6,000,000 of stock, par $10 00, was placed here at from $3 00 to $5 00 a share. The stock is now selling at a few cents. The New England stockholders will attempt to have the properties bonded and extricate the concern from its difficulties. The company is said to owe $250,000, after having expended about $1,000,000 in opening its Copper mines and building a smelter."

The Northwestern Miller of April 6 says: "The weather in the Northwest is mild, and with showers of rain, conditions are highly favorable for seeding. This is especially the case in Southern Minnesota and in South Dakota, where, at a number of points, Wheat planting was begun this week. In North Dakota and Northern Minnesota conditions are somewhat less advanced, though they seem very promising. There is a possibility of too much moisture in that part of the country, as heavy rains, added to the large deposit of snow, might produce such a condition. However, the outlook in a general way is very promising."

The report of the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad Company shows that gross earnings the last year had increased 6.41 per cent, while the expense had increased 12 3 per cent, with profits decreased nearly 30 per cent. The earnings for the last year show an increase of $209,338, and a decrease in profits of $75,023. This is on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road proper. For the Grand Rapids and Indiana system, which includes the Richmond, Muskegon and Traverse City lines, the gross earnings for the year were increased $234,110, the expenses $364,173; making a deficit in the profits of $140,063. High taxation is given as one of the causes of the unsatisfactory financial showing.

The resolution of Representative Lilley instructing the Secretary of Commerce and Labor to investigate the high price and scarcity of news print paper and the causes which have produced these conditions, was the subject of discussion, Tuesday, before the House committee on judiciary. Don C. Seitz, of the New York World, and John Norris, business manager of the New York Times, were heard. Both covered practically the same ground in stating that the International Paper Company and the General Paper Company had divided the United States between them in the control of news print paper. The International controlled all that section east of the Indiana line and the General Company the territory west of that line, both declared.

Directors of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad have issued new bonds aggregating $14,000,000, which will be used to fund the floating debt and short term obligations of the company, incurred in making general improvements during the last two years. A part of the bonds also will be used for the purchase of equipment. The new issue will bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent, and is understood to be secured by a mortgage on the Illinois division. This mortgage was made in 1899, and the total authorized issue of bonds secured by it aggregates $85,000,000. Of this amount $11,000,000 already have been issued and bear interest at 3½ per cent. The bonds may be redeemed on any interest day after July 1, 1929, at par and accrued interest for all bonds bearing interest at a less rate than 3½ per cent and at 105 and accrued interest for all bonds at a rate not less than 3½ per cent. The mortgage, subject to the 1903 consols, which were extended last summer, is practically a blanket mortgage on all the Burlington system east of the Mississippi River, including the Chicago terminals. Arrangements have been made for the sale of all the entire $14,000,000 issue to bankers in New York.

REVIEW OF TO-DAY'S MARKETS.

FLOUR—The demand shows little or no improvement and market is easy, as quoted on the second page.

WINTER WHEAT—Was quiet and trading confined to a few cars of fresh arrivals, chiefly Hard Winter, taken by millers. There was a little milling demand but general trade slow and feeling weaker. No. 2 Red in store quotably 97c@$1 00½, and fresh arrivals free on board ranged at $1 00@1 03. No 3 Red fresh arrivals free on board quotable at 95c@$1 01. No 4 Red sold at 90c. No. 2 Hard free on board sold at 96c, and ranged at 91@97c for ordinary to very choice. No. 3 Hard local sold at 85@88c and quotable at 85@94c for ordinary to good. No 4 Hard sold at 70c.

SPRING WHEAT Quiet and prices about 1c lower There was some milling demand for choice Wheat and also some demand for fancy Wheat for seeding purposes, so that fancy Wheat held relatively steady, but the regular grade Wheat was weaker. No. 1 Northern in store ranged at 94⅛@95½c and fresh arrivals free on board at 96c @$1 00 No. 2 Northern fresh arrivals quotable at 90@98c No 3 Spring quotable at 85@95c for poor to choice. No. 4 Spring ranged at 62@92c for very poor to very choice hard variety, with a sale at 67c; a few cars of low grade No. 4 offered at 70c without selling.

REGULAR WHEAT—Quite a liberal trade with the undertone on the whole weak, final figures being 1c lower for May, the July losing 1⅛@1¼c and September 1¼c. The market started out stronger under the influence of stormy weather West and Northwest and anxiety over the outlook for Spring Wheat seeding Yesterday's late buyers added to their lines, but on the forecast for fair and warmer conditions by Monday and the impression that a prominent elevator concern was selling old July the market turned weak. The world's shipments forecast for Monday, 11,200,000 bu and break in Corn were also "bearish" features The Northwest was credited with selling and added to the weakness near the close A direct Hamburg cable claimed the Russian Wheat crop had been damaged by frost According to the DAILY TRADE BULLETIN the world's stock of Breadstuffs decreased 5,903 000 bu during March, compared with 14 996 000 bu decrease same month in 1903 Liverpool quoted spot steady and futures ¼d higher London advanced ½d and quoted cargoes on passage dull but steady. WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

MONEY AND STOCKS.

CHICAGO. FRIDAY EVENING, April 8, 1904.

There was an easy tone to the local money market with a lessened demand and money was put out at 4½ per cent on call. Some of the large banks, however, maintained the 5 per cent rate and said there was no necessity for loaning at less Time money was taken at 5 to 5½ per cent As stocks of Grain are light this interest is not borrowing to any extent, but accumulation in stocks of Provisions has caused packers to be moderate borrowers and the mercantile and manufacturing interests are asking for moderate loans. The recent call for the statement of the National and State banks found them more closely loaned up than usual, the total loans of both National and State banks at Chicago being $312,-561,078 deposits, $529,822,610, and cash resources, $206,115,868. Compared with the previous report there was an increase in loans of 9 19 per cent, deposits of 3.9 per cent, and cash resources of 3 5 per cent. In New York there was an easy market, with call rates 1½ to 1¾ per cent. Time money was taken at 2¾ to 4½ per cent depending upon the length of the loan. A little uneasiness was created by the stiffness in the market for foreign exchange, which put rates at a Gold shipping basis, and a moderate amount of Gold was taken for shipment to Paris, but unless rates hold no more Gold will be shipped

New York exchange was steady at 15c to 25c premium and closed at 25c.

Foreign exchange was firm, with the supply of bills light owing to the small export business. Shippers' sixty-day documentary sterling bills on London ranged at 483⅞ to 484¼ and closed at 481.

Improved weather had a stimulating effect upon the general trade in the country and more is needed to bring business above a normal basis. The roads in the country have been too bad for a large distribution on the part of interior merchants, hence their buying of goods from jobbers at the leading distributing centers has been restricted. The market for Cotton goods holds strong, with fair activity, but the high prices, it is claimed, has reduced consumption. The movement of Iron and Steel was satisfactory, although business has tapered off from what it was a few weeks ago. Consumers are taking supplies freely and the railroad companies have been forced to come into the market to buy track and shop supplies freely. They are also buying cars to replace those worn out Specifications are coming in freely and the trade is in a more satisfactory condition. The buying of pig Iron was in fair volume and prices well held. Lumber and building materials were bought more liberally, although movement in the country was restricted by bad roads Supplies of Lumber at the Northern mills are light and hardwoods are selling $2 to $5 higher than a year ago. Prospects are that prices on white pine will be very firm this season, as the output will be greatly reduced. Groceries, Drugs, Chemicals, Paints and Oils were bought in moderate volume. Collections were satisfactory

Cotton in New York was active and erratic There was better growing weather in the South and weak spot markets in Liverpool. These factors were mainly responsible for several sharp breaks which put prices down to a lower level than for a week. There was also a disposition on the part of "longs" to take profits on the hard spots and while the demand for the old crop futures was fair with some buying by spinners the presure on the new crop months was enough to carry prices off and closing sales were at net losses of 24@29 points for the week.

Local Securities were liberally traded in and the tendency part of the week was to a lower range, but rallies followed the breaks. Pneumatic Tool which was the weakest of the previous week more than recoverd the loss. Its annual report showed 6 75 per cent earned on its stock last year or 2.69 per cent under 1902, the statement being considered as a fair one. This was the occasion for buying and a fair rally. The other industrials were without new features save Strawboard, in which there is a new combination on for selling, but it has not come out officially and there has been increased selling of the shares. Metropolitan Elevated made a fair statement, earning 2.4 per cent on the preferred stock for the year ending Feb 29. its operating expenses being about 50 per cent of the gross earnings Buying bonds was more active owing to the weakening in interest rates.

Stocks in New York were actively traded in at a higher range. The feature, as in the previous week, was the buying of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, and the filing of suit at St. Paul by Harriman against the Northern Securities to secure what he claims is his rights, owing to his large holdings of Northern Pacific stocks. Standard Oil interests have been heavy buyers of Western railway shares for several weeks, and are said to have accumulated 125,000 shares of the various Stocks The Rockefeller interest has bought heavily into Union Pacific and with the Gould interest has increased its holdings in Missouri Pacific. The street had it that there is to be an adjustment of the Hill-Harriman trouble in the near future and did not play the "bear" side on the disturbing rumors. The market is heavily short and is being forced to cover. Most of the largest operators are on the "bull" side and had little consolation from the news. There were Gold exports, but the drop in exchange placed it out of the question from a profitable standpoint. Reports from the West were more encouraging as to the Winter Wheat crop and rains west of the Missouri River were the occasion of increased buying of Southwestern railway shares. United States Steel declared its regular dividend of 1¾ per cent on preferred and its earnings for the quarter ending March 31 were better than expected, although showing a decrease of about $11,859,821 under last year. People's Gas broke on the adverse decision of the United States Supreme Court in the 75-cent Gas case, but recovered part of the decline. At the close the list was mostly higher than the previous week. Total sales on the New York Stock Exchange were 3 169,100 shares, compared with 2,057,000 shares the previous week, and 2,795,100 shares the same time last year.

COMMERCIAL.

A fair business was transacted in the leading markets on the Chicago Board of Trade the past week, though the holiday tended to restrict transactions to some extent. Outside orders were fairly numerous, but came principally from the larger speculative centers. The smaller operators in the interior did not give the markets much attention as many are now busily engaged with spring work. The wide fluctuations, however, proved quite attractive to local speculators and the volume of business was, on the whole, quite satisfactory. Prices on the leading commodities were governed to a great extent by natural conditions, and the weather from now on will be watched closely. The Government report is awaited with considerable interest and will possibly form a basis for future operations. The April report of the Department of Agriculture on the condition of Winter Wheat is, however, of very little value to the Grain trade, as it is too early to give any information that is considered reliable

According to the cable advices received this week some improvement has taken place in the crop outlook abroad. Gradual improvement is reported in the United Kingdom and weather conditions and crop prospects are satisfactory in France, Roumania, Bulgary, Hungary Belgium, Spain and Italy. Some betterment in the crop outlook is also reported in Russia but Spring Wheat seeding is said to be backward A little anxiety has existed in Germany owing to cold winds, but late advices state the weather has improved. Crop conditions in India and Northern Africa continue extremely favorable.

Weather conditions throughout the United States the past week were more seasonable, and the outlook for winter crops more favorable. Beneficial rains occurred through important growing sections and temperatures were moderate. Spring Wheat seeding is reported as progressing satisfactory in South Dakota and the more southerly sections of the Spring Wheat belt. Rain and snow the past week in North Dakota may possibly delay seeding operations. Oats seeding is making fair progress, but is late. Corn planting is reported well advanced through the South, but spring work through the West and Middle West later than usual. According to the returns of the DAILY TRADE BULLETIN the condition of Winter Wheat in Ohio was 67 1 per cent on April 1, Michigan 87.5, Indiana 71 8 Illinois 91.0, Missouri 80.8, Kansas 88 3, Oklahoma 68 7, Nebraska 86.2, Kentucky 64.6 and Tennessee 62 The condition in the remaining Southern States is only fair, while in California it is rather good, and in Washington and Oregon is favorable at present for a full crop on a slightly increased acreage.

The movement of Grain, from the farms and interior elevators was moderate the past week Farmers are now busily engaged in the fields and as a consequence the marketings from first hands are light. In the Northwest the movement of Grain and Flax showed some falling off, but compared favorably with that of one year ago. Stocks of Wheat in interior elevators of the Northwest are reported at 2 781 000 bu, compared with 5,188,000 bu one month ago, and 1,763,000 bu one year ago Amount of Flax Seed on April 1 reported at 470,000 bu, compared with 718,000 bu on March 1 and 505,-000 bu on April 1, 1903 Through the West Corn was marketed with a little more freedom, due no doubt to the late advance in prices. Oats marketing was light and also Wheat. Through the Southwest receipts of Grain at distributing centers were small. In the Central West the movement of coarse Grains as well as Wheat was very moderate. The movement of Grain toward the seaboard was only fair. A year ago this week navigation on the great lakes opened with the sailing of the Grain fleet It took out about 5,0,000 bu Wheat, 1,100,000 bu Corn and 1,200,000 bu Oats. The season this year will open at least a month later, for no one looks for an earlier opening than the 1st of May. At present there is practically no Grain loaded in boats, though several cargoes of Corn were taken within the past few days. Exports of Flour and Wheat were moderate and fair of Corn. Bookings for forward shipment were meagre. According to the weekly report of the visible supply of Grain in the United States and Canada, as compiled by the Secretary of the Chicago Board of Trade, there was a decrease in the stocks of Wheat, Corn, Barley and Rye, and an increase in Oats.

The leading speculative markets on 'Change were fairly active the past week and the feeling was greatly unsettled. Sentiment at the start was inclined to be "bearish" and liquidation by tired "longs" the principal feature. Crop news and weather conditions were the factors in Wheat, while the attitude of the chief "long" was the feature in Corn. Oats sympathized with other Grains. At the declines established "shorts" accepted liberal quantities and fresh investment buying set in and the situation turned stronger The decreasing contract supplies was something of a factor in Wheat. Hog Products were fairly active and undertone somewhat easier Hogs were in fair supply and the stocks of Provisions reported on hand April 1 were fully 50 per cent larger than reported one year ago. The total amount of Products on hand April 1 was about 200,542,000 lbs, against 189,482,000 lbs March 1, and 180,644,000 lbs March 1, 1903 The aggregate stocks of all kinds of Meats on hand are 152,323,630 lbs, against 150,-017,269 lbs one month ago, and 112 017,210 lbs one year ago. World's Lard stocks showed an increase for the month of 11,000 tcs, the total being given as 251,000 tcs, against 210,000 tcs March 1. The figures a year ago were 128,000 tcs. Packing of the West for the season is 135,000 Hogs ahead of 1903.

Just a fair business was reported in cash Grain the past week and prices varied greatly, depending on the quality and condition of the offerings. Wheat was in fair request with very little on the market, that is fresh receipts. No 1 Northern in lots sold at ¾c over May. Corn sold fairly well, and the choice grades such as would work into contract commanded good premiums. Charters were made for about 500,000 bu to go out upon opening of navigation. Oats were in moderate demand and the quality of the offerings poor. Rye was quiet and the trade in Seeds light. Hay was steady under a fair demand. Receipts were quite liberal. Hog Products were in moderate request and the offerings were fair. Sales were limited, but prices favored buyers. Exports for the week compared with the corresponding week in 1903, exhibited an increase of 2,960 brls Pork, and decreases of 3,603,000 lbs Lard, and 6,764 boxes Meats. Cattle were in fair supply and prices well maintained. Sheep were firmer under lighter receipts.

FREIGHTS—Cars are more plentiful on all roads East and West, and are being handled more readily, and shippers are filling orders promptly. Low rates from the West continue in force and are bringing the Corn this way. The tariff is as follows:

To—	From Chicago. Domestic.	Export.	From Miss. River. Domestic.	Export.
Boston	22	15	25	17½
New York	20	15	22	17½
Newport News	17	13½	19	..
Buffalo	13	.	15	..

Flour rates are 20c domestic and 16½c for export. Provision rates are 30c per 100 lbs, Chicago to New York.

Rail rates at and east of Buffalo were unchanged on Grain and are 2 mills per bu on Wheat, 3½ mills on Corn and Rye, and 4 mills on Oats.

Ocean rates on Grain steady with a light demand. Rates on Grain are ⅞@1d per bu from New York and ¾d from Boston. Through rate on Wheat from Chicago to Liverpool is 11¾c per bu and Corn 11½c. Flour 24 91c per 100 lbs and Provisions 44.0c per 100 lbs.

Charters have been made this week for 450,000 bu Corn at 2c to Buffalo, a strike clause being inserted in the agreement.

FLOUR—Not in months has the Flour market been in such an unsatisfactory condition as it is at the present time The jobber, the local grocer, the Eastern and Southern shippers all loaded up with Flour on the recent sharp advances in Wheat and Flour, and they are now forced to look back over numerous heavy losses. For several years past the buying side of the Flour market has been enabled right along to pick up goodly quantities of Flour on all the recessions, but on the late upward movement everybody became frightened and a sensational rush was made to get hold of Flour. The mills of the country are closed down partially from time to time owing to the lack of demand for Flour, and a gentlemens agreement now exists among the millers as to the number of days each mill is to run during every week. There are no consignments to speak of, the interior millers of the Northwest and the Southwest are offering no Flour to speak of and it is reported that the South is filled with Flour that has been consigned and for which there is no demand at the present time. The Northwestern houses send out an occasional item telling of the improved demand for Flour, but it always fails to materialize. A Minneapolis Grain man said a few days ago that while it was reported that Japan had purchased a great deal of Flour in Minneapolis there were no signs of its moving toward the Pacific Coast Local stocks April 1 were reported 41,600 brls or 6,750 brls larger than on March 1, and 3,100 brls more than on hand April 1, 1903. Stocks at Liverpool April 1 were reported 107,600 brls, against 103,600 brls March 1, and 95,000 brls April 1, 1903. The week closed quiet at the following prices:

MILLSTUFFS—Was quiet and steady. The receipts have been small during the week and the demand light Bran in bulk sold at $15 50@16 00 per ton, and in 100-lb sacks, sacks included, sold at $17 00, and in 200-lb sacks at $16 25@16 75 Middlings sold at $15 10 per ton in sacks.

WINTER WHEAT—An easier feeling prevailed and prices have averaged 1@3c lower than last week. The fresh arrivals, especially of choice Wheat, held comparatively steadier than the grade lots in store or the ordinary Wheat. The greatest decline was for the poorer lots. Poor Wheat was not wanted and therefore required some forcing to sell, but choice Wheat, even choice No. 2 Red in store, brought a good premium The demand has been on milling account, both local and outside There has not been enough Wheat received to supply the demand and some in store lots were drawn upon. Scarcely enough fresh arrivals to make a market For the week the receipts aggregated 60 cars, against 29 cars the previous week There were withdrawn from public elevators 55 950 bu and from private warehouses 83 cars. No. 2 Red in store ranged 3@5c over May prices and was quotable at 96¼c@$1 02⅞ down later to 98½c@$1 00⅞. Fresh arrivals free on board were quotable at $1 02@1 05, down later to $1 00@1 03 No 3 Red fresh receipts a choice car sold at $1 03 early in the week and later at 98½c@$1 10 for fair to good. No 4 Red sold at 93c. No. 2 Hard fresh receipts sold at 90@98c and ranged down to 92@95c No. 3 Hard fresh arrivals free on board sold at 84½@91c and ranged at 84@91c depending on quality. No 4 Hard sold at 68@88c for poor to choice.

SPRING WHEAT The extreme prices current last week were not maintained prices about 1@3c lower. There has been a fair demand on milling and on shipping account, and besides the fresh arrivals a number of round lots were sold. All fresh receipts of choice Wheat were taken up readily and really not enough coming to establish a market, quotations for the most part being little better than nominal. The demand for No. 1 Northern in store was sufficient to make holders firm in their views, and sales were made at ¼@¾c over the May prices, indicating that merchants were not anxious to part with their holdings The hard variety was mostly wanted and sold quite well. Of the poor Wheat there have been a number of cars received; there has been no special call for it, and low prices had to be accepted to make sales. The receipts of the week aggregated 70 cars, against 49 cars the previous week. There were withdrawn from public elevators 158,100 bu. and 58 cars and 10,-500 bu taken from private warehouses. No. 1 Northern in store ranged ¼@¾c over May prices and was quotable at 98¼@98⅞c, down later to 93½@95⅝c Fresh arrivals free on board ranged at 99c@$1 01, down to 97c@$1 00. No. 2 Northern ranged at 95c@$1 00, down to 92@98c. No 2 Spring sold at 97c No. 3 Spring ranged at 88c@$1 00 for ordinary to choice hard variety down to 87@96c. No. 4 Spring sold at 81c for poor to 83@88c for good and at 90@92c for choice.

REGULAR WHEAT—A good trade and fairly active market, with last prices ⅝c lower for the May, while the July lost a fraction and September 1-16c. Transactions were mainly on the professional order and the outside business was confined chiefly to the larger speculative centers. Sentiment was quite "bearish" at the start and liquidation general, under which May sold to 91¾c, while old July touched 86⅝c and September 80⅞@81c. The further rains through the Winter Wheat belt, pronounced weakness in outside markets, and generally "bearish" domestic and foreign statistics were among the depressing influences. The unsatisfactory Flour situation, too, was one of the "bearish" features. The financial troubles at New York and Baltimore were also temporary factors Advices regarding outlook for new crop were more favorable and likewise tended to discourage holders. Orange Judd Farmer made condition of Wheat a fraction above 80—better than early reports indicated. Conditions low in Ohio Valley—Ohio, 69; Kentucky, 69; Tennessee, 68; Indiana, 72; Illinois, 82; Missouri, 91; Kansas, 80; Oklahoma, bad; Pacific Coast, high. Present conditions only a little below ten years' average. The Ohio crop report made the Winter Wheat condition 67, against 69 a month ago and 96 on April 1 last year. The report says the Wheat area is reduced the equivalent of 2,000,000 bu. The plant has not suffered from freezing and thawing, and may green up under growing weather. The Missouri state report made the condition 81 per cent, against 91 per cent last year and a ten year average of 84 per cent A party who just returned from the Southwest said of the crop outlook and prospect for the Wheat movement: "Wheat looks good in Eastern Kansas. They have not enough rain in the Western end of the state, and not as much as I thought they had from looking at the weather map. If they get good rains soon in that section Kansas ought to have a good crop as much as last year more in the old Wheat sections of the state, but not so much in the extreme Western end, where the crop was so heavy last year Millers are all scared for fear they will not get enough Wheat to grind and will have to close down- I think the movement will be light for the next thirty days that toward the end of May we are likely to get a bigger run than any of us have been looking for." Broomhall reported some improvement in the foreign Wheat conditions for the week as follows: "United Kingdom—Crop conditions during the past week have continued to show a gradual improvement. France, Roumania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Belgium, Italy, Spain—Weather conditions remain satisfactory on the whole and the crop outlook is favorable. Russia—Some reports received state that the condition of Winter Wheat has improved. Spring seeding is backward. Germany—Cold winds the past week have caused anxiety for the crop, but the weather has now improved. India, North Africa, etc.—Crop conditions continue in the main extremely favorable." The quantity on ocean passage increased 1,648 000 bu, and is now 44,880,000 bu, compared with 33,712,-000 bu one year ago. World's shipments were about as expected at 9,872,000 bu, compared with 9,232,000 bu the previous week and 12,472,000 bu one year ago. Russia is still shipping liberally, compared with the movement of recent weeks, but is dropping behind the movement of last year, for the reason that the movement a year ago began to increase with the opening of navigation. Shipments were 1,792,000 bu, compared with 1,704,000 bu the week before and 2,944,000 bu a year ago. The visible supply decreased 784,000 bu, against 1,333,000 bu decrease same week in 1903 Total now 31,727,000 bu, against 41,958,000 bu in 1903 and 48,410,000 bu for corresponding time in 1902. Local public stocks decreased 274,000 bu to 2,311,000 bu, compared with 7,801,000 bu same date in 1903. Stocks here in all positions decreased 322,000 bu to 4,835 000 bu and are 6,236 000 bu smaller than a year ago. Contract stocks decreased 241,559 bu and are now 1,194,591 bu, against 3,127,692 bu same date in 1903. Bradstreet's world's available increased 396,000 bu, compared with an increase same week in 1903 of 313,000 bu. Stocks at Liverpool April 1 were reported 2,178,005 bu. an increase of 1,072,000 bu during March. Stock one year ago was reported 1,929,000 bu Stocks of Wheat in interior elevators of the Northwest decreased 2,407,000 bu during March and on April 1 were reported 2,781,000 bu, compared with 1,761,000 bu one year ago. The following table exhibits the condition of Winter Wheat on April 1 in the States named, as estimated by the correspondents of the DAILY TRADE BULLETIN, compared with the reports of the Department of Agriculture on April 1 and July 1, 1903:

The condition in the remaining Southern States is only fair, while in California it is rather good, and in Washington and Oregon is favorable at present for a full crop on a slightly increased acreage. Receipts at primary markets were moderate and total arrivals since July 1 aggregate 211,360,000 bu, compared with 226,042,000 bu in 1902-3. Exports were comparatively light at 1,864,000 bu, making the total since July 1 117,346,000 bu. as against 176,603 000 bu same period in 1902 3 Bookings at the seaboard continue small and insignificant. Around 92¾c for May and 86⅝c for July the speculative demand improved and "shorts" covered freely, the market acting over-sold. The attitude of certain interests prominent in the elevator trade in taking on the old July caused some uneasiness among traders with outstanding contracts and there was a rush to provide for the same. May advanced to 95⅝c, while July sold to 89½c. The decreasing stocks was one of the "bull" helps. Stocks of No. 1 Northern Wheat here are down to 850,000 bu. It is figured about half of this is already sold to millers and shippers, so that the available stock of No. 1 Northern here does not exceed probably 450,000 bu. The snow and rain and predicted floods in the Northwest were also "bull" helps. The Argentine shipments this week were 3,808,000 bu, and the total since Jan. 1 aggregates 38,530,000 bu, as compared with 23,370,000 bu for the same period in 1903. The visible supply there was reported 5,888,000 bu, against 4,784,000 bu one week ago and 3,760,000 bu in 1903. Modern Miller summary was "bearish," and a local crop authority claimed Winter Wheat condition was maintained if not slightly improved this week, and Spring Wheat seeding making fair progress, with excellent soil conditions, with indications of enlarged acreage The DAILY TRADE BULLETIN reported stocks of Breadstuffs afloat and in store in Europe and Argentina April 1 at 86,114,000 bu, compared with 81,316,000 bu March 1 and 62,244,000 bu April 1, 1903.

CORN—Was active and greatly unsettled all the week, the trade being of good volume The close shows the May 2¾c lower, while the July lost 1⅝c and the September 1½c. May was erratic and sensitive, selling between 53c and 57½c and rested at 53¾c sellers. Early in the week the feeling was "bullish" and the buying side of the market the popular one. "Shorts" evidently were greatly disturbed at the attitude of the "bull" party in chartering boats to load out contract Corn upon the opening of navigation and covered freely. May advanced to 57½c before the demand was satisfied; July touched 54c and the September 52¾c. Around these figures liquidation and profit-taking set in, the principal "long" interest being credited with selling and prices receded sharply May reacted to 53c and the July to 51¼c. The weakness in the surrounding markets, liberal addition to the contract supply here and sharp decline in cash values here and through the West were among the "bear" influences. The success of the "bull" campaign, which appears to be based on the poor quality of the Corn in cribs in Illinois and Iowa, may depend to some extent on the ability of Nebraska to supply any deficiencies in the movement of good Corn to this market from other sections. For the time being Nebraska seems to be doing pretty well in that way. The first advance in prices last week brought increased selling in some sections of Nebraska and more liberal consignments to this market. Some people in the trade think Nebraska can supply from 10,000,000 bu to 20,000,000 bu high grade Corn to come to this market if a high price is maintained here. This estimate certainly looks large. Whether it is true or not, and just what price would be necessary to keep the Corn coming, or whether the present rush in the receipts is only temporary are problems which will interest both the "bull" and the "bear" for some time to come. The Ohio State report made the condition of the Corn in the cribs 80, 15 per cent of which is unhusked and this is damaged 14 per cent. The stormy weather, rains and snows through the Corn belt, brought about the late rally, May selling to 54¼c and the July to 52⅛c. Routine statistics as received the opening days had but little influence on values. World's shipments were smaller at 2,209 000 bu, Russia shipping 1 300,000 bu. Previous week 3,309,000 bu and a year ago 3,589,000 bu. The quantity on ocean passage decreased 728,000 bu and is now 9,017,000 bu, compared with 11,037,000 bu same date in 1903. Visible supply decreased 371,000 bu the decrease a year ago being 561,000 bu Total 9,679,000 bu; in 1903 was 9,811,000 bu and in 1902 8,508,000 bu. Local public stocks increased 309,000 bu, to 4,107,000 bu, against 4,501,000 bu for corresponding period last year Stocks here in all positions decreased 67,000 bu and are now 8,415,000 bu, or 1 222,000 bu smaller than a year ago. Contract stocks increased 354,971 bu and are now 3,680,830 bu, as compared with 2,490,015 bu same date in 1903. Bradstreet's available supply decreased 1,337,000 bu, compared with a decrease same week in 1903 of 501,000 bu. Liverpool reported Corn in good demand for sound, merchantable quality; cargoes arriving in heated condition and discolored. Stocks there on April 1 were 1,354,000 bu, an increase during March of 330,000 bu. The stock one year ago was reported 1,065,000 bu. Navigation this year is expected to open later than usual, possibly one month or more. It is barely possible, though not probable, that the season may be still further delayed, for the ice is thick in the rivers and channels, and northerly winds on Lake Huron would crowd the ice down toward the St Clair River, and in one year the river was not open until after the middle of May. The Western movement the past week compared favorably with a year ago and local receipts for March were 4,657 cars, with 188 cars contract, against 6 332 cars in March 1903 when 19 cars were up to the speculative standard. The receipts of Corn at Chicago during April and May, 1903, were 9,227 cars, of which 511 cars, or about 5½ per cent, were contract. Transfers from private to public elevators continue on a liberal scale and the contract stock will show another fair addition this week. Bookings at the seaboard were very moderate. Argentine shipments this week were larger at 716,000 bu, which makes the total since Jan 1 9,375,000 bu, as against 903,000 bu for the same time in 1903. Shipping operations this week were limited and car lots weak and lower. The choice Corn showed the most decline. Sales to go to store show some increase, but are confined almost exclusively to Corn that can be worked into the contract grades.

OATS The market for Oats during the past week was active and irregular, the highest prices were made in the early trading, followed by a decline of 3½c from the recent high point on May, from which there was a reaction of over 1c, and the close was at 39¼@39⅜c. The range was 38¼@42¼c, the low prices being made on Wednesday July sold between 37¼c and 40c and closed at 38⅝c, a loss of 1c, while May was off 2⅜c September was relatively the strongest and sold down to 31⅝c and closed at 32½c, a loss of ½c. The selling was based on reports of brighter and more favorable weather for seeding. There were conflicting reports of seeding conditions from Illinois, but from Iowa they were mostly favorable and a large acreage will be put in, and great care has been given to the selection of seed Oats. The Cincinnati Price Current said a full average acreage will be put in "Longs" who were responsible for the recent advance took profits early and a part of their lines were replaced on the decline. Cash business was moderate, the Eastern buyers most of the time holding off and only taking small lots. Receipts were rather better and the sample market was heavy, with a decline of 1@2c and a partial recovery. Arrivals for the week were 792 cars compared with 606 cars the previous week. Export clearances were 131,980 bu, compared with 99,340 bu the previous week Contract stocks increased 60 000 bu and are 2 907,000 bu. Stocks in public houses increased 60,000 bu and in private elevators decreased 201,000 bu. The aggregate stock is 5,260 000 bu, a net decrease of 141,000 bu The visible supply increased 148,000 bu, and was 10,494,000 bu, against 7,340,000 bu last year.

RYE—An easier feeling was developed and prices during the week declined 2@3c, the weakness being most marked for future deliveries. Trading has been of a rather limited character, and there has been no special interest in the market Buyers have not been at all anxious to purchase and holders not particularly anxious to sell. However, in sympathy with the declines suffered in other Grains an easier feeling naturally developed. Only an occasional sale was made for May and July delivery. In the cash market there has been a little more doing, but wholly in car lots, and chiefly in No. 3. The receipts were larger and considerable of the under grades, and these came on the open market for sale, while the contract grade was mostly sent to elevators direct. There has been no shipping demand and no round lots were sold. The fresh arrivals were taken mostly for manufacturing purposes, but some went to carriers. The receipts were large and aggregated 63 cars, against 19 cars the previous week. There were no withdrawals from public elevators and 9 car loads were taken from private warehouses. Export clearances from the seaboard none. Visible supply decreased 31,000 bu and was reported at 949,000 bu, against 980,000 bu the previous week and 1,118,000 bu one year ago. The local stock in store was 277,000 bu and a year ago was 354,000 bu. No. 2 in store quotable at 72c early in the week, and at 69c later. Car lot fresh receipts free on board sold at 72@73c. No. 3 fresh receipts sold at 55@69c for poor to choice. No. 4 sold at 55c. For future deliveries trading has been light. May sold at 71c early in the week and at 72c later, and closed at 71c sellers. July sold at 70c to 67½c.

BARLEY—Nothing important developed in this market. Offerings were small of good to choice malting Barley. Such grades were in demand and steady. Good Barley could be sold all right, at the same time common to poor suffered dullness and depression. Spot offerings of good to choice Barley being small, maltsters finally bought freely of to arrive. Very few would buy low grade malting; usually there was only one buyer for it. From mixers there was so small a demand that low grade goods, below malting, were hardly selling at all. It was the same way with Screenings; they dragged. Of low grade Barley and Screenings there were fair offerings and some cars had to be carried over from day to day. At other points there seemed to be extreme dullness and a number of samples were sent here to sell, and some were sold. In prices there was no essential change for better grades, but all under grades were dull and depressed and closed about 2c lower. Receipts for the week were 125 cars, compared with 92 cars the previous week and 174 cars two weeks ago. The output was 3,700 bu; a week ago it was 12,450 bu, two weeks ago none was withdrawn. No export clearances from New York and there have been none for several weeks. Local stock decreased 16,041 bu; it was given as 287,241 bu; a year ago there was no Barley in local regular houses. Visible supply decreased 228,000 bu, leaving 3,372,000 bu, against a stock of 1,703,000 bu the same time last year. Screenings ruled slow, easy, over a range of 30@38c for poor to choice—outside for city recleaned. Barley, mixing, about 35@39c local, depending on soundness and color; nice bright, suitable for some special want, possibly shade over, but finally 37@38c was about the top for mixing and feed Barley. Malting—low grade, 40@41c; common, 42@44c; fair was about 45@47c; good, 48@52c; choice to fine, 53@57c.

SEEDS—The trade in all lines remained of the quiet kind which has been so notable all the spring. On account of decreased receipts a firmer feeling in Timothy and an advance followed. Clover weakened early and then recovered. There were no price changes in Flax; it was a dull quiet market. Late sowing Grass Seeds also were without price changes and little was done in them.

Timothy—There was a steady market. Late in the week the steadiness developed into a firmer tone. Cash and April Seed scored 20c advance. Arrivals and offerings fell off considerably. The output was very moderate, more or less shipped went under some other head—other Seed, perhaps. Shipments were only about one-third as large as for same week last year. The demand for cash Seed was not large at all; it was at the same time sufficient to absorb the offerings. A few cars of September delivery were sold at $3 00, and more were offered at that, and finally $3 05 was asked. Contract spot Seed had a nominal early quotation of $2 80 and later was called $3 00. Cash country lots had a final range as follows: Quotable at $2 00@2 90 for poor to very fancy; outside would have to be extra fine, not hulled; fair to good quotable at $2 50@2 60; choice, $2 65@2 75, and rough, dark and foul lots about $2 35@2 45. Movement for the week was as follows:

Two weeks ago	1,649,833
Same time last year	234,3 0
Shipments the past week, lbs	683,391
The previous week	919,105
Same time last year	1,828 606

Flax—The past week made a record of prices being repeated from day to day with hardly the slightest change. It was further conspicuous for the very little business done. There was, in a word, little or nothing to the market. Arrivals were small and very few cars came on sale, on most days none. There was about such an output as has been witnessed for several weeks. Visible supply made another gain of 171,000 bu. There were 17 cars posted received here, compared with 73 cars a week and 146 cars two weeks ago. Taken out 7,748 bu, against 7 874 bu the week before and 6,030 bu two weeks ago. Chicago stock increased 2,867 bu, Duluth 306,308 bu and Minneapolis decreased 137,585 bu. There were reported stocks as follows:

	1904.	1903.
Chicago, bu	21,582	84,054
Duluth, bu	7,277,944	4,368,898
Minneapolis, bu	1,271,284	1 214 1 4

No. 1 was quoted all the week at $1 09, and No. 1 Northwestern or No. 1 from the Northwest at $1 16. Rejected had a nominal range of $1 05@1 10. April delivery was nominally $1 09. Usually for May $1 11 was bid and a very little was sold. September was nominally $1 17.

Other Seeds—Little is to be said about this market, because there were no changes, and the transactions were exceedingly small. Of all lines the offerings were light. Most any kind salable and steady at former prices if quality was good. Movement with comparisions was as follows:

Same time last year	242,100
Shipments—The past week, lbs	1,009,735
A week ago	1,272,030

Prices ruling daily during the week are elsewhere given.

Buckwheat has remained inactive and nominal. There were no offerings. No milling demand. A little good quality could be sold for seeding. It was quotable at $1 30 per 100 lbs.

Clover—There was a steady feeling in Clover. The weather being more spring like seemed to have awakened a better order demand. Arrivals were very moderate. Not much Clover offered on the open market. Only Cash lots were traded in, and offerings usually were of small bag lots of ordinary to poor quality. A firmer feeling came over the market for good qualities. Prices advanced 25@50c and after such an improvement there was a range as follows: Contract spot Seed $11 00. Country lots common to choice, $7 75 @10 50; fancy above; mixed with Buckhorn or other weed Seeds, $7 25@8 50; poor, cleaned out of Timothy, very foul, down to $3 00@6 00. Such lots as usually come to market when ordinary to good quotable at $9 00@10 00.

Movement was as follows:

The previous week	203,744
Same time last year	17,450
Shipments the past week, lbs	139 650
The previous week	272 200
Corresponding week last year	116,000

HAY—The receipts for the week were 6,169 tons, against 4,791 tons for the previous week. Shipments for the week were 291 tons, against 180 tons for the previous week. The market for Timothy Hay ruled steady during the early part of the week. The demand and offerings were fair. Later the receipts became small and the inquiry quite brisk. The market closed firm, but prices were not particularly higher. Prairie Hay was in liberal supply early in the week and the market quiet and prices ruled steady. Toward the close the receipts increased and the market became very dull with prices weak. Quotations at the close ranged as follows: Choice Timothy, $12 50@13 50; No. 1 Timothy, $11 00@12 00; No. 2 Timothy, $9 50@10 50; No. 3 Timothy, $7 50@9 00; Choice Prairie, $10 00@10 50; No. 1 Prairie, $9 00@9 50; No. 2 Prairie, $8 00@8 50; No. 3 Prairie, $6 50@7 00; No. 4 Prairie, $5 50@6 00. Inside prices on Prairie Hay for State and outside for Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa. Sales ranged at $6 00@14 00 for poor to fancy Timothy, $10 50 for Clover Mixed, and $7 00@11 00 for Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska Prairie Hay. Rye Straw sold at $8 00@9 50. Wheat Straw at $7 00, and Oat Straw at $6 50@7 00.

COOPERAGE—The market for Cooperage was neglected during the past week. Offerings were limited, and the demand was small. Local packers were not inclined to purchase and outside orders were small. Some manufacturers are closing temporarily owing to the depressed condition. Ash Pork barrels were dull and slow sale at 85@87½c. Oak Pork Barrels were dull and lower at 90c@$1 00. Lard Tierces were in limited request and offerings were moderate. Prices quoted nominally at $1 30@1 50. Iron bound Lard Tierces were quiet and dull, and prices entirely nominal.

HOGS.—Only a fair supply of Hogs was marketed during the past week. Interior roads are not in very good condition in some sections, and farmers are quite busy with their spring work, and these factors checked shipments to some extent. The quality was fair, though the proportion of light was somewhat larger than trade requirements. Market was rather active, but buyers a little slow to meet the views of buyers. Packers accepted a good proportion of the arrivals, while shippers were not quite so anxious to purchase on Eastern account. Early in the week the feeling was firmer in a general way, and prices ruled 10@20c higher on the whole range. Later, a weaker feeling was developed and prices receded 20@30c, and the market closed rather steady. Sales during the week were made at $4 85@5 40 for light, $4 90@5 25 for rough packing, $4 90@5 47½ for mixed, and $5 05@5 50 for heavy packing and shipping lots, with the bulk of the trading within the range of $5 05@5 40 for fair to good averages. At the close about 4,500 Hogs remained in the pens unsold. Pigs were in rather good supply and in fair demand, and changed hands at $4 35@5 15, according to size and weight. Receipts of Hogs at the other large Western packing points were fair and the quality rather good.

PACKING—Only a moderate business was tranacted in packing circles during the week. The supply of Hogs was not very large, and prices were fairly well maintained. Packers were a little backward about purchasing, and the manufacture of Products was moderate. Mess Pork made sparingly. Other cuts of Pork made moderately. Lard produced in fair quantities, and the average yield rather good. Only a small proportion delivered in tanks. Domestic cuts of Hams made in fair quantities, and only a small proportion delivered from the block. Skinned Hams cut moderately, and chiefly packed by manufacturers. Foreign cuts of Hams neglected. Shoulders cut in moderate quantities and a fair proportion delivered from the block to the retail trade. Picnic Hams made in moderate quantities, and the bulk packed by manufacturers. Long Clear Sides and Extra Long Clear Sides neglected. Short Clear Sides made very sparingly. Extra Short Clear Sides cut in moderate quantities. Short Rib Sides made in only fair quantities, and chiefly by parties who have sold for future delivery. Extra Short Rib Sides made moderately. Rough Sides cut in fair quantities, and chiefly of medium averages. Bellies met with little favor. Backs made in limited quantities. Plates and Butts cut sparingly. Loins made in rather liberal quantities for the Fresh Meat trade. Foreign fancy and special cuts of Meats made in small quantities.

PROVISIONS—A fairly good speculative business was reported in Hog Products during the past week, and the feeling was somewhat unsettled. Outside orders were fair, and local trading was moderately active. "Longs" realized on fair quantities, and packers rather inclined to the selling side of the market. Stocks on hand were reported quite large, and in the aggregate are over 50 per cent larger than reported at this time last year, and this feature had a weakening effect in a general way. Hogs were in not very large supply—ruled higher early in the week, and considerably lower again toward the close. Returns of the packing of the West for the week exhibited an increase of 85,000 Hogs, compared with the corresponding week in 1903. Foreign markets were dull and easy, and lower prices prevailed on all descriptions. Stocks in that quarter are quite liberal, and supposed to be largely of goods consigned by manufacturers. Domestic markets were inclined to quietness, with trading only in small quantities. Exports were fair, but somewhat less than at this time last year. The receipts from the interior were quite large, as packers were delivering Products on maturing contracts. Shipments were fairly large, and widely distributed. Early in the week, the speculative market was rather firm, with fair miscellaneous buying, and prices were advanced on all the leading articles. At the advance, there was considerable pressure to sell, while the demand slackened, and a weak feeling was developed. Prices declined materially all around. Toward the close rallied again moderately, and the market closed comparatively steady around medium figures. Quite a good business transacted in transfering contracts from May to July at the current differences. Very little demand on shipping account. Merchants in the home markets not disposed to purchase to any extent, and the export demand was extreme light. Offerings were fair, and holders rather slow to meet the views of buyers. Sales were moderate, and chiefly of small lots to meet requirements.

Pork—A fairly good speculative business was transacted in Mess Pork during the past week, and the feeling was somewhat unsettled. Offerings in the aggregate were moderately free, and the demand was moderately active, and mainly from "shorts." Stocks on hand increased about 10,800 bbls during March. Transfers of contracts from May to July were made at 17½@20c difference. Rather more doing in July as delivery day approaches. Early in the week, the feeling was rather firm, with fair miscellaneous buying, and prices were advanced 30@32½c on the whole range. At the advance there was considerable pressure to sell, while the demand was less urgent, and a weaker feeling was developed. Prices irregularly declined 85@90c on the whole range, but near the close rallied 10@15c, and the market closed comparatively steady. The demand on shipping account was moderate, and offerings were not very large. Cash lots were quotable at the close at $12 62½@12 75. Other cuts of Pork were in moderate demand to provide for small orders, and offerings were only fair. Prices were without material change.

Lard—Rather a good business was transacted in Lard during the past week, and largely in contracts for July. The market was considerably unsettled, and fluctuations in prices were frequent, but not within very wide ranges. Foreign advices were decidedly unfavorable to holders. Supply on hand is rather liberal for the season of the year, and increased about 16,600 tcs during March. The world's visible supply increased about 13,000 tcs during the same time. Production only fair, and shipments were on a moderate scale. Offerings were moderately free, especially from the "long" interest, while "shorts" accepted fair quantities. Transfers of contracts from May to July were made at 15@17½c difference. Early in the week, the feeling was rather firm, with fair general buying, and prices were advanced 7½@10c on the whole range. At the advance, there was considerable pressure to sell, while the demand was only moderate, and prices irregularly declined 45@47½c. Toward the close, a little more steadiness was manifested and prices rallied 10@12½c all around, and closed comparatively steady. The demand on shipping account was limited, and offerings were moderate. A few small lots were accepted at 6@7½c discount on May figures, and closed at $6 67½@6 70. Refined in moderate request, and offerings not very large. Prices entirely nominal. Loose lots were in good request and offerings moderate. Sales were made at 50@55c discount on May figures, and closed at 50c. Leaf Lard was in fair request with moderate offerings, and prices ruled easier. A few sales were made at $6 12½@6 25, and closed at $6 12½. Neutral was in moderate demand and offerings were fair. Market easier, and prices lower, closing at $7 37½@7 50 for No. 1, and $7 12½@7 25 for No. 2.

Short Rib Sides—Trade was fairly active in the market for Short Rib Sides during the past week, with rather more interest manifested in July contracts. The feeling was somewhat unsettled, and prices irregular. Considerale realizing in a general way, especially by the "long" interest, and packers were disposed to sell fair quantities. There has been no change in the plans of the General Electric management for the organizing of a subsidiary company to take over the Curtis turbine wheel business, giving Mr Curtis, the inventor, a 4? per cent preferred stock issue of $1,000,000 for his patents and retaining his services for the company. All the common stock will be held by the General Electric Company. The great benefit through the introduction of this wheel will, of course, go to the common stock and indirectly to the General Electric Company.

The prospects are that a great deal of Flour will be shipped for export from the head of the lakes via the St. Lawrence River route to Montreal this season. There was a heavy movement that way last year, but a great deal of the business was diverted to the American lines on account of poor storage facilities and inadequate shed and dock capacity for handling that class of freight in bad weather. It is stated that the work of supplying the deficiencies has commenced and will be partially completed this season. In the neighborhood of $3,000,000 will be spent in making the new terminals attractive to shippers.

"The price of Meat in Germany is higher than it has been in years because the agrarians have had their way and forced out all competition by putting up a high tariff wall," says the Drovers' Journal. "The fact is, Beef has become quite a luxury over there and is practically out of reach of the poor laboring classes, who have to accept horse flesh or nothing. American Meats prepared with boracic acid are excluded on the ground of being dangerous to public health, though the best doctors say that the preparation of American Meats shipped to Europe is absolutely harmless. This is evidenced by the fact that England uses thousands of pounds of cured Meats which Germany excludes. Predictions are made that the agrarian party will not always be in the saddle and the poor classes will get better treatment when there comes a change."

The general manager of the United Box Board Company, in denying the statement that the company is to be reorganized, says: "The price of stock has declined because there has been no support given to it by any of those interested. The affairs of the company are getting in better shape every day and within reasonable time the stock will advance to a much higher point. Three hundred and fifty thousand dollars of the bonds were retired Jan. 1, which leaves a total bonded indebtedness, including interlying liens, of $2,963,000. The quick assets exceed the current liability by several hundred thousand dollars. The Barber management has reduced the fixed charges approximately $100,000 per year. There will be no further savings along these lines. The Box Board Company owns 57,883 shares of the American Straw Board stock, out of a total issue of 60,000 shares. This stock cost approximately $3,670,000. The total bonded indebtedness of the American is $464,000, $50,000 of which will be paid in June. I look for fair business during the year and on the present basis, measured by the past three years, will equal about 30 per cent of business."

The stockholders of the South Side Elevated Railroad Company, Chicago, at their special meeting, Thursday, voted to make the proposed increase in the capital stock of the company from $10,323,600 to $17,550,500 to pay for the new lines and third track which the company proposes to build. Exactly 78,243 shares of stock were voted in favor of the increase, and none was voted against it. There are 103,238 shares of stock outstanding, and the amount necessary to authorize the increase was 68,?91 shares. The stockholders also passed a resolution assenting to the general plan announced by the directors some weeks ago for placing and cashing the new stock authorized. This plan provided for the organization of an underwriting syndicate among the stockholders, which should pay for the stock in three installments at a price not to exceed $?1 a share. It was not announced how fully the stockholders had joined this underwriting syndicate. The resolution authorized the directors to go ahead along these lines and dispose of the stock through the syndicate contemplated or through any similar arrangement that might prove feasible. The directors now have the matter in hand and will make announcement when the plan is assured and ready for carrying out

OATS—Were weak and ⅛@⅜c lower, but reacted and closed ⅛c higher. The net range was ½c. There was good general selling early by local and Northwest account. The rally came from covering by "shorts" and support from the "bull" interest identified with Corn. The visible supply decreased 152,000 bu, and is 10,342,000 bu, against 6,670,000 bu last year. Local stocks increased 8,000 bu, and are 3,112,000 bu. Arrivals were 101 cars, with 44 cars Standard from private elevators. Seaboard clearances were 18,900 bu. Cash sales were 50,000 bu. RYE—Was steady and unchanged, although some poor No. 2 Rye sold at lower prices. A little demand existed and offerings moderate. Receipts four cars. No. 2 sold to go to store at 67½c and on track at 67@67½c, with choice Rye quotably about 70c. No 3 sold at 65c.

Future Deliveries of No. 2 Rye—Steady. May sold at 70½c and closed at 70c bid and 71c asked. July 67c bid and 67c asked.

BARLEY—There was considerable low grade around thin, dirty stained some not sweet mixing or feed goods. Some of it was Barley held over from last week. It was dull. Buyers as a rule out of the market except at a low price around 32c. holders asked a little more, at not 31—a shade over if clean and good color. Few sales made, but negotiations in progress which, if successful will clean up the market. Screenings on sale in the same way dull neglected salable only by accepting lower prices. Low grade malting slow and easy at former prices. few will have it fortunately only a few cars were offered. Malting Barley within the range of good to fancy remains good sale and steady to firm. Spot offerings very small and after the free sales last week offerings of to arrive lots have fallen off. Thirty six cars posted to-day. Visible decreased moderately but is still much larger than last year. For Screenings there was a quiet rule range of 30@40c for poor to choice outside for city received. Barley mixing or feed was finally 32c bid local, and rather freely offered at 31c. Malting low grade, 40@41c, common, 42@43c, fair was about 44@47c, good, 48@53c, choice 54@55c, fancy 56@57c. Fancy to arrive sold at 60c.

SEEDS—Were quiet, and in all cases, so far as could be learned steady and unchanged. A fair quantity of stored Timothy offered, but current arrivals small.

Timothy—Fresh arrivals small but a good deal of held Seed was offered for sale. Usually such lots were held above the views of buyers and little business was done. Cash market was called quiet, steady and unchanged. Speculative market neglected and entirely nominal. April delivery about $2 95. September offered at $3 10 with no bids. Country lots quotable at $2 00@2 90 for poor to very fancy, outside for extra fine, not hulled: fair to good quotable at $2 50@2 60, choice $2 65@2 70, and rough dark and foul lots about $2 35@2 45.

Flax—The week started in with the market practically devoid of business and prices nominally as they have been of late. No 1 Northwestern or No 1 from the Northwest again quoted at $1 16. No 1 at $1 09 and Rejected quotable at $1 05@1 10—outside for choice from the Northwest, at which figure a car was sold. April delivery nominally $1 09. May delivery $1 1, sellers. September nominal at $1 17. Local receipts were 3 cars or 2,550 bu and output none. Minneapolis got 16 cars and Duluth 20 cars. Local stock report shows 807 bu gain. It was 22,398 bu a year ago it was 92 0.0 bu.

Country lots, common to choice, $7 75@10 50; fancy above, mixed with Buckhorn or other weed Seeds $7 00@8 25, poor, cleaned out of Timothy, very foul, down to $3 00@6 00. Such lots as usually come to market when ordinary to good quotable at $8 75@9 75.

Other Seeds—Tone of the market for the several lines was said to be steady with no change to note. Some stored Hungarian changed hands. There were no fresh arrivals on sale. Hungarian, common and light color to choice, dark quotable at $1 15@1 65. Common Millet $1 00@1 40 for poor to fancy. German Millet, $1 00@1 40. Siberian, 85c @$1 05. Broom Corn and Early Fortune Millet, 80@95c. Mustard, 85c@$1 05. Buckwheat easy, good quality, $1 30.

HOG PRODUCTS—Quite a good speculative business was reported in the market for Hog Products, and the feeling was unsettled and prices irregular. Offerings were rather free and the demand was fairly active. Outside orders were fair, and local trading was rather active. Hogs were in lighter supply than generally expected and prices ruled higher early, which encouraged a little buying on behalf of "shorts," and prices ruled higher temporarily. At the improvement there was some pressure to sell, and prices declined materially on all the leading articles. "Longs" were inclined to realize, and packers sold fair quantities. At the decline there was fair miscellaneous buying, and prices rallied slightly, and the market closed comparatively steady. BREADSTUFFS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

Wheat.—The market for Wheat is dead, and nothing doing whatever. Sales are so few that one could hardly state whether any one is in the market to buy or sellers are willing to dispose of any of their holdings. Extra choice Wheat is becoming quite scarce, and fancy prices would have to be paid to secure a suitable parcel. Exporters are not in need of any Wheat; only two vessels in port chartered for Wheat and Barley loading, and stocks on hand for the same. In another week the port will be cleaned up of chartered tonnage, and possibly an occasional charter will be announced during the remainder of the season. Considerable Wheat remains in the country, but most of it is only fit for feeding purposes, the same having caught the heavy rains last fall, and with great difficulty it was harvested. Quotations for club Wheat remain at 75c; bluestem, 81c, and valley, 82c. Very little of this quality is obtainable, valley millers purchasing Eastern Oregon Wheat to fill orders.

Crop reports are without change as to fall Wheat, but the spring acreage is very backward. Usually at this time of the year farm work is almost completed, but this year it will be fully three weeks before the same will be over. No serious results are expected to follow the late season in Eastern Oregon and Washington. The crop will be ready for harvesting, if summer conditions are good for the growing crop, at about the usual time of the year. The real danger feared by the farmers and Grain handlers lies in the hot winds that come in June or July. Among Grain men the news of a delay in spring seeding, owing to the snowfall, is received with satisfaction. The men in the business feel that no harm is apt to result, and the thorough moistening of the ground will be a good thing for crops. More than this, the blanket of snow protects the fall Wheat crop from danger of injury by frosts. The reports received by local Wheat buyers from the Wheat belt indicate that the acreage of spring Wheat will be much larger than usual.

So far as reports indicate the amount of land seeded to fall Wheat has not been increased materially, and there is not apt to be an increased acreage of spring Wheat in the Snake River or O. R. and N. country as heavy fall acreage has been sown. The big increase is expected to be shown on the line of the Great Northern, where many new settlers have gone in, and where farmers have opened up new ground this year. While the crop depends entirely upon weather conditions during the summer, the increased acreage is held by Grain men to be a satisfactory indication of a big crop during the coming summer. Comparison with last season's crop is practically certain to show a big gain, for the yield of Grain was far below the average. Farmers are greatly encouraged over the condition of the Grain market. They figure confidently that the war in the Orient will keep up good prices during the coming year, and in this feeling they share the conviction of big Wheat buyers.

Flour. This market is without change, and dealers all report dull markets and very little doing. Some of them say: "We could do some trade if we accept prices cabled; but it is impossible to do so." The conservative people in the trade maintain that this dullness will not last very long, and in a month or six weeks orders will be coming in again. Stocks in the Orient will have to be greatly reduced before very much new business can be secured. Stocks are very large and prices here are too high for the buyer abroad at present to do any business with us. There is some demand for Flour to the United Kingdom, and possibly another vessel will be loaded before the season advances; the demand for South and Central America is fair and sales are not very active, although each steamer leaving Puget Sound has a fair quantity of Flour on board. California is receiving some good-sized parcels, but millers down there have recently purchased considerable Wheat from the North to enable them to supply the trade in that State. Millers have no cause to complain. They have had an exceptionally good season, and a little dullness will not hurt anyone. We quote export brands at $3 40@3 50 per brl; Patents, from $4 00 to $4 50, according to quality.

CROPS IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

United Kingdom. The majority of the agricultural reports which we have perused during the past week take a gloomy view of the outlook, but a few are still hopeful; the acreage under Wheat will be very much less than last year and probably less than the low record of 1895, which was 1,455,000. English Wheat is now in very short supply and prices are inclined to rise again, but these facts may not be revealed by next Saturday's Corn Average returns, which will probably show a further decline and a fair-sized delivery, the following Saturday's returns, however, will probably prove what we have stated.

Russia—Crop news is still indefinite. On the South coast the weather keeps very mild, but recently in the interior there was a sharp frost without snow, which gave rise to fears of crop damage. Most of recent shipments have been made at the expense of port stocks, but it is expected that good quantities of Grain will arrive shortly at shipping ports coming down interior waterways, for it is believed that good reserves are still held in the interior.

Roumania—Latest crop news is quite favorable. Recently the land has had a good fall of snow and rain, which will be of great benefit to the crops, although, of course, it has stopped spring seeding for the time. Exports are small and there is not much Grain moving in the interior, but some improvement is looked for at an early date.

Austria-Hungary—The condition of the crops continues to give satisfaction.

Australasia—Mail advices from Victoria say that prospects for the next season are regarded as very satisfactory and it is thought that the Wheat area will be largely increased. The shipping movement last week was smaller, but there are still a good number of ships loading or chartered to load.

India—Reports continue to speak well of the outlook and exports are very liberal for the time of year.

Argentina—The recent rains proved to have been bad for Wheat as well as for Corn for our cable advice of last Thursday says that stocks of Wheat have been seriously damaged and the condition of arrivals is unsatisfactory. The present weather is favorable.

France—Favorable weather continues to be reported, and farmers are making good progress with spring seeding. The autumn-sown crops promise well. Trade in native Wheat at present is slow, for growers are too busy with field work to offer much, and on the other hand millers are very indifferent.

Italy—An official bulletin covering the period 10th to 20th March says that weather was favorable for field work. Winter Wheat shows a vigorous plant, but complaints are occasionally made that the growth is too luxuriant and that the crop is infested with weeds.

Spain—The weather is changeable, but there are fewer complaints of excessive moisture. The Wheat crop is reported to look well throughout the Peninsula.

Germany—Seasonable weather, which favors field work, is being experienced, and there are no complaints regarding the winter crops.

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

There was no moisture west of the Mississippi River on the Sunday map. There were light general rains on Sunday's map from the Mississippi River east. There is no rain west of the Mississippi River this morning. There are light rains from the Mississippi east. Temperatures higher. Better Corn weather.

Indications are for fair weather over entire district.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

A fire, Sunday, at Galesburg, Ill., caused a loss of $70,000; insurance, $35,000.

The Steel shops, mounting-room, and offices of the Wehrle stove works, Newark, Ohio, burned, Thursday. Loss, $100,000.

It is reported that the United States Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, project has been abandoned by the people who were promoting it recently.

The Twin City Rapid Transit Company directors have declared a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the common stock, payable May 16. Books close April 30.

The Pacific Steel Company of San Diego, Cal., has purchased 20,000 acres of Alaskan Coal land seventy miles west of Mount St. Elias. The price was $1,0 0,000.

A telegram from Carroll, Iowa, Friday, said: "Cold rain the past twenty-four hours will hold up Oat seeding a few days. Scarcely any Wheat seeding here this spring. No Corn for shipment in this section. Feeders shipping in considerable from Nebraska, and will continue to do so until new crop comes in."

A traveling man wires from Oklahoma City: "Wheat in this section not so good. The Secretary of Millers' Association summarizes as follows: Eastern half Oklahoma, 80 per cent; western half, 60 per cent. Large increase in acreage in new country over Southwestern Oklahoma. Reserves of old Wheat 1 per cent throughout Territory."

Officials of the Great Northern hope to use the laws of Montana to prevent E. H. Harriman from securing control of the Northern Pacific. Attorney General Donovan of Montana was in St. Paul, Wednesday, closeted with officials of that company, and it is said he may file a petition asking the Montana courts to prevent the Oregon Short Line from acquiring a control of the Northern Pacific on the ground that it would be in violation of the State laws against a railroad owning a parallel or competing line.

The Chicago Railway Equipment Company's report for 1903 shows that the capital stock authorized is $2,500,000, of which $71,250 is still in the treasury. In addition there are outstanding $250,000 bonds. In addition to paying the fixed charges in 1903 the company paid dividends amounting to 7 per cent on $2,428,750, the amount of capital stock issued. The report gives a list of 172 patents controlled by the company. The company has plants in Chicago, Jersey City, and Detroit, one at Walkerville, Ont., and one at Montreal.

An experienced Corn handler, both as a large shipper and cribber, who has made extensive examination into the condition of the Corn, not only this year but in previous years, says: "Last year's Corn crop was unlike any previous crop. Every one thought that when the weather became warm Corn would commence to heat. We have not had any hot Corn to speak of so far. I have discovered that Corn naturally has so much oil in it that it causes it to heat. The crop last year had less than the usual percentage of oil, hence it is not heating and is keeping better than was expected. The fact that Corn turns black does not prevent its being used by distillers, as they can get as much alcohol out of it as when it is all right."

REVIEW OF TO-DAY'S MARKETS.

FLOUR—The demand was slow from all quarters and sales limited.

WINTER WHEAT—Was quiet and weaker. No shipping demand and but little milling inquiry. Prices quotably about 1@2c lower Fresh arrivals almost entirely nominal—not enough Wheat arriving to make a market. No. 2 Red in store quotable at 98½@99½c, and fresh arrivals free on board quotable at $1 00@1 02. No. 3 Red fresh arrivals nominally 95c@$1 00 No. 2 Hard fresh arrivals free on board quotable at 92@95c. No. 3 Hard fresh receipts sold at 83@90c.

SPRING WHEAT—Ruled dull. No shipping demand and very little milling business doing Prices about 1c lower. No 1 Northern in store quotably ½c under May and ranged at 91@91c, and fresh arrivals free on board at 96c@$1 00. No. 2 Northern fresh arrivals nominally 90@97c. No. 3 Spring sold at 91c and ranged nominally 85@95c for ordinary to choice. No. 4 Spring fresh receipts sold at 68@75c for ordinary to fair and ranged at 60@92c for very poor to choice.

REGULAR WHEAT—A fair trade, with the close showing declines of ⅝@¾c and 1¼c The market started stronger and for a while ruled firm, due to the showing of the Government report. Liquidation, however, soon set in and grew in volume as the season advanced and prices declined steadily, breaking 2c Outside markets turned weak, the cash situation was against holders with No 1 Northern quoted ½c under May and fair and warmer weather was predicted for the Northwest, all of which acted as weakening influences The showing of the available supply, too, was a "bear" factor. THE HOP SITUATION.

[New York Producers' Price Current, April 9.]

The Hop market continues to present about the same dull and uninteresting features that have characterized the trade ever since the middle of January. Weather conditions favor a large increase in the consumption of Beer, and this with so much trouble in labor organizations all over the country and a good deal of worrying people unemployed, tends to cause a general depression, a situation that brewers are quick to feel and while a good many are known to have allowed the stock of Hops in their brews pretty close, they cannot be interested, though it is pretty certain that as soon as weather becomes settled warm and consumption of Beer shows indications of increasing they will be compelled to purchase more Hops. The quantity of Hops remaining in dealers' hands is light, and should buying become at all active, would soon show considerable. This fact tends to cause a confident holding of fine grades and there is little, if any, disposition to urge business at any concession in prices. A sale of very good Washington State Hops—new crop—is reported early in the week at 25c, but otherwise scarcely anything has been done on the local market for the Coast trading is also very quiet and the only business reported was a sale of 100 bales, medium Oregons, at 24c The weather continues rainy and unfavorable on the Coast and work in the yards is still backward. In the East and West conditions are also unfavorable and growers still unable to get in their yards.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON, April 8.—The Commercial Bulletin says:

"Aside from the auct.on sale of territory and California Wools, which brought comparatively high prices, there has been a featureless Wool market in Boston, in the customary acceptation of the term; business is distinctly quiet and prices remain steady. The clearing up of domestic fleeces and territory is slightly under the market does not indicate general weakness.

"There is no attempt to raise prices, however. Large importations of Australian and South American grass bred Wools are supplying manufacturers' wants in the line of medium stock. Active operations in the new clip in Nevada have led to higher prices. Some buyers have jumped the tracks. The mill interest is quiet at 23@24c, or 3c higher than a year ago. Foreign markets keep strong.

"The shipments of Wool from Boston to date from Dec 31, 1903, are 65,089,067 lbs, against 71 530,-921 lbs at the same date last year. The receipts to date are 10,033,400 lbs, against 53,286,200 lbs for the same period last year."

AGRICULTURE IN GREAT BRITAIN.

[From the London Agricultural Gazette.]

March has been very favorable for work on the land especially for clearing up arrears of plowing. For sowing, a few nights of severe frost were needed to allow of thoroughly satisfactory work. Still it has been a great advantage to be able to keep steadily plodding on in efforts to get new tillage tilth in stubborn soil, and considerable progress has been made in the sowing of Barley and Oats. Many fields of Winter Oats have had to be plowed up and resown with Spring Wheat or some other cereal, while other pieces have had to be patched with spring Wheat. We have known instances in the past in which fair crops have resulted from drilling April Wheat with a thin plant of some winter variety. After the present date the Spring variety is the safer to sow; but there may be some difficulty in getting this light-bearded sort.

The worst of it is that its chaff is of no value for feeding purposes, as but little of it has been grown in recent seasons. Some material for the improvment in the condition of winter crops is reported

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The weather map shows clear weather in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. There is very little precipitation anywhere. Temperatures about normal for the season. Generally clear weather through Corn and Oats belt.

Conditions are favorable for Corn and better for Oats seeding Northwest temperatures are about seasonable and warmer up there is indicated.

ITEMS OF GENNERAL INTEREST.

The Clinton, Mo., Pottery Company's plant was destroyed by fire, Sunday. Loss, $15,000; insured.

The Dupont International Powder Company has declared out the first quarterly dividend on the preferred stock of 1¾ per cent, payable April 20 to stock of record April 8.

The Consolidated Ice Company of Pittsburg has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred stock, payable April 19. Books close April 10 and reopen April 20.

The Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on its preferred stock, payable May 2 Books close April 20 and reopen May 3.

The quarter's exports from all Germany to the United States are about $5,000,00 below the amount for the same quarter in 1903. The heaviest reductions occurred at the consulates in the Iron districts. The Duesseldorf exports alone dropped $1,000,000.

The failure of the Greene Nevuna Company of Boston was announced Thursday. The company is capitalized at $1,000,000 and the estimated liabilities are in excess of $300 000. The assets include bills receivable and the good will and patent rights of the concern. The largest creditor is Pettigill & Co., manufacturers' agents of Boston, who failed recently with upward of $1,000,000 liabilities.

Ibrail advices of March 24 state that the freight market was stagnant, with plenty of tonnage and very short Grain supplies. The autumn-sown crops looked very promising, having greatly improved. Steamer Nos. 1 and 2 Galilee and in the dock silos of Ibrail and Galatz were 640,000 qrs against 681,000 bu in previous week; of Corn 456,000 bu, against 776,000 bu; and of Barley 784,000 bu, against 960,000 bu.

The Times of India, March 12, says: "The effects of the late rains have been little. From Broach and Dhollera we hear that the Cotton lying in the yards of the factories forwarded has been slightly damaged, but the standing crops if anything have benefited. From other Cotton centers no damage is reported. Slight damage is reported to the Wheat and Rice crops in the Nerbudda district, but other wise advices in general give the Wheat, Seed and Rabi crops to be doing well."

Bombaeb's Buda Pesth correspondent, writing under date of March 25, says: "The weather this week has been very lifeless. Not only was new business quite unimportant, but the deliveries on old contracts have likewise been extremely slight. Stocks have therefore undergone a considerable augmentation With the Easter holidays in front of us, as well as the Jewish holidays, it would be idle to hope for any immediate improvement. Of feedingstuffs the milling offal is scarce and firmly held, while coarse samples are almost unsalable"

The Wall Street Journal says: "The proceeds of the issue of $10,000,000 4 per cent bonds of Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad will be used to retire the floating debt incurred in connection with the taking up of the $5,000,000 5 per cent bonds which fell due on July 15, and for purchase additional equipment and terminal facilities. The last is probably the largest item. Additional terminals will probably be provided at Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Paul and other points. A large amount of new equipment will also be purchased."

A New York banker recently stated that he personally would be an excellent thing to have just a little later: that there must be sent out of the country in some manner or other about $100,000,000 in coin during the April tax payments, the Cuban loan and the City of Havana loan and a probable Porto Rico loan. "The thing that I wonder at is where are the loans coming from" Pennsylvania Railroad has issued $30,000,000, Baltimore and Ohio $1,000,01, the Seaboard must soon renew its loan of $5,000,00, the Burlington its loan of the same sum and the Prisco loan of about $2,000,000. Where is the money coming from?

The Agricultural Gazette of March 28 says: "March has proved a very favorable month for work on the land, especially for clearing up arrears of plowing, the rainfall in many districts falling below the average, and the month having proved less than three-quarters of an inch up to the beginning of the present week, while no fall of any consequence has been registered since the second day of the month. Many fields of winter Wheat have had to be plowed up and resown with Spring Wheat or some other cereal, while other pieces have been patched with spring Wheat. Considerable progress has been made in the sowing of Barley and Oats. From some districts an improvement in the condition of the winter crops is reported.

"The general plan of the improvements on the Erie Railroad which have been under consideration for the past two years, and the carrying out of which will involve the expenditure of $40,000,000, is now in process of revision. Orders have been issued to proceed with as much speed as possible in the construction of the new main line between New York and Chicago, in order that the road may be placed in position to handle heavy freight trains as expeditiously and as cheaply as any of its competitors. It is expected that about $2,000,0.0 to $3 000,000 will be expended this year in the reduction of grades and the strengthening of roadbed and bridges."

Sales of the Belmont and Chicago Canal and Dock Company in the fiscal year ended Jan. 31, 1904, as reported at the annual meeting of stockholders, Wednesday, amounted to 631,297 The property sold consisted of 1,000 feet on the upper gate price was $8,799 (99 per cent) over the inventory value. The amount of sales made amounted to More than double the sum preceding year. Indications for this year are better. Many lots have been sold a ready more than the entire amount in 1903. The financial statement as of Jan. 31 shows little change from the preceding year. The surplus was decreased about $13,000. The item of $20,100 bills payable in the new statement has been paid since the statement were made up.

The latest report from the Union Pacific mystery is that the Rockefeller family have a large amount of money to be invested and have been buying Union Pacific stock. While a good many circles lean to the view that the Rockefeller interests have been buyers of the stock, there are few who think that this buying has been simply for the purpose of providing an investment for surplus income The idea that a Rockefeller syndicate would advance a stock nearly 20 per cent on itself to get rid of late funds does not appeal very vividly to the average observer. Of all the explanations of the action of Union Pacific, there has been none more plausible than that which would have entered the property with a view to establishing a community of interest, and that such buying may have prompted the so-called Harriman interests to increase their own holdings as a protection against any possible loss of control at a later date.

The Chicago Inter Ocean says: "The outlook for business on the great lakes this season is not bright. In fact, it is the worst vessel men have faced for five years. In but a single line of traffic is the prospect for business good. That line is Coal. Iron Ore, Grain and lumber shipments in sight for the first half of the season are so small that it seems hardly worth while to fit out the boats. Coal is the black spot in the trade line. The slump in the Iron and Steel trade which started in the middle of last season has left large quantities of Iron Ore unsold or unused on the docks at the opening of navigation. It is said that not a ton of Iron Ore was moved until midsummer no hardship would be experienced. The United States Steel Corporation, which has been the largest shipper of Iron Ore on vessels not owned by the former company. There is good reason for believing, however, that financial interests which are represented in the directorate of the American company have purchased a large block of the Republic stock, though such a purchase does not show on the transfer books of the Rogers company It is an open secret that certain parties in the American company believe that the Rogers works would be a desirable acquisition, but the price asked for the Rogers stock, during the past two or three years, has been too high for any such transaction to be made by the American company, though negotiations have been on foot for a long time."

AVAILABLE STOCKS OF BREADSTUFFS.

On the reverse page of this issue of the DAILY TRADE BULLETIN will be found an interesting statement of the Breadstuffs supply in Europe, America and Argentina on April 1. It is very complete. It includes the European and Argentina stocks as collected by Broomhall's Corn Trade News, Liverpool, a portion of the visible supply as compiled by the Secretary of the Chicago Board of Trade, the stocks in the Northwest collected by the Minneapolis Daily Market Record, returns from about forty points (including Denver and Pittsburg) estimated, with the balance of the report collected and compiled by the DAILY TRADE BULLETIN.

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

No moisture in the Southwest. There are light showers in Iowa and a few light showers in Ohio Valley. Temperatures are higher. Conditions are more favorable over the Corn belt.

Some rise in temperatures generally, and especially in the Northwest. There are merely a few traces of precipitation in the Northwest, but no moisture in Kansas or Oklahoma, and very little anywhere. Conditions are becoming more favorable in Corn and Oats territory.

The mercury at 7 A. M. was 24 to 34 above in the extreme North, 26 to 36 above in Minnesota and the Dakotas, 34 to 50 above in Iowa and Nebraska, 36 to 44 above in Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

New York Exchange 5c premium.

Documentary Sterling strunger at 484¼.

Chicago Bank Clearings to-day, $28,006,126.

Estimated receipts of Hogs for to-morrow, 22,000.

Orange Judd Farmer makes the condition of Wheat April 1 about 80.1.

Consols closed at 88 5-16 for money and 88 7-16 for account, or the same as yesterday.

The cold weather of Tuesday has decidedly strengthened the ice at Sault Ste. Marie.

A Rosario cable says: "Raining since midnight, causing further delay and damage to Corn."

The State of Massachusetts has borrowed $1,000,000 on its notes for six months at 3½ per cent.

Reported that 24,000 bu Wheat and 16,000 bu Corn were taken at the seaboard to-day for export.

The Chicago Board of Trade Directors have called for the payment of annual dues, $50, Monday, April 18.

Average cost price of Hogs at Chicago, Tuesday, was $5 13, against $5 09 Monday, $5 26 a week ago and $7 30 a year ago.

Chicago Board of Trade memberships are lower. One sold, Tuesday, at $3,000 net to the buyer, equal to $3,475 net to the seller.

Odessa cables: "Weather unfavorable for growing crops; general complaints of drouth. Think large part of crop winter killed."

The Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company has notified the New York Stock Exchange that it has increased its common stock $7 200,000.

An Odessa cable to a Chicago commission firm, Monday, said: "There is no truth in reports of damage to Wheat in Southern Russia by frosts."

The exports of Flour and Wheat from the United States during March were 7,068,000 bu—the smallest since April, 1897—compared with 11,518,000 bu in March, 1903.

Cotton in New York averaged lower. Liverpool was easy and the buying support lacked energy. Closing sales were at losses of 43@45 points lower on near and 17@23 points on deferred deliveries.

Newton, Kansas, wired: "Wheat from Kansas City to Newton very poor generally, but good in spots. Cannot make average crop under best conditions. Millers here say Government estimate on Kansas over rather than under. Will need rain in ten days."

Stocks in New York advanced after a weak and lower start, and made small gains. There was nothing in the news of especial interest. Crop reports were less favorable, but Wall Street paid more attention to official reports than to private ones. Money 1½ per cent.

The Committee on Rules of the Chicago Board of Trade has recommended an amendment to the rules as follows: "For selling car load lots of Wheat in store, free on board cars or vessels, on track, delivered, or to be shipped from any other point, 1c per bushel." The present rate is ½c.

It was stated, Tuesday, that the Flour mills at Minneapolis will close down for an indefinite period the latter part of this week, as a protest against what the millers consider railroad discrimination forcing them out of competitive markets. It is asserted that Flour is being hauled from Kansas City to Chicago for 4c, when 10c per 100 lbs is the rate from Minneapolis.

In Local Securities the feature was the break of 7 points in Pneumatic Tool. This was in the absence of official announcements of the action of its directors this morning and was taken by La Salle Street as meaning that the dividend was either passed or reduced at the meeting to-day. The list in general was weak and lower. Metropolitan Elevated preferred declined 1 point. North Chicago Railway was the strong spot and gained 1 point.

"I remember few occasions in my long experience at this market when shipping and export demand were broader or more encouraging than now," says a Chicago Live Stock man who has just returned from California, "and possibly the market may improve some when the floods of Cattle that seem to be flowing upon the market to escape high-priced Corn in some sections cease, and because it is impossible in other regions to secure supplies of Corn to carry them longer."

The San Francisco Commercial News says: "The weather over the State is now splendid and will be of immense benefit to the crop if it continues so for a few weeks. Thousands of acres of Grain lands have been inundated by the floods and the crops on this overflowed land will be almost a total loss. The weather bureau reports that out of 12,000 to 15,000 acres of Grain land flooded in the vicinity of Marysville 8,000 acres will be spoiled for this season's crop. In the other sections of the State, however, the crop looks strong and thrifty."

A London dispatch says: "The Government, it is asserted, has decided to reimpose the Grain duties abandoned by Mr. Ritchie, the former Chancellor of the Exchequer. It is added that the former arrangement of 6c per 100 lbs on imported Grain and 10c on Flour will be revived in its entirety, as during the regime of former Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Michael Hicks-Beach. The assertion that the Grain duties will be reimposed found little credence among the members of the House of Commons, who expect that the Chancellor of the Exchequer will make up the deficit largely from an increase in the income tax."

REVIEW OF TO-DAY'S MARKETS.

FLOUR—The demand is slow and more talk of Northwestern mills closing down. Prices steady.

WINTER WHEAT—Was quiet and without special change in prices. A little milling demand existed and that was all there was doing. No. 2 Red in store nominally 95@99c and fresh arrivals free on board quotable at $1 00@1 02. No. 3 Red fresh arrivals quotable at 95c@$1 00. No. 2 Hard fresh receipts free on board quotable at 92@96c. No. 3 Hard fresh receipts free on board sold at 91c and ranged at 85@91c. No. 4 Hard sold at 84c.

SPRING WHEAT—Was quiet and unchanged. There was some demand on milling account, but it was very light. Otherwise no demand. No. 1 Northern in store nominally 93½@94c and fresh arrivals free on board ranged at 96c@$1 00, with a sale of 10,000 bu free on board taken out of store at 96c. No. 2 Northern nominally 90@97c. No. 3 Spring was quotably 85@96c for ordinary to choice. No. 4 Spring sold at 67@76c and ranged at 65@92c for poor to choice.

REGULAR WHEAT—Started out a little slow, but later on developed into a fairly broad market, with the undertone considerably stronger and extreme figures were well maintained, the close showing May ⅝c higher, while July gained 1⅜c and the September 2c. Locals were fair buyers at the opening and as the crop news from Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Kansas came in "bullish" the demand increased, buying on a large scale for Southwestern account being the feature. The weather crop bulletin was moderately "bullish," and North Dakota news regarding Wheat seeding also favorable to holders. Odessa cables reported the weather in Russia unfavorable for the growing crops, there being general complaints of drouth. Think large part of winter crop killed. Liverpool quoted spot steady to ½d lower, and futures ⅝@⅞d lower. London came ¾@1⅛d lower and reported cargoes on passage quiet and lower to sell. Paris and Antwerp were unchanged. Berlin declined ⅜c and Buda Pesth lost 1⅛c. Showers were predicted for Illinois, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska, cloudy and cool for Minnesota and fair and warmer for the Dakotas. It was rumored that there would be a general closing down of Minneapolis and Milwaukee mills to-night owing to the poor Flour demand. The Orange Judd Farmer made the condition of Winter Wheat 80.1 per cent. Clearings were meagre and the acceptances at the seaboard were limited to 3 boat loads. Primary receipts were 5,000 bu larger than a year ago, while Northwestern arrivals were 62 cars smaller. Kansas City and St. Louis received 73,700 bu against 91,000 bu in 1903, and the shipments were 189,000 bu. Minneapolis estimates the increase in the stock there so far this week at 135,000 bu. Oklahoma advices stated the outlook was for 70 per cent of a crop or better than expected a while back. Newton, Kan., advices were "bullish." Buying September was one of the principal features of the day. A New York message stated 30 per cent of the Wheat area in Pennsylvania was being plowed up. Cash sales here reported 15,000 bu. Receipts at Duluth 9 cars and at Minneapolis 63 cars, a total of 72 cars, against 126 yesterday, 210 cars a week ago, and 134 cars last year. Local receipts included 4 cars Winter, and 1 car Spring, a total of 5 cars, against 4 cars last year. Included in the above was none of contract grade. CORN—Just a fair trade, but much better tone, with the close 1c better for May, while July gained ¾c and September ⅝@¾c. Smaller offerings and better demand from "shorts" was the feature, the "bull" party in May giving that delivery some support. The strength in Wheat was one of the "bull" helps. Receipts were small at 100 cars, with 32 cars contract, and 125 cars and 52,500 bu contract from private to public elevators. Liverpool quoted spot steady to ½d lower and futures ¼d lower. Cargoes on passage were quoted easy and occasionally 1½d lower. It was reported that 200,000 bu contract that was loading was turned down by the Appeals Committee. Government weekly crop bulletin reported Corn planting under way in Missouri and crop doing well in Texas. Illinois report was rather "bullish" on condition of Corn in cribs and Argentine cables reported rains and further damage to the Corn crop. Southwestern markets all stronger. Showers were predicted for Illinois, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska. Western receipts were 349,000 bu, against 408,000 bu in 1903, shipments 300,000 bu and 367,000 bu respectively. Local arrivals 105,000 bu and shipments 111,000 bu. Exports were 83,000 bu, against 211,000 bu last year. Local shipping demand was slow and Eastern markets in some instances reported congestion. A sale of 150,000 bu No. 2 was reported at ⅝c under May, or 51⅜c. Seaboard reported 2 boat loads accepted. Car lots ½@1c higher. Offerings moderate and demand fair. No. 2 sold at 53c, and closed at 53c. No. 2 Yellow at 53c, and closed at 53c. No. 2 White at 53c. No. 3 sold at 48½@50½c, and closed at 47½@51c. No. 3 White at 49½@50½c. Future Deliveries of No. 2 Corn—Fairly active, and stronger, closing ⅝@¾c to 1c higher.

APRIL—Sold at 51¼c and closed 52⅜c nominally.

MAY—Sold at 51½@53c. Opened at 51¾c to 51¼c and sold to 52c, to 51⅞c, to 52⅛c, to 52c, to 52½c, to 52⅛c, to 52⅜c, to 52⅝c, to 53c, to 52⅞c, to 53c and closed at 53c asked.

JULY—Sold at 49⅝c and 50⅝@50¾c. Opened at 50c to 49⅝@49¾c and sold at 49⅞c, to 49⅝c, to 50⅛c, to 50⅛c, to 50¼c, to 50⅜@50½c, to 50⅛c, to 50½c, to 50⅝@50¾c, to 50⅜c, to 50⅝@50¾c, to 50½c, and closed at 50½c bid.

SEPTEMBER—Sold at 48⅞@49¾c. Opened at 48⅞c to 49¼c sold to 49@49⅛c, to 49¼c to 49⅛c, to 49¾c, to 49c, to 49¼c to 49¾c, to 49⅝c, to 49⅝c, and closed at 49⅝c.

DECEMBER—Sold at 44@44½c. Opened at 44¼c, sold at 44c, to 44½c, and closed at 44½c bid.

OATS—The action of prices was the reverse of yesterday, due to smaller offerings, good covering by the leading "shorts" and in sympathy with Wheat and Corn. Prices yielded ⅛c early, but advanced ¾@1⅛c and closed with gains of ⅝@⅞c. There was better commission house buying and fair changing from May to July. Weather was better. Small receipts were a "bull" factor, 71 cars arriving, and a light run is expected for a few days. There were 10 cars Standard from private elevators. Seaboard elevators 20,500 bu. Cash lots met a moderate demand at ½@1c advance. Standard in store closed about 37⅜c for round lots, with small lots in special houses held at 1c more.

Oats by sample advanced ½@1c, offerings being small and the strength in futures helped. Sales on track and free on board: No Grade at 33c. No. 4 at 36c. No. 4 White at 37c. No. 3 at 37½c. No. 3 White at 37½@42½c. Standard at 40@41c. No. 2 at 39½c. Billed through: No. 3 White at 38c. No. 2 at 37½c. At the river: No. 4 White at 33@37c. No. 3 White at 34½@38c.

Future Deliveries of Contract Oats—Were active and higher.

APRIL—Closed about 37⅜c.

MAY—Active. Sold at 36¾@36⅞c and at 38c. Opened at 36⅞c to 37c, sold to 36¾@36⅞c, to 38c, to 37⅞c at close.

JULY—Active and stronger. Sold at 34¾@37⅝c. Opened at 36⅝c to 36⅞c, sold to 37⅝c to 37⅝c at close.

SEPTEMBER—Sold at 31⅝@32¼c. Opened at 31⅝c to 31¾c, sold to 32¼c, and closed there.

RYE—The market was quiet and nominally unchanged, in fact not enough doing to establish a market. Only one car received and no withdrawals from store here and no export clearances. No. 2 in store nominally about 67@68c and fresh arrivals free on board nominally 68@69c. No. 3 sold at 65@66½c.

Future Deliveries of No. 2 Rye—Nothing doing, buyers and sellers apart. May nominally 70c and July nominally 67c.

BARLEY—Low grade malting Barley was as dull as ever, no one cared for it. Even though only a few cars came on sale they were dragging at a week. Feed, mixing Barley and Screenings seemed to sell moderately. There was some call. Offerings smaller, especially of feed and mixing Barley, than they have been for a week past. The better quality also brought a little more—½@1c advance. Good to choice malting absent in the spot offerings. These grades salable and quotably steady. Since there were no offerings buyers paid only a brief visit to the market. Posted receipts only 11 cars. There were sales of Screenings over a range of 31@33c for poor to choice, outside for city recleaned. Barley, mixing or feed, sold at 31@35c for poor to good. Malting—low grade dull at 38@40c, common, 42@43c; fair was about 44@47c, good 48@52c; choice 53@55c; fancy 55@57c, extra fancy in an even running lot possibly a shade over.

SEEDS—Scarcely anything was done. Of nearly all lines the market was bare. As a rule values were steady, and in no instance was there any essential change.

Timothy—There was a dull and easy market. Very little business in cash Seed and futures inactive, neglected. Arrivals have become exceedingly small, and no fresh lots to speak of on sale. Demand was equally as light as the offerings. Values were nominally about as follows: Country lots $2 00@2 80 for poor to very fancy, outside for extra fine, not limited; fair to good quotable at $2 40@2 50, choice $2 55@2 65, and rough, dark and foul lots about $2 20@2 35. Contract spot or April delivery about $2 90. September delivery was easier, offered at $3 05, obtainable possibly at $3 00 and $3 01 bid.

Flax—The postings to-day gave neither receipts nor output for this market. There was an entire absence of offerings, and no business whatever was done. Nominal prices quoted were the same as those which appeared yesterday. Minneapolis got 9 cars and Duluth 15 cars. No. 1 Northwestern or No. 1 from the Northwest remained nominally $1 16. No. 1 was quoted at $1 09 and Rejected quotable at $1 04@1 09—outside for choice from the Northwest. April delivery nominally $1 08 and May delivery $1 09. September about $1 15.

Clover—An easier market was quoted, with 25c decline. This was in accord with outside markets. Trade quiet; the season is also getting to be a little late. Contract spot Seed quotable at $10 75. Country lots, common to choice, $7 75@10 00; fancy above, mixed with Buckhorn or other weed Seeds, $7 00@8 25, poor, c eaned out of Timothy, very foul, down to $3 00@6 00. Such lots as usually come to market when ordinary to good quotable at $8 50@9 50.

Other Seeds—There was a little Hungarian offered and sold, indications for this and in fact all the market was for steadiness with quotable values as follows: Hungarian common and light color to choice, dark, at $1 15@1 65. Common Millet $1 00@1 40 for poor to fancy. German Millet, $1 00@1 40. Siberian, $ 00@1 05. Broom Corn and Early Fortune Millet, 80@95c. Mustard, 85c@$1 05. Buckwheat easy; good quality, $1 40.

HOG PRODUCTS—A fairly good trade was reported in Hog Products and the feeling was stronger in a general way, chiefly in sympathy with the firmness in Grain. Offerings were not very free, and the demand was moderately active. Outside orders were fair, and local trading was rather active. "Shorts" accepted fair quantities. May delivery apparently was stronger than July. "Longs" sold moderately, and packers were conservative in their trading. Hogs were in fair supply, and prices higher early, but closed easier. Receipts at the leading Western packing points were estimated at 68,900, compared with 68,600 one year ago. Foreign Provision markets were dull and easy, and Liverpool quotations were reduced 6d on Backs and Cumberland Sides, and 3d on Lard. Domestic markets were quiet and steady. Receipts of Products were liberal—of Lard and Meats about 38 cars. Shipments were fair—of Lard and Meats about 110 cars. The speculative market opened rather firm and prices ruled higher and further advances were gained on all the leading articles. About the middle of the session, the feeling was not so strong and prices settled back slightly, but rallied again toward the close, and the market closed comparatively steady. Demand on shipping account was light and offerings were moderate. Sales were limited, and prices without material change.

Mess Pork—Trade was fairly active in the market for Mess Pork and the feeling was stronger in a general way. Offerings were moderate, and the demand was fairly active. Market opened rather firm and prices were 5@10c higher, which was followed by a further improvement of 5@10c with fair buying at the advancing scale. Cash lots quotable at $12 25@12 37½.

MAY—Demand was fairly active and offerings were moderate. Sales were made at $12 25@12 40. Opened at $12 25 to $12 30, sold to $12 35, to $12 30, to $12 40, to $12 32½, to $12 35, to $12 35, to $12 32½, and closed comparatively steady.

JULY—Offerings were fair and the demand was moderately active. Sales were made at $12 37½@12 52½. Opened at $12 37½ to $12 47½, sold to $12 45, to $12 47½ to $12 45, to $12 50, to $12 45, to $12 52½, to $12 45, to $12 50, and closed steady.

Lard—Quite an active speculative business was transacted in the Lard market and the feeling was stronger in a general way. Offerings were not very free, and the demand was moderately active. Foreign advices were rather favorable to holders. Market opened rather strong, and prices ruled 2½@5c higher, and a further advance of 2½c was gained. Later, the feeling was not so strong and prices settled back 2½@5c and the market closed steady. Demand on shipping account was light, and offerings were small. Cash lots were quotable at $6 50@6 60. Loose lots in good request with moderate offerings. Prices steady at about 17½c discount on May figures. Leaf Lard in small request and offerings were moderate. Prices were quotably steady at $6 10. SEPTEMBER—Demand light and offerings were small. Sales limited at $6 87½@6 90.

Short Rib Sides—Trade was fairly active in the market for Short Rib Sides and the feeling was stronger in a general way. Offerings were moderate, and the demand was fair. SUPPLY OF BREADSTUFFS

Stocks In Europe and America.

According to the special cablegram from Broomhall's Corn Trade News, Liverpool, to the DAILY TRADE BULLETIN, the supplies of Breadstuffs—Flour and Wheat—in second hands in store in the principal countries of Europe, in Argentina, and afloat for Europe on April 1, 1904, exhibited an increase equal to 4,768,000 bu during March, compared with an increase of 4,186,000 bu during February, and a decrease of 3,086,000 bu during March, 1903. The aggregate quantity of Breadstuffs afloat for Europe on April 1, 1904, exhibited an increase of 6,480,000 bu during March, compared with an increase of 10,230,000 bu during February, and a decrease of 5,520,000 bu during March, 1903. Shipments en route to the United Kingdom were reduced 900,000 bu, those for the Continent increased 2,350,000 bu and those "for orders" increased 3,250,000 bu. The aggregate supplies afloat for Europe on April 1, 1904, were 17,030,000 bu more than reported one year previous, and 3,140,000 bu less than reported two years previous. During March, 1904, the aggregate supplies in store in the principal countries of Europe were reduced 2,180,000 bu, compared with a decrease of 10,670,000 bu during February and a decrease of 1,740,000 bu during March, 1903. Stocks in the United Kingdom were increased 2,000,000 bu, those in France decreased 320,000 bu, those in Germany Belgium and Holland reduced 750,000 bu, those in Russia decreased 1,000,000 bu, and those in other portions of Europe decreased 1,250,000 bu. Stocks in Russia were reduced 1,000,000 bu during February, and were decreased 1,850,000 bu during March. The supplies in store in Russia are about 1,500,000 bu less than reported one year ago, and 3,850,000 bu more than reported two years ago. The aggregate stocks in store in Europe on April 1, 1904, were 6,960,000 bu more than reported one year previous, and 10,610,000 bu more than two years previous. Compared with the supplies of one year ago, the supplies of Breadstuffs in store and afloat for the United Kingdom on April 1, 1904, were 6,000,000 bu more, those for the Continent 5,000,000 bu more, and those "for orders" 3,000,000 bu more. The aggregate supplies of Breadstuffs credited to Europe in all positions on April 1, 1904, were 17,030,000 bu more than reported on April 1, 1903, and 7,890,000 bu more than on April 1, 1902. Advices from Europe indicate that the crops in that quarter are generally in a favorable condition. In the United Kingdom the acreage will be small and the crop will be more than usual. In France, Germany, Spain, Italy, Hungary and Roumania, the outlook for Wheat is rather favorable. In Russia, slight damage by frost in the Southwest has been published, but in other quarters the outlook is fair. Shipments from Argentina, Australia and India quite liberal.

DOMESTIC SUPPLIES OF BREADSTUFFS.

The aggregate supplies of Breadstuffs—Flour and Wheat—in the United States and Canada on April 1, 1904, as compiled by the DAILY TRADE BULLETIN and the Minneapolis Market Record, exhibited decreases during March and April, 1904, 6,000 bu, compared with a reduction of 7,514,000 bu during February, and a decrease of 11,910 000 bu during March, 1903. The general decrease was quite evenly distributed throughout the United States and Canada, with more reduction in the Winter Wheat than in the Spring Wheat sections. Millers purchased rather freely early in the month, but showed less disposition toward the close. Where farmers were busy with their spring work, the deliveries were light. The aggregate supplies of Flour in the United States and Canada were increased 400,000 bbls during March and April, a reduction of 115,000 bbls during February, and an increase of 155,000 bbls during March, 1903. The increase was mainly at the Spring Wheat markets, while there was some increase in portions of the South. The Southwest exhibited some reduction, owing to a moderate production, and there was a little increase in the Winter wheat sections of the Northwest. Some Flour accumulating at the lake ports. The following table exhibits the stocks of Flour in the principal cities of the United States on the dates named:

Cities.	April 1, 1904. Brls.	April 1, 1903. Brls.	April 1, 1902. Brls.
New York	72,000	72,000	70,000
St Louis	61,875	58,800	39,375
Toledo	7,000	6,000	6,000
Baltimore	45,000	20,000	48,000
Detroit	5,000	12,000	5,000
Boston	87,750	90,000	71,250

Stocks of Flour at these points were increased 281,591 brls during March, compared with a decrease of 64,237 brls during February, and an increase of 174,241 brls during March, 1903. The aggregate stocks of Flour at the Atlantic seaboard ports on April 1, 1904, were 464,887 brls, compared with 344,355 brls on March 1, and 374,745 brls on April 1, 1903. The aggregate supplies of Flour in the United States and Canada on April 1, 1904, were 15,000 brls less than reported on April 1, 1903.

During the month of March the supplies of Wheat in the United States and Canada were decreased 11,947,000 bu, compared with a decrease of 7,060,000 bu during February, and a decrease of 12,597,000 bu during March, 1903. The decrease was quite general throughout the Winter Wheat sections, especially in the Winter Wheat sections, and proportionately larger at interior than at the larger terminal points. Stocks in the Northwest decreased 2,170,000 bu, compared with a decrease of 3,109,000 bu during March 1903. Stocks in the interior elevators of the Northwest were reduced 2,167,000 bu during March, compared with a decrease of 2,822,000 bu during February, and a decrease of 2,822,000 bu during March, 1903. The stocks on hand were reported at 2,261,000 bu on April 1, compared with 5,138,000 bu on March 1, and 1,753,000 bu on April 1, 1903. The aggregate supplies of Wheat in second hands in the United States and Canada on April 1, 1904, were 12,942,000 bu less than one year ago, and 34,491,000 bu less than two years ago.

SUPPLIES AT HOME AND ABROAD.

The aggregate supplies of Breadstuffs afloat for Europe, in store in the United States and Canada on April 1, 1904—including a larger number of points than in any other compilation—were equal to 157,430,000 bu, against 163,361,000 bu on March 1, and 155,881,000 bu on April 1, 1903. The decrease during March was equal to 5,931,000 bu, compared with a decrease of 14,998,000 bu in March, 1903. The aggregate supplies in all positions in America, Europe and Argentina on April 1, 1904, were 1,691,000 bu more than reported one year previous, and 28,370,000 bu less than reported two years ago.

POSITION OF WHEAT IN THE UNITED STATES.

The movement of Wheat in the United States at the primary markets from July 1 to March 31 was about 360,000,000 bu, compared with 323,000,000 bu for the corresponding period in 1903. The exports of Flour and Wheat during the same period were about 230,000,000 bu, compared with 181,000,000 bu for the same time last year—a decrease of 49,000,000 bu, or 21.5 per cent. The official visible supply is about 10,000,000 bu smaller than one year ago. Estimating the Wheat crop of the United States at 675,000,000 bu which is the most conservative figure that could be placed on the advices of the DAILY TRADE BULLETIN—and allowing 78,000,000 bu for seed, 675,000,000 bu for consumption, and 157,000,000 bu for supplies in all positions on July 1, 1903, the aggregate supplies for the twelve months would be approximately 783,000,000 bu. Allowing 410,000,000 bu for domestic consumption, 71,000,000 bu for shipping purposes, and 112,000,000 bu for exports to date, makes an aggregate accounted for of 693,000,000 bu, and would leave for export during the remaining three months 90,000,000 bu, and for stocks on hand July 1, 1904, 157,000,000 bu.

FLOUR TRADE DURING MARCH.

In the aggregate, the trade in Flour in the United States and Canada was only fair during the past month, and somewhat irregular. There was a good domestic trade during the early part of the month, but toward the close was rather dull and dragging, excepting where millers had contracts ahead, and were providing for these. The export Flour account was somewhat limited throughout the month exporters being virtually out of the market. The manufacture was moderately free, especially during the early part of the month, and supplies in the aggregate were enlarged, particularly at the larger distributing centers. Interior millers apparently were in possession of domestic wants to the larger markets—mainly at the seaboard. In New England trade was quiet—chiefly small lots to meet domestic wants. In New York trade was fairly good, but not active for the domestic trade and export business was light. In Pennsylvania trade was fair, chiefly to supply the wants of the manufacturing districts. In Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Tennessee only a moderate trade was reported, and on rather small margins. In Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Illinois only a fair business was transacted, and the bulk was on domestic account. In Missouri and Kansas the demand for Flour was fairly good early in the month, but slow toward the close. In Oklahoma and Texas trade was comparatively light and chiefly of small lots. Advices from Iowa and Nebraska indicate a light trade, and chiefly in small lots. In Wisconsin, trade was only fair, and chiefly for domestic wants. In the Northwest, the production was not quite so large—mills closing down for a few days—and the demand for Flour was moderate, both on export and domestic account. In the Rocky Mountains districts, trade was rather light and exclusively for local wants. On the Pacific Coast, trade in Flour was moderate, and a few export orders were provided for. In Canada, millers reported a fairly good inquiry for Flour, but mainly for small lots. Export orders were quite scarce.

WHEAT MOVEMENT DURING MARCH.

The movement of Wheat from the farms of the United States was only moderate during the month of March—about 35,000,000 bu, compared with 34,000,000 bu for the corresponding month in 1903. Prices were higher during the early part of the month, and the deliveries were fair, especially in the Winter Wheat sections. During the latter part of the month the receipts were no more than sufficient to the unfavorable weather and the bad condition of the interior roads. In some quarters, where the weather was favorable for spring work, and farmers were busy, the movement was light. During the latter part of the month, millers were a little slow to purchase. In New England, the movement was unusually small. In New York, the offerings were small, while in Pennsylvania they were only fair—farmers firm in their views. In Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, the movement was small, and the quantity remaining in farmers' hands is light. In Ohio, the movement was fair, with farmers slow to sell. In Michigan, Indiana and Illinois the movement was comparatively light—roads in a rather bad condition. In Missouri, the offerings were fairly large during the first half of the month, but became light toward the close, while in Kansas the movement was on a moderate scale, with a fair proportion from interior elevators. In Oklahoma and Texas the offerings were on a limited scale. In Iowa, the movement was comparatively light, and in Nebraska was only fair. In Wisconsin the movement was on a moderate scale. In the Northwest the movement was fairly liberal, especially early in the month, and somewhat at the expense of interior elevator stocks. During the latter part of the month the deliveries were light. In the Rocky Mountain districts the offerings were fair. On the Pacific Coast the offerings were quite small. In Canada the movement was on a moderate scale—rather light in the Northwest.

Interest rates in Chicago are growing easier. Collateral loans have been made by some of the National banks as low as 4 per cent. Maximum rate is now about 5 per cent, with a large share of the business transacted among all classes of banks 4½ per cent. The placing of a liberal amount of Western collateral loans in the East is said to be responsible for an easier condition here.

The winds have been colder than was good for the growing Wheat, and the meadows are giving no bite worth mentioning, nor are flocks doing well."

There has been some question raised as to the advisability of paying dividends on the preferred stock of the United States Rubber Company when the company has $10,000,000 of 5 per cent coupon notes outstanding. Relative to these notes an official of one of the largest subsidiary companies of the United States Rubber Company says: "The coupon notes carried by the United States Rubber Company bear a different relation to the outstanding securities than is the case in other companies. It should be explained that these notes are at all times fully covered by obligations of the subcompanies, and, if necessary, could be paid off at any time."

REVIEW OF TO-DAY'S MARKETS.

FLOUR—The market is dull and devoid of any new features. Prices steady and unchanged.

WINTER WHEAT—Ruled quiet and steady. A limited milling demand existed and a few small lots were sold. No. 2 Red in store quotable at 96@99c and fresh arrivals free on board quotable at $1 00@1 02. No. 3 Red fresh receipts sold free on board at 98½c, and ranged at 95c@$1 00 depending on quality. No 2 Hard fresh receipts free on board quotable at 92@96c and No 3 Hard at 85@92c.

SPRING WHEAT—The demand was light and market quiet at quotably unchanged prices. No 1 Northern in store quotable at 93½@94½c and fresh arrivals free on board nominally 96c@$1 00 depending on quality. No. 2 Northern quotable fresh receipts at 90@98c. No 3 Spring sold at 95c, and ranged at 85@95c for ordinary to choice. No. 4 sold at 64@67½c, and ranged at 60@92c for poor to choice.

REGULAR WHEAT—The trade was moderate and on the spasmodic order, with fluctuations covering ¾@1⅜c range. Sentiment was quite divided, but the close showed the May unchanged, while July gained ⅜c and the September ⅝@¾c. The market started out stronger, being helped to some extent by the ½c advance on the Minneapolis curb and adverse crop advices. The upturn, however, was met with rather liberal offerings from many of yesterday's buyers, holders being somewhat disappointed at the lack of outside interest. At the decline the demand improved and on rather free purchases, led by the Southwest, sentiment again turned to the "bull" side. Prominent local professionals purchased with considerable freedom. Cables only partially reflected yesterday's advance on this side, Liverpool quoting spot steady to 1d higher, while futures were ⅜d better. The Liverpool strength was due partially to talk of smaller Argentine shipments. London came ⅛d lower to ⅝d higher. Cargoes on ocean passage were quoted steadier and 1½d advance asked. Antwerp and Berlin were unchanged. Buda Pesth, advanced ¼c. Map showed clear weather except light showers in Ohio Valley, there being no moisture Southwest. Showers predicted for Nebraska, Indiana and Missouri; rain or snow for the Dakotas and Minnesota. Minneapolis wired it was snowing between there and Winnipeg, and the Minneapolis Journal quoted Premier Roblin of Manitoba as saying the Manitoba season is the latest in twenty-two years, and that no seeding will be possible before the second week in May. The Price Current stated the condition of Wheat was maintained or slightly improved, but some decline in parts of Indiana and Ohio, but improvement in South and West. Argentine shipments are estimated at 3,600,000 bu. Exports were again most meager and New York wired "A few loads of Manitoba Wheat have just been resold by England to our exporters, which shows they do not even want Spring Wheat at present prices." Flour output the past week was reported at 315,000 brls, against 511,000 brls the corresponding week in 1903. Primary receipts were 6,000 bu ahead of last year, and total between July 1 and April 11 foots up 203,811,000 bu, against 228,891,000 bu in 1902-3. Minneapolis stocks are estimated to have increased 175,000 bu in the past three days. St Louis and Kansas City received 42,000 bu, against 93,000 bu last year, and shipments were 117,000 bu. Part of the late selling credited to a prominent professional operator who has large packing interests here. Receipts at Duluth 24 cars and at Minneapolis 104 cars, a total of 128 cars, against 72 yesterday, 251 cars a week ago, and 111 cars last year. Local receipts included 4 cars Winter, 4 cars Spring and 1 car mixed, a total of 9 cars, against 14 cars last year. Included in the above was none of contract grade. There were 5 cars and 23,500 bu from unlicensed elevators. The estimated receipts for to-morrow were not reported. The withdrawals to-day were 29,000 bu. Receipts at Western points were 212,158 bu, against 236,219 last year. At Eastern points 33,180 bu, against 131,113 bu last year. Shipments from Western points were 219,655 bu, against 526,616 bu last year, and from Eastern points 1,600 bu against 366,300 bu last year. Shipments of Flour were 7,604 brls. Exports of Wheat in Flour were equal to 35,858 bu.

CORN—Was only moderately active, but the tone rather "bullish," the market being inclined to advance in the face of the Wheat strength. The close was ½c higher for May, while July gained ⅜c and September ⅜c. The "bull" party gave the May good support and commission houses were on both sides of the July, with buying rather better than the selling. Weather conditions were better for the movement, grading and field work, but only 40 cars were received, and of these 13 were contract. There were transferred from private to public elevators 117 cars and 52,000 bu contract. The Southwestern markets were firm. A Topeka message read: "A big acreage will be planted to Corn and farmers are preparing for it." Liverpool quoted spot unchanged and futures ⅜d higher. Cargoes on ocean passage were neglected. Western receipts were 315,000 bu, against 178,000 bu last year and shipments 222,000 bu and 767,000 bu respectively. Local arrivals were 190,000 bu and shipments 84,000 bu. Exports were 116,000 bu and 2 boat loads accepted at the seaboard. Shipping demand shows no real improvement and sales to go forward were small. Feeling firm and prices about ½@1c higher. No. 2 sold at 53@53¼c and closed at 53½c. No 2 Yellow sold at 53@53½c and closed at 53½c. No. 2 White at 53¼c. No. 3 sold at 48½@52c and closed at 47@52c. No. 3 Yellow sold at 52c and closed at 51@52c.

APRIL—Inactive; quoted ¾c under May. Sold at 53c, and closed at 53¼c.

MAY—Sold at 52¾@53¾c. Opened at 53¼c, and sold at 53c to 53¼c to 53c, to 53⅛c, to 52⅞c, to 53⅛c, to 52¾c, to 53⅛c, to 53c, to 53⅜c, to 53¼c, to 53½c, and closed at 53½c asked.

DECEMBER—Sold at 44⅞c.

OATS—Were active and strong with an advance of ½@⅝c and the close at ⅜@¾c higher, except on September, which was unchanged. The strength came from Wheat and Corn and from reports of delayed seeding. In sections where ground is too wet the season is one to two weeks late. Small receipts also cut a figure. On the advance the largest of recent buyers turned sellers. There was some buying by cash houses and a better demand for shipment. Cash sales were 90,000 bu Standard in south side house at ¼c over May. In South Chicago houses they were offered at May price. Arrivals were 49 cars and a small run is expected to-morrow. From private elevators there were 11 cars Standard. Seaboard clearances 26,000 bu. SEPTEMBER—Sold at 32c and 32⅜@32½c. Opened at 32⅛c, sold to 32c, to 32⅜@32½c, to 32¼c at close.

RYE—Was quiet and feeling firmer, influenced by the stronger tone in other Grains. There was no special feature to note. Demand light and offerings also light. There were no receipts and no withdrawals from store here. No export clearances from the seaboard. No. 2 in store nominally 69@70c and fresh arrivals quotably 70c and choice might bring more. No. 3 Rye poor car sold at 53c, good quotably 65@69c.

Future Deliveries of No. 2 Rye—Offerings light and demand light. No trading. May 71c bid and 73c asked. July 68c bid and 70c asked.

BARLEY—Offerings small of under grades, and practically nothing in way of better grades on sale. Sellers usually were steady in their views, owing to reduced supply. Occasionally there was a little call for mixing Barley or Screenings, but it was only for a limited quantity. Some cars of both kinds of goods went over unsold. Low grade malting might be said to have been without demand, especially at the prices asked for the few cars on sale. Good to choice Barley salable and firm. To-arrive lots have become rather neglected by buyers and few were offered. Twenty-five cars inspected in, mainly No. 5 and No Grade. Screenings quotable over a range of 31@35½c for poor to choice—outside for city recleaned. Barley, mixing or feed, sold at 31@35½c for poor to good. Malting—low grade, quotable at 38@41c; common 42@43c; fair was about 44@47c; good, 48@52c; choice, 53@55c; fancy, 56@57c; extra fancy in an even running lot possibly a shade over.

SEEDS—It was quiet and dull in all parts of this market. Feeling usually heavy, but offerings being very small prevented any material price changes.

Timothy—Dull and market without any life. Arrivals remain so small that no fresh lots of any consequence are coming on sale. Demand very tame also. Speculative market lacking in both demand and offerings. Quotable: Country lots at $2 00@2 60 for poor to very fancy; outside for extra fine, not hulled; fair to good quotable at $2 40@2 50; choice, $2 55@2 65, and rough, dark and foul lots about $2 30@2 35. Contract spot or April delivery about $2 65@2 90. September delivery offered at $3 10 and $2 91 bid.

Country lots, common to choice, $7 75@10 00, fancy above; mixed with Buckhorn or other weed Seeds $7 00@8 25; poor, cleaned out of Timothy, very foul, down to $3 00@6 00. Such lots as usually come to market when ordinary to good quotable at $8 50@9 50.

Other Seeds—Were nominally unchanged, salable at former prices. No Seed seen on the regular market aside from samples of lots in the country for which it was desired to learn value. Hungarian common and light color to choice, dark quotable at $1 15@1 65. Common Millet $1 00@1 40 for poor to fancy. German Millet, $1 00@1 40. Siberian, 85c@$1 05. Outside orders were smaller than during the early days of the week, and local trading was only fair. At the opening the feeling was stronger and prices ruled higher on all the leading articles, due to the filling of moderate orders. Later, there was some pressure to sell, and a weaker feeling was developed. Prices declined materially all around. Toward the close, there was a little more steadiness manifested. Prices rallied slightly and the market closed comparatively steady. Hogs were in moderate supply, and prices were steady. Receipts at the leading Western packing points were estimated at 53,900, compared with 61,600 one year ago. VERY IMPORTANT DECISION.

hicago Board of Trade Controls Its Own Quotations.

In the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago, Tuesday, before Judges Jenkins, Grosscup and Baker, the following decision was rendered in the case of the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, appellant, vs the L. A. Kinsey Company, appellee Judge Baker delivering the opinion:

I We deem it unnecessary to determine from the evidence whether the percentage of trades in which actual deliveries were made was 5 or 25 The finding of the one figure or the other would not prove what proportion of the remaining no-delivery transactions were gambling. Of these, an indeterminate number were "hedging contracts" If we felt called upon by the necessities of this decision to give a definite opinion of hedging, the record might well lead us to find that hedging is a manufacturer's or merchant's insurance against price-fluctuation of materials, and no more damnatory than insurance of property and life, which in one sense are wagers that the property will not be destroyed during the term and that the life will not fall in less than the expectancy in the actuaries' tables. The remainder of the no-delivery transactions were 'speculative." But speculation is not unlawful One may buy any sort of property to hold for a rise; one may contract to buy or sell property not in possession or in existence at the time, and lawful contracts may lawfully be cancelled and settled in advance of the time of performance It a contract, lawful in form, is entered into, it is lawful in fact even though one of the parties never intended to perform his part of it, that is the intent that the lawful form shall cover a sham must be mutual to make it a sham We think the court's conclusion that, because in 95 per cent of the trades no deliveries were in fact made it was intended that in those cases deliveries should not be made and that the parties in nineteen instances out of twenty were using the forms of lawful contracts to cover mere wagers on the future prices of commodities, is not warranted by the facts in the record. The "direct" and "ring" methods of settlement between members might cancel out nine-tenths of the bids back and forth between the members as agents, and yet every contract may have been perfectly legal and enforceable between the principals, and every principal satisfied by receiving a "substitute" contract If a seller intended not to deliver but to settle on differences if prices rose, the buyer who entered into the contract in good faith and who desired to receive the property could not force the seller to deliver In every such case there would be no delivery, but the buyer would have a valid cause of action Undoubtedly gambling was going on in the Exchange hall; but it was contrary to appellant's by-laws Appellant was chartered by Illinois for a lawful and useful purpose, and the association adopted and promulgated suitable by-laws and rules We think the record fails to show that the dominant feature of the members' dealings was unlawful, much less that appellant, as a creature of the State was violating its charter or was particeps criminis in what gambling the members carried on

We do not, however, attach very much importance to the preponderating character of the transactions in the Exchange hall because, in our opinion—

II. The real subject-matter of the suit is the property-right in the news, in the reports of prices Even if it were true that 95 per cent of the dealings in the Exchange hall were wagers, the prices are the same for the transactions that are not wagers, and the quotations sent out show the figures at which honest dealers may secure contracts. Millers, Grain buyers, elevator companies, govern their dealings by the market prices made in appellant's Exchange hall. The news therefore serves, or at least is capable of serving, a useful purpose So it seems to us immaterial what proportion of the transactions are wagers, since the prices made in the transactions are the prices that farmers and shippers can get, and since the news of the prices and the dissemination thereof are valuable to the community. News may be an object of lawful ownership, though nine-tenths of the things reported be unlawful.

III Nor should the property in this case (the news, the continuous quotation of prices) be adjudged contraband because it is susceptible of bad uses as well as good Gamblers in Indiana may settle their bets on prices according to appellant's quotations, and this quite irrespective of the fact, if it were the fact, that 95 per cent of the transactions in appellant's Exchange Hall were lawful, just as Indiana Grain dealers may make and settle their honest contracts on the basis of appellant's quotations regardless of the fact, if it were the fact, that 95 per cent of transactions reported were gambling. It seems to us, therefore, that the news as news is not without the pale of protection and that the moral quality is chargeable solely to the user.

IV. The property concerned in this suit not being contraband, should appellant be denied the writ of injunction even if it were true that appellant permits gambling in its Exchange hall? We think not. Suppose this non-contraband news were collected and disseminated by the Associated Press. If that company were complainant and "clean-handed," its right to an injunction, the case being proper in other respects would not be doubted But if complainant were a gambler or a thief, what then? We think our answer has been sufficiently stated in Fuller v. Berger, 120 Fed. 274: "Equity is not concerned with the general morals of a complainant—the taint that is regarded must affect the particular right asserted in his suit. * * * If the defendant can do no more than show that the complainant has committed some legal or moral offense, which affects the defendant only as it does the public at large, the court must grant the equitable remedy and leave the punishment of the offender to other forums." In this case, the appellees, citizens of Indiana, have never had any dealings with appellant respecting the quotations; they have not been misled or deceived by appellant in any way; and they certainly are no more concerned with or affected by appellant's violations of the common law or of the penal laws of Illinois than the general public

In reaching our conclusion, we have given respectful consideration to the cases of Board of Trade v. O'Dell Com Co, 115 Fed 574, Board of Trade v. Donovan Com Co., 121 Fed 1012, Board of Trade v Ellis, 122 Fed. 319, Christie Grain & Stock Co v Board of Trade, 125 Fed 161, and regret that we are unable to concur therein. We have been aided by the opinion of Judge Hook at circuit (116 Fed 944) in support of his decree in the Christie case, which was reversed in 125 Fed 161

The decree herein is reversed, with the direction to enter a decree in appellant's favor in conformity to the prayer of the bill.

FOREIGN CROP REPORT.

WASHINGTON, April 13. —The foreign crop report of the Department of Agriculture, issued Wednesday, says:

Russia—In the South winter cereals are said to be improving in appearance, and spring sowings are progressing under favorable conditions. Military demands on the railroads restrict the transportation of Grain to Black Sea ports.

Germany—The weather is said to be favorable for the spring sowings, and no serious complaints are heard as to the condition of the fall sown crops.

Hungary—Winter cereals, Clover and Rape have wintered satisfactorily and spring sowings have commenced under generally favorable conditions.

Roumania—The fall-sown crops are said to be doing well, but more rain is desirable for the spring-sown cereals.

Turkey—Fall-sown crops are reported generally good, though the cereals in parts of European Turkey and in Anatolia have suffered some from a lack of sufficient snow cover. The area under cereals, especially Oats and Barley, is said to be increased Crops in Asia Minor are in fine condition.

France—Spring sowings were proceeding actively and under favorable conditions In the North spring cereals will occupy a part of the area heretofore devoted to Beets The winter cereals, including Wheat, Rye and Barley, are described as looking remarkably well.

Belgium and the Netherlands—Reports are favorable as regards both the condition of winter crops and the progress of spring sowings

Great Britain—The winter was characterized by a great excess of moisture, and the work connected with the spring sowings was delayed to an extraordinary degree During the last few weeks, however, there has been considerable fair weather and more Grain has been sown than early indications made probable.

*Minnesota, Dakota and Iowa mills outside of Minneapolis and Duluth

By reason of some of the mills stopping late in the week the Flour output last week decreased 63,000 brls The present week promises to make even a lighter showing. Most of the nine and one-half mills in operation to-day will be shut down to-morrow night and so remain until Monday. Therefore the week's output is not likely to exceed 100,000 brls. Many "outside mills" are also idle, so that the week's showing as to output will be a meagre one

The week was a very dull one with Minneapolis mills. Light as was the production, even a smaller quantity was sold With a large amount of delayed Flour arriving at Boston and other Eastern markets, there is the greatest indifference shown by buyers about placing new orders. The limited business doing is being largely absorbed by resellers, who make prices under what millers can afford to accept Therefore the orders coming to millers are of the scattering kind, and in volume are small.

Little attention is paid to export trade, as the few bids made by importers are widely at variance with the cost of manufacture. Millers and foreigners are 1s 6d@2s apart in their views. Clears are dull and practically none are being sold abroad.

Prices of patent have changed very little during the week. The range of quotations now is $4 80@5 05 per 196 lbs in wood f. o. b. Minneapolis.

The range of Eastern prices, April 12, asked by Minneapolis mills for patent in wood was: Boston rate points, $5 55@5 75; New York rate points, $5 50@5 75; Pittsburg rate points, $5 30@5 50 Baltimore rate points, $5 4 @5 60; Philadelphia rate points, $5 45@5 70, Albany rate points, $5 50@5 75; Rochester and Syracuse rate points, $5 45@5 60; Buffalo rate points, $5 30@5 50; Michigan, $5 0 @5 25 in sacks; Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin, $5 00@5 25 in sacks; Missouri points $4 85@5 10 in sacks.

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The weather map shows clear weather generally with exception of light rain in Ohio Valley. With the exception of a trace at St. Louis, there is no moisture West or Southwest. Temperatures some higher and about seasonable Conditions favorable for Corn and Oats, Southwest too dry for Wheat.

Indications are the Western disturbance will move slowly East and cause showers in western portion to-night and Mississippi Valley Friday. Temperatures will increase slightly in this section.

The Homestake Mining Company has declared the regular monthly dividend of 25c a share for March, payable April 25 Books close April 20.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

A statement has been issued by a New York Cotton house showing the stock of Cotton at ninety-five uncounted towns in Mississippi to be 89,915 bales.

It is expected that the Warner Sugar refining plant at Waukegan, Ill., will be able to resume active operations in about sixty days The plant was destroyed by fire several weeks ago.

Corn handlers who have been shipping in the largest portion of the Nebraska Corn that has come to Chicago the past three weeks, say that the big movement from there is over, the surplus Corn having been marketed. Some of the Corn came on the lowest freight rates ever known. Part of the time there has been a rate of 1c from the Missouri River to Chicago and the present rate is 1½c per bu.

One of the best evidences that the present season of lake navigation will not only be late, but will be extremely dull as well, is to be found in the uncustomary inactivity among the railroad line steamship companies at this season of the year. Some of these boats have not even made the first attempt at getting ready for business. Line managers are of the belief that May 1 will be an early start and there is not a great deal of use getting ready before the last of the present month.

A traveling man for a Chicago commission firm wired, Monday, from Kingfisher, Ok.: "Condition of Wheat steadily improves from Hennessy to the Kansas line. Would say a full crop from Enid to Kansas line if seasonable weather from now on. Sumner County, banner Wheat county up to last year, promises a full yield on acreage planted, which is about 15 per cent less than last year's. Not over 5 per cent of old Wheat in farmers' hands. From Wellington to Wichita Wheat looks to be in perfect condition. This is also true from Wichita to Newton; Newton to Hutchinson it is somewhat spotted, but can make good crop if seasonable weather"

The Wisconsin State Railroad Commissioner has reported to the Governor that his investigation of the books and records of the railway companies operating in Wisconsin shows that they owe the State $67,923 in back taxes, due to their failure to report their entire gross earnings upon which their taxes are computed. The investigation, he says, is only partially completed, and will consume considerable more time. The report gives the results of the investigation for four roads only, and for the years of 1901 and 1902. These roads are the Northwestern, the St. Paul, the Omaha, and the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie According to the report the gross shortage in their returns of earnings for the period named is $1,698,076.

The proposition to start another trust company in Cincinnati has for its basis the reorganization of the Citizens' Building and Loan Association of Dayton, in which J. A. Winter, named as one of the promoters of the trust company, is interested. Associated with them are gentlemen interested in the Guarantee Title and Trust Company of Cincinnati and the Columbia Life Insurance Company. It is a part of the proposition to operate the reorganized association under an agreement with the Columbia Life by which borrowers from the trust company may place a policy with the Columbia. There is not to be a consolidation of the different companies named in connection with the proposed new company, but a working agreement for mutual advantage.

Kansas Wheat is showing up better. A traveling man reports as follows to a Chicago commission firm: "Wheat gets much better from Enid north to the Kansas line After you get into Kansas it looks absolutely perfect, with the possible exception of being a little backward; still do not consider this a serious drawback if we have good weather. Mills at Wellington have good stocks of Wheat; there are probably 950,000 bu Wheat in that town. Am told that Newton and Halstead mills both have good stocks of Wheat. Arkansas City mills have light stocks, according to reports of Wellington millers. Kansas City prices of Wheat prevail, less freight; however, they are not buying anything. Flour trade has been very dull with the Southwestern millers for some time, but shows signs of improving; in fact, has been very much better the past week than for some time."

Dornbush says: "According to St. Petersburg advices of March 37, the appearance of autumn-sown cereals in the Novorossisk governments and in the Crimea is generally satisfactory owing to the present mild and damp weather, and the spring sowings in most localities have begun under very satisfactory conditions. In the Southwest governments the aspect of the fields is somewhat less assuring, while on the Southwestern confines, where the autumn sowings proved a partial failure through drouth or suffered from frosts, an increase in the area under spring crops is expected. In the Little Russian governments the spring sowings have not yet commenced, and the autumn cereals, owing to the almost snowless winter and alternations of frost and thaw, do not give much satisfaction, and prospects at present seem anything but promising"

The percentage of increase in the February earnings published by the Harriman office may be listed as follows:

	Gross per cent.	Net per cent.
Southern Pacific	15.0	45
Union Pacific	22 7	47
Alton	16.0	23
Kansas City Southern	9.0	40

This is a rather remarkable exhibit. Coming as it does at a time when nearly all Western lines are recording decreases in both gross and net, or, at the best, small increases, the showing is significant of the advantage under which the Harriman lines have worked during the winter as compared with their Northern competitors. The feature of this summary, which discloses the policy of the Harriman management, is the relative volume of net earnings on all lines as compared with the gross. This result has been obtained partly by means of greatly improved facilities for handling traffic, and partly by the elimination of extraordinary expenditures out of earnings. The end of the machinists' strike and the big addition to equipment on Union and Southern Pacific are the principal factors in the big net increases on those roads.

The Moore Brothers and W. B. Leeds have succeeded in settling all their difficulties with the minority stockholders of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company and are now free to carry out their stupendous plan of financial reorganization without interference from any source. The settlement with the minority includes the purchase of the stock held by C. H. Venner of the C H. Venner Company of Boston and the dismissal of three suits brought by him. Venner held in his own name 100 shares of the stock of Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company, the original organization, which he claimed in his bill to be worth $200 a share Although the strictest secrecy is maintained regarding the entire matter it is rumored that the Boston broker received $5,000 a share for his stock, or a total of $500,000, and that the company has agreed to pay attorney's fees to the amount of $50,000. Although all stipulations regarding the settlement have been withheld from the records of the New Jersey court, where suit was brought in the name of the Continental Securities Company, it is stated that the court order allows fees to this amount.

"No kind of weather can make a good crop of Wheat in Indiana and Ohio this year," said a Chicago commission man, Thursday. "In Kansas the crop looks good, but it will wilt when hot weather comes unless it gets more rain. The crop there needs cool weather to make a good yield."

The Western Grain rate war, which has been raging for several months, will be settled at a general traffic meeting to be held in Chicago next Tuesday. The plan has been arranged by P. C. Stohr, representing the Great Western, and A. C. Bird of the Gould lines, representing all other roads interested in the fight. The proposed settlement is a compromise in which the Great Western gains a point and the Northwestern does not lose all that it was contending for. It is proposed to reduce the differential which has existed for years on Grain from the West to and through St. Louis, as against Chicago, from 5c to 3c per 100 lbs. The reduction places the Chicago Grain interests and the Board of Trade on a better footing. On the other hand, the Great Western gains a point by establishing a through rate from certain Nebraska points to Chicago, which shall be the sum of the local rates. The territory to which this rule shall apply will, however, be restricted to those parts of Nebraska which are naturally tributary to Omaha, and not to Sioux City. Omaha's Grain market is therefore secured.

REVIEW OF TO-DAY'S MARKETS.

FLOUR—The market is extremely dull and quotable 10c lower for all grades except soft Winters, which are 10c higher.

WINTER WHEAT—Was very quiet and quotations entirely nominal. Not a transaction reported to-day. Buyers holding off; choice Wheat would sell, but none arriving. No. 2 Red in store 3c over May bid and 5c over asked and quotable at 95¾@99; and fresh arrivals free on board nominally $1 00@1 02. No. 3 Red fresh receipts free on board nominally 95c@$1 00 for ordinary to choice, yellow, soft Wheat. No. 2 Hard free on board nominally 92@96c and No. 3 Hard nominally 85@92c.

SPRING WHEAT—Nothing doing and feeling easier. Choice fresh arrivals would sell, but none coming. Demand generally speaking, very light. No. 1 Northern was offered ½c under May and ¼c under bid and ranged at 94¼@94½, and fresh arrivals free on board quotable at 96@$1 00. No. 2 Northern fresh arrivals nominally 90@97c. No. 3 Spring nominally 85@96c for ordinary to choice hard variety. No. 4 Spring sold at 60c and ranged at 62@92c for poor to very choice.

REGULAR WHEAT—The market was largely a local affair and the trade chiefly professional, with no decided tendency either way until near the close when the market ruled weak. All things considered, the tone was weak and the close ⅞c lower for May, while July lost ⅞@⅞c and the September ⅝c. The prospect of a cold wave West and Southwest and unfavorable seeding advices from the Northwest and Manitoba were among the early "bull" helps. Crop reports from Indiana and Ohio were unfavorable and the map showed no rain in Kansas and only slight precipitation in Oklahoma. Rain turning into snow predicted for Illinois and Indiana; snow in Western Nebraska and South Dakota; colder for Minnesota, North Dakota and Kansas. Brandon, Manitoba, wired. "Foot of snow here—no seeding for three weeks." Duluth wired. "Seeding backward, will be from ten days to two weeks before any seeding can be expected, except on high land on small areas." Cables, however, did not respond to our advance yesterday, and there was a general lack of outside interest, which induced many of the early buyers to sell on the upturn. Liverpool quoted spot steady to ¼d lower, and futures ⅛d higher. Receipts of Liverpool past three days were 680,000 bu, and total for week 1,176,000 bu, of which 720,000 bu only was from America. London was ⅛@⅜d higher, and Paris and Antwerp unchanged. Berlin was ¾c lower and Buda Pesth ⅝c lower. Argentina shipped 3,320,000 bu, since Jan 1 39,856,000 bu, year ago 25,586,000 bu; visible 5,112,000 bu, last week 5,888,000 bu, year ago 3,680,000 bu. Minneapolis Market Record predicted 6 per cent increase in the area in Minnesota, 2 in South Dakota and 23 in North Dakota. St. Louis wired "While receipts are practically nothing, the cash demand is poor, with absolutely no buying for elevator Wheat." Primary receipts were 45,000 bu smaller than in 1903. Kansas City and St. Louis received 30,000 bu, against 108,000 bu last year, and shipments 171,000 bu. India shipments 1,224,000 bu. Winnipeg received 147 cars, against 123 cars last year. Modern Miller reported the crop outlook rather less promising. Clearing were limited, and total for the week 1,214,000 bu, against 2,978,000 bu in 1903. The seaboard reported no boat loads accepted. Dust storms were reported in the vicinity of Concordia, Kan., and Wheat said to be in poor condition. Northwest markets turned weak late in the session. Receipts at Duluth 18 cars and at Minneapolis 113 cars, a total of 131 cars against 128 yesterday, 232 cars a week ago, and 115 cars last year. Local receipts included 15 cars Winter, 6 cars Spring and 1 car mixed, a total of 22 cars, against 19 cars last year. Included in the above was 5 cars of contract grade. There were 7 cars and 19,000 bu from unlicensed elevators. The estimated receipts for to-morrow were not reported. The withdrawals to-day were 51,700 bu. Receipts at Western points were 212,256 bu, against 256,877 last year. At Eastern points 35,757 bu, against 179,486 bu last year. Shipments from Western points were 201,023 bu, against 49,061 bu last year, and from Eastern points 48,710 bu, against 72,721 bu last year. Shipments of Flour were 25,080 brls. Exports of Wheat in Flour were equal to 141,627 bu.

CORN—Trade was very moderate and market at no time very active, though toward the close was quite animated. Feeling, while a little unsettled, was weak on the whole and the close 1⅜c lower for May, while July lost ⅞c, and September ¾c. Liverpool was ¼d lower, a cold wave was predicted, and while the receipts were small at 83 cars, 31 cars of the same were contract. There was also 69 cars and 31,000 bu contract switched from private to public elevators. Locals were inclined to favor the selling side of the market, and the "bull" party in May sold that delivery on a liberal scale, also the September. Argentina shipped 437,000 bu since Jan 1, 9,812,000 bu; year ago 1,017,000 bu, visible 591,000 bu; last week 591,000 bu; year ago 712,000 bu. PORK PACKING AND PROVISIONS.

There has been some decrease in the offerings of Hogs compared with the preceding week, but the number exceeds the corresponding time one year ago. The total Western packing was 355,000, compared with 420,000 the preceding week and 300,000 two weeks ago. For the corresponding time last year the number was 310,000 and two years ago 315,000. From March 1 the total is 2,930,000, against 2,050,000 a year ago—an increase of 180,000. The quality is rather more variable, but mostly good. Prices at the close average lower than a week ago, prominent markets indicating a general average of about $5.10 per 100 lbs, compared with $5.90 a week ago, $5.35 two weeks ago, $7.20 a year ago, $7.00 two years ago, and $5.90 three years ago.

The Price Current investigation in regard to the probable supplies of Hogs for marketing from March 1 to Nov. 1 indicates a moderate gain in numbers compared with last year, and that prior to July 1 there will likely be as much relative increase as subsequently, and possibly more, while the average weight will probably not be increased and may fall somewhat short.

The speculative Provision market was fairly active the past week, but the tone was easier and prices declined on all descriptions. The only supporting feature of the situation was some falling off in the receipts of Hogs. The other market influences were in favor of the selling side of the market. The reported stocks of Meats on hand in market centers were larger than the trade expected, foreign markets were dull and lower, domestic markets were easy and lifeless, buyers only covering current needs, and the interior packers made liberal deliveries on maturing contracts. The Grain markets, which have been so much of a feature in sustaining prices, in the recent past, were easier. Prices for Hogs were lower, although receipts were smaller. The export clearances of Product were moderate, but show an increase over the preceding week, while there was a slight decrease as compared with the corresponding week last year.

The week's export clearances of Hog Products compared with corresponding time last year:

	Past week.	Last year.
Pork, pounds	290,000	474,000

[From the Cincinnati Price Current, April 14.]

The past week has been unseasonably cool and wet over the entire Wheat belt, even the dry portions in Western Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas getting a fair amount of moisture. Considerable snow fell in Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa. The Winter Wheat crop has improved in Southern portions of the belt, and the general condition has been fully maintained or slightly improved. In a portion of Southwestern Ohio and Southeastern Indiana it seems to have declined in condition in the past ten days. More correspondents from Ohio, also a few in Indiana, reported the intention of plowing up the poorest Wheat fields for Oats or Corn. The general situation still gives promise of slightly less than an average, though with a tendency lately of improvement.

Very little spring work was done the past week, and the season is from one to two weeks late. Oats seeding has been very much delayed, and the acreage may not be quite as large as originally intended.

Although very little plowing has been done for Corn, where commenced the ground is reported to be breaking nicely. An increased acreage in Corn is likely.

In regard to the interior movement of Grain, there has been no material change in the situation. Wheat supplies are small in the Eastern States, and old Corn is rather scarce in the important sections.

In Ohio it has been too cool for much change in Wheat; moisture plentiful, reports more or less variable, but on the whole the condition is maintained although rather low. Scarcely any Oats have been seeded, owing to wet ground, and the acreage may be only moderate. Farm work a little backward. Not much Grain being marketed.

In Indiana no improvement is apparent in the growing Wheat crop and in a few sections it seems to be hardly holding its previous condition. A small portion will be plowed up for Corn or Oats. Very little Oats sown or plowing done, owing to wet weather, but a full acreage of Oats is expected. Not much of any Grain going to market.

In Illinois the growing Wheat generally is doing well. The season is late and little Oats seeding or plowing has been done. Some complaint of Corn spoiling. Grain movement moderate.

In Iowa seeding and plowing delayed by wet weather. Ground generally in good condition, and a large acreage of spring crops is expected. Corn supplies small.

In Missouri the growing Wheat has had an improving tendency lately, and the prospects are good. Oats are mostly sown, some show up with good stand, but weather now a little too cool for them. All Grains closely marketed.

In Kansas an extensive blizzard with considerable snow prevailed for two days of last week, and farm work is therefore delayed. Wheat has been doing nicely the past week and in the western counties where it was too dry a good fall of snow came, but farm work is backward. Grain movement moderate.

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The weather map shows colder in Manitoba, Minnesota, and Dakotas—10 to 24 above in Manitoba and 14 to 28 above in Minnesota and Dakotas. There are light snows in Manitoba and in Minnesota, light rain—.10 at Oklahoma, and light rain at Springfield, Mo.,—.12—and rain at Cairo, Ill.—.02. No rain in Kansas, Nebraska or Iowa. Corn belt has good weather. It is too cold North and too dry in Kansas.

The forecast is for very cold weather—under freezing in Kansas and Missouri and a cold wave in Iowa. There is snow predicted for Illinois, Indiana, Nebraska and Wisconsin.

The directors of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company passed its dividend, Wednesday.

INDIAN WHEAT CROP, 1903-4.

[From Dornbusch, March 29.]

The reports indicate a considerable addition to the area under Wheat. Compared with last year, the percentages of increase are about 6 in Bengal, 8 in the Northwest Frontier, 11 in the Punjab, 20 in the Central Provinces, 101 in Berar, 60 in Hyderabad and 9 in the Bombay Presidency (48 in Sind alone). The acreage in the United Provinces is not yet reported, but it was estimated in December to be 10 per cent in excess of last year's area. In the matter of outturn the reports are least favorable from the United Provinces, where the divisional estimates range from 75 to 90 per cent of the normal, with the possibility of deterioration from rust induced by cloudy and unsettled weather. The Bengal crop is good, being estimated at 94 per cent of the normal; the anxiety regarding the prospects of the crop in the Panjab and the Northwestern Frontier should have been allayed by the recent burst of rain over the whole of Northwestern and Central India. The crop in the Central Provinces has suffered somewhat from want of rain and 107 per cent is the revised estimate in lieu of the anticipated bumper crop. The injury from the same cause is believed to be greater in Berar, which has reduced its estimate to 90 per cent. The outturn in Hyderabad is expected to be 87 per cent, as compared with 85 per cent last year, and fairly good outturn is anticipated in Sind and Bombay, except in parts of North Gujarat and the East Deccan, where moisture was deficient, and the Karnatak, where the crop has suffered from rust.

SHIP BUILDING IN 1903.

According to published statistics of last year's ship building, the number of vessels launched in the whole world was 2,441, with a tonnage of 2,679,531 and an indicated horse-power of 2,352,485. For 1902 the number of vessels launched was 2,391, with a tonnage of 2,715,679 and an indicated horse power of 2,017,254. More than one-half the new tonnage of 1903 was produced within the United Kingdom, England turning out 871 vessels of 766,295 tons, Scotland 362 vessels of 481,853 tons, and Ireland 26 vessels of 158,482 tons. With the exception of the United States, no foreign country launched an aggregate tonnage equal to the Clyde alone, which built during the year 277 vessels of 446,869 tons. The statistics show that there were decreases on the Clyde, the Tay, the Dee, the Tyne, the Wear, the Tees, the Hartlepools, the Thames, in Ireland, Germany, France and Holland, and increases on the Forth the Mersey, the Humber, the English Channel, in the colonies, the United States, Russia Norway and Sweden, Italy, Austria, Hungary, Japan, Denmark, Belgium and China. The Clyde decrease was not so serious as expected, last year being a record year.

It is capitalized at $5,000,000.

A Paris, Ky., dispatch says: "The Continental Tobacco Company has closed deals for the largest purchases of White Burley Tobacco ever made. It bought 1,300,000 lbs at an average price of 14c a pound. The company has about cleaned up the crops in several counties at equally good prices. It is claimed the company found it was short of the 1903 crop and needed the stock at once."

The gross postal receipts at the fifty largest postoffices in the United States for March, 1904, as compared with March, 1903, aggregated $6,458,301, a net increase of 13 per cent. The largest percentage of increase was over 38, at Los Angeles, and the only decrease was 3 per cent at Jersey City. New York's receipts were $1,384,115, or 15 per cent increase, and Chicago's $1,067,468, or almost 14 per cent increase.

For the longer period, twenty-nine roads show increases and eight decreases.

In an equity suit filed in Pittsburg, Pa., a party seeks to prevent the merging of the car-wheel plants of the country and to have the court declare an alleged merger of the Keystone Car Wheel Company with the National Car Wheel Company illegal and void, under the act of Congress approved July 2, 1890. The suit is entered by the party as a stockholder of the Keystone Car Wheel Company, and named as defendants are the Keystone Car Wheel Company and the National Car Wheel Company.

Net earnings of the Union Bag and Paper Company in the fiscal year ended Jan. 31 were little more than enough to pay the preferred dividend. The surplus over the dividend requirements was only $42,500, and of that amount $38,000 was written off for depreciation, leaving less than $4,500 surplus for the year. This compares with $191,000 in the preceding year, but nothing was written off then for depreciation. The profits for the year were smallest ever reported by the company, except in 1901.

The Buenos Ayres Standard of Feb. 28 says: "The figures put forward by the Minister of Agriculture calculate that the present harvest will yield 900 kilogrammes of Wheat and 600 kilogrammes of Flax Seed to the hectarea. On this basis the following would be the approximate yield: Wheat, 130,104,000 bu; Flax Seed, 35,320,000 bu. After allowing for home needs this would give, say 104,533,000 bu Wheat, and 31,320,000 bu Flax Seed for export." Last year exports to Europe were 52,453,000 bu Wheat and 24,884,000 bu Flax Seed.

Speyer & Co and Lee Higginson & Co. have purchased from the American Telephone and Telegraph Company $20,000,000 5 per cent three-year secured Gold coupon notes dated May 1, 1904. The collateral back of the notes is $25,000,000 of 4 per cent bonds, of which the authorized issue is $100,000,000. It is understood that the company could not advantageously sell its bonds outright at this time. The bond houses that were figuring on the matter would not make an offer that was sufficiently attractive or that would realize as much money for the company as the present arrangement.

Final arguments have been completed in the injunction case at Duluth, Minn., of the Diamond against the Union Match Company and the matter has been submitted to Judge Morris. Nearly a week was consumed in the argument of the case. It is said that a final injunction against using the match-making machines which the Diamond company asserts is an infringement of its patents will result in closing the West Duluth concern. A temporary restraining order was issued against the Union company several weeks ago and the Duluth concern was notified to show cause why a permanent injunction should not be granted.

The March exports of the five leading products were only $59,146,018, a decrease from last year of $17,667,980. There was a falling off of $6,782,755 in Breadstuffs and $13,237,513 in Cotton, but the combined loss in these two items was mitigated somewhat by an increase in Cattle, Provisions and Mineral Oils. The March exports this year compare with $63,903,128 in February. For the expired portion of the fiscal year, however, agricultural exports are $34,406,851 higher than last year. Within this period Cotton for seven months alone showed a gain of $54,340,690. All other items showed good gains, except Breadstuffs, which fell away $30,609,763.

The annual report of the Omaha Railway Company for 1903 shows a decrease of $95,062 in net earnings, compared with 1902. This is due to an increase of $243,408 in operating expenses and taxes, due to the additional traffic handled, the increased wages paid all classes of labor, which was fully effective during the last six months of the year, and the increased cost of fuel. The increase in gross earnings was $147,746. The total of gross earnings was $12,055,271; operating, expenses and taxes, $7,726,662; net earnings, $4,328,603. Passenger earnings increased 1.28 per cent and freight earnings eighty one-hundredths of 1 per cent. There has been no change in the capital stock or funded debt.

The decision in the United States Circuit Court practically absolving the directors of the defunct National Bank of Illinois, at Chicago, from blame for the failure of that institution is reversed in a decision announced, Wednesday, by Judges Jenkins, Grosscup, and Baker in the United States Court of Appeals. The case is remanded and leave is given to file an amendment to the original bill, which was denied in the lower court. Indebtedness amounting to about $3,000,000 is involved in the case, and by sustaining the demurrers of the defendants the lower court practically deprived the creditors of further opportunity for recovery of their claims. They charge negligence of the bank directors as the cause of their loss. The court held the depositors have a right of action against the directors.

A Boston firm has made an exhaustive analysis of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which reaches the following conclusions: "The company is the wealthiest railroad corporation in the world, both as to earnings and as to the value of its investments. No railroad appropriates more liberally for maintenance. The company last year concealed $7,000,000 surplus in maintenance account. The earnings of the investments alone are sufficient to pay dividends of 6 per cent on the outstanding capital stock. The property is in excellent physical condition, and the treasury is sound. The recent capital issues were necessary to meet the growing requirements of the system. In the last twenty years the company has never paid less than 5 per cent dividends, which argues well for the continuance of the present 6 per cent rate."

A New York dispatch to the Chicago Inter Ocean says: "That the Rock Island Company contemplates vesting voting power in its common stock is the interesting rumor that is going the rounds here at the present time. If it be true, the common stock will be materially benefitted. At the present time the control of the company is held through its preferred stock, which alone has voting power. It requires only a majority of the preferred stock to control this great corporation and the common stock has suffered accordingly by reason of the lack of voting power. It does not seem possible that the interests who now dominate Rock Island affairs so easily will be willing to give a voting power to the stock. That would require, of course, the pooling of a large quantity of the common stock in order to insure the maintenance of control in the present directorate. It is said that the floating of the bond issue has induced the consideration of this plan, because the banking interests deemed it advisable that the power to vote should be given to the common stock. No official corroboration of this can be obtained."

FLOUR—Dullness continues to prevail in this market, prices being easy as quoted on the second page.

WINTER WHEAT—Was quiet and prices ½c lower for soft and about 2c lower for Hard Winter. Demand light and there was scarcely any trade. Not enough doing to make a market. No. 2 Red in store was 4c over May bid and 5c over May asked and ranged at 96@97¼c and fresh arrivals free on board nominally $1 00@1 01. No. 3 Red fresh receipts free on board quotably about 95c@$1 00 for ordinary to choice soft. No. 2 Hard fresh receipts sold at 92½c and No. 3 Hard nominally 81@92c.

SPRING WHEAT—Nothing whatever doing and prices entirely nominal. No shipping demand and a few cars of fresh arrivals of choice Wheat would sell to millers. No. 1 Northern nominally 92@92¾c and fresh arrivals free on board quotable at 94@98c. No. 2 Northern fresh arrivals quotable at 88@96c. No. 3 Spring nominally 8@96c for ordinary to choice hard variety. No. 4 quotable at 62@92c for poor to very choice hard variety.

REGULAR WHEAT—A moderate trade only with tone rather firm early, but weakened later on, with the close ⅝c lower for the May, while July lost ½@⅝c and September ¼@⅜c. The start was stronger on the cold weather West and Northwest, the map showing only light showers in Southern Illinois and through the Ohio Valley. The strength was only temporary, and on the predictions of showers and rising temperatures locals sold, the lack of outside interest again being a factor. Cables were lower, and the cash situation disappointing. The improvement in the Kansas State figures as compared with the Government also induced some selling. Condition reported by State at 83 per cent, against 90 in December. Government made condition 78. Showers and milder weather was predicted for Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri; cloudy for the Dakotas and Minnesota, with showers possible in South Dakota. The Southwest led in the selling, local "longs" also liquidating. Liverpool was steady for spot and futures ⅛@¼d lower. London came ¼@⅜d lower. Paris was up ¼c and Berlin ⅞c lower. Buda Pesth declined 1¼c. Antwerp was unchanged. Primary receipts this week 1,605,000 bu, last week 2,556,000 bu, and 2,076,000 bu one year ago. Local weekly receipts were 151,000 bu and shipments 277,000 bu. Broomhall estimates the world's shipments at 9,500,000 bu and predicted a possible decrease in the amount on ocean passage. English visible increased 1,312,000 bu, compared with 81,000 bu decrease last year. Receipts in the Northwest this week were 884 cars, against 1,200 cars last week and 910 cars one year ago. Antwerp cabled advances on Wheat were difficult to obtain in Russia, which would doubtless force larger shipments. Arrivals in the United Kingdom this week were 4,800,000 bu, against 3,600,000 bu a year ago. Australia shipped 840,000 bu. English farmers' deliveries were 320,000 bu and the price 84c, against 296,000 bu last week at 84¼c and 256,000 bu one year ago at 77¼c. Conservative authorities estimated the condition in Oklahoma as a whole at 70 per cent. Exports were very moderate and only 3 boat loads were accepted at the seaboard. Receipts at Duluth 12 cars and at Minneapolis 107 cars, a total of 119 cars, against 131 yesterday, 109 cars a week ago, and 105 cars last year. Local receipts included 16 cars Winter, 1 car Spring and no mixed, a total of 17 cars, against 25 cars last year. Included in the above was none of contract grade. There were 6 cars and 19,000 bu from unlicensed elevators. The estimated receipts for to-morrow were not reported. The withdrawals to-day were 27,500 bu. Receipts at Western points were 221,517 bu against 291,315 last year. At Eastern points 20,281 bu, against 462,881 bu last year. Shipments from Western points were 159,790 bu, against 672,076 bu last year, and from Eastern points 9,003 bu, against 76,059 bu last year. Shipments of Flour were 43,906 brls. Exports of Wheat in Flour were equal to 206,585 bu.

Future Deliveries of Regular Wheat—Fair trade at lower prices.

APRIL—Entirely nominal and closing about 92⅛c.

SEPTEMBER—New Style—Sold at 81⅝@82⅞c. Opened with sales at 82⅝c to 82½c, sold to 82⅞c, to 82½c, to 82⅜c, to 82c, to 82⅜c, to 81¾c, to 82⅛c, to 81⅝c, to 81¾c, to 82⅛c, and closed at 82@82⅛c.

CORN—Was moderately active and easy, the close showing May off ⅝c, while July lost ¼c and the September ¼c. Commission houses had considerable July for sale and the "bull" party in May sold that delivery. "Shorts" about the best buyers. Cables were a little lower and the weather more favorable. Liverpool quoted spot unchanged to ¼d higher and futures ¼d lower. Receipts were 69 cars of which 35 cars were contract, against 55 cars last year when one car graded. There were 36,000 bu and 35 cars contract from private to public elevators. Local weekly receipts were 268,000 bu and shipments 420,000 bu. Primary receipts this week 1,418,000 bu, against 1,697,000 bu last year. Southwestern markets were easy. Showers and milder weather was predicted for Nebraska, Kansas, and Missouri. WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

MONEY AND STOCKS.

CHICAGO. FRIDAY EVENING, April 15, 1904.

Developments in the monetary situation show more easiness in all quarters. Rates in Chicago are 4½ to 5 per cent on call, and even time funds are being loaned at that figure, while the demand is not brisk from any quarter, except possibly a little more inquiry from packers as stocks of Provisions are increasing. In St. Louis money is 5½; in New Orleans 7 to 8 per cent. In New York rates on the Stock Exchange are 1½ to 1¾ per cent for sharp call and short time loans were at 2½ to 3 per cent. In London, Paris and Berlin rates are 4 per cent. The reason assigned for this phenomenal condition is that currency is returning from the West and South, following the movement of their crops the accumulation of Government deposits in New York in anticipation of the Panama Canal payment and a reduction in the volume of trade; also the inactivity of investment of bonds producing a large accumulation of idle money in the banks. The high rates of interest paid by New York banks on deposits is also a factor.

New York exchange was steady at 20c to 30c premium and closed at 25c.

Foreign exchange remained firm. Offerings of bills were light and rates are at a Gold exporting point. There was $1,000,000 Gold exported during the week, and since the movement started $4,000,000 has been sent to Europe. Shippers' sixty-day documentary sterling bills on London ranged at 484 to 484½ and closed at about 484¼.

Cotton in New York received less attention from speculators who were largely "bearish" and there was more pressure to sell and less resistance from the "bull" interest. For the present there is less disposition on the part of the "bulls" to work for an advance, and the idea is that there will be no attempt to make a big appreciation on the idea that there is a famine. Spot markets in the South are dull as a result of the shutting down of many mills. This has brought increased selling of futures as a hedge by the cash holders and led to weakness. Crop reports from the South noted cool weather delaying growth and improbability of an early movement. Receipts at Southern points are light and interior stocks small. Closing sales were at net losses of 39 to 55 points for the week.

Local Securities were irregular, with the trading distributed among a larger number of properties. A feature was the passing of the dividend by Pneumatic Tool Company on Wednesday. This was the signal for sharp selling and a decline of 7 points on that day. There were no new developments in the Industrials or Elevated shares and they averaged lower, Metropolitan being especially neglected. Carbon has been on a decline for some time, and even Diamond Match weakened moderately. Bonds were traded in more actively, and Pneumatic Tool advanced, while the stock declined. This was taken as indicating a decision on the part of the company to accumulate a surplus.

The New York Stock market averaged slightly higher. The leading influence which controls the large Industrials and railroad properties are doing very little, if any, selling, and on the declines they absorb the offerings. The public is not in the market and professionals are doing the greater part of the speculating. Wall Street took a more hopeful view of the crop situation than did the Grain speculators and was not discouraged by the low condition shown by the Government and by the private reports. The future business of the railroads depends very largely upon crop prospects and Wall Street is disposed to wait further developments. The Gold exports failed to have a decided effect on values. There was nothing disturbing in the Industrial situation and prices held well. The Union Pacific-Northern Pacific-Great Northern fight was a disturbing factor, but a decision on the suit is due in a few days. Closing sales were at small gains for the week. Total sales on the New York Stock Exchange for the week were 2,182,000 shares, compared with 3,169,000 the previous week and 4,157,000 shares last year.

Improved weather was more favorable for a larger distribution of merchandise of all kinds, both by jobbers and at leading trade centers and by interior retailers. Business was of a more satisfactory volume. Production of Cotton goods has decreased owing to the shutting down part of the time by a number of the mills in the Fall River district. Prices of goods are well held, as the market for raw Cotton does not warrant any reduction. The situation in Iron and Steel is more favorable. The United States Steel Corporation has a larger tonnage of unfilled orders on its books than at the opening of the year, although it shows a heavy decrease from last year's. The tonnage, however, is satisfactory. The leading pools have reaffirmed their prices for the coming quarter and there is a good profit in operating. Jobbers of light and heavy hardware are doing an increased business. Pig Iron advanced 25c in the South, and in Northern markets values showed increased firmness, with liberal buying by consumers who want immediate deliveries. Traffic conditions on Eastern railroads have improved to such an extent that deliveries from mills are increased and there are no longer any complaints about delays in transit. The car situation, taking it over the entire country, has improved, and the movement of traffic is the best in months, although the tonnage is less than last year. Lumber and building materials were moved more freely, the weather being favorable. There was also a larger offering of paint, drugs, chemicals and groceries. In oils the only change was a reduction in turpentine.

COMMERCIAL.

The most notable event in commercial and Board of Trade circles the past week was the decision handed down by the Federal Court of Appeals on Tuesday, in a case brought before it on appeal and settled the issue which has been more or less of an embarrassment than any other to the Exchange authorities in all their litigation against bucket shops. It decided the Board of Trade method of business and contracts were legitimate. The court said: "The ring methods of settlement between members might cancel out nine-tenths of the bids back and forth between the members as agents, and yet every contract may have been perfectly legal and enforceable between the principals, and every principal satisfied by receiving a substitute contract. In every such case there would be no delivery, but the buyer would have a valid cause of action." This decision by the highest court which has ever been reached in any of the litigation reinstates the Exchange and disposes of the claims which, for a while, seemed to bring the Board of Trade campaign against the bucket shops to a halt. This finding, which was by Judges Jenkins, Grosscup and Baker, is the most complete and important confirmation of the authority of the Exchange to control its quotations and to prevent their use by improper persons the Board has ever obtained. Business was fair in the aggregate this week, outside orders being quite numerous and for larger quantities. Local traders, too, more disposed to speculate and the forward deliveries received more favor. Weather and crop conditions and probable future supplies were the principal governing influences and will be now for several weeks to come.

Some improvement was noted in the foreign crop situation the past week. Weather conditions in the United Kingdom the past week were favorable, but even the best of weather will not make up for the large loss in acreage, it being thought that the total area under Winter Wheat will be less than the previous low record of 1,456,000 acres in 1895. In France, Germany, Spain, Italy and Hungary reports were of favorable tenor, and the weather has been seasonable most of the week. The Roumanian outlook continues generally favorable, and few complaints have been received. Damage to the Russian winter crops in the Southwest by frost was confirmed. In other sections the outlook is fair. The weather is now improving. No change has occurred in the very satisfactory condition existing in India and North Africa. Indian shipments continue on a liberal scale for this season of the year.

Weather conditions the past week were not of the best for farm work, there being a lack of warmth and sunshine, and the season as a whole is backward. Winter Wheat conditions, however, were fully maintained, though more moisture would be beneficial in Western Kansas, Oklahoma and parts of the Southwest. The Government report made the condition April 1, 76.5, against 97.3 one year ago, and indicates a crop of 415,366,000 bu, as against 401,685,000 bu the final report for 1903. Spring Wheat seeding is making fair progress in the Northwest, and is well advanced over the southern portions, but is expected to be late in the more northerly sections and in Manitoba, owing to excessive moisture. Oats seeding is well under way in Kansas and Nebraska, and has started in Iowa and through the Ohio Valley, but has been hindered by the heavy rains. Corn has been planted in Missouri, and as far north as Central Kansas, and a large acreage of fall-plowed ground is ready for seeding in Iowa. In Texas the crop is in good condition and is receiving its first cultivation.

The movement of Grain from the farms and interior elevators was again very moderate the past week. Holders in the interior were apparently less disposed to accept the prices current for the leading commodities and many were too busy with farming operations to give their attention to marketing. There was a falling off in the movement of Grain and Flax Seed in the Northwest, the weather being against the same, which was also the case West and Southwest. The movement of Corn and Oats was very moderate through the Central West, but the quality of the Corn showed some improvement. Shipments toward the seaboard were limited, and it is expected navigation on the lakes will open late—possibly not before May 1. Charters here for Grain were most limited. Exports of all cereals were very moderate and the new business booked at the seaboard was meagre. According to the monthly statement of the DAILY TRADE BULLETIN the world's supply of Breadstuffs April 1 was 157,453,000 bu, against 163,361,000 bu March 1, and 155,562,000 bu April 1, 1903. Stocks in the United States and Canada were reduced 11,047,000 bu during March, while the quantity in Europe and afloat therefor, also including the supplies in Argentine, increased 4,768,100 bu. According to the weekly report of the visible supply of Grain in the United States and Canada, as compiled by the Secretary of the Chicago Board of Trade, there was a decrease in the stocks of Wheat, Corn, Oats, Rye and Barley.

The leading speculative markets on 'Change were fairly active this week and prices were quite irregular. Wheat was easily the leader and sentiment in this cereal quite divided. Statistics were rather against holders at the start, but the prospect of a "bullish" Government report overshadowed all other news. Professionals bought freely, reinstating lines liquidated last week, but in endeavoring to realize later on, when the report was issued, broke the market. Coarse Grains declined in sympathy. Selling July Corn as a hedge against May holdings was a feature. At the declines established in Wheat "shorts" accepted liberal quantities, the Southwest being quite prominent on the "bull" side. Adverse crop advices from important sections of the Winter Wheat belt and talk of late seeding in the Northwest were "bull" helps. Corn was helped indirectly by the failure of a couple of cargoes tendered as contracts to pass the appeals committee. Hog Products were moderately active and averaged lower. "Longs" appeared more anxious to realize and packers in many instances favored the selling side of the market. Prices receded on all the leading articles, with free trading at the receding scale. At the decline there was a moderate miscellaneous demand and prices rallied slightly, and closed steady. "Shorts", accepted fair quantities, and May delivery apparently was stronger than July. Packing of the West for the week was 355,000 Hogs, and total for the season 2,230,000 Hogs, or 180,000 ahead of 1903.

The business in cash Grain was only moderate during the week just closed. Receipts of Grain were not very large, in fact rather meagre, and the demand in a general way not very urgent. The milling inquiry for Wheat was not as urgent as lately noted and No. 1 Northern sold at ½c under May, as against ¾c over a short time back. Choice Corn sold well, that is anything they could with proper handling make the contract grade. Oats were in moderate demand and the quality of the offerings poor. Rye was slow and Seeds unusually dull. Hay was firm for Timothy, while Prairie was dull. Hog Products were in light demand and the offerings were moderate. Sales were small and prices inclined to favor buyers. Receipts of Cattle were moderate and prices ruled steady. Sheep were in fair demand and prices little changed.

FREIGHTS—Business with Eastern roads has fallen off and cars are plentiful. A meeting was held this week to arrange for the summer tariff, but no change was made. Another meeting is to be held April 19. Grain rates from the Missouri River are to be restored to the normal basis. The tariff is as follows:

	From Chicago.		From Miss. River.
To—	Domestic.	Export.	Domestic.	Export.
Boston	22	15	25	17½
New York	20	15	22	17½
Newport News	17	13½	19	..
Buffalo	13	....	15	..

Flour rates are 20c domestic and 16½c for export. Provision rates are 30c per 100 lbs, Chicago to New York.

Rail rates at and east of Buffalo were unchanged on Grain and are 2 mills per bu on Wheat, 3½ mills on Corn and Rye, and 4 mills on Oats.

Ocean rates on Grain are meeting a very light demand. Rates on Grain are ¾@1d per bu from New York and ¾d from Boston. Through rate on Wheat from Chicago to Liverpool is 11¾c per bu and Corn 11½c. Flour 24.94c per 100 lbs and Provisions 44.06c per 100 lbs.

A few charters have been made at 2c on Corn to Buffalo, with a strike clause.

FLOUR—The local Flour market has seldom been in as dull and listless a state as at present. Dealers and millers, almost without exception, report the demand as stagnant from all quarters. Most handlers of Flour had anticipated some improvement in the situation with the May Wheat deal out of the way, but as yet it has failed to materialize. Stocks in the hands of the wholesale grocery trade are said to be ample, and even the retail dealer is said to be bountifully supplied. The present state of affairs may possibly be thus explained. Consumers of Flour the country over undoubtedly purchased Flour in large blocks at the outbreak of the Russo Japanese war, anticipating a sharp rise in values, and accounted for the activity in milling circles at the time. Prices since then have reached a lower level and sharp losses have been sustained in many instances. Large quantities were bought on speculative account and such lots in some cases are now coming on the market. Millers were forced to compete with the speculator, and the result is stocks in the hands of the manufacturer are accumulating. About 2,000,000 sacks of Flour consigned to China and Japan some time ago on speculation are said to be awaiting buyers in those countries, the expected sharp inquiry failing to be realized. Many of the local mills are closed down and another shut-down is predicted at Milwaukee and Minneapolis. The output in the Northwest this week was reported at 311,700 brls, against 341,035 brls for the same week in 1903. Exporters are still out of the market and bids from abroad are prohibitive. Dornbusch's Buda Pesth correspondent, writing under date of March 26, says of Flour: "The market this week has been very lifeless. Not only was new business quite unimportant, but the deliveries on old contracts have likewise been extremely light. Stocks have, therefore, undergone a considerable augmentation. Prices locally have declined about 10c on all grades except soft Winters which are 10c higher, the close being steady, as follows:

MILLSTUFFS—The market for Millstuffs has ruled rather steady during the past week. The receipts have been light and the demand fair. Bran sold at $15 50 per ton in bulk and at $16 50 in 200-lb sacks.

WINTER WHEAT—An easier feeling existed in the market during the past week. There has been an indifference on the part of buyers and trading has been of a limited character. No shipping orders of consequence were filled and millers bought very sparingly, thus leaving the cash market dull and unsatisfactory. Scarcely enough Wheat received to make a market for the fresh arrivals, prices for which were little better than nominal. The few cars of of the different grades received were sold, but not taken up readily and prices were quotably 1@2c lower. Round lots of No. 2 Red in store were held at a premium over May of 4@5c, but buyers were lacking and it was difficult to make sales and they likewise were quotably 1@2c lower. The Government crop report made public on the 11th inst., indicated a lower condition and reported at 76.5 for April 1 against 97.1 a year ago. The acreage was reported 2,000,000 acres smaller than last year. For the week the receipts aggregated 59 cars, against 60 cars the previous week. There were withdrawn from public elevators 38,900 bu and from private warehouses 33 cars. No. 2 Red in store quotably 3@5c over May and ranged early in the week at 97c@$1 01½ and later off to 95@99c, with the fresh arrivals nominally $1 00@1 03. No. 3 Red fresh receipts free on board were quotably 95c@$1 01. No. 4 Red fresh receipts sold at 90c. No. 2 Hard fresh receipts free on board sold at 95c and ranged at 91@97c, depending on quality. No. 3 Hard fresh receipts free on board sold at 83@91c and No. 4 Hard at 63@80c.

SPRING WHEAT—There has been only a light business doing in the cash market during the past week and prices declined about 2c. A little milling demand existed—it has been of a limited character. The few cars of fresh arrivals were taken from day to day, and occasionally a small lot was sold to be taken out of elevator. There has been no shipping business, and cash lots ruled dull and neglected, and No. 1 Northern in store, which last week sold at ½@¾c over May prices, sold the week under review at ¼@½c under the prices ruling for May. The receipts have been small and scarcely enough Wheat arriving to make a market for the fresh arrivals. The receipts of the week aggregated 46 cars, against 70 cars the previous week. There were withdrawn from public elevators 203,641 bu, and 45 cars and 15,000 bu taken from private warehouses. No. 1 Northern in store ranged from May prices to ¼@½c under and ranged from 91½@95½c down to 92@94c. Fresh arrivals free on board ranged at 96c@$1 01. No. 2 Northern fresh arrivals free on board ruled nominally 90@98c. No. 3 Spring very quiet and there were sales at 91@95c and ranged at 80@95c for ordinary to choice. No. 4 Spring sold at 66@87c for ordinary to good and ranged at 60@92c for poor to choice.

REGULAR WHEAT—The Wheat market attracted a good deal of attention the past week, there being some increase in the volume of business. Sentiment was greatly divided, higher prices ruling early, a sharp decline following, then a slight recovery. The close shows the May down 2½c, July losing ⅞c, while the September gained ⅝@¾c. Realizing and profit taking general at the close. The feature at the start was the general buying led by many prominent local professionals who reinstated lines liquidated last week. This buying was on the theory the Government report would make a "bullish" showing and May touched 95½c, while July sold to 89½c and September 82⅞c. The adverse reports regarding seeding prospects in the Northwest, too, was one of the "bull" helps. In North Dakota it was predicted little seeding will be done before May 1, or a month late. In South Dakota the season is said to be two to three weeks earlier, but the situation in Manitoba was reported bad. The Government report made condition of Winter Wheat 76.5, against 86.6 Dec. 1, 1903, and 78.8 July 1, 1903. Area 32,016,000 acres, and yield 415,366,000 bu, against final report last year of 401,685,000 bu. The report was 3.5 points less than popularly expected. With the exception of California, which was reported at 92, the important States are all low. Kansas was 78, Missouri 81, Indiana 68, Nebraska 81, Ohio 66, Illinois 83, Oklahoma 66, Texas 68, Tennessee 73, Michigan 78. The average ten-year condition for April was 84.1. The report while construed as "bullish" failed to have the influence expected, and on general selling led by the leading "longs" prices sagged, May reacting to 92½c, July to 86¾c and September 81⅝c. The cash situation here, in the Southwest as well as in the Northwest, was less encouraging to holders, outside speculative centers declined sharply, which with the break in coarse Grains and prospects of better weather for spring seeding, all combined to change local sentiment. The statistics at hand the opening days were "bearish," but the effect was lost in face of the expected "bullish" showing in the Government report. A member of a prominent local commission house just back from the Southwest said upon returning: "All of Oklahoma, the western half of Kansas and the southwestern quarter of Nebraska are in a deplorable condition. The Wheat situation is worse than anybody here imagines and worse than the people down there will admit, for they are optimistic and hoping they will get rain in time to save their crop. The Oklahoma situation is desperate, and it will get no Wheat of any consequence unless it has rain very soon. This area, the western half of Kansas, Oklahoma and the southwest of Nebraska, raised the surplus last season, and it looks to me as if it had practically lost its crop this year. It is too soon for people to believe it, but I am positive of it." World's shipments about as expected, 11,010,000 bu, against 9,872,000 bu the previous week and 6,816,000 bu one year ago. The quantity on ocean passage increased 1,192,000 bu to 40,072,000 bu, compared with 33,496,000 bu same date in 1903. The visible supply decreased 547,000 bu, against 1,794,000 bu decrease in 1903. The total is now 31,180,000 bu, against 40,161,000 bu in 1903, and 46,611,000 bu in 1902. Local public stocks decreased 162,000 bu and are now 2,120,000 bu, against 6,342,000 bu in 1903. Stocks here in all positions were reported 4,745,000 bu, a decrease last week of 140,000 bu, and are now 4,439,000 bu smaller than a year ago. Contract stocks decreased 154,855 bu, and are now 1,039,736 bu, against 2,818,471 bu last year. Bradstreet's increased 1,719,000 bu, against 2,481,000 bu decrease same week in 1903, and this showing was considered a "bearish" feature. The following table shows the supplies of Breadstuffs afloat for Europe and in store in Europe and Argentina on the dates named:

	Apr. 1, '04. Bu.	Mar. 1, '04. Bu.	Apr. 1, '03. Bu.
Afloat for Europe	44,870,000	37,390,000	29,840,000
In store in Europe	36,460,000	38,620,000	29,500,000
In store-Argentina	4,781,000	6,336,000	2,904,000
In store-America	71,339,000	82,015,000	93,318,000
Total	157,453,000	163,361,000	155,562,000

Foreign markets were inclined to weakness, exports were light, and movement to primary markets fair. Receipts at distributing centers from July 1 to April 11, aggregate 203,891,000 bu, as against 228,117,000 bu in 1902-3 and 214,243,000 bu in 1901-2. Exports this week were 1,213,000 bu, making 119,059,000 bu since July 1, as compared with 179,581,000 bu in 1902-3. Bookings at the Atlantic seaboard were most meagre. Argentine shipments were again liberal at 3,328,000 bu making 37,856,000 bu since the first of the year as compared with 25,586,000 bu in 1903. The visible supply there is now reported 5,112,000 bu, as against 5,888,000 bu last week and 3,639,000 bu one year ago. The Flour situation was most unsatisfactory and worked against speculative values. Broomhall's weekly foreign crop summary said: "United Kingdom—The weather conditions the past week have been favorable, but even the best of weather will not make up for the large loss in acreage, it being thought that the total area under Winter Wheat will be less than the previous low record of 1,456,000 acres in 1895. France, Germany, Spain, Italy and Hungary—Reports are of a favorable tenor and the weather has been seasonable most of the week just passed. Roumania—Crop outlook continues generally favorable, but few complaints have been received. Russia—Damage to the winter crops in the Southwest by frost has been confirmed. In other sections the outlook is fair. The weather is now improving. It is thought that stocks in the interior are of good size. India and North Africa—No change has occurred in the very satisfactory condition existing in these two countries. Indian shipments continue on a liberal scale for this season of the year." Modern Miller reported the domestic crop outlook less promising while the Price Current claimed conditions were maintained. The following table exhibits the exports of Breadstuffs from the following countries from July 1, 1903, to April 9, 1904, compared with the corresponding period in 1902-3:

Countries—	1903-4, bu.	1902-3, bu.
India	36,888,000	13,080,000
Australasia	16,858,000	....
Austria-Hungary	4,050,000	2,416,000
Chili, North Africa	8,816,000	14,700,000
Totals	414,372,000	391,003,000

CORN—A good trade and nervous, sensitive market in Corn the past week, with final figures showing the May 1⅝c lower, while July lost 1¾@1⅝c and the September 1¼c. The "bull" party in May had greater opposition in its campaign, the increasing contract stocks and better grading of the current receipts encouraging interests with "bear" views, who sold freely on all hard spots. July was relatively weaker than the balance of the list, and part of the week's selling was credited to hedges against May holdings. Weather conditions were more favorable for the movement and spring work and statistics were generally construed as moderately "bearish." World's shipments were 2,684,000 bu, against 2,200,000 bu the previous week, and 2,273,000 bu in 1903. The quantity on ocean passage decreased 977,000 bu, to 8,910,000 bu compared with 8,869,000 bu in 1903. The visible decreased 80,000 bu, against 872,000 bu decrease same week in 1903. The total is now 9,599,000 bu, against 8,989,000 bu in 1903, and 7,550,000 bu in 1902. Local public stocks increased 127,000 bu and are now 4,442,000 bu, against 3,830,000 bu on the corresponding date one year ago. Stocks here in all positions in public and private houses and afloat in the harbor now include 8,581,000 bu, an increase last week of 156,000 bu, and are 1,240,000 bu larger than a year ago. Contract stocks increased 183,207 bu and are now 3,831,018 bu, against 2,512,620 bu same date in 1903. Bradstreet's available supply decreased 231,000 bu, compared with 2,184,000 bu decrease same week in 1903. May weakened under pressure from 54c to 51½c, while July sold from 51⅞c to 49½c. September declined from 50¾c to 48¾c. At the decline "shorts" covered freely and on fresh investment buying setting in the situation became steadier. Western advices as to reserves and the quality of the Corn still on hand were "bullish" and was one of the "bull" helps. May recovered to 53¾c, while July advanced to 51¼c, but the advance failed to be maintained. The head of a large elevator system in Nebraska claimed there was not much Corn, good or bad, in that State. About two weeks ago there was a high price for Corn at Chicago, 56 to 57c, and the railroads have been giving the Nebraska man the cheapest rail rate to Chicago ever known. Some Nebraska farmers could get 40c for their Corn on that situation, and it resulted in rather liberal selling. We got a good deal of that Corn ourselves to ship, and others did. But the movement is over. The farmers are through their selling and are busy. It will be May 15, a month from now, before the Nebraska farmer has any more Corn for sale. Whatever Corn this market or any other gets from Nebraska within the next thirty days will have to come from terminal houses. A letter from a man who has been going over the Corn belt said: "In a trip through Illinois and Missouri one must feel that the Corn situation is very strong. The country is flooded. The roads are ankle deep with mud. Corn planting is two to three weeks late, or will be. There is no pasture, nothing green but the Wheat fields. There are no Cattle pasturing and there is nothing to pasture on. The trees and vegitation are as backward in Missouri, Indiana and Southern Illinois as at La Crosse, Wis., Milwaukee or Chicago. Feeding of Corn is tremendous." On the other hand an experienced Corn handler, both as a large shipper and cribber, who has made extensive examination into the condition of the Corn, not only this year but in previous years, said: "Last year's Corn crop was unlike any previous crop. Every one thought that when the weather became warm Corn would commence to heat. We have not had any hot Corn to speak of so far. I have discovered that Corn naturally has so much oil in it that it causes it to heat. The crop last year had less than the usual percentage of oil, hence it is not heating and is keeping better than was expected. The fact that Corn turns black does not prevent its being used by distillers, as they can get as much alcohol out of it as when it is of good quality. Shipping operations are at a practical standstill, the Eastern demand shows little or no improvement and no betterment was reported at the seaboard, bookings with the other side being small. Foreign markets were easy on American lots, while La Plata was decidedly lower. Clearances from Atlantic and Gulf ports the past week were light at 583,000 bu and total since July 1 aggregates 48,125,000 bu, as compared with 51,605,000 bu for the same period in 1902-3. Argentine shipments were 437,000 bu, bringing the total up to 9,812,000 since January 1, as compared with 1,047,000 bu for the same period last year. The visible there is at present reported 691,000 bu, as against 591,000 bu last week and 712,000 bu one year ago. The car lots, that is, choice dry Corn, sold to go to elevators and commanded very satisfactory prices. Low grades on the contrary were dull and more difficult to sell and prices ruled lower. No disposition was shown by the large vessel interests to charter boats to load Corn at once. They anticipate a late opening of navigation, possibly not before the first of June. They are figuring on labor troubles, and do not care to be hampered, as they expect to fight it out from the start, and to charter their boats would be a handicap. There has been rumors that charters for 3,000,000 bu were under way, but the "long" interest in the market, as well as the Steel interests which control the largest fleet of boats, say there was nothing closed. About 200,000 bu contract tendered on Wednesday to load into boats was turned down by the Appeals Committee.

OATS—The market for Oats was weak early with a "bearish" sentiment, due to improved weather and to the poor cash demand. The break in Wheat and Corn also stimulated selling and assisted in forcing prices off materially, but the rally in other Grains started "shorts" to covering and brought in more buying by commission houses and a partial recovery occurred toward the last when sales were at a net loss of ¼@1¼c. May sold between 36⅛@39¾c, and closed at 38⅛c. Two weeks ago May was 2¼c over July and was changed even with July at one time during the week. July ranged between 36¾@38¾c, and closed at 38@38⅛c. September was relatively stronger than the other months and closed at 32¼c. The weather throughout the greater part of the West was more favorable and fair progress was made in seeding where it was not too wet. In those sections the delay has not been such as to become serious as yet, but it might be. The weekly Government report said good progress had been made in seeding in Kansas and Nebraska, but in Iowa and the Ohio Valley it has been retarded by unfavorable weather. One factor is the big stocks and the doubt as to who is to pay for them in May. Arrivals for the week were 620 cars, compared with 792 cars the previous week and 779 cars last year. Export clearances were 161,335 bu, compared with 131,680 bu the previous week, and 160,203 bu last year. In the sample market there was weakness and light trading, with a decline of 2c to 3c and a reaction of 1@2½c. Offerings of common, stained and light weight lots were larger and they met with less demand and suffered the chief decline. The shipping demand was slow, as the Eastern interior were not in the market to any extent until the last, when inquiries improved. Local stocks in public houses increased 7,666 bu and were 311,870 bu, against 111,639 bu last year. The stock of contract increased 9,500 bu and is 3,004,000 bu, against 331,000 bu last year. Stocks in all positions decreased 79,000 bu, and were 5,161,000 bu last year.

RYE—Ruled dull and 1½@4c lower, but the closing was steadier and decline recovered. Very little business was transacted during the week, either in cash or for future delivery. The few cars of fresh arrivals were taken by the usual buyers but even these were slow sale and not in any particular request and they showed relatively a greater decline than the futures. There has been no shipping inquiry and no round lots were sold. Only an occasional trade was made in futures. The receipts have been smaller and taken by carriers and for local manufacturing purposes. The receipts for the week aggregated 11 cars against 63 the previous week. There were no withdrawals from public elevators and 2 car loads were taken from private warehouses. Export clearances from the seaboard none. Visible supply decreased 4,000 bu and was reported at 945,000 bu, against 949,000 bu the previous week and 1 039,000 bu one year ago. The local stock in store was 293,000 and a year ago was 404,000 bu. No. 2 in store quotable at 67@70c and fresh arrivals free on board sold at 70@72c down to 67@70c. No. 3 fresh arrivals sold at 65@66½c and a very poor car sold at 63c. Future deliveries of No. 2 Rye quiet. May sold at 70½c to 69c, but closed stronger with 72c bid. July sold at 66c and closed at 69c bid.

BARLEY. Receivers had quite an experience early in the week with low grade, feed and mixing Barley. More or less had been accumulating owing to lack of demand, considerable was carried over from a week ago. The dragging state of the market had a depressing effect on prices. It got to a point where something had to be done because track service charges were accruing on many cars. Some parties began to seek orders, exports or otherwise, and finally at reduced prices some orders were received. At 32½c trading began and after being started the price rose to 33½c. These figures were indicative of 2@3c decline from a week ago. The market became cleaned up, and later to fill small wants some improvement had to be acceded to good cars, going back to 34@36c though there were at the same time poor cars, very few however, that ranged down to 31@32c. Screenings were dull and weak also, at the same time nice, clean, city Screenings held their own better than feed Barley, such goods holding at 35@36c, with early little sale for them, but later something doing; there were poor goods which ranged down to 30@33c. Low grade malting Barley was exceedingly dull all the time, 1@2c lower, and then no one cared to purchase. Fortunately the offerings were small. Light trading ensued at 38@42c. When it gets to be late in the season maltsters no longer care for poor Barley, it is only out of good goods that satisfactory results can be obtained when the weather becomes warm. Some fair cars sold at 43@45c. Really good to choice, sound Barley was very scarce. To sell such grades was an easy matter, for there was a demand, and steadiness also was present. Good, depending on weight, color and cleanliness, had a quotable range of 47@52c. Choice would bring 54@56c, and some fancy to arrive sold up to 60c. The market closed with offerings light and market steady for all but low grade malting, and that remained very dull. Receipts during the week 132 cars, compared with 125 cars a week and 92 cars two weeks ago. Output was 12,356 bu; a week ago 3,700 bu were withdrawn and two weeks ago 12,450 bu. Exports from New York were 8,520 bu. In the visible supply there was 350,000 bu decrease, and a stock of 3,013,000 bu reported, against 1,662,000 bu a year ago. Local stock decreased 10,277 bu; it was given as 276,937 bu; a year ago it had became exhausted.

SEEDS—Business has been of a quiet order in all lines, in fact dullness prevailed. Offerings in every case were small. The feeling, however, was weak, suggesting that the demand was of a tame order. Timothy, Clover and Flax Seeds all exhibit some depreciation in prices the past week, at the same time the changes were not important. Other lines not changed, and usually not much better than nominal.

Timothy—There was a dull slow market. A number of held lots were brought out early. Some of them were withdrawn again because they did not command satisfactory bids. Of fresh arrivals the offerings were very small, much less than for some time past. The arrivals fell off some, but not so much, it would seem, that the offerings should become so very light. Some increase in output appears. The demand for Seed on the regular market, however, was very tame. Weather conditions have remained rather unfavorable. There was a weak feeling and prices sustained about 10c decline. April delivery or contract spot Seed was quoted early at $3 00 and later at $2 85@2 90. September from being held at $3 10 declined to $3 00 asked and $2 90 was the only bid. Country lots, poor to choice, quoted early at $2 00@2 90 and later $2 80 became the outside. Fair to good changed from $2 50@2 60 to $2 40@2 50 and common rough lots finally were about $2 25@2 35. Movement the past week with comparisons was as follows:

Two weeks ago	1,249,130
Same time last year	333,6 0
Shipments the past week, lbs	895,340
The previous week	682,390

Flax—The Flax market experienced another exceedingly quiet week. Movement was very small. Sellers were scarce as a rule. Demand was equally restricted. All but Northwestern cash Flax declined, and values exhibit 1@2c depreciation. The decline occurred with the market presenting very little business. There was a net gain of 220, 38 bu in Northwestern stocks. Large visible supply and steady gain thereto is a weak feature. There was 807 bu increase here, 351,795 bu increase at Duluth and 132,235 bu decrease at Minneapolis; this left a supply as follows. 22,396 bu at Chicago, 7,629,740 bu at Duluth and 1,129,019 bu at Minneapolis, or a total public stock of 8 781,165 bu, with private stock not known. Local receipts were 17 cars, compared with 17 cars the previous week and 73 cars two weeks ago. Output was 2,304 bu, the week before it was 7,718 bu and two weeks ago 7,874 bu. No 1 cash declined, nominally, from $1 09 to $1 08. No 1 Northwestern remained steady at $1 16. Rejected quoted early at $1 05 / 1 10; later at $1 04@1 09; outside always for choice Northwestern. April delivery quoted at $1 09 to $1 08; no trading. May was $1 11 early, but to sell a small quantity later $1 09 had to be accepted. September broke without trading from $1 17 to $1 15.

Clover—There has been no feature especially the past week to the market. Regular market was without any offerings to speak of. Demand tame, still good Seed was salable. It is too late for export business. Order trade on home account was moderate. About stocks remaining not much can be learned at present. At prices ruling it does not seem that any one would care to carry much Seed over. Cash business was small, and futures remain entirely neglected and nominal. The movement compared favorably with recent weeks. Arrivals not so large as a year ago, but output larger than then as shown by the following:

Same time last year	334,250
Shipments the past week, lbs	186 940
The previous week	139,650
Corresponding week last year	27,200

There was a range of prices as follows: Contract spot Seed quotable at $11 00 early to $10 75 later. Country lots, common to choice, finally $7 75@10 00, fancy above; mixed with Buckhorn or other weed Seeds, $7 00@8 25; poor, cleaned out of Timothy, very foul, down to $3 00@6 00. Such lots as usually come to market, when ordinary to good, quotable at $8 50@9 50.

Other Seeds—Have ruled quiet. It cannot be said that there was any change. The movement as reported was smaller than it has been of late. Actual spot offerings were very small. The different kinds were salable and steady. It is not the season for much trade, but the season is backward for some of the Grains, and some of the advices have not been favorable. Possibly this may lead to trade for late sowing Seeds after a while. The prices quoted during the week are in the table elsewhere given, and there was a movement as follows:

Same time last year	180,410
A week ago	1,160,735
Same time last year	242,884

There was nothing done in Buckwheat. It was scarce. No special demand at present learned of but soon some may be wanted for seeding. Good quality was quotably $1 30.

HAY. The receipts for the week were 5,036 tons against 6,169 tons for the previous week. Shipments for the week were 349 tons, against 29 tons for the previous week. The demand for Timothy Hay was very good during the past week. Arrivals only moderate and all consignments sold readily. Prices advanced 50c@$1 00 per ton and the market closed firm. Prairie Hay was dull throughout the week. The offerings were liberal and quality rather poor. A light demand existed and prices ruled weak. Quotations at the close ranged as follows: Choice Timothy, $13 50@14 00; No. 1 Timothy, $11 50@12 50; No. 2 Timothy, $10 00@10 50; No. 3 Timothy, $8 00@10 00; Choice Prairie, $10 00@10 50; No. 1 Prairie, $9 00@9 50; No. 2 Prairie, $8 00@8 50; No. 3 Prairie, $7 00@7 50; No 4 Prairie, $5 50@6 50. Inside prices on Prairie Hay for State and outside for Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa Hay. Sales ranged at $6 00@14 00 for poor to fancy Timothy, $7 00@10 50 for Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska Prairie Hay. Rye Straw sold at $3 00@4 00 for hot and damaged and $9 50@10 00 for good to choice. Wheat Straw at $7 00, and Oat Straw at $6 50@7 00.

COOPERAGE. Very little business was transacted in Cooperage during the past week. Offerings were on a moderate scale and the demand was limited. Local packers not inclined to purchase and outside orders were light. Buyers were slow to meet the views of sellers. Ash Pork Barrels were quiet and easier at 80@82½c. Oak Pork Barrels were quiet and easier at 92½@95c. Lard Tierces were rather slow sale and quotable at $1 30@1 32½. Iron-bound Lard Tierces were called for moderately and prices were lower at $1 15@1 17½ for six-hoop and $1 22½@1 25 for eight-hoop.

HOGS—The receipts of Hogs were quite light during the past week owing to the fact that roads in the interior were in bad condition and farmers were rushing their spring work in some sections owing to the lateness of the season. The quality was only fair. Market in a general way was moderately active. Packers were not inclined to purchase very freely, while shippers provided for fair orders from the Eastern markets. The undertone to the market was rather firm, and prices advanced 10@15c on whole the range, and closed comparatively steady. Sales during the week were made at $4 75@5 25 for light, $4 85@5 15 for rough packing, $4 85@5 35 for mixed, and $5 05@5 40 for heavy packing and shipping lots, with the bulk of the sales at $4 95@5 30 for fair to good averages. At the close about 2,000 Hogs remained in the pens unsold. Pigs were in rather good supply and in fair request and changed hands at $4 30@4 85, according to size and weight. Receipts of Hogs at the other large Western packing points were moderate, and the quality was only fair.

PACKING—Only a moderate business was transacted in packing circles during the week just closed. Hogs were in comparatively light supply and prices fairly well maintained, and packers were a little slow to purchase. Manufacture of Products was only moderate. Mess Pork made very sparingly. Other cuts of Pork made moderately. Lard produced in only fair quantities. Only a small proportion delivered in tanks. Domestic cuts of Hams made in moderate quantities, and only a small proportion sold from the block. Skinned Hams cut in limited quantities. Foreign cuts of Hams neglected. Shoulders made in limited quantities. Picnic Hams cut moderately and chiefly packed by manufacturers. Long Clear Sides and Extra Long Clear Sides neglected. Short Clear Sides made sparingly. Extra Short Clear Sides cut in limited quantities. Short Rib Sides made moderately by the larger houses. Extra Short Rib Sides made sparingly. Rough Sides cut moderately and chiefly of medium averages. Bellies met with little favor and the production of Backs was small. Plates and Butts made sparingly. Loins cut in fair quantities for current requirements. Foreign fancy and special cuts of Meats made in limited quantities.

PROVISIONS—Rather a good speculative business was transacted in Hog Products during the past week, and the feeling was considerably unsettled. Outside orders were fair, and local speculators and packers were considerably interested in the market. The undertone to the market in a general way was rather easy. "Longs" sold for quantities, and the offerings from packers were moderately large. The demand from "shorts" was rather active at times. Fluctuations in prices were frequent, and at times within rather wide ranges. Considerable of the business was credited to the room trading element, who accepted small losses or profits. Hogs were in rather light supply, and prices ruled higher, but this feature had little effect on the market. Returns of the packing of the West for the week, compared with the returns for the corresponding week in 1903, exhibit an increase of 45,000 Hogs. Foreign Provision markets were dull and dragging early in the week and prices ruled lower, but more steadiness prevailed toward the close, and there was a partial recovery in prices. Domestic markets rather quiet, with a limited business in most descriptions. The stocks of all kinds are quite liberal, but the production at present is on a moderate scale. Early in the week, the feeling was rather easy, with considerable pressure to sell, and prices declined materially all around. At the reduction, the demand was improved somewhat—mainly from "shorts"—and there was a moderate rally in prices. Toward the close, there was some realizing, especially by holders of small quantities, and prices receded moderately all around, and the market closed rather steady. The receipts of Products from the interior were fairly liberal, as packers are delivering on contracts. Shipments were fair, and widely distributed. A fair proportion destined to foreign markets. The demand on shipping account was limited. Exporters were not inclined to purchase, and merchants at the distributing centers were slow to take hold. Offerings of all kinds were fair, and holders were slow to grant concessions on some descriptions. Sales were comparatively light, and prices, as a rule, inclined in favor of buyers.

The rumor that Baltimore and Ohio is about to issue several millions of obligations is stated by Pennsylvania Railroad officials to be without foundation. These officials say that nothing of the kind is now in contemplation—either in the way of new issues or of treasury securities.

A St. Louis party who was in Chicago, Thursday, does not believe the poor crop reports that have been coming in the past two days, and says. "We have not had many bad reports at St. Louis. My advices from West Tennessee are that the crop prospects are the best they have ever seen. There are some reports here from the best people in Southern Illinois who say outlook there is good."

In the matter of the proposed merger of the Tennessee Coal and Iron, Sloss-Sheffield, and Republic Iron and Steel companies material difference of opinion has developed as to terms of consolidation a difference so important that it may defeat the plan. One interest wants a flat valuation; another wants value based on earnings. All the companies are doing good business, which weakens the incentive to consolidation.

A director of the Dominion Coal Company says he cannot see that the company can continue dividends upon the common stock until it has reduced its debt. He says the outlook is not good for floating new securities to pay debts with, and that while ultimately Dominion Coal common stock should sell higher he is in favor of suspending dividends until the company's indebtedness is materially reduced.

A traveling man who has been in the best Wheat counties of Kansas wired from Salina, Kan.: "Have been in north part of Ness, Russell, Barton, Rice, and McPherson counties; condition of Wheat steadily improves as you come northeast, but have seen more spotted and yellow Wheat than at any time on my trip. A Des Moines, Iowa, dispatch says: "For the benefit of farmers, the Rock Island road started a private car out, Monday morning, with Professor Holden, of Ames Agricultural College. Mr. Holden is to give fifteen to thirty-minute addresses to farmers along the line in regard to the poor quality of Corn for seed, and as the elevator men have been trying to get seed Corn wherever they can, it may result in getting a better Corn crop than if poor stuff is planted. Understand the other Iowa roads are to follow the Rock Island"

The 4 per cent Gold notes of the American Cigar Company that are being offered are part of the $10,000,000 issued when the company was formed over two years ago. There has been no change in either the capital stock or the 4 per cent Gold notes in the recent past. The total amount of stock outstanding is $9,975,000, while the outstanding notes amount to $10,000,000. The stock is largely held by the American and Continental Tobacco companies and interests closely connected with these companies No dividends have been paid on the stock. The earnings have been appropriated as working capital The company had a surplus on Dec. 31, 1903, of $2,302,070.

The Colorado Fuel and Iron Company is concentrating its operations in the Utah fields. To do this more effectively it is decreasing and in some instances abandoning entirely its ore mines in Southern New Mexico As soon as the company gets the new working capital that is provided for in the reorganization plan, it will be in position to develop its ore resources. This cannot be arranged, however, until the bondholders' protective committee is able to put through its reorganization. The debenture bondholders whose assent is necessary to the execution of the plan are nearly all in favor of it. An ugly snarl is likely to arise, however, because the outstanding bonds not deposited in favor of the plan are held by a number of people. The total amount of bonds in opposition or not assenting is comparatively small, but the number of holders is large.

The American Pneumatic Service Company owes about $25,000 which was incurred in the construction of its tubes in Chicago and St. Louis. The company will still have to expend about $250 000 to complete these two plants. This floating debt, however, is all in the hands of the directors and there is no special hurry to put out bonds to refund it. The management plans to sell $1,500,000 bonds when financial conditions permit of the sale upon favorable terms and this issue will pay off all floating indebtedness and leave the company with about $1,000,000 cash on hand. The question of dividends on the preferred stock will unquestionably be given consideration some time this year, for the directors look upon the suspension of these dividends more in the nature of a stockholders' loan to the company at a time when it needed the money for construction purposes.

It is said pledges have been given that with continuance of good business conditions during this year Missouri, Kansas and Texas preferred will be placed on a dividend basis next winter. The last annual report showed the company free from floating debt. Surplus earnings were equal to 8½ per cent on the $13 000,000 preferred stock, and while the seven months so far heard from in the present fiscal year show some falling off as compared with the corresponding period in 1903, it is not unlikely that final results for the full fiscal year may show up quite equal to those in the last annual report. The preferred is limited to 4 per cent dividends, so that to pay at the full rate would call for only $520,000 per annum, and apparently the company would be justified in paying out something to stockholders, assuming that crops yield well. In any case it is not likely that anything will be done until after the Presidential election.

The Chicago Inter Ocean says: "Kiln dried Corn has a place in the trade that no other grade can fill. It can be shipped everywhere without danger of getting out of condition, and, although it will not stand extensive handling without breaking, there is less risk in shipping it, so the large shippers and exporters say, than the regular contract Corn. The excess moisture is taken out and there is no danger of its getting heated when in transit, particularly during the late winter and early spring months. An exporter said: 'Last year there was a lot of kiln dried Corn here that no one wanted. Finally it was sent to London and arrived there in good condition and sold at a fine profit. At the same time the same house sent several cargoes of natural dried Corn, which reached its destination in a heated condition and had to be sold at a heavy loss. They can all talk about kiln dried Corn, but I want to tell you that it is the safest thing to ship in the spring, especially when it has to be held in boats for some time.'"

The present financial position of the Fore River Ship and Engine Company is said by the Boston News Bureau to be due to the fact that the previous management, while entitled to credit for the erection of so large an industry, did not know how profitably to operate the works after they had them. With ex-Admiral Bowles in charge of the affairs of the company, ably assisted by Naval Constructor Smith the leading Boston financial interests are willing to put up the money to place the company upon its feet, on the ground that the time to enter the shipbuilding industry is when it is flat, as to-day, that it is bound to improve, and that when it does the Fore River Ship and Engine Company is in a position to get the full benefit of such improvement. Already President Bowles has succeeded in very materially reducing expenses, but he was unable to prevent the company taking very serious losses upon many of its contracts. With no fixed charges, a cash working capital of $350,000 and $300,000 additional to expend upon its plant, and a capable management, there is a basis for anticipating that the preferred stock of the company will be able to participate in dividends. Seven per cent upon $2,400,000 of preferred stock will call for $168,000, and contracts already on hand, after allowing for losses in the building of recent vessels, will upon a conservative estimate be more than sufficient to meet such dividend requirements.

FLOUR—No demand to speak of and the feeling is quite tame at the recent revision in prices.

WINTER WHEAT Was very quiet and about steady. A limited milling demand existed and the few cars of fresh arrivals of choice Wheat received met with good sale, but there was no shipping inquiry No. 2 Red in store quotably 94½@95¼c and fresh arrivals free on board quotable at $1 00@1 02 No. 3 Red fresh receipts sold at $1 01 for choice and ranged down to 95c for ordinary No 2 Hard fresh receipts sold free on board at 91@95c. No 3 Hard fresh arrivals sold at 8 @9c for ordinary to fair and a very choice car of Illinois yellow Wheat sold at 95c No 4 Hard poor Wheat sold at 66c

SPRING WHEAT—Only a light business doing. There was no shipping inquiry and the demand from millers was limited Market very quiet and without any special change No. 1 Northern in store offered at ¼c over May, and ¼c under May bid; quotably about the same as May, and ranged at 91⅞@92¼c and fresh arrivals free on board nominally 95@98c. No. 2 Northern fresh arrivals free on board quotably 88 97c No. 3 Spring fresh arrivals free on board sold at 90@92c, and ranged at 8 @9 c for ordinary to choice hard variety No. 4 Spring sold at 78@85c and ranged at 62@90c for poor to choice

REGULAR WHEAT—There was less pressure on Wheat as the day wore away, and the "bears" failed to gain control of the situation. The close showed May unchanged, while the more deferred months were up ¼@⅜c. One of the features toward the close was the cautious manner in which the room traders allowed Wheat to slip through their fingers. There was buying on every recession that caused the most conservative men to move slowly. The cash trade was about at a standstill insofar as round lots were concerned. No 1 Northern was held at ¼c over May, while ¼c under May was bid, and no trades were made. With a small increase in the visible supply, as compared with a big decrease last year, the room trading element continued to back away from the market In addition to this as a pronounced "bear" help was the better weather in all sections of the country, the change being favorable to both the Northwest and Southwest Damage reports again poured in from the Winter Wheat country but the buying orders from that section were small and widely scattered. Some of these damage claims were highly colored and received no more than passing notice. Letters from many of the most conservative milling concerns in the Southwest fail to show any very great damage in any section. The secretary of the Kansas Grain Dealers' Association says that rain is needed in the western quarter of Kansas, where 19,000,000 bu of Grain were raised last year and where the association places the prospects at not over 2[illegible] per cent of last year. There were scattered bad reports from Illinois, Missouri, Ohio and other States A rise from Liverpool when the price was off [illegible] that the weakening influence there was the Kansas State report which was accepted as "bearish" in London was ¼@⅜d lower Paris suffered ⅛@¼c decline Mark Lane Wheat was ⅜d higher Winter receipts were 158 cars, compared with 113 cars the same date a year ago. The country statistics for the week were "bearish" and caused considerable selling by "longs" and there were [illegible] lines put out, too There was an increase of 189,000 bu in the visible supply, compared with a decrease of 2 893,000 bu a year ago The total visible is now 31,309,000 bu, compared with 31 180,000 bu a week ago and 37,271,000 bu a year ago. The amount of Wheat and Flour (as Wheat) afloat, destined for Europe and the Continent increased 288 000 bu for the week, making the total amount 46 400,000 bu, compared with 32,8[illegible],000 bu a year ago Liverpool stocks increased 376 000 bu for the week, and are now 3 192,000 bu, against 2,120,000 bu a year ago Local Wheat stocks in public houses are now 2,166,000 bu, compared with 2,129,000 bu a week ago and 6,221,000 bu a year ago World's shipments were smaller than looked for and smaller than for the same period last year they were 9 352,000 bu for this week, 11,040 000 bu the week before, and 9,912,000 bu a year ago Only three mills started up at Minneapolis to-day where it was expected that all the mills would commence business There were reports of sales of Flour there, but these attracted little or no attention to speak of to-day. Receipts at Duluth 5 cars and at Minneapolis 250 cars, a total of 255 cars against 119 Saturday, 408 cars a week ago and 102 cars last year. Local receipts included 11 cars Winter 4 car Spring and 1 car mixed, a total of 16 cars, against 36 cars last year. Included in the above was none of contract grade. There were 4 cars and 19,000 bu from unlicensed elevators The estimated receipts for to-morrow were not reported. The withdrawals to day were 17,000 bu Receipts at Western points were 363,346 bu, against 375,621 last year. At Eastern points 30 368 bu, against 315,157 bu last year. Shipments from Western points were 195,100 bu, against 424 591 bu last year, and from Eastern points 800 bu, against 571 055 bu last year. Shipments of Flour were 17 964 brls. CROPS IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

[From Broomhall's Corn Trade News, April16.]

United Kingdom—Although the weather of the past week has been unsettled and rather cold, and sowing work has been stopped in many districts, still it has not been unseasonable and few are inclined to complain. If we now get a typical April with not too many storms, we shall probably be able to describe the spring of 19.4 as very favorable for the work on the whole. The aspect of the autumn-sown crop is still poor, but with nice growing weather there should be an improvement before long. As we had expected, last Saturday's official average price for British Wheat was rather lower, but we look for the loss to be regained in this week's returns. Country markets are still ruling very steady and prices move in sellers' favor.

Russia—A recent report received from St. Petersburg says there has been some improvement in the condition of winter crops, but an Odessa advice reports sharp frost and poor prospects. Our Nicolaieff correspondent writes that spring seeding is backward, and growers are likely to be too busy with this work in the near future to send forward very much Grain. Recent arrivals at the ports have been only moderate, but the quantities have been generally sufficient to prevent further reductions in the stock, and nearly all our correspondents say they are expecting good quantities to come down when the movement gets into full swing once more.

Roumania Further rains have fallen and the crop outlook remains satisfactory. A report just to hand from Braila says that with fine, warm weather from now onward, the crops and fieldwork would make excellent progress. Arrivals at shipping ports are fair by water, light by rail, but larger quantities are expected toward the end of the month.

Bulgaria—Correspondents at Bourgas write that the weather has been most favorable, and a good acreage has been seeded.

India—We have received no definite crop news during the week, but there is every reason to believe that harvest results in the early districts and prospects in the late districts are very satisfactory. Some very cheap lots of Wheat are being offered and shipments continue liberal Last week ended the Indian cereal year, in which the total Wheat shipment amounted to 5,800,000 qrs, compared with 2,300,000 qrs the previous season and 1,600,000 qrs in 1901-2.

Australasia—Further good rains are reported to have fallen in New South Wales. The export movement continues liberal, but the list of vessels "loading and chartered" now makes a smaller showing. The New South Wales statistician has confirmed the estimates of a big yield in that State, the surplus being reckoned at over 2,000,000 qrs.

Argentina—The improvement in the weather mentioned last week has been maintained. Arrivals at the ports are liberal, but there was a falling off in the shipments last week, and very few offers are being put forward.

France-Changeable weather was experienced last week, but the crops continue to receive favorable mention, and spring seeding is well advanced. Growers are too busy with field work to offer freely on country markets, and prices generally have been firmly held.

Italy and Spain The weather has been favorable and crop prospects are good.

Belgium—The crops are making slow growth, but this is regarded as rather favorable

Germany—During the greater part of last week the weather was dry, with cold, easterly winds, which gave rise to some fears of crop damage; at the close of the week, however, there was an improvement in the weather. Many districts are now reporting that native Wheat is comparatively scarce.

North Africa—Crop reports continue to be quite favorable.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON, April 15.—The Commercial Bulletin says: "The Wool market is dull. The condition of the goods market does not warrant heavy purchases of the raw material. Prices of the latter are slightly lower than three months ago, holders shading a bit to clean up supplies It is a buyers' market, but holders are not disposed to cut current prices. Stocks are limited and business equally so. There is a good deal of activity in the West. Buying in Utah has started, with 13@14c paid in the southern sections, and some medium clips taken at 11½@15c. The Nevada clip is selling as fast as sheared. In Wyoming the season will open in a week or ten days. The Southern California clip has been quietly bought up by three Boston houses Everywhere prices to the grower are fully as high as last year—in some instances higher Small stocks, bare lofts, and easy money in Boston are incentives to operations. The latest statistics as to the Argentine clip indicate a shortage as against last year of 120,000,000 lbs. of which about 100,000,00 lbs are cross-breds and 18,000,000 lbs merino This in great measure accounts for the comparative high prices for medium stock, which is what is being largely consumed through the dictates of fashion by the mills of the world.

"The shipments of Wool from Boston to date from Dec 31, 1903, are 68,518,576 lbs, against 75,958,975 lbs at the same date last year. The receipts to date are 55,943,162 lbs, against 61,913 008 lbs for the same period last year."

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Temperatures some higher and conditions in all respects much improved. Improved for Northwest and for the Corn and Oats territory. In only one respect is the map unfavorable The Southwest has no moisture, none in Kansas or Oklahoma.

Indications are the weather will be mostly fair in this district. Temperatures will moderate in the Northwest, but will fall slightly in this district.

A London dispatch says: "The money market already anticipates a still further reduction of the bank rate, large shipments of Gold being expected in the near future from various quarters to London."

The savings deposits of the State Bank of Chicago have passed the $6,000,000 mark. This department of the bank has had an exceptionally fine growth, forming slightly more than half of the bank's total business.

An official of the Crucible Steel Company, Friday, said there is a strong probability that there is much truth in the story that the company would be absorbed by the United States Steel Corporation. The Clarion Steel Company, owned by Crucible Steel, is the asset to be transferred first, after which the whole concern will go bodily into the trust, it is said,

Some surprise was caused in Iron and Steel circles at Pittsburg, Wednesday, by the decision of the United States Steel Corporation not to exercise its options on 45,000 tons of pig Iron for May delivery. These options expired April 10, but the corporation asked for an extension of a few days, which was granted. Wednesday the interests were notified that the pig Iron would not be needed.

Holders of Terre Haute and Peoria Railroad bonds are notified that interest due March 1, 1903, will be paid by Robert Winthrop & Co., 40 Wall street, New York, upon presentation for indorsement of payment of the certificates of deposit of the New York Security and Trust Company, under the agreement of Sept. 16, 1896, or upon presentation and surrender of the coupons. The interest on bonds deposited with Drexel & Co. of Philadelphia will be paid at the office of that firm upon presentation of certificates of deposit issued by them under the agreement.

It is stated that the members of the underwriting syndicate of the International Mercantile Marine Company a few days ago received interest on their commitments at the rate of 2½ per cent. The outlook for the company is said to be excellent. So far as first-class traffic is concerned, it is not up to the average for this time of year, but second and third class traffic and freight are abnormally high. The freight traffic, it is said, is surprising and third-class traffic is breaking records. The affairs of the company are moving smoothly, and, contrary to gossip, there is harmony in the management and between the directors and stockholders.

The Illinois Manufacturers' Association is arranging for a general meeting of manufacturers and shippers in all the territory covered by the official classification with a view of protesting against the new bill of lading which the official classification purposes to put into effect on Oct. 1. It appears that under cover of a uniform bill of lading the railroads purpose to make the shipper pay for protection against loss or damage to his goods. Heretofore railroads have been held responsible and have paid for all losses, but under the new rule if a shipper desires a guaranty by which the railroad assumes liability he will be compelled to pay a premium of 20 per cent of the tariff rate. The association has procured an opinion from a prominent attorney that such a charge would be illegal and contrary to the provisions of the Elkins law.

A decision of nearly as great importance in the independent telephone field as the Berliner transmitter decision was in the Bell telephone field has been delivered by the United States Court of Appeals, sitting in Chicago. The decision closes the litigation which has been carried on for years regarding the patent of H. M. Fisk for "self-restoring drops," in which the indicators on a telephone switchboard are mechanically restored to place when the proper connections are made. The Fisk patent was sustained in every particular, and an injunction was issued restraining infringers and ordering an accounting. The Western Telephone Manufacturing Company of Chicago is the owner of the Fisk patents, and by the decision becomes one of the most important factors in the independent telephone movement. Many hundreds of thousands of the drops which infringe on the Fisk patents are in use all over the country, and both the manufacturers and users are liable to actions for damages The Western Telephone Manufacturing Company announces that it is about to begin a widespread campaign to enforce its rights.

WEATHER BUREAU REPORT.

The following is an abstract of the weekly weather report issued at Washington to-day:

Over the southern portion of the Spring Wheat region seeding has been actively carried on and is nearly finished in Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota, but in North Dakota and Minnesota very little seeding has been done.

Seeding has also been in active progress on the North Pacific Coast, also one-half the area in Washington has been sown. In Missouri and over the greater part of Kansas and Nebraska, Winter Wheat has made good growth, but needs warmer weather.

Reports from the Ohio Valley on this crop continue very unfavorable. Slight improvement in Southern Indiana is indicated in Winter Wheat. In Illinois it has made little growth and its condition is less promising than ten days ago.

In Ohio and in Central and Northern Indiana a large acreage will be plowed up for other crops. Winter Wheat has made splendid growth on the Pacific Coast, especially in Washington and Oregon.

Cotton planting has progressed rapidly throughout the central and southern portions of the belt, and has begun in the more northerly districts. In portions of Georgia and Texas and chopping has begun in Florida and Southern Georgia and throughout the belt. The weather has been much too cold for germination and growth, the reports indicating that considerable replanting will be necessary in portions of the central and western districts.

Russia—Crop conditions varied in different sections. At the moment weather is, as a whole, too dry. With a cessation of spring work large shipments not unlikely. India—The late districts continue to send in favorable reports."

REVIEW OF TO-DAY'S MARKETS

FLOUR—The market shows no signs of improving. Only a light local trade and no demand to speak of from abroad.

WINTER WHEAT—Was quiet and about ½@1c lower. There was a little milling demand, and that was about all there was doing in the market. No. 2 Red in store sold at 96½c to the extent of 5,000 bu, which was about 4¾c over May price, and ranged at 94@97c. Fresh arrivals free on board ranged at 96c@$1 02. No. 3 Red fresh arrivals free on board ranged at 95c@$1 00. No 2 Hard fresh receipts free on board sold at 94c and ranged at 90@94c. No. 3 Hard fresh receipts free on board sold at 83½@88c and ranged at 82@92c for poor to choice. No. 4 Hard sold at 60c.

SPRING WHEAT—Very quiet and prices about 1c lower. There was only a light trade and market quiet, but with enough demand to take up the fresh arrivals. No. 1 Northern in store quotable at 91¼@92c, and fresh arrivals free on board at 95@98c. No. 2 Northern nominally 87@96c. No. 3 Spring fresh receipts sold at 91@92c and quotable at 85@95c for ordinary to very choice. No. 4 Spring sold at 69@81c for ordinary to fair and ranged at 62@80c for poor to choice.

REGULAR WHEAT—There were losses of ⅝@1⅜c for this cereal, and there were no pronounced recoveries from the bottom prices reached. The trade was "bearish" with the foreign crop news a help for them late in the day. The seaboard reported 22 loads taken for export; 5,000 bu No. 2 Red was sold here at 96½c—about 4¾c over May. There were quite a number of circumstances against the "bull" in Wheat to-day. The weather was better, both in the Northwest and the Southwest and those sections were on the selling side. Seeding was reported as being pushed in the Northwest, in those sections where there has been too much moisture, and the promise is for showers in Kansas and other portions of the Winter Wheat country. Crop damage reports were still pouring in from the Southwest, but they were trampled under the feet of the sellers during the forenoon. The Bradstreet's report on the world's available supply was a "bearish" document itself. It showed a decrease of 617 000 bu for the week compared with a decrease of 6,926,000 bu a year ago. Reports from the East said that Manitoba was offering Wheat cheaper, and that kind of Wheat has had a sharp relative decline in the past two weeks. Milwaukee reported the sale of 5,000 bu No. 2 Red taken by millers, and the local trade reported inquiries for Wheat on milling account quite general. Cables showed but little change. Liverpool steady to ⅛d higher. Paris steady to ½c lower. Antwerp unchanged. A special cable from Liverpool said that the market there was kept below a certain level owing to "longs" selling out, induced by anticipation of the duty not being reimposed, but that an improved spot demand late in the day was a help. There was a decrease in contract stock of 48,119 bu for the week, total amount now in public houses being 991,617 bu, compared with 1,039,7[illegible] bu a week ago and 2,911,466 bu a year ago. Total Wheat stocks in all positions at Chicago are 4,647,000 bu, compared with 9,025,000 bu a year ago. Crop prospects abroad are better, generally speaking. Winnipeg receipts 142 cars compared with 132 a year ago. A Duluth message says cash Corn is at a standstill. Minneapolis Wheat stocks increased 70,000 bu the past three days. Receipts at Duluth 25 cars and at Minneapolis 87 cars, a total of 112 cars, against 255 yesterday, 126 cars a week ago, and 68 cars last year. Local receipts included 39 cars Winter 10 cars Spring and no mixed, a total of 49 cars, against 55 cars last year. Included in the above was none of contract grade. There were no cars and 6,000 bu from unlicensed elevators. The estimated receipts for to-morrow were not reported. The withdrawals to-day were 61,650 bu. Receipts at Western points were 274,120 bu, against 370,610 last year. At Eastern points 39,630 bu, against 158,130 bu last year. Shipments from Western points were 279,660 bu, against 548,796 bu last year, and from Eastern points 24,000 bu, against 40,783 bu last year. Shipments of Flour were 11,230 brls. Exports of Wheat in Flour were equal to 64,535 bu.

Future Deliveries of Regular Wheat—Good trade and prices lower.

CORN—A loss of 2¼c was made in the May future, while the more deferred months declined only ⅜@⅝c. The "longs" sold May right up to the very close. The more deferred deliveries recovered some from the lowest prices reached. Cash sales were 150,000 bu here and 8 loads at the seaboard. There was an almost complete collapse in May Corn market, with the principal "long" throwing over all that the "shorts" felt like absorbing. One or two local "longs" sold July Corn on a large scale, and the principal "short" in that month was also a seller. The contract stock of Corn now held here shows an increase of 617,791 bu for the week; the total is now 4,181,81[illegible] bu, against 3,801,048 bu last week and 2,27[illegible],381 bu a year ago. The world's available supply decreased 918,000 bu for the week, compared with a decrease of 2,481,000 bu a year ago. Foreign advices firmer. Liverpool was ⅛d higher and reported a better demand for desirable Corn on spot. Local receipts were 158 cars, with 49 cars a year ago. There were 107 cars, and 8,000 bu switched from private to public house. Western receipts were 316,320 bu compared with 375,451 bu a year ago. Clearances were small at 110,411 bu, against 213,000 bu a year ago. Car lots were in good demand early, and sales were made at about yesterday's prices, but the close was 2@2½c lower. No. 2 sold at 4¾c under May, and fresh receipts to go to store sold early at 53c, and closed at 50½c. No. 2 Yellow sold at 53c, and closed at 51c. No. 3 sold at 52c for Nebraska, and closed at 49@49¾c. No. 3 White sold at 52c for Nebraska.

Corn by sample—Was in rather light supply and demand good. Sales were made at about yesterday's prices for the contract grades and for Corn that could be worked into the contract grades but closed about 2@2½c lower. The low grades of Nebraska sold 2c per bushel lower and closed weak. Sales on track and free on board. No Grade sold at 41@40c. No. 4 at 47@50c. No. 3 at 43@52½c. No. 3 Yellow at 52½@54c. No. 2 Yellow at 53 @54½c. No. 3 White at 50@53c. Billed through: No. 4 at 47@48c.

Future Deliveries of No. 2 Corn—Lower all around, with the selling of May by the principal "long" and the selling of July on both "long" and "short" account the feature. The declines for the day were ⅜@2¼c.

APRIL—Closed at 49⅛c nominal, or ⅝c below the May.

MAY—Sold at 49¾@52⅛c. Opened at 52c to 52⅛c; sold at 52c, to 52⅛c, to 51⅝c, to 52c, to 50½c, to 51c, to 51⅛c, to 50⅝c, to 49¾c, to 50¼c, to 49¾c, closing with the latter bid.

JULY—Sold at 49⅛c to 50⅜@50½c. Opened at 50¼, 5 ⅛c, sold at 50⅜@ ... to 50c to 0⅜c to ... to 49¼c, to 49⅝c, closing at 49¼ ... asked.

SEPTEMBER—Sold at 48⅝@49⅜c. Opened at 49⅜c to 49⅛c, sold at 49¼c, to 4 ...c to 49c, to 48⅞c, to 48⅝c, closing at latter price asked.

DECEMBER—Sold at 41¼@44½c. Opened at 45c, sold to 4 ..., to 44¼c, where it closed.

OATS—Closed weak at about the inside after advancing ¼@⅜c. From the low point there was a break of ⅝@¾c. The decline was on preddictions of better weather and in sympathy with the decline in other Grains. Local operators bought early and sold later. Shipping business was better, the late opening of navigation causing Eastern buyers to take hold more freely for rail shipment. Cash sales for shipment were 100,000 bu standard, and there were rumors of 200,000 bu being taken from carriers by shippers. Contract stocks are 2,630 000 bu, a decrease of 65,771 bu for the week. No. 3 at 37½@39. No. 3 White at 39½@42c. No. 2 at 39½@40½c. Billed through: No. 4 White at 38½@39c. No. 3 White at 40c. Standard at 41½c. At the river: No Grade at 35c. No. 4 White at 31@37c. No. 3 White at 38c.

Future Deliveries of Contract Oats—Were active and higher early, but weakened and closed lower.

APRIL—Sold at May price to ⅛c over; closed at 37⅞c.

MAY—Active. Sold at 37⅝@38⅛c. Opened at 37⅞c to 38c, sold to 38⅛c, to 37⅝c, to 37¾c at close.

JULY—Active. Sold at 37⅛@37¾c and at 38c. Opened at 37⅜c to 37¾c, sold to 38c, to 37⅛@37¼c, to 37¼c at close.

RYE—The market was dull and weaker. Prices quotably 1c lower. Buyers and sellers were apart in their views and there was no disposition on the part of operators to come together. BARLEY—The market was quiet and unchanged. Offerings were small and the demand was of a like nature. For malting Barley the market was steady under small offerings. Demand was good for choice to fancy, while the low grades were reported as dull. Screenings were dull at former quotations. Screenings quotable over a range of 27@38c for poor to choice. Barley, mixing or feed quotable 32@38c for poor to good. Malting low grade quotable at 38@41c; common, 42@43c, fair was about 44@47c; good, 48@52c; choice, 53@55c, fancy, 56@57c, extra fancy in an even running lot possibly a shade over. To-day's postings gave 36 cars inspected in.

SUMMER SUPPLY OF HOGS.

The summer season in the Pork packing industry is recognized as representing the eight months from March to October, inclusive. The question of available supplies of Hogs for a period of several months is always one surrounded with much uncertainty, and can not be based on information other than general judgement, which varies with individual observers in the same field of observation. Nevertheless, it has been our custom in gathering together of such opinions has been serviceable in securing worthy results as to indicated re-sumption of supply.

Each year for a long time the Price Current has made extended inquiries in the early part of the summer packing season in regard to probable supplies of Hogs for the period named, and a year ago the details presented were attended with the following expression: "The reasonable conclusion from these evidences in regard to matters on sides of Hogs for the next few months is that some deficiency may be shown for the first half of the season, which is likely to be balanced by an increase subsequently, and that, all things considered, the season may show a reduction of eight months, representing nearly 6 per cent, and an increase of nearly 8 lbs in average weight of Hogs—the gain in numbers being mostly in the latter part of the season."

Prices have been remunerative to producers of Hogs and the animals have been free from unusual depletion in numbers from maladies. The breeding has been reasonably liberal, so that immediate revival of Hog raising could not be appropriately expected.

Following the information received from the larger markets, with reference to expected supplies, the result is as follows, as compared with, 1899 for last year Chicago 40 to 10, Kansas City, 10 to 10, Omaha 10 to 10, St. Louis 10 to 10, Sioux City, Jos-eph. 100 to 105, Indianapolis, 95 to 95, Milwaukee, 90 to 110; for the remaining other packing points of of importance, 100 to 110. From interior correspondents the information points to about the full wing: For Ohio, 95 per cent; Indiana, 100; Illinois, 95; Iowa, 90; Missouri, 100; Kansas, 100; Nebraska, 100. These averages point to about 98 as the general average for these States, which represent the greater part of the commercial supplies of Hogs.

The proportion of the Western summer packing in recent years represented by operations from July 1 to November 1, the last half of the period, has been as follows: 1903, 47 per cent; 1902, 44 per cent; 1901, 47 per cent; 1900, 45 per cent; 1899, 45 per cent; 1898, 47 per cent; 1897, 47 per cent. This implies that the four months in 10 3 were not unusual in such operations.

The reasonable deduction from the evidences now available is that a moderate gain in numbers may be expected, compared with last year, and that the general range of weights likely reflect as much relative increase as the latter, but may possibly more, while the average weight will probably not be increased, and may fall somewhat short.

COMMON METHOD OF SEEDING BARLEY.

[From the Orange Judd Farmer, March 28.]

Success with this crop will result in proportion to the amount of work put on the seedbed before planting. This, more than any other small Grain, requires a fine, mellow seedbed, and neglect in this respect will result in an unsatisfactory crop. Begin by plowing at least 4 or 5 inches deep, then going over the land pulverizing clods and compacting the soil. Any of the rolling lands in the Middle West and Northwest will grow a satisfactory crop, although in some cases it may not be so profitable as others

As a rule, a moderately dry climate is best for Barley, as there is then less danger of it being colored between harvest and threshing time If Barley is damaged by rains or heavy dews after it is ripe, its value is greatly injured in the estimates of brewers. Of course, it is not hurt as far as feed is concerned, but brewing grades are those which fix prices.

The young plant is rather susceptible to late frosts, consequently it is not advisable to seed until the ground is pretty well warmed up in the Spring. In most regions, where large quantities of it are grown, it is usually seeded just after the Wheat has been put in the ground. Formerly it was sown broadcast, using about 2 bu to the acre. Of late years drills have come into common use, and the quantity of seed reduced to 1 bu or 1¼ bu

Where the very best Barley is wanted it must be cut with a self-rake, so that the Barley may be allowed to cure thoroughly before it is bound. This requires so much time and is so expensive that it is seldom practiced, except where a special trade is sought. The usual method is to cut with a self-binder, the same as any other small Grains, and taking care of it in the same manner. Of course, it is very profitable to rush threshing so that it can be put in the bin before it has been injured by bleaching.

Barley is a hardy crop, is remarkably free from insect ravages, and is well adapted to the newer soils in the Western and Northwestern States. It is always a part of the Grain crop of any new country, and can take the place of some of the other Grains, should there be a shortage in Oats or Corn for feeding animals.

THE ARGENTINE SITUATION.

[From the River Plate Review, Feb 27.]

We are now just commencing the export season, yet the port of Buenos Ayres is not large enough to deal with the shipping. As regards discharging, this goes on very slowly, due to the apparent incapacity of the officials in charge of the port to deal with shipping. As regards the exportation, this cannot be dealt with, and the authorities have already given up to stop the entry of wagons so as to prevent a general block, as the primitive methods of loading are want tend to make the export operations so long and tedious, and until shipping in bulk becomes the general rule there is not likely to be any improvement in the port of Buenos Ayres. The opening of the Dock Sud on the Riachuelo, which it is expected will take place in a day or two, will relieve matters, but if shippers would only make more use of the port of La Plata there would be a general improvement. All our ports are now working at their highest capacity, and the other day Rosario shipped just over 13,000 tons of Grain in one day.

AUSTRALIAN GRAIN SAMPLES.

[From San Francisco Commercial News, April 4.]

James De Conlay, Jr., a special Australian press correspondent, on a trip around the world, exhibited yesterday, in Chief Inspector Henry C Bunker's office in the Merchants' Exchange, a large variety of samples of Australian Grain, which attracted a good deal of attention from millers. There were 80 varieties of Wheat, Corn and Oats grown in Queensland, Victoria and South Australia placed on exhibition, and the quality of all was declared exceptionally fine. The Wheat samples showed would grade about 1 on a new basis of the corresponding grades of our own stock, and some of the feed Barley exhibited was nearly on a par with our brewing The sample of Smart's Early Australian Wheat met with a good deal of favor, as a crop of 80,000 bu, with 27,000,000 bu exportable surplus.

WHEAT PROSPECTS IN CALIFORNIA.

The outlook in California at present good, although we can no longer look for the phenomenal crops of a few years ago With a few showers in April and favorable weather in May, a yield of 700,000 tons may be reached, but unless conditions remain exceptionally favorable that figure will be cut down to at least 500,000 or 600 00 tons. The weather in March was too cold and wet to give the plant a healthy growth. In the Sacramento Valley the Grain is looking well in nearly all places except the overflowed districts, and excellent reports are received from the northern portion of the San Joaquin, but in the southern portions, along the Southern coast, and in the South the hot weather has dried the soil quickly and more rain will be needed soon.

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

There is a light shower at Oklahoma, 01., and a trace at Ft. Worth. There are traces of rain in the Ohio Valley This is all the precipitation the map shows. Temperatures in the extreme North are some higher, in Dakotas and Minnesota about stationary. They are higher in the Southwest.

Indications are for fair and cool in this section, although temperature will rise somewhat. The Western storm will advance slowly across the Rockies and probably cause showers as far east as Missouri River Wednesday or Wednesday night.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Burlington, Vt., has sold $37,000 of 4 per cent twenty-five years bonds at 105.079.

The Occidental Elevator, Minneapolis, Ind., was damaged by fire Sunday, to the extent of $15,000; insured.

The 6240 Revere, Mass., 4 per cent thirteen-year serial sewer coupon bonds were awarded, Friday, at 103 65.

It is said that the new plant to be built by the Quaker Oats Company at Battle Creek, Mich., will cost $300,000.

A traveling man wired from Kansas City, Monday: "Condition of Wheat improves from Phillipsburg east; possibly half crop from there to Belleville; from Belleville on into Kansas City full crop with favorable weather; from Topeka to Kansas City Wheat looks to be perfect. Think this condition in this eastern district makes the average traveling man think we are to have a big crop in Kansas."

The Equitable Equitable Life Insurance Company went into the hands of receivers in the Circuit Court, Thursday, at Baltimore, upon the application of the State Insurance Commissioner and upon an answer filed by the company in which the appointment of receivers was consented to. The receivers were required by the court to give a bond of $20,000, this amount being double the value of the only assets the company has, the asset being the $10,000 deposited with the insurance commissioner, as required by law.

The Chicago Inter Ocean says: "It looks as though the managers of the iron line boats have been given assurance that all differences will be settled with the labor unions this week, or at least in time to get the boats started soon after the straits are clear of ice and the season open to Lake Erie. Evidence of this is found in the fact that nearly all of the Buffalo lines have commenced receiving freight and engaging crews for sail. The industry represents an investment of over $1,000,000, but the directors say that for some time they have been running only four days a week and doing an unprofitable business. The Canadian tariff preference to British goods allows the British manufacturer to lay his goods down in Canada at less than the Canadian cost of production. The Canadian Pacific is the only canal, while that of the United States in the same blass of goods ranges from 60 to 180 per cent.

It is understood that there has been considerable discussion among the directors of the Chicago Title and Trust Company as to the advisability of buying up or otherwise retiring a portion of the company's capital stock. As the company is now constituted it has more capital than it knows how to keep profitably employed without going considerably outside of its special business The large earnings in the company's contracts and guaranty departments. The trust business alone is a fair profit, but the loans and mortgages and the building are said not to earn the dividends paid on the money used in that line The company could conduct the most profitable part of its business probably with one-half of the present capital.

The sales of refined sugars thus far this year, guaged by refiners' meltings, have been the largest in the history of the American Sugar Refining Company. Since the first of the year an average profit of 6c a pound has accrued to the refiners, which amount, with the bounty output, be represented in large net earnings from the past three months' operations. The cane sugar meltings, in tons, from Jan. 1 to April 1, for a series of years, follow: 1904, 492,000 tons; 1903, 380,000 tons; 377,000 tons; 1901, 383,000 tons; 1900, 375,000 tons. The output of the American Sugar Refining Company in 1903 was 1,369,850 tons, on which there was an average profit of .36 a pound. On the basis of these two items, net earnings for 1903 would compare with previous years as follows:

Net earnings	$12, 78,856	$12,80,807	$13,250,000
Pfd. dividends	8,160,000	8,160,000	3,150,000
Balance	$9,128,8:6	$9,720,807	$10,100,000
Per cent on common stock	29	24	23

The above earnings take no consideration of any profits from the National Sugar Refining Company (owned by the American Sugar Refining Company) and the coffee and banking business.

The vice president and general manager of the Peoria Gas and Electric Company says that his company has nothing to fear in connection with the pending litigation in the suprême Court of the United States. The only question at issue is whether the municipality shall have the power to regulate the rate at which gas is to be charged to the consumer. It will probably be a year or more before this question is finally decided, and in the meantime the price remains at $1 00 per 1 000 cubic feet. The net earnings last year, under the year ending Dec 31, 1903, after all expenses, depreciation, and taxes, were $201,660, the interest on the bonded debt being $60,000. The net earnings for January and February, 1904, were $29,000, on a basis of rent rate of increase, and con idering that the company laid some nineteen miles of new mains last fall, during which there has not yet been sufficient time in which to feel the benefit of the new mains for the present year should be at least $250,000. While the vice president seems to have no fear that the suit will be contested to sell gas at 75c, he said that if such be the case it would not affect the net earnings about $35,000, on the basis of the present consumption, and that the consumption would increase so rapidly in a year or two that this loss would be overc me very quickly.

The Castro Government in Venezuela is attempting to confiscate the property of the asphalt trust at Bermudez Lake because it is alleged that the American company aided the Matos revolution. The asphalt trust stent nearly $1 00,000 recently in defending its title to this property, which is valued at $10,000,000. Its confiscation by Castro would be a serious blow to the company.

COFFEE CONSUMPTION IN UNITED STATES.

[From the American Grocer, April 6.]

The United States leads all other nations as a consumer of Coffee, using nearly 1,000,000,000 lbs of raw Coffee every year. The imports in 1903 were less than in 1902, when stocks accumulated. It is conservative to take the average annual import for three years as better representing the quantity consumed, and that was 910,987,570 lbs having an average import value of 6 8· per pound.

The net importation for ten years and per capita consumption were as follows:

	Net imports. Pounds	Av. import cost per pound. Cents.	Consumption per capita. Pounds.
1903	867,395 063	6.5	10.79

Coffee loses from 12 to 16 per cent in roasting, with the average about 14 per cent, allowing for which we have a net yearly consumption for three years -1901 3—of 783,451,747 lbs. The bulk of the Coffee sold at retail will average about 20c per pound. On the basis that one pound of Coffee makes two gallons of infusion, we have as the measure of the year's consumption 1,566 902,014 gallons at a cost of $156,69[illegible],261.

REVIEW OF TO-DAY'S MARKETS

FLOUR -With the exception of soft Winter Wheat descriptions prices have been marked down 10c all around. Trade is at a stand still.

WINTER WHEAT—Was quiet and prices for regular in store grade declined fully 2c, while fresh arrivals of choice Wheat showed only slight decline. So little Wheat arriving it finds buyers from day to day, and prices little better than nominal. No. 2 Red in store nominally 93@94c and fresh arrivals free on board quotably 98c@$1 02. No. 3 Red fresh arrivals free on board nominally about 95c@$1 00. No. 2 Hard fresh receipts, a choice car, sold free on board at 95c, and ranged down to 84@90c for ordinary. No. 3 Hard fresh receipts free on board quotably 82@90c. No. 4 Hard sold at 78c.

SPRING WHEAT—Ruled quiet and prices 1@2½c lower. Demand light, but a few lots were taken by millers. No. 1 Northern sold to the extent of 10,000 bu ½c under May in store and quotable at 88@91c and fresh arrivals free on board ranged at 83@87c. No 3 Spring sold at 86c and quotable at 81@95c for ordinary to choice. No. 4 Spring sold at 65@70c for ordinary to fair and at 81@85c for good.

REGULAR WHEAT—Losses were shown for the day of 1½@2½c, May showing most weakness. The reported cash demand from millers at Toledo, the sales of 1 boat loads by the seaboard and 10,000 bu No 1 Northern here at ½c under May helped to steady the market. Trade grew rather small late and was only between room traders. On the whole, the day's business was quite large, and a good improvement was shown in outside trade especially on Northwestern and Southwestern account. Rains in many sections of the Southwest, where they were badly needed, and a promise of more caused the whole list to decline in price, following an early free buying by a coterie of room traders who believed that Wheat would do better on the rains in the Southwest, and the continued bad crop reports from the Ohio Valley and Indiana. The selling orders came from the Northwest and the Southwest, and it was also said that the seaboard disposed of some of its "long" Grain. Temperatures in the Northwest were higher, but there was cold weather in the Ohio Valley—under freezing. Liverpool did not follow Chicago's break of yesterday, showing a loss of only ⅛@¼d. Paris was off equal to ¼@½c per bu and Antwerp was unchanged. London closed with a loss of ⅛@¼d, recovering some of its early loss. The weekly Government crop bulletin reported an unfavorable week for crops all over the Winter Wheat belt. This report was made up before the rains of last night. Broomhall in a special cable says that the American weekly crop bulletin was responsible for the easy feeling in that market. Receipts at St. Louis and Kansas City were 26,000 bu, compared with 147,000 bu a year ago. Shipments at both points to-day were 122,000 bu. Primary receipts were 105,000 bu less than the same day a year ago. Minneapolis Wheat stocks increased 85,000 bu in five days, due to small milling demand. Receipts at Duluth 10 cars and at Minneapolis 102 cars, a total of 112 cars, against 112 yesterday, 72 cars a week ago, and 84 cars last year. Local receipts included 13 cars Winter, 10 cars Spring and no mixed, a total of 23 cars, against 35 cars last year. Included in the above was none of contract grade. There were also 8 cars and no bu from unlicensed elevators. The estimated receipts for to-morrow were not reported. The withdrawals to-day were 30,100 bu. Receipts at Western points were 196,168 bu against 301,302 last year. At Eastern points 30,921 bu, against 305,115 bu last year. Shipments from Western points were 206,920 bu, against 478,580 bu last year, and from Eastern points 7,200 bu, against 165,820 bu last year. Shipments of Flour were 88,483 brls. Exports of Wheat in Flour were equal to 400,473 bu.

SEPTEMBER — New Style—Sold at 80⅞@82c. Opened with sales at 81⅝c to 81¾c; sold to 82c, to 81¾, 81⅝c, to 81⅜c, to 81½c, to 81c, to 81⅛c, to 80⅞c, to 81⅛c, and closed at 81⅛c.

DECEMBER Sold at 81½c to 81⅛c.

CORN—A further sharp decline was registered. May showing a loss of 1⅛c, and the more deferred months were ⅜@½c lower. The seaboard reported 5 loads for export, but no sales were made here. The unloading of "long" May Corn by the principal holder was again the feature of this market and the cause of the sharp downturn in prices. The May Corn sold to a discount under the July. Commission houses had both May and July for sale, some of it doubtless coming out of the hands of "longs." On the break there was an active demand from "shorts," who picked up the Corn and took their profits. There were rains in Iowa and Missouri and further moisture is promised for those States, but as neither one is shipping out any great amount of Corn the weather in that section will not cut much figure in the Chicago receipts. Liverpool was ⅛d lower. Local receipts were 75 cars, with 22 contract; 81 cars and 16,000 bu were switched from unlicensed houses and 18,000 bu from store. Corn on ocean passage was off 1½d. Primary receipts were 303,869 bu, compared with 23,000 bu a year ago. Clearances from the seaboard were small at 76,000 bu. Car lots were in only fair supply and the demand good. Prices ruled steady to 1c lower as compared with yesterday's close. No 2 sold at 49¼@50c and close about 19¾c. No 2 White sold at 49½c. No. 3 sold at 48@49c, and that the close. No 3 Yellow sold at 50c, and closed at 49½@50c. No 3 White sold at 49c.

Corn by sample. The demand was good and offerings only moderate. Prices steady to 1c lower compared with the inside, or about 3c lower than the outside of yesterday. Sales on track and free on board: No Grade sold at 40@45½c. No. 4 at 46@50c. No 3 at 48@49c. No. 3 Yellow at 49½@50c. No 2 at 49½@49⅞c. No 2 Yellow at 49¾@52c. No 3 White at 49c. No 2 White at 50½@51c. Billed through: No Grade at 41c. No. 4 at 45¾@47c. No. 8 at 46¾c. No 3 Yellow at 48½c.

Future Deliveries of No. 2 Corn—Further liquidation of "long" May was the feature of the day. It lost 1⅛c, while the more deferred months were off only ⅜@½c. Trade moderate and feeling nervous.

APRIL—Closed at 48¼c nominal, or ½c under May.

MAY—Sold at 48⅛@49⅞c. Opened at 49⅞c to 49¾c, sold to 49⅜c, to 49⅛c, to 49¼c, to 49½c, to 49½c to 49¼c, to 48½c, to 49c, to 48⅛c, to 48¾c, closing at latter price bid.

JULY—Sold at 48⅝@48¾c to 49⅜c. Opened at 49⅛@49¾c, sold to 49c, to 49¼c, to 49c, to 49⅛c, to 48⅞@48¾c, to 48⅞c, to 48¾c, to 48⅞c, closing at 48¾@48⅞c bid.

SEPTEMBER—Sold at 48⅜@48⅞c. Opened at 48⅞c to 48½c; sold to 48⅝c, to 48½c, to 48⅞c, to 48¾c, to 48⅞c, to 48¾c to 48½c, closing at 48½@48⅝c.

DECEMBER—Sold at 44⅛@44½c. Opened at 44⅛c, sold to 44½c, to 44⅛c, where it closed.

OATS Were depressed by general liquidation and in sympathy with other Grains. The attempt to secure a bulge at the start was lost after prices had worked up ⅛@¼c and a drop of ⅝@1⅛c followed, May leading. The close was at a loss of ¾c on May, ¼c on July and steady for September. Trading was more general. The weather map showed rains in Southwest. Cash business was 60,000 bu. Receipts for 60,000 bu Standard were cancelled. Arrivals were 16 cars and 10 cars Standard came from private elevators. Withdrawals for shipment were 41,300 bu. Seaboard clearances were 19,710 bu. Car lots in store were steady to ½c lower. Standard in store closed at 31⅞@37⅞c, as to location.

Oats by sample were in moderate request and supply small. Prices were steady to ½c lower. Sales on track and free on board: No. 4 White at 33@41c. No. 3 White at 39@41c. Billed through. No. 4 White at 37¼@38½c. No. 3 at 37c. No. 3 White at 39½@40c. Standard at 40¼@41½c. At the river: No. 4 at 33c. No. 4 White at 3 5@36¼c. No. 3 White at 38c.

Future Deliveries of Contract Oats—Were stronger and higher early, but lower later.

APRIL—Closed at 37¾c.

MAY Good trading. Sold at 37@38c. Opened at 37⅝c to 38c, sold to 37c, to 37¼c at close.

JULY—Active. Sold at 36¾c and at 37½@37⅝c. Opened at 37⅜@37½c to 37½c sold at 37½@37⅝c, to 36¾c, to 37c at close.

SEPTEMBER Good trading. Sold at 31⅛@31⅞c. Opened at 31¾c, sold to 31⅞c, to 31⅜c, to 31⅝c, at close.

DECEMBER—First of season. Sold at 31½@32c. Opened at 32c, closed at 31½c.

RYE Was dull and prices about 1@2c lower than yesterday. Cash lots even free barrivals, very dull and only salable to speculators. Offerings fair, influenced by the general weakness in other Grains, and demand light. Two cars were received and 8,600 bu withdrawn from private warehouse. There were no export clearances from the seaboard. No 2 in store nominally about 68c and fresh receipts to go to store sold at 67c. No. 3 to go to store sold at 6 @64c.

Future Deliveries of No. 2 Rye Offerings fair and demand light. May sold at 69c to 67c, and closed at 67c bid. July sold at 65c and closed at 65c bid.

BARLEY—There were a number of cars of low grade Barley, feed mixing and Screenings around, and all were very dull. Demand for feed and mixing account exceedingly limited. A few cars of fair malting Barley on sale were taken at former prices. Of good to choice the market was bare. The better grades continue in some request. They were quotably salable, steady and firm. Only 11 cars posted to-day. For Screenings there was a quotable range of 25@31c for poor to choice. Barley, mixing or feed, quotable 31@34c for poor to good, with some very poor part Screenings sold at 28½c. Malting—low grade quotable at 38@41c; common 42@43c; fair was about 44@47c, good 48@52c; choice 53@55c; fancy, 56@57c; extra fancy in an even running lot possibly a shade over.

SEEDS—There was a stronger market for Timothy, with some advance, while at the same time Flax ruled weak and lower. These were the only changes. Volume of business done was small in all lines.

Timothy—The undertone seemed to be a little stronger. Cash Seed offered sparingly, and there was some demand. September offerings on the market for some time were withdrawn, and there was some inquiry, but no regular bids were heard. The nominal quotation for contract spot or April—$2 90—suggested about ¼c advance. Country lots were quotable at $2 0 @2 85 for poor to very fancy, outside for extra fine, not hulled, fair to good quotable at $2 4 @2 65, choice $2 60 @2 70 and rough, dark and foul lots about $2 @2 4.

Flax—Sympathizing with a lower market in the Northwest there was a decline in prices here. Compared with yesterday's quotations there was 2@2½c decline. A car of Northwestern cash Seed was sold and that was all there was done. Local movement continues very small with receipts of 45 cars or 1 985 bu, and taken out 3 cars or 2,903 bu. There also was but a small movement in the Northwest Minneapolis getting 1 cars and Duluth 4 cars. Values to-day were as follows: No 1 Northwestern or No. 1 from the Northwest quotable at $1 11½. No. 1 was nominally $1 08 bid and Rejected quotable at $1 02@1 06—outside for choice from the Northwest. April nominally $1 06 and May at $1 07 bid, with sellers at $1 08. September nominally $1 13.

Clover—Was quotably steady. It was salable at former prices, especially if good in quality. Market without offerings, aside from a few bags, not enough to mention. Quotable: Contract grade about $10 75. Country lots, common to choice, $7 75 @10 00, fancy above, mixed with Buckhorn or other weed Seeds $7 00@8 25; poor, cleaned out of Timothy, very foul, down to $3 00@6 00. Such lots as usually come to market when ordinary to good quotable at $8 50@9 70.

Other Seeds—No change could be learned of. The several lines were said to be salable at late quoted prices. The regular market was devoid of offerings. Hungarian common and light color to choice dark quotable at $1 15@1 65. Common Millet $1 00@1 46 for poor to fancy. German Millet, $1 05@1 ... Siberian, 85c $1 05. Broom Corn and Early Fortune Millet, 80@95c. Mustard, 85c@$1 15. Buckwheat easy, good quality $1 10.

HOG PRODUCTS Rather an active business was transacted in the market for Hog Products, and the feeling was somewhat unsettled. Outside orders were moderate, and local trading was fairly active. Offerings were rather free, and the demand in a general way was only fair. Early the market was stronger owing to the moderate Hog supply and higher prices at the Yards and the filling of moderate orders and some buying by "shorts," caused a moderate advance in the prices of all the leading speculative articles. Later, there was a little pressure to sell, mainly in sympathy with the general weakness in Grains and prices receded considerably all around, and closed rather dull and dragging at about inside figures. Receipts of Hogs at the leading Western packing points were estimated at 66,500 compared with 72,300 one year ago. Foreign markets were steadier, and prices were advanced 6d on Hams and 3d on Lard. Domestic markets were quiet. Receipts of Products were quite good of Lard and Meats about 30 cars. Shipments were very light of Lard and Meats about 6 cars. Demand on shipping account was considerably improved, especially on export account, and offerings were fair. Sales were larger than for some time past, and prices were without material change.

Mess Pork Rather a good trade was reported in Mess Pork and the feeling was unsettled. Offerings were moderately free and the demand was fair. Prices irregular. Market opened rather firm, and prices ruled 5@10c higher, which was followed by a further appreciation of 5@7½. Later, a weaker feeling was developed, with some pressure to sell, and prices settled back 15@20c. About the middle of the session, ruled a trifle steadier, and prices rallied 2½@5c, but settled back 5@10c and the market closed steady. Demand on shipping account was light and offerings were moderate. Cash lots quotable at $11 87½@12 00.

MAY Offerings were moderately free, and the demand was fair. Sales were made at $11 90@12 17½. Opened at $12 05 to $12 10, sold to $12 17½, to $12 10, to $12 12½, to $11 97½, to $12 00 to $11 90, to $11 92½, and closed steady.

JULY In fair request and offerings were moderately free. Sales were made at $12 17½@12 37½. Opened at $12 35 to $12 37½, sold to $12 32½ to $12 37½, to $12 25, to $12 27½, to $12 2 ½, to $12 25, to $12 17½, to $12 22½, to $12 17½, and closed steady.

Lard Trade was fairly active in the Lard market, and the feeling was stronger in a general way. Foreign advices more favorable to holders. General demand somewhat improved and offerings were only fair. Market opened stronger and prices ruled 5@7½c higher. Later, the feeling was not quite so strong, and prices settled back ... and the market closed rather steady. The demand on shipping account was fair in a quiet way, and the offerings were small. Cash lots were quotable at $6 45@6 50. Loose lots in good request, with moderate offerings. Prices steady at about 10c discount on May figures. Leaf Lard in fair request and offerings were moderate. Prices were quoted steady at $6 00. Neutral in only moderate demand, with fair offerings. Prices quoted ... steady at $7 12½@7 25 for No. 1, and $7 ... for No. 2.

MAY Offerings were moderate and the demand was fair. Sales were made at $6 50@6 57½. Opened at $6 55 to $6 57½, sold to $6 52½, to $6 55, to $6 50, and closed steady.

JULY Demand was fairly active and offerings were not very large. Sales were made at $6 65@6 75. Opened at $6 72½ to $6 75, sold to $6 70, to $6 67½, to $6 65, to $6 67½, and closed steady.

SEPTEMBER Sold moderately at $6 80@6 87½, and closed quiet at $6 80.

Short Rib Sides—A fair trade was reported in the market for Short Rib Sides and the feeling was somewhat unsettled. Offerings were moderately free, and the demand was fairly active. Market opened rather strong and prices were 2½c higher, which was followed by a further advance of 2½@5c. Later, the feeling was rather easy, with some pressure to sell, and prices settled back 7½@10c, and the market closed rather steady. Shipping demand was light, and offerings were small. Cash lots quotable at $6 12½@6 25.

MAY Demand was moderate and offerings were only fair. Sales were made at $6 30@6 40. Opened at $6 35, sold to $6 37½@6 40, to $6 30, to $6 32½, to $6 30 and closed steady.

SEPTEMBER Sold moderately at $6 60@6 67½, and closed quiet at $6 60.

Other Meats Trade was a trifle more active and the feeling rather steady. Offerings were fair. Demand moderate for the home trade. Export inquiry somewhat larger. Green Meats in moderate supply and rather light demand and prices were unchanged. Pickled Meats were in only fair request to fill small orders and prices ruled steady. Dry Salted Meats were in small demand in a quiet way and prices ruled steady. Smoked Meats called for in fair quantities, especially in a jobbing way and prices favored buyers. CONDITION OF THE CROPS.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The weekly crop report shows that in nearly all districts east of the Rocky Mountains the week ending April 18 was unseasonably cold and very unfavorable for germination and growth. Farm work, however, in Missouri Valley and Southern and Middle Atlantic States made very favorable progress, but in the northern districts practically nothing has been done. The States of the upper lake region were covered with snow to a considerable depth during the latter part of the week, and frosts more or less injurious occurred as far south as the northern portion of the Gulf States. The Pacific Coast States experienced a week of highly favorable temperature conditions, but severe drouth continues from Central and Western Texas to the South Pacific Coast.

Preparations for planting Corn have been active, under favorable conditions, in the Missouri Valley and in the Middle Atlantic States, but this work has made slow progress in the Ohio Valley. Very little planting was done where the planting had not begun at the close of the previous week. In the Northern States low temperature has proved unfavorable by checking growth and germination.

In Missouri and over the greater portion of Kansas and Nebraska Winter Wheat has made good growth, but needs warmer weather. Reports from the Ohio Valley respecting this crop continue very unfavorable, although a slight improvement in Southern Indiana is indicated.

In Illinois Wheat has made little growth and its condition is less promising than ten days ago. In Ohio and in Central and Northern Indiana a large acreage will be plowed up for other crops. Winter Wheat has made splendid growth on the Pacific Coast, especially in Washington and Oregon.

Over the southern portion of the Spring Wheat region seeding has been actively carried on and is nearly finished in Iowa, Nebraska and Southeastern South Dakota, but in North Dakota and Minnesota very little seeding has been done. Seeding has also been in active progress on the North Pacific Coast, about one-half the area in Washington having been sown.

In the Central Mississippi and lower Missouri Valleys Oat seeding has been active and is well advanced, being finished in Kansas. The early Oats sown in this section are making a slow start. In the Upper Ohio Valley very slow progress with seeding has been made on account of the wet soil. In the Southern States the crop as a whole is doing well, but is in need of rain in the Carolinas, Western Texas, and Oklahoma.

Cotton planting has progressed rapidly throughout the central and southern portions of the belt, and has begun in the more northerly districts. In portions of Georgia and Texas planting is nearly finished and chopping has begun in Florida and Southern Georgia. Throughout the belt the weather has been much too cold for germination and growth and much replanting will be necessary in some portions of the central and western districts.

Fruit has experienced a week of trying conditions throughout the central valleys and Middle Atlantic and Southern States, and while reports indicate that much injury has been done by frosts and freezing temperature, good prospects, due principally to the lateness of the season, will continue in many sections.

Special telegraphic reports from the Western States were as follows:

Missouri—Unseasonably cold; all vegetation is backward; no rain except light showers in south, but in northern counties soil still wet; Oat seeding well advanced; Potatoes being planted; considerable ground prepared for Corn and planting is progressing in south; some Cotton planted; Wheat continues to improve, but needs warmer weather; slight damage to Peaches by recent frosts.

Illinois—Unseasonably cold weather, with frosts latter part of week; some plowing for Corn done, but generally soil is not in good condition; Wheat making but little growth, not so promising as it was ten days ago; condition fair; rapid progress with Oat seeding, probably half crop in ground; unfavorable for grasses; Fruit not much damaged by latest cold.

Indiana Unseasonably cold; freezing temperature general on 16th and 17th; Wheat improved slightly in south, but deteriorated in central and northern sections, where a very large acreage will be plowed under; Rye, Clover and Timothy continue in fair condition; sowing Oats and planting Potatoes progressing slowly; ground generally too wet to plow, pastures backward; Fruit trees blooming in extreme south; Peaches further damaged.

Ohio Cloudy with light rain or snow; night temperatures generally below freezing; little plowing or seeding done, except on driest fields; weather unfavorable to Wheat, much will be plowed up; meadows and pastures growing slowly; young Clover damaged; Tobacco beds being made; Peaches badly killed, except in extreme south and on high ridges in east; Apples, Pears, Cherries, Plums, and Grapes in fair condition.

Michigan Abnormal cold and heavy snow caused continuation of backward season; vegetation not yet starting and practically no field work done; Wheat, Rye, and meadows very slow in starting.

Wisconsin—Heavy snow latter part of week over entire State, followed by severe cold; no spring work done; ground still frozen in northern and central counties; condition of Winter Wheat, Rye, and lover satisfactory, although recent freezing weather unfavorable; Apples trees reported in good condition, but Plums considerably damaged.

Minnesota—Cold, wet week, with several inches of snow over most of the State on the 14th; no work done in northern portion and only a little plowing and seeding of Wheat and Oats done on light high lands in the south; level and lowlands very wet.

Iowa—Week extremely cold, with drying winds; great activity in seeding and plowing; Wheat area is all seeded and considerable progress has been made in sowing Oats and Barley, except in the wettest fields of northern district; no apparent damage to Grain crops or Fruits from freezing; seasonable temperature is much needed for germination and growth.

North Dakota -Ground in eastern and southern portions of State covered with heavy snow, mostly in large drifts, and in low places with water; no farm work done, except a little Wheat seeding in central and western portions.

South Dakota—Fair, but unseasonably cool; wet soil and freezing temperatures prevented much work in northern portion, Oat seeding well advanced and Wheat seeding nearly completed in southeast, but backward elsewhere, very little germinated; plowing for Corn commenced in some southwestern counties; grass growing very slowly.

Nebraska—No rain during week; in eastern half Winter Wheat continues in good condition, but in western half considerable damage reported; spring Grain nearly all planted and Oats coming up in southern counties; plowing for Corn begun under favorable conditions; spring Grain, grass and gardens starting slowly because of cold, dry weather.

Kansas—No rain; Wheat made good growth in south, is in good condition in central, and poor in northwest; Oat sowing finished, coming up, but growth slow; Corn planting well advanced in south, beginning north, coming up south, but germination and growth slow; Alfalfa and grass growing slowly, some injury to Peaches.

BREADSTUFFS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

Wheat—Locally the market for Wheat is dead. There is nothing doing either at home or in the country. Farmers are not anxious to sell at present, and are paying more attention to farm work, now that spring has set in for good. We can not see where the holder will obtain a great benefit by holding his Wheat, with 90 per cent of the mills closed down and those in operation with warehouses filling over with Wheat, with exporters having no ships and plenty of Wheat in warehouses here to fill all engagements, where the holder will reap a greater price than is now being paid. It is true that choice Wheat is scarce in the country, especially bluestem; but nearly every mill has plenty of this on hand. Evidently some of them would be willing to purchase some if they could secure it at a reasonable figure for new season, but holders are not disposed to sell at present quotations, even at increased prices. The demand for the same has let up from California millers, who seem to be well supplied with what they were in need of. Sales made daily are of so small proportion that one could hardly say that there is anything being sold. Farmers are busy seeding spring Grain all over the country. Fall Grain is doing splendid, and indications point to the largest crop in the history of the Northwest, if hot winds do not damage the same in June. Farmers throughout Walla Walla and Umatilla Counties claim that the rains were of great benefit to them, and they have had all they need to insure a crop without the usual June and July showers. Throughout the Palouse country most of the acreage is spring, though considerable fall Grain has been sown. We quote club Wheat 75c, bluestem 84c and valley 84c per bu.

Flour—The market for Flour is without change, and there is but little demand from any port in the Orient. Steamers going out have very small cargoes; mostly all of them on old orders. The demand from other countries at present is only fair, and millers are enjoying their summer vacation when other trades are busy. Their busy season is usually in the summer time. Last year millers started in the month of June, and did not quit until the beginning of March this year. Stocks in the various mills are not as large as a year ago, but the leading export mills have plenty of Flour on hand to fill orders promptly as soon as the market picks up again. We quote export brands $3 50 to $3 60 per barrel. Patents have advanced considerably since our last review, and are now quoted from $4 25 to $4 50 per barrel, with only a limited demand, as jobbers recently stocked up, fearing that this would take place.

IRON BARS $1 00 A TON LOWER.

[From the Iron and Machinery World.]

There has been some trading in Iron bars in lots of from 500 to 1,000 tons, and the better buying has brought out concessions of about $1 00 per ton in the quotations. Considering the market for finished material as a unit, it may be called normal. Improvement in the Western Iron and Steel markets this week has been mainly by way of inquiry and by way of larger specifications on old contracts. Simmered down, there is very little new business that has been closed. The net results may be regarded as a slight improvement over the previous week. The Northern Pacific has an inquiry out for about 1,000 new cars and there is another inquiry from a large Western system for 10,000 cars. The latter is not being pressed vigorously and there is some doubt of its placing, however greatly the railroad may be in need of the equipment. Straws indicate that the carriers are pursuing their previous policy of putting off to the limit the making of contracts for Steel rails. There are evidences that they are repairing their tracks and putting them in the best possible shape at the minimum expense. Structural material is perhaps slightly more active, though not sufficiently so for extended comment. Plates have been specified more liberally and a prominent Western mill that started up a month ago with only about three days' specifications on hand has ever since been running uninterruptedly, and with prospects as good now as when operations began. There is a better inquiry for Iron bars also. One this week is for 2,600 tons, for delivery in Hegewisch within thirty days, indicative of great urgency.

HAY IN CALIFORNIA.

The surprisingly large quantity of 3,300 tons of Hay has arrived during the week, an increase of 500 tons over the week preceding. It is several months since we have had any such arrivals as this. It is an undeniable fact that the country can not stand a continuance of such heavy drains very long, and we are of the decided opinion that from this time on shipments will be much lighter. Some sample shipments have been made from "outside" districts, but the style of bale and quality of Hay sent has not been very satisfactory to this market, with the result that shippers have been considerably disappointed and are now seeking other markets for their Hay. Both in the extreme northern and in the extreme southern parts of the State, as well as very generally throughout the San Joaquin Valley, the three-wire bale is used almost exclusively. This does not take well here, the three-quarter bale with five bands selling best on the San Francisco market. Quite a bit of what is being shipped from the above mentioned outside districts is in this three-wire bale, and at least $1 00 per ton is lost as a result of marketing the Hay in what is here considered an undesirable package.

In spite of the large amount of rain which we had last month, conditions are now rapidly changing, owing to continuous hot weather. The top of the ground is becoming baked, and we must have showers soon to insure the splendid crop which was promised a few weeks ago.

IMPORTANT INSURANCE DECISION.

[From the Northwestern Miller.]

The Supreme Court of Kansas last week decided an important case appealed from Cherokee County in which the Queen Insurance Company sought to avoid the payment of loss to the Excelsior Milling Company, on the plea that the mill insured was not in operation at the time it was burned. In deciding the case in favor of the insured the court said:

"Contracts of insurance are to be construed, where construction is permissible, most strongly against the insurer and in favor of the insured. Forfeitures are not favored by law and ordinarily will not be found or enforced unless specifically and definitely provided for in the contract."

The policy in question provided in general terms that, if the property insured was a manufacturing establishment, the policy would be void if it ceased to be operated more than 10 consecutive days. The court held that it should have been specifically alleged that the property was a manufacturing establishment. It says that insurance companies are paid for protection and it will not construe general provisions to aid them in escaping the payment of losses.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

The steamship Gaelic of the China and Japan Steamship line has arrived in San Francisco with $580,000 in Gold from Japan.

The Supreme Court of New York has decided that a transportation company is liable for damage to goods through delayed delivery.

A Chicago man back from the Southwest says: "The Wheat along the Santa Fe in Texas, Indian Territory, and Eastern Kansas looks good."

An Indianapolis man writes: "If all reports from the best counties in Indiana are true it will not have over 10 000,000 bu Wheat this year."

The Chicago Edison Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable May 1. Books close April 23 and reopen May 1.

The large Shoe factory of L. M. Reynolds & Co., Brockton, Mass., was burned, Monday. The loss is estimated at $.00,000 and the insurance is $82,'00.

The United Gas and Improvement Company of Philadelphia, which controls the gas plant in Janesville, Wis., Monday, announced that on May 1 a general reduction of 50c a thousand will be made in all cities where the company controls the gas works.

At the conclusion of the arguments Vice Chancellor Bergen at New York, Monday, dismissed the application of the Continental Securities Company for an injunction against the meeting of the stockholders of the Northern Securities Company on April 21.

Stockholders of the Laclede Gas Light Company of St Louis, Monday, ratified the proposition of the directors to increase the common stock of the company from $3,500,000 to $17,000,000, and to increase the bonded debt of the company from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000.

The Leather Manufacturers' National Bank and the Mechanics' National Bank, New York, by vote of the stockholders of both institutions at a meeting, Monday, were consolidated under the name Mechanics' National Bank. The Leather Manufacturers' Bank was capitalized at $600,000, and the old Mechanics' Bank at $2,000,000.

Application has been made to the New York Stock Exchange to list $1,402,000 5 per cent thirty year first mortgage bonds of 1900, $1,900,000 5 per cent noncumulative preferred Stock, and $4,600,000 common Stock of the Standard Milling Company. The Standard Milling Company is the successor to the United States Flour Milling Company, which went into the hands of receivers several years ago, and was reorganized in 1900.

The mill of the Mount Vernon Straw Board Company is now rapidly nearing completion, and machinery is being placed, so that operation may begin about the first week in June. This mill is located at Mount Vernon, Ind., on the Ohio River, and occupies an eight and one-half acre site, with a 300 foot landing on the Ohio River and double side tracks connecting with the Louisville and Nashville and Evansville and Terre Haute Railways. The company is capitalized at $100,000.

The San Francisco Commercial News of April 14 says: "The market for Grain freights remains excessively dull, with no apparent change in rates. Since the fixture of the German bark Nal at 20s 6d Portland loading no spot business has been done, and no further business for future loading is reported. For September-October loading at this port rates are quoted nominally at 22s 6d to 23s 9d, and from the North at 26s 3d to 27s 6d. Freights from Europe and Australia to this coast are somewhat lower."

The March statement of imports and exports of merchandise showed a balance in favor of the United States of $28,511,235, or about $7,000,000 less than for the same month in 1903, and a failing off as compared with the preceding month of about $1,500,000. The balance of trade in our favor for the nine months ended March 31 amounts to $482,297,000, being $85,213,000 more than in the same period in 1903, and $30,000,000 in excess of the corresponding period in 1902. The total for the nine months is the largest since 1901, when exports for the same period exceeded imports by $540,241,953.

The regular date for the meeting of directors of the Northern Pacific to consider the May dividend was last Wednesday, but dividend meetings have been irregular since the formation of the Northern Securities Company. No meeting has yet been called. It is understood it was the intention to declare at this time the extra dividend necessary to make up 7 per cent for the fiscal year. It is not known exactly what will be done, as the Northern Securities, the owner of nearly all the stock, cannot under the judgment of the Federal Court receive the dividend. It is said, however, that the outside holders of Northern Pacific stock will be taken care of in this regard.

The Wisconsin State report says: "The State crop report for April 1 shows that the acreage of Winter Wheat, which was much diminished last year from previous areas reported, is now reduced 14 per cent from last year and winter Rye falls off 9 per cent. The winter, while severely cold, has not been hard upon Grains and grasses, as the State has generally been fairly protected by snows, and steady cold, freezing weather is preferable to alternate freezing and thawing. As a result winter Grain and grasses are now in very satisfactory form. The crop report for May will deal with the acreage of spring-planted crops and general conditions existing at that time."

The enormous output of Gold coinage at the Philadelphia mint continues at a rate which surpasses all previous records. Since Feb. 6, up to April 16, there has been coined $50,180,390 in $20 00 Gold pieces. The coinage during the week beginning Monday, April 11, and ending on Saturday, April 16, inclusive, aggregated $11,302,600 in Gold, an average of nearly $2,000,000 per day. On the last day of this record-breaking week the coinage was $2,500,000, also a record breaker. The weight of the Gold to produce this one week's coinage was over forty-two tons. This vast coinage of Gold in so short a time, it was announced at the mint, has never been equaled by the mints of any other nation, nor by any mint in this country.

The actual surplus of quick assets over current liabilities of the Rock Island Railway Company, Oct. 31, 1903, was $8,189,104. The actual capital resources since that time may be estimated:

Working capital Oct 31, 1903	$8,189,104
Sale of general bonds	1,000,000
Surplus earnings over charges	600,000
Total	$9,789,104
Estimated cost of work Oct. 31	7,653,548
Working capital surplus	$2,136,556

The reason why the company has raised new capital is not difficult to see. The $15,000,000 of new 4s have not been sold because the market is unfit. Instead, the management thinks it a good bargain to raise capital on better than a 5 per cent basis to tide it over for a year. The capital needs of the system on new work on hand, and fully outlined in official utterances, would otherwise leave the company in a weak financial position or compel it to sell its bonds on a basis that would permanently impair its credit. The amount of the $5,000,000 Rock Island notes placed abroad is about $500,000.

Local Securities were slow, with prices irregular There were declines in Pneumatic Tool, Brick, Title and Trust and Metropolitan Elevated preferred, and gains in Masonic Temple and Radiator common.

The Directors of the Chicago Board of Trade have declared the Nebraska City elevator and its receipts "irregular" under the rules It contained 91,700 bu Wheat, 407,200 bu No 2 Corn, 10,000 bu Standard Oats, and 33 700 bu No 2 Rye.

The Cincinnati Price Current reports the packing of the West for the week at 355,000 Hogs, compared with 355,000 for the week previous and 365,000 for the corresponding week in 1903 Aggregate packing since March 1 reported at 2,585,000 Hogs compared with 2 415,000 for the corresponding time last year—an increase of 170 000 Hogs

In the New York Stock market, higher prices were made from the start, and liberal gains recorded All depressing news had spent its force and efforts on the part of the "bears" to cover caused sharp advances over the list Railway shares gained ⅝@1¼, Coalers 1¼@1½. Tractions 1 point, and Industrials were steady to 2 points higher. Money, 1¼@1½ per cent

The Cincinnati Price Current, in its weekly crop summary, says. "Week too cold for much Wheat growth There have been slight variations, favorably and otherwise, but the general average is apparently maintained It has been a favorable week for farm work, but poor for seed germination. A large Corn acreage is likely The Grain movement is light to moderate."

The Northwestern Miller says: "Latest reports as to the Winter Wheat crop in Central Eastern States are pessimistic, and seem to hold out little hope for more than half a crop, though they are qualified by the statement that it is too early to reach accurate conclusions; favorable springlike weather may prove a savior to much of the Wheat now believed to have been winter killed. From Kansas, reports are more encouraging "

A dispatch from Oklahoma City, April 21, says: "Weather bureau reports rapid changes in temperature and high winds, damaging frosts marked the week, causing decided changes for worse. Wheat and Oats in the central portion may be plowed under. Eastern sections doing fairly well. Rain needed. Corn planting still progressing. Early planted still coming up slowly, with poor to fair stand. Some damage by recent frost."

Western roads have practically reached an agreement regarding the Grain rate war and the work of checking the rates, according to the plan of settlements has begun. The original plan finally carried, reducing the St. Louis differential over Chicago from 5 to 3 cents, and making the through rates from Nebraska points. The sum of the locals through Omaha with the exception of certain territory in Northeastern Nebraska.

A Minneapolis Grain commission firm write under date April 20: "Our information as to the progress of seeding is to the effect that Wheat seeding is now underway on the Fergus Falls division of the Great Northern Road, on the high rolling lands, and there is every prospect of the work being general by next Monday From Barnsville, north, however, there is still snow and ice in spots and considerable water standing on the fields The Breckenridge division of the Great Northern Road is in splendid shape As far north as Willmar seeding is progressing favorably, and probably 75 per cent of the Wheat is already seeded. West of Larimore to Rolla, N. D., seeding will be general by April 25th, and the same is true of the northern tier of counties in North Dakota, but the Red River Valley will not do any seeding to speak of before May 1, on account of the soil being very wet. The amount of fall plowing done was unusually large in Minnesota, North and South Dakota The crop acreage will probably be larger than usual. The weather conditions to-day are clear and bright, but still remain cold In Nebraska and Iowa on the Great Northern Road, seeding is completed. Indications are that there is a decrease in that territory in the Wheat area of from 10 to 20 per cent, an increase in the Oats area of from 10 to 20 per cent, with a moderate decrease in the Barley acreage "

FLOUR Quiet at the recent declines.

WINTER WHEAT—The market was quiet and steady. A little business doing in car lots of fresh arrivals, but otherwise nothing doing. No round lots sold and there was no shipping and but little milling demand No 2 Red in store quotable at 98@98½c, and fresh arrivals free on board nominally 98c@$1 01. No 3 Red fresh arrivals free on board quotably 95@$1 00. No 2 Hard fresh receipts free on board sold at 90c for line Wheat, and quotably 89@93c for fair to choice No 3 Hard sold at 85@88c for common to good No 4 Hard sold at 75@83c No 4 White sold at 93c.

SPRING WHEAT Was quiet, and while in store lots were quotably steady, fresh arrivals were weaker and quotably about 1c lower No. 1 Northern in store ranged at 98½@99c and fresh arrivals free on board quotably 97@98c. No 2 Northern fresh receipts free on board quotably 93@96c. No 3 Spring sold at 92c and ranged at 81@91c for ordinary to choice. No. 4 Spring sold at 72@85c for fair to good.

REGULAR WHEAT—The close showed net gains for the day of ⅛@½c. While the best prices were not sustained, the local crowd was putting out Wheat freely. A special report from the Southwest referred to the rains in Kansas of last night as doubtless being of benefit to Wheat, and said Western Oklahoma and the Panhandle country of Texas would not raise an average crop, and that while the outlook was bad, rains would do a great deal of good. Other reports were unfavorable. The seaboard reported 28 loads for export. There was an improved outside trade, but the orders were still of rather small dimensions and during the morning favored the "bull" side. Crop reports from certain sections of the Winter Wheat belt were still "bullish" in character, claiming damage, with prospects of short crop Other sections reported conditions as good. Room traders in Wheat seemed to be sold out and the commission house buying was a feature of the trade An authority in the Northwest reports no seeding likely in Red River Valley before May 1 because soil is very wet Work will be general along part of the Great Northern road Monday, while other sections of same road are still covered with snow and ice. Some territories report seeding as well along and they expect the plant to shoot up quickly owing to the moisture in the ground. A Winnipeg message says that the weather up there is more favorable, and that seeding will be in full swing in a few days; that the acreage will be the largest ever had probably 25 per cent in excess of last year, owing to so much fall plowing being done, and to the thousands of new settlers going in there The Oklahoma and Western Kansas reports not so good, and the weather bureau report of Oklahoma reports rapid changes in temperatures, high winds and damaging frosts for the week, causing a decided change for the worse. Cables were lower spot at Liverpool ¼@¾d and futures ¼d lower to unchanged. London futures ¼d lower to unchanged. Antwerp was unchanged, while Paris was ¾c higher to unchanged. The Prussian crop report makes the condition of Wheat and Rye 80 per cent. CORN—Irregular and unsettled. May ⅜c higher, while the more deferred months were ¼@⅜c lower to unchanged. The seaboard reported nine loads taken for export and the sales here were 75,000 bu. The trade in Corn was of a mixed character, ruling weak and strong, as well as active and dull by turns The fluctuations were quite sharp—especially in the May, which were caused partially by the declaration of a house with 407,000 bu Corn in it as "irregular" by the Board of Trade. The business was mainly on room-trading account and the operators changed from one side of the market to the other in rapid succession Reports from the far Southwest say that the Corn is going into the ground in the best possible condition and some of it is now showing above the ground. Local inspection was 131 cars, with 41 contract. There were 126 cars and 8,000 bu switched from private to public houses. OATS—Were unsettled with an advance of ¼@⅜c early, followed by a break of ⅜@½c and a tame close at a net loss of ¼@⅜c on the near deliveries and 1c on September. The weakness in the latter was due to heavy selling by the "bear" interests and to reports of improved seeding and of predictions of warmer weather. The strength was in sympathy with other Grains Trading was liberal. May was bought by shipping houses and had more strength than the other months Cash sales were 40,000 bu here and New York sold 40,000 bu at the seaboard for export Seaboard clearances were 9,100 bu. BARLEY—There was a steady market said to be a little stronger. Good malting Barley was wanted especially of good color and it was very scarce. *Minnesota, Dakota and Iowa mills outside of Minneapolis and Duluth.

The Flour output last week was the smallest in a very long time. There were only seven mills in operation to-day, and the week's production is not likely to exceed 125,000 brls. for the same week in 1903 the total was 187,585 brls. Dull trade is responsible for the mills running at the rate of only an one-third their capacity. What next week will bring forth is difficult to say.

Flour sales of Minneapolis mills for the week were meager. However, they were perhaps somewhat larger than in the preceding week. The upturn in Wheat on Friday was good for the up some business, and where buyers could get Flour at old prices they took a fair quantity. Shipping directions also came in a little better.

As to what it will do, nothing was doing. There were bids for round lots of Patent, but being 5c or more per barrel under cost, they had to be declined. Buyers are not in the market. Hand to mouth trade reigns, and there is no sign that current business there is undersiding millers. Were the mills running strongly, it would be as much of a problem to dispose of the Output as it is now.

Prices of Patent have been reduced 10c during the week. The range of quotations now is $4.75@5.00 per 196 lbs. in wood f. o. b. Minneapolis.

The range of Eastern prices, April 18, as asked by Minneapolis mills for Patent in wood was 15 cents rate points, $4.15@5.60, New York rate points, $4.30@5.45, Pittsburg rate points, $4.25@5.40, Philadelphia rate points, $4.30@5.50, Philadelphia rate points, $4.45@5.65; Atlantic rate points, $4.45@5.65; Rochester and Syracuse rate points, $4.25@5.40; Buffalo rate points, $4.20@5.40, and Boston rate points, $4.50@5.70 in sacks; Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin, $4.05@5.20 in sacks; Missouri points, $4.75@5.00 in sacks.

STATISTICS OF EXPORT GRAIN TRADE.

[From Bradstreet's.]

An interesting exhibit of the effect of the competition of the Southern ports upon New York's export Grain trade has been made by Statistician Brown of the Produce Exchange. This gives the volume of Grain shipments in three periods in the seven years each, extending from 1883 to 1901, from leading Atlantic and Gulf ports, and is probably as clear a demonstration as can be had of the Grain export movement as we have seen published. The figures in bushels, cover Wheat and Wheat Flour, the latter given in its equivalent of Wheat, and Corn, and are as follows:

Boston	9,000,000	12,000,000	14,000,000
Philadelphia	50,000,000	120,000,000	70,000,000
Baltimore	468,000,000	740,000,000	482,000,000
Norfolk and Newport News	257,000,000	74,000,000	13,000,000
New Orleans	267,000,000	310,000,000	69,000,000
Galveston	125,000,000	9,000,000	600,000

There is here shown a total of 853,000,000 bu shipped from seven ports during the seven years from 1883 to 1889, as against 1,147,000,000 bu in the seven years from 1890 to 1896, and 2,200,000,000 from 1897 to 1903. There is also shown a gain of 32 per cent in the seven ports' aggregate export in the first period and a gain of 93 per cent in the second period. Excluding New York's shipments, which increased by 11 per cent in the first and by 20 per cent in the second seven years, the other six ports showed gains of respectively 44 and 146 per cent Baltimore shows a gain of 30 per cent in the first period and 91 per cent in the second seven years, while Philadelphia showed gains of respectively 71 and 140 per cent. The gains of New Orleans and Galveston are, of course, larger proportionately, and in the second seven years New York shows the smallest gain in actual bushels of any of the seven ports.

HAY PROSPECTS IN CANADA.

[From the Montreal Trade Bulletin.]

The Hay crop is always a subject of great importance to the farming community of this province, as it constitutes a large item in their yearly revenue. The prospects of the next crop are therefore being discussed freely, the opinion being generally expressed that everything points to another good yield, not a single report of winter killing having been received from any section of the country. Farmers say that the recent heavy fall of snow right into April was no drawback, as there is now no fear of any damage from subsequent frosts, which will not be severe enough to injure the growth. The only damage to be apprehended now is from a long drouth, which is too improbable to be taken into consideration at present. In about three or four months' time a good deal of it will be harvested; and it is estimated that an average of fully a third of last year's crop is in farmers' hands, the amount in some sections being more and in others less. The speculative spirit taking some of our best Hay, and paying more money for it than receivers here can afford to pay, but there is a large quantity of Timothy Hay to be marketed between now and the harvesting of the new crop. England continues to take a few but they are going mostly to Liverpool and Glasgow, one steamer taking about 1,000 bales from Portland last week for Liverpool, notwithstanding the recent poor reports of the English markets.

NORTHWESTERN WHEAT CONSUMPTION.

[From the Northwestern Miller, April 20.]

The attached table shows the quantity of Flour and approximate consumption of Wheat at Minneapolis and Duluth, together with that of 59 mills outside, with a daily capacity of 30,050 brls, from Sept. 1, 1903, to April 9, 1904:

	1904.		1902-03.
	Flour, brls.	Wheat, bu.	Flour, brls.	Wheat, bu.
Minneapolis	9,621,820	44,168,500	10,740,965	48,330,500
Totals	15,201,490	68,827,000	15,957,900	71,852,000

These figures represent the approximate consumption of 3,445,0 0 bu less Wheat this year than in 1902-03. This has occurred from the mills of Minneapolis and Duluth turning out 1,291,110 brls less Flour, equal to 5,675,500 bu of Wheat, than last year. In contrast, the outside mills have increased their output to the extent of 495,710 brls, or equal to 2,230 500 bu of Wheat.

DRAGGING GRAIN.

[From the Minneapolis Market Record.]

At farmers' institutes in the Red River Valley this winter the discussion on the benefits of dragging small Grain after it is up from 2 to 4 inches, brought out a good many opinions. The majority of farmers from the Red River Valley who have tried the dragging of small Grain claim it has a good effect in forcing the germination of moisture, as it breaks up the surface of the soil and hills a good many weeds that have only become loosely rooted in the top of the soil. One North Dakota farmer said that quite a few sections said he had dragged his Grain for many years and always considered it a benefit.

CROP SCHEDULE FOR MAY.

[From the Crop Reporter.]

For this month the report is short and covers only the condition of Winter Wheat, Winter Rye, meadow mowing lands, and spring pasture, the abandonment of Winter Wheat area and the portion of spring plowing already done.

Correspondents are requested to be especially careful in estimating the abandonment of winter area. This is the season of the year when Kansas and Missouri Temperatures some higher—above freezing in the Northwest. There are frosts at St. Louis, Springfield, Evansville, Indianapolis and Cincinnati. It is warm in Oklahoma—88—and through Texas. Map rather more favorable in all particulars.

The Northwestern storm will move East. Will not be felt before Friday. Rainfall will be general in trans-Mississippi region. Temperatures some higher.

BEAN CROP OF MICHIGAN.

According to a recent report of the Secretary of State of the State of Michigan, the Bean crop of the State of Michigan for 1903 was 2,358,910 bu from a harvested area of 285,567 acres, an average yield per acre of 10 24 bu. The crop of the previous year was 4,639,896 bu from a harvested area of 358,831 acres, an average yield of 12 93 bu per acre. The value in the farmers' home markets of the 1903 crop is put at $6 000,000 against an estimated value of $9 300,0 0 for the crop of 1901.

Accompanying the call for the annual meeting of the Montreal and Boston Copper Company was a notice that a plan for consolidation of several interests in the Canadian Copper Company will be presented by the directors at the meeting on April 20.

Vice Chancellor Pitney at Trenton, N. J., Tuesday, appointed a receiver for the Globe Securities Company of New York. The complainant holds bonds and securities. The complainant place the company's liability at $988,831 and the assets at $917,440.

Interests concerned in Pennsylvania affairs say they and other large holders, including the Mutual Life Insurance Company, which carries $5,000,000 of Pennsylvania stock, have been assured that the directors will declare the usual 8 per cent semi-annual d vidend the first week of May.

According to the official circular of the Virginia-Carolina Chem cal Company, $4,000,0 0 of new preferred stock is to be issued, $2,000,0 0 of which will be applied to the liquidation of the $5,000,000 loan made last summer. The company had to pay in the form of interest and commissions about 10 per cent for the money.

Albert M. Palmer, the theatrical manager, has filed a bankruptcy petition in New York, in which he gives his liabilities at $193,491 and his assets according to Mr. Palmer's debts date back to 1888, and were contracted in New York, Brooklyn, Stamford and Chicago. The debts are all unsecured.

It is admitted in official quarters that the United States Steel Corporation is negotiating for the purchase of the Clairton Steel Company, although negotiations have not yet reached such a point where it can be definitely stated that the deal will be concluded. The basis of the purchase, it is reported, is a guarantee of the bonds of the Clairton Steel Company.

It is said that the Warner Starch Company, the largest Western competitor of the Corn Products Company, will start its Waukegan, Ill., works early in June. The capacity will be 3,000 bushels of Corn per day, and the plant will have been enlarged and equipped with the most modern machinery available. The original cost will be 10,000 bu of Corn more than heretofore.

Current operations of the United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry show satisfactory financial results, although profits are not as large as they were during the month of March, when a large proportion of the company's business is done with the leading cities whose work is invariably carried through the spring months in advance of general industrial conditions. Consequently, the United Iron Pipe business is subject to fewer fluctuations.

A Des Moines, Iowa, dispatch, Wednesday, said: "Farmers are working from daylight until dark, improving every moment of time sowing and plowing. Oat sowing is finished in the south half of the State, and will be practically finished in the north half by Thursday or Friday of next week. Some early sown places are coming through the ground and look all right. Weather fine for farm work."

The people who are largely interested in Greene Consolidated Copper have organized the Greene Consolidated Gold Company under West Virginia laws, with a capital stock of $5,000,000. This company owns 6,330 acres of placer Gold deposits situated on the Santo Domingo River district of Magdalena, Sonora, Mexico, which embraces fifteen miles of the channel of the Santo Domingo, long known for the large deposits of placer Gold.

According to the Textile Manufacturers' Journal the sales of Wool in the principal markets of the country, exclusive of Boston, for the week ending April 16 were 2,655,200 lbs, as compared with 4,327,600 lbs for the previous week, and 2,895,933 lbs for the corresponding week last year. None of the seaboard markets has shown a marked degree of activity during the week; in fact, the sellers of Wool do not hesitate to say that at the present time business is quieter than it has been since the first of the year.

The Detroit Board of Trade has adopted some legislation in the interests of Michigan millers who wish to hedge purchases of Wheat in that market. The new rule provides for the trading of futures to deliver No. 2 Red Wheat, or, at a discount of 5c, No. 3 Red, or, at a discount of 3c, No. 1 White or Mixed Winter. In the past with only No. 2 Red receivable on contracts, it has practically tage in case it came to delivering the Wheat sold, for his supply, bought from farmers, was often of a mixed grade and could not be applied to cover a "long" sale.

The improvements of the Rock Falls mill of the Illinois Straw Products Company are practically completed, and the new machines will be put in operation next week. The Illinois Straw Products Company will now be able to turn out from thirty-five to forty tons of Straw wrapping paper a day, much the largest output of any factory in the country. The improvements have greatly cheapened the cost of production of the mill while increasing its output. The wrapping paper market is in good condition, and the prospects of the company are most flattering.

A Philadelphia firm says: "What the Reading directors have done for their stockholders may be regarded as the forerunner of what the Erie road's directors may go even further and declare dividends on the common stock, which are warranted by present earnings and particularly brilliant prospects for the coming year. Look out for this at present. We are told that Mr. Harriman can become president of the Erie whenever he wants it, and thus create a New York outlet for the Western roads. We are looking for the consummation of this plan."

"Business is very slow," said an official of the American Car and Foundry Company, "although the volume of orders on hand is large. We have a substantial increase over March, which month was better than December, January and February combined. The contracts are secured only by competition of the very strongest kind and it goes without saying the margin of profit is small. Prospects are that business will do better during the next few months as the railroads will not attempt to do anything on a large scale until the money markets are in better shape."

A student of the Gold situation points out that the Gold production in the last decade has been $2,681,0 0,000, while the actual increase in Gold holdings of the great depositories of this country and Europe has been $1,800,000,000. More than $1,000,000,000 in Gold is accounted for, and it is impossible to tell just what has become of this considerable amount has gone into circulation as money, and a great quantity of Gold is used each year in the arts. The production of the amount of Gold which suffices for the world's banking reserve has in one way or another gone out of sight.

An important decision has just been reached by the Michigan Board of State Tax Commissioners. The board has instructed its assessors that personal property is assessable where the owner resides. As a result, Michigan vessel owners with fleets of vessels valued at millions of dollars hailing chiefly from Indiana will be obliged to pay taxes in Michigan, or their owners will have to change residence. During recent years a large number of steamship companies have established offices in Indiana haws to avoid what they claimed was excessive taxation in Michigan. In the former State the tax is only 3c per gross ton.

Comptroller Grout of New York will advertise a sale of city bonds aggregating $37,000,000. The largest sale ever made thus far at one time was $16,003,000. In making public the plan for the recent breakwater loan Comptroller Grout said: "In general improvement in market conditions for the securities since the last sale has encouraged us to seek to provide now for the cash requirements for public improvements for the next fiscal year. The securities include $32,000,000 of corporate stock, to run fifty years, and $5,000,000 of assessment bonds, to run ten years. Both classes bear 3½ per cent, and are payable July 1. Bids for them will be opened by the comptroller on May 3.

A leading New York private banker, who is the financial power in several of the most important Industrial companies, when asked whether a particular company would raise new capital, said: "We need no present. We have all the new capital we could not think of sacrificing our securities in a market like this. There is no room for the financial interests in the money market. They have the whole show. But I do not say that I rather admire, however, the shrewdness of the bankers who are issuing out the money. They are getting a good commission from the Railways now for floating their note issues, and later or so later they will be getting more commissions for extensions of these loans or funding them."

Geological surveys, made public Monday, place the world's production of Coal in 1902 at 815,481,889 brls. Of this the United States and Russia produced 9144 per cent. For years Russia has led the list of producers, but the increase of 10,377,722 brls in the production of the United States in 1902 and a decrease amounting to 4,038,515 brls in the production of Russia caused these two countries to change places and the United States to stand at the head of the list. More than double the quantity of the higher grades of refined products is obtained from a given quantity of petroleum produced in the United States than is obtained from Russian oil. The United States produced nearly 2.6 brls of refined products in 1902 for every barrel produced by the rest of the world.

In presenting the statement of the Distilling Company of America the management observes that the year's business shows excellent results. The property has been kept in excellent condition, and the cost of additions, maintenance, and repairs has been charged to expense. Merchandise and materials and supplies aggregating $1,081,907 have been taken at cost. The cash on hand, however, is greater. The current liquid assets aggregate $10,116,959, against current liabilities of $2,975,350, leaving an excess of current assets over liabilities of $10,171,609. The net profits are $2,726,0 0, being more than three and one-half times the amount required to pay the interest on all of the outstanding bonds. The total interest paid and accrued on outstanding bonds amounts to $612,652, which deducted from the net profits leaves a net balance of $2,114,0 7, or 21 per cent on the issued outstanding stock. The net profits exceed those of last year $450,4 5 or an increase of 23 97 per cent. The regular quarterly dividends of 1 per cent have been paid, and $1,3 5,500 has been added to the surplus, which now amounts to $5,333,466.

Quite a sprinkling of recent reports of railroad gross earnings have shown decreases as compared with corresponding periods, changing the complexion of the aggregate exhibits, as for instance, that for the first week of April, which indicates a decrease of $327,470, or 4.97 per cent, for thirty-one roads, respectively. Gross being $6,162,142 and $6,479,613 this year and last. For the fourth week of March the gross earnings of forty-four railroads aggregated $6,491,518, against $6,146,248 in the corresponding period last year, an increase of $51,062, or .44 of 1 per cent. For the month of March the gross earnings of fifty-four railroads aggregated $24,220,493, against $24,782,167 in the corresponding period last year, a decrease of $461,-6 0, or .89 of 1 per cent From July 1 to April 7 the gross earnings of forty-nine railroads aggregated $319,812,894 against $304,0 0,000 in the corresponding period last year, an increase of $15,316,19, or 5.01 per cent.

The Chicago and Oak Park Elevated Railroad Company, it is expected, will be incorporated under the laws of New Jersey. It will have a capital of $5,000,000, of which $3,300,000 will be 5 per cent noncumulative preferred stock and $1,700,000 will be common stock. There will be $5,000,000 first mortgage 5 per cent bonds. In addition there will be an issue of $350,0 0 2 per cent debenture notes, due in 1910. This new company will be the seventh holding company formed under the Lake Street Elevated reorganization plan. The new company will exchange its securities for those of the Chicago and Oak Park Elevated Railroad Company, formerly the Lake Street Elevated Railroad Company, according to the terms of the reorganization plan. These provide for an even exchange of bonds, the holders of the present $8'0,000 of the old issue; 80 per cent in new preferred stock for the old income bonds, and fourtenths of new preferred stock for the old common, on payment of an assessment of $2.00 a share The new debenture notes are to be given to the Lake Street Elevated Railroad Company in satisfaction of a claim for $776,681. The new company assumes $350,655 of its first mortgage bonds, $2,000,0 0 of its preferred stock and $2,000,000 of its common stock. Argentine Wheat markets are now steady under good export demand Arrivals from the interior large, quality satisfactory. Corn market dull owing to falling off in the foreign demand. Shipments from the interior light and unsatisfactory in condition "

The Modern Miller says: "Under the influence of continued cold weather, with freezing temperatures in some sections Winter Wheat has made slow growth The crop was already late, and now is two weeks behind an average growth Moisture has generally been plentiful, but warm weather and sunshine are urgently needed Crop conditions are poor in Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Oklahoma, and Texas, and a large acreage will be plowed up. Although Oklahoma had the first good rain of the season, lack of moisture and damage by frost have reduced prospects to about half last year's crop Promise best in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Pacific Coast "

The Orange Judd Farmer says that Winter Wheat conditions are fully maintained. Some rainfall was experienced in the dry areas of the Southwest, sufficient to maintain the plant at present, but more and heavier fall is needed before warm weather is experienced. Scattered complaints of failure to develop are received from many localities in the Ohio Valley and in Missouri, but they represent better local appreciation of damage already conceded rather than further deterioration. Very considerable areas are being and will be plowed up east of the Mississippi River, and the figures of acreage originally planted must be materially revised before crop possibilities are figured upon Spring Wheat seeding is making fair progress, except in immediate Red River Valley, where it will not be under way before May 1. The delay in this important district will be in a measure offset by increased areas elsewhere. Oats seeding has made good progress and is now well advanced, except in northern districts. The soil is working well and the seed bed will be good. A period of warm weather now would start the crop in good shape.

FLOUR Demand still small and feeling easy for all descriptions.

WINTER WHEAT-Ruled steadier and was more difficult to buy. The in store lots were held more firmly and so little Wheat arriving that the fresh arrivals were taken up readily. Some milling demand existed No. 2 Red in store nominally 95@96c and fresh arrivals free on board quotably 98c@$1 01 No 3 Red fresh receipts nominally 90c @$1 00 No 2 Hard free on board fresh arrivals quotably 89@97c No 3 Hard fresh receipts free on board sold at 84@88c and quotable at 85@90c for ordinary to choice No 4 Hard sold at 76@80c.

SPRING WHEAT—Was quiet. There was no demand for round lots in store and they were quotably about 1c lower. The fresh arrivals, which were light, were salable to millers and shippers, but none sold to-day No 1 Northern in store quotably 87¾@88½c and fresh arrivals free on board quotably 92@96c No 2 Northern fresh receipts nominally 88@94c No 3 Spring salable at 85@92 for fresh arrivals free on board No 4 Spring nominally 62@88c for poor to choice

REGULAR WHEAT--The close was at net losses of ⅞@1c for the day the market reacting ¾@1⅛c from the bottom prices reached In all positions the cash business was quite large in fact, it was larger than in some weeks The seaboard reported 55 loads there and at outports, and St. Louis reported 185,000 bu at close over the St Louis May price Clearances for week 1 615 000 bu The Wheat market was in the hands of the "bears" during the morning and they made the most of it The news from abroad caused many "longs" to unload, and some more that were not "long" put out "short" lines A Broomhall cable was received here early in the day saying that there was considerable pressure in Liverpool to sell Indian Wheat, and that millers are securing large lines much under the public quotations. Kurrachee Wheat for May-June shipment sold at 58⅜d, which is about 6d per cental under the price of spot Another cable said that Indian Wheat was offering for June shipment c. i f Liverpool equal to 70¼c at Chicago The Southwest led the selling Rains were reported in Kansas and Oklahoma. A message was received from an accepted Southern Kansas authority which said that the outlook is flattering and that harvesting will be in full progress in that section the first week in June and that the yield will be equal to last year's. Argentine broke the record in its shipments this week being 4,040 000 bu, compared with 1 864 000 bu a year ago The Argentine visible is 5,560 000 bu, against 3 752,000 bu a year ago. While one Broomhall message said that the shipments from Argentine were likely to become smaller, another one said that the export demand down there was good, and that the farmers were offering Wheat freely. Cables were all lower—Liverpool ⅝d London ¼@⅜d, Antwerp unchanged while Paris was ⅛c higher to unchanged The Modern Miller report was considered by the trade as quite "bullish" The Orange Judd Farmer said that the condition of Winter Wheat was fully maintained: that the Spring Wheat area in Red River Valley was somewhat reduced but that this would be more than made up by increased acreage elsewhere Receipts at Duluth 13 cars and at Minneapolis 116 cars, a total of 129 cars, against 73 yesterday, 132 cars a week ago, and 116 cars last year. Local receipts included 23 cars Winter 9 cars Spring, no car mixed a total of 32 cars, against 51 cars last year. Included in the above was 1 car of contract grade. CORN—Lower, final figures showing losses of ⅝@1⅛c for the day The market showed no signs of any marked recovery, the disposition among the trade being to adhere to the selling side, with profit-takers about the only real good buyers. Clearances from the seaboard for the week were small at 627,000 bu. Exporters took 40,000 bu of Corn here and 11 boat loads at the seaboard to-day There was a big trade in July Corn with the party who has been "long" the May in the lead as a seller. Quite a number of commission houses had July for sale in addition to the selling noted above. Weather is wet in part of the Corn country. Liverpool Corn was unchanged in price and about neglected: no report from London. Argentine shipments were 634 000 bu, compared with 437 000 bu a week ago and 282,000 bu a year ago. Since January 1 the shipments from that country have been 10,446,000 bu, compared with 1 329 000 bu a year ago Argentine visible 521,000 bu, against 78 000 bu a year ago Western receipts were 272 000 bu compared with 251 000 bu a year ago Clearances from the seaboard were only 38 400 bu. OATS -The feature was the strength in May and weakness in September. The declines from the top price were ⅜@⅝c and the net losses at the close ½c The declines were made by general selling on stop-orders started by "bear" pressure which forced September under 30c. The break in other Grains and more spring-like weather, combined with poor support for the distant futures, had a depressing influence. There was plenty of moisture over the Oats belt and seeding is progressing favorably where conditions permitted. Shippers are loading up and cash sales in all positions were 3 0,000 bu, mostly Standard Arrivals were 51 cars with 4 cars Standard and 29 cars Standard taken out of private elevators Withdrawals from public houses 39 400 bu Seaboard clearances 31 800 bu Car lots to go to store were steady to 1c lower. BARLEY—It was difficult to make much of anything of a market when there was hardly any trade. Very few cars of malting Barley were offered There was no demand, an occasional car of some particular quality might be wanted and nothing else would do The very few cars coming on sale under such conditions ruled dull Oats were weaker and there was no regular demand for feed or mixing account Any bids received for the low grades were below what holders considered value Even with only a few cars on sale some had to be carried over Posted to-day 24 cars in, but they were not on sale For Screenings there remained a quotable range of 28@35c for poor to choice Barley—low grade feed or mixing at 32@35c, outside good weight Malting, low grade, 38@41c, fair to good sound, 45@48c, good color, 50@55c, and fancy nominally above

SEEDS—Were very quiet and there was another drop in Flax Seed prices. There were no other changes unless it was that Timothy was possibly a little stronger

Timothy—The limited quantity of cash Seed offered met with bids fully up to if not a little above last quotations The market remained in a very quiet state, because nothing to speak of was offered. Siberian 85c@$1 05 Broom Corn and Early Fortune Millet, 80@95c Mustard, 80c@$1 15 Buckwheat easy: good quality, $1 10

HOG PRODUCTS- Little interest was manifested in the market for Hog Products and speculative trading was on a moderate scale Local speculators and packers were not inclined to do much business, and outside orders were only of limited Offerings in a general way were moderate and the demand from all sources was rather light and for small quantities. UNFUNDED DEBTS.

[From the Chicago Inter Ocean, April 21.]

Short time notes aggregating $145,000,000 have been issued and sold to the public since the beginning of the present fiscal year, by fifteen companies.

Deducting commissions, the rate was 5 per cent or worse on all flotations, with the possible exception of Rock Island, in which case special arrangement of long standing enabled the corporation to borrow on exceptional terms and practically on the credit of its strongest members.

In the following compilation the figures are for the most part official:

POTATO ACREAGE FOR 1904.

[From the Orange Judd Farmer.]

Indications are for a liberal Potato acreage this spring in the principal growing sections, especially where seed stock is not positively prohibitive. Advices from the leading Potato districts of Michigan generally speak for a full or increased acreage. Where conditions are the most favorable, the enlargement will reach 10 to 20 per cent. In Wisconsin, considerable complaint is made at high prices prevailing for seed stock. Some sections claim this will result in an actual shrinkage in acreage, judging from the attitude of farmers at present. Prices on merchantable table stock throughout the State range 80c to $1 00 per bu In Pierce County seed is scarce and the acreage will be cut down. Burnett is experiencing a cold, wet spring. Planting therefore will be late; high seed is also a discouraging factor. Outagamie County looks for a full acreage, but no more. Sauk reports a shrinkage owing to poor crop in 1903 and high seed.

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

There is a good rain, .68, at Oklahoma. Light rains in Southern Kansas. General rains in Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, South Dakota and Minnesota. Light rains in Texas and Illinois. Temperatures some higher—32 to 38 in Manitoba, 30 to 44 in Dakotas and Minnesota, 32 to 48 in Nebraska and Iowa, and 42 to 54 in Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

Corn and Oats belt has a good deal of moisture. Several of the Northwest points are missing, indicating a Northwest storm The map is unfavorable so far as the Northwest and Middle West storms are concerned, as dry weather and high temperatures are needed The rise in temperatures is favorable and so are the Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas rains.

Indications are the storm will continue its movement northward, northeastward over the Upper Mississippi Valley and eastern lake region, accompanied by showers and thunderstorms. Temperatures will rise in this section.

The instructions provide that a prior right to enter the lands will not be secured by settling on the lands before the date of opening.

Representative Gaines of West Virginia introduced a resolution in Congress, Thursday, reciting that "it is a matter of common statement" that the Pennsylvania Railroad system, the Baltimore and Ohio Railway Company, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, and the Norfolk and Western Railway Company have plans designed to effect a "community of interest," including ownership of portions of the stock or bonds of some of the companies by the others and changes in the boards of directors, by which common control or direction has been and is being applied to the operation and rates of the lines mentioned. The resolution concludes with provision for an investigation of these allegations by the Inter-State Commerce Commission, which is to report its findings to the House on or before Dec. 31, 1904. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Inter-State and Foreign Commerce.

"The weather in Iowa has been too cold for germination of seed or growth of vegetation, but there has been no apparent damage from freezing," says J. R. Sage of the Iowa crop bureau. "The season has been unfavorable for the early Pig crop. The Peach crop of the southern counties has been mainly killed, but other Fruits are as yet uninjured. The conditions have been favorable for drying the surface and the resumption of field work in all districts of the State. In the northern section, seeding of Spring Wheat, Oats and Barley is in progress, and well advanced in the dry uplands of the north central and northwest districts. Reports from the central and southern sections show great activity in farm operations, and excellent progress in seeding small Grain and preparing the ground for planting Corn. The acreage of Oats is likely to be larger, and the soil is generally in better condition for working than last year."

At the request of holders of the preferred and common stock of the Houston Oil Company of Texas, Luther Kountze, of Kountze Bros ; John I. Waterbury, president of the Manhattan Trust Company, both of New York, and Gordon Abbot, president of the Old Colony Trust Company of Boston, have consented to act as a committee to protect the interests of the stockholders and to formulate a plan of reorganization. Holders of both classes of stock are invited to deposit their shares with the Manhattan Trust Company of New York, or the Old Colony Trust Company in Boston, under an agreement, copies of which may be obtained from either depository. The usual certificates of deposit will be issued to depositing shareholders. In view of the suit already begun, and the appointment of receivers for the Houston Oil Company of Texas and the Kirby Lumber Company, it is important that deposits of preferred and common stock be made at once.

An official of the Republic Iron and Steel Company is quoted as saying that the plan to combine Republic, Tennessee Coal and Iron, and Sloss-Sheffield companies cannot be consummated before August or September. The deal is on, however. He said: "The whole matter has gotten very little beyond the experimental stage. The drawback to quick results has been the difficulty of obtaining the basis of valuation of Ore and mineral properties of the various companies. There are thousands of acres of these, and, unlike the northern range properties, their value has never been officially approximated In other words, experts have never estimated their future possibilities of production. As a result it is physically impossible to get reliable estimates as regards valuation. There is no absolute certainty that the deal will be carried out even after all preliminary matters have been concluded, although interests behind the plan are deeply concerned in the matter. It will remain for the promoters to decide when they have secured all the data, and this will not be procured for at least three or four months."

FLOUR—Slow and unchanged in price, but the feeling was weak.

WINTER WHEAT—The market was little better than nominal. In store lots of No. 2 Red practically held off the market and not enough fresh arrivals of soft Wheat to make a market. Some demand existed, and sales of 25,000 bu No 2 Hard were made for shipment, May price free on board. For No. 2 Red round lots in store 10c over May price was bid without bringing out offerings, and the quotable range was 96@97½c, and fresh arrivals free on board quotably about $1 00@1 02 No. 3 Red fresh receipts entirely nominal at 95c@$1 00. No 4 Red sold at 85c No. 2 Hard fresh receipts free on board quotable at 88@91c No. 3 Hard sold at 83@86c

SPRING WHEAT—Was dull and 1@2c lower. A limited milling demand existed and fresh arrivals selling, but nothing doing in round lots of elevator Wheat No 1 Northern in store quotable at 85¾@87½c, and fresh arrivals free on board nominally 89@93c. No. 2 Northern fresh arrivals free on board nominally 85@91c No. 3 Spring ranged nominally 85@90c for fair to choice No. 4 sold at 78c, and quotable at 60@85c for poor to good.

REGULAR WHEAT—Lower, final prices showing losses of ½@1¼c There was some buying late on the report sent out by the statistician of Indiana, who made the condition of the growing plant 40 and getting worse. St. Louis reported 105,000 bu No 2 Red Winter at 6½c over the May price there It is said that this Wheat goes to Michigan, Indiana, South Carolina, Kentucky and Northwestern Missouri. The seaboard reported 10 loads for export For No 2 Red Winter Wheat 10c over the price of May was bid here, without sellers, and 25,000 bushels of No. 2 Hard Winter sold here at May price free on board. There was a general lack of support save from the people who had put out lines at a higher level and were in a position to buy the Wheat and take the profits. These people bought liberally and checked the decline that was rampant early in the day. The selling was general, Wheat coming out through every possible channel It was a weather market, the "longs" not being able to face the spring-like temperatures and the sunshine, coupled with better reports from the Winter Wheat country. There were general rains in the Northwest, which were not as desirable as clear weather. Rains in Texas, but no additional precipitation in Kansas and Oklahoma. The world's shipments Monday are expected to be around 10,400,000 bu, of which Europe will take 9,600,0 0 bu Some increase on passage is looked for. Imports into the United Kingdom for the week were 3,600,000 bu, compared with 4,800,000 bu the previous week and 3,200,000 bu a year ago English farmers' deliveries for the week were 408,000 bu at 84c, compared with 320,000 bu the week before at 84c and 344,000 bu a year ago at 72c. The advices from India were of the same character as for several days past Cables were lower- Liverpool ⅛@¼d and London ⅜d. Spot Wheat at Liverpool was unsettled. Paris Wheat ¼c lower. Australian shipments 1,232,000 bu, compared with 872 000 bu a week ago The English visible supply decreased 26 000 bu for the week, compared with 642,000 bu decrease one year ago Receipts at Duluth 5 cars and at Minneapolis 82 cars, a total of 87 cars, against 120 yesterday, 119 cars a week ago, and 171 cars last year. Local receipts included 8 cars Winter, 1 car Spring, none mixed, a total of 9 cars, against 106 cars last year. Included in the above was none of contract grade. There were also 2 cars and no bu from unlicensed elevators. The estimated receipts for Monday were not reported. The withdrawals to-day were 10,500 bu. Receipts at Western points were 2-7,555 bu, against 346,612 last year. At Eastern points 21,166 bu, against 328,463 bu last year. Shipments from Western points were 160,635 bu, against 7 6 115 bu last year, and from Eastern points 4,000 bu, against 155,684 bu last year. Shipments of Flour were 35,664 brls. Exports of Wheat in Flour were equal to 164,488 bu

CORN—The close was rather easy, with losses of ¼@¾c. Cash business was small both here and at the seaboard. Sales at seaboard 4 loads for export There was a sharp break early in sympathy with the losses in Wheat, and owing to a lack of buying power the losses were not regained. Part of the Corn belt was wet down again last night and the promise is for additional showers over Sunday. In the far Southwest the Corn is up, and looking well. An increased acreage of that cereal is to be planted. One of the features of the market was the buying of July and the selling of September by a big room trader. The local inspection showed 171 cars, with 34 contract: 117 cars were switched from private to public houses and 8 000 bu from store. Western receipts were 345,824 bu, compared with 335,000 a year ago Clearances from the seaboard were small at 1,200,000 bu. OATS—Were weak and off ¼@⅜c at the low point, but advanced ⅛@⅜c, only to weaken and close ⅛c lower for May and July and a fraction better for September. The latter is receiving the most attention and was bought by the leading "shorts" who have been the best sellers all week. Shipping houses took May, against cash sales which were 100 000 bu Standard, mainly at May price in store. Spring-like weather and the break in other Grains made a rather excited opening. Arrivals were 48 cars, with 5 cars Standard. There were 8 cars Standard taken out of private elevators. Receipts for 150 000 bu Standard were cancelled for shipment. Withdrawals were 63 700 bu. RYE—Was quiet and easy. Some offered, but buyers indifferent and trading very light. Cash offerings limited—only two cars received. There were withdrawn from private warehouses 5,600 bu and 11 cars. No export clearances from the seaboard. No. 2 in store nominally about 66c, and fresh arrivals free on board about 67c. Future Deliveries of No. 2 Rye Quiet and tame May offered at 67c and no demand. July sold at 64c and closed at 64c bid.

BARLEY—Quiet and dull. There was a small trade in Screenings and low grade, feed or mixing Barley. WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

CHICAGO, FRIDAY EVENING, April 22, 1904.

There is weakness and slowness in the local money market, with only a moderate demand for call and on time at 5 to per cent. There has been little change in local deposits and an increase in country deposits. The offerings of commercial paper are liberal and in good demand, but the best names has been taken at 4½ per cent. In New York rates were easier at 2 to 3½ per cent on the Stock Exchange and 3½ to 4 per cent outside of the Stock Exchange. Rates abroad were easy and the conditions all around were in favor of a continuation of present rates.

New York exchange was firmer at 5c to 30c premium for $1,000 and closed at 20c.

Foreign exchange was stronger and higher owing to continued small exports of Cotton and Grains making the supply of bills light. Shippers' sixty day documentary sterling bills on London ranged at 483½ to 483¾ and closed steady.

Cotton in New York suffered from the revilizing sales by leading bulls and from "bear" pressure and a lower range was established. There was nothing encouraging to buyers in the reports from abroad and everything was in the most favor of by the "bears." The weather crop bulletin made an unfavorable showing for the crop, the weather being too cold for good growth, and condemned the possibility of a large acreage in cotton. The gave the market a good lively and the close was at net losses of 21 to 30 points for the week.

Local securities were irregular and averaged lower on fluctuations. Trade was quiet among the to fair extent, there being few orders to market but if the buyers to trade on the range in the industrials was the decrease in the Atchison and State Control of Appeals reversing the decision of the lower courts in favor of the minority stockholders who have taken their case into court. This has unsettled the market slightly as Atchison B-ands were fairly traded in with prices well maintained.

The New York Stock market vibrated between strength and weakness and final dealings were at moderate net changes for the week, there being about as many advances as declines. The disturning features were the Gold exports and the decision of the Northern Pacific case in favor of St. Paul against the Harriman interest. The latter led to a great deal of selling, and depressed Union Pacific and Southern Pacific to the lowest of the month and the latter also lowered the rate. The news otherwise was of little importance. The market was slow a good part of the time and room traders did a good part of the business. The depression early in the week was attributed to selling on stop orders, of which the market was full, and traders, knowing this, made a drive at the market and caught them on the long side. The New York banks are undoubtedly high the taking of a few millions for shipment to Paris was not taken as a serious factor, although there was considerable "talk" of gold going out. The "short" interest became more aggressive owing to the light support from the public and on the hard spots a good deal of realizing to cover profits was in evidence, assisting in making the market weak. Business in bonds was good. Total sales on the New York Stock Exchange for the week were 1,756,600 shares, compared with 1,678,100 shares the previous week and 2,660,600 for the same time last year.

In the mercantile trade an improvement was noticed in the market for dry goods and clothing, but in other lines the situation is dull. Unfavorable weather has been the great drawback all spring and business so far is behind last year. The buying of pig iron has been light, the large consumers having covered their requirements some time ago and are refraining from buying in quantities. There is some holdoverment in the way of low prices, but no whole lots are being bought in a hand-to-mouth way and want prompt delivery, which furnaces may be able to provide owing to an improvement in traffic conditions on all railroads. The production of pig iron is steadily increasing, and stocks last month decreased. In finished products of iron and steel new business is somewhat dull, but a fair trade is said to be in progress. The movement of coal in the Chicago territory is good, but in the West lighter than last year. Building materials were taken more readily, as country roads have improved and in order for the jobbing trade was moderate. Collections are fairly good for the season.

COMMERCIAL.

There was considerable interest manifested in commercial circles during the week and the trading on the principal markets on the Chicago Board of Trade was somewhat enlarged. Outside orders were not very free in the aggregate, while local trading was rather active, especially on the part of professional speculators. Business in a speculative way was chiefly in May, July and September deliveries, and the movement of supplies, the weather conditions, the crop reporting crops, and the general situation in foreign markets were the governing factors. Quite an active contest prevailed between "bulls" and "bears," and the result of the week's trading resulted somewhat in favor of the latter.

Advices from Europe indicated little change in crop conditions in that quarter. In the United Kingdom the weather was more favorable, with prospects of average yields of Grain on smaller areas. In France, Germany, Belgium, Spain, Italy, Portugal and Hungary the weather was reported generally favorable with seasonable weather. In Roumania, Wheat is growing fairly well, but rains are needed. Crop conditions in Russia are uncertain, and the yield will probably be less than in the weather is dry in some sections. In India, Argentina and Australasia the exports of Wheat continue good.

In this country, the weather has been unseasonable and cold, and unfavorable for the growing crops and the active prosecution of farm work. Through the Central West, the prospects for Winter Wheat were also unpromising—the plant suffering from lack of warm, growing weather. In the southwest, rains within the past two or three days have been of benefit to the growing crops. Grains in that quarter. On the Pacific Coast, the outlook is quite good. Seeding of Oats is backward in some sections, and the planting of Corn has been retarded. Over the Winter Wheat belt of the West, the seeding season is rather backward, owing to the cool and unseasonable weather, but farmers generally anticipate seeding good areas of all kinds of Grain with the return of good weather.

The movement of Grain from the farmers and interior elevators was comparatively light during the past week. The decline in prices and the decrease of farmers' interest in marketing, owing to the weather to prosecute spring work, tended to check the movement to some extent. Offering of Grain in the Southwest were also rather light, and, as a result, the movement of both Grain and Flax Seed was on a moderate scale. Farmers are somewhat independent in their views, as they have not very large stocks of Wheat and Grain on hand. Inspection at Chicago indicated a slight improvement in the quality of the Grain received. The movement of Grain Eastward was only fair. Shippers of large quantities are inclined to hold off until the opening of lake navigation. The recent low rates of freight on Grain from Buffalo will be discontinued after May 1. Charters for Grain were light, and movement to vessels was very light, but the quantity of Flour and Wheat on ocean passage was increased, while the quantity of Corn was decreased. The visible supply of Grain and quantity of Grain in the United States and Canada, compiled by the Secretary of the Chicago Board of Trade, there were increases in the supplies of Wheat, Corn and Oats, and decreases in the stocks of Corn and Barley. Bradstreet's exhibited only small decreases in the stocks of Wheat, Corn and Oats, compared with rather liberal decreases for corresponding time in 1903.

The leading speculative markets on 'Change were rather active during the past week. Wheat and Corn were traded in freely, and Oats and Hog Products attracted considerable attention. Local feeling was nervous and unsettled, and fluctuations in prices were frequent, but not within very wide ranges. The weather conditions, the crop reporting agencies, and the progress of spring seeding, were the main features in the Grain markets, and the changes in these were reflected in corresponding variations in prices. Considerable trading in the way of transferring contracts, and at the close the trade in general was regarded as fairly well evened up, especially some of the larger lines of trade. The tone of the market appeared to be somewhat "bearish," though not inclined to accept any great chances. Traders, as a rule, were willing to accept small profits or submit to limited losses, and large scale operations were credited with trading to "make storage."

Prices on the whole range ruled lower than one week ago. Wheat was fairly active throughout the week at irregular prices and averaged lower. Operators, as a rule, traded cautiously, with frequent changes in prices. Packers credited with trading, as a rule, fairly well. Receipts of Wheat were met with most favor. Occasional trades made for September delivery. Packing of the West for the week exhibited a decrease of 10,000 Hogs compared with the previous week and a decrease of 2,415,000 for the corresponding week last year.

In each Grain the trading was light from a the general trade, especially in Corn. Offerings were a trifle larger, and prices ruled within a wide range, owing to the poor quality. There was in only fair request, with prices favoring buyers. Oats met with considerable favor, and prices were fairly well supported, especially for the better grades. Rye was in good demand, and prices ruled lower. Barley was in rather good demand, especially malting qualities, and there were no quoted changes in prices. Hay was in limited request, while Timothy Seed was in good demand for the better grades, and prices were well supported. Grass Seeds were rather quiet, and prices were steady. Flax Seed was in moderate request, lower. The cash demand for Hog Products was light early in the week, but there was considerable inquiry toward the close, with quite good sales on export account. Prices rather inclined to favor sellers. Hogs were in better supply, and prices averaged lower. Cattle were in rather good supply, and sold readily at full former prices. Sheep were in fair demand for the choice early free offerings, and prices were well maintained.

RECEIPTS—At Eastern and Western roads are in good condition, and the handling of traffic comes and are doing less business than usual at this season. The Western Grain rate has practically been settled, the through rate via Omaha being the same as the rate via Chicago and the differential rate via St. Louis is to be reduced from 6c to 3c per 100 lbs. The tariff Eastbound is as follows:

To—	From Chicago. Domestic Export.		From Atlantic Ports. Domestic Export.
Boston	22½	25	17½
New York	17	15	13½
Philadelphia	18	14	20	16½
Baltimore	17	13½	19	16
Newport News	17	13½	19
Buffalo	13		15

Flour rates are 20c domestic and 16½c for export. Provision rates are 30c per 100 lbs. Chicago to New York

Rail rates at and east of Buffalo to the seaboard have been reduced by the Interstate Commerce Commission as arbitrator. The rates to New York will be 6c per bu on Wheat, 3½c on Corn, 3½c on Barley and 2½c on Oats.

Ocean rates on Grain are slow and easy with very little demand. Rates on Grain are 1½d per bu from New York and 1d from Boston. Through rate on Wheat from Chicago to Liverpool is 11½c per bu and Corn 11¼c. Flour 10½c per 100 lbs and Provisions 35s per 100 lbs.

No chartering is under way. Agents ask 2c on Corn to Buffalo.

FLOUR—The market during the past week has suffered another the decline for all grades, except spring wheat, which is unchanged and over the former prices. The points between Chicago and Pittsburg are taking some Flour, but the shipments are generally in small lots, and only the best brands are wanted. There is a fair local demand worthy of mention. Here and there a small lot is taken to fill in with, but the bids on round lots are considerably below the cost of manufacture. The Interior mills of the Northwest, as well as those in the Southwest, are offering very little Flour in Chicago. The Southwestern millers are firm in their views, and will not ship unless there is a certain guarantee is made for it. The mills at Chicago are not running except on part time the millers seeing nothing ahead of an encouraging character. Advices from the East indicate that the present large surplus will be reduced and give them an outlet for the Flour which they now have on hand. Chicago manufacturers, such as spots and nearby points, are looking for a fair trade for current use. Closing quotations ranged as follows:

MILLSTUFFS—There has been only a light business in Millstuffs during the past week. A good demand existed, but the offerings were light and prevented a larger trade. Bran sold at $17 50 in 100 lbs sacks and in bulk quotably about $16 @$16 50 per ton.

WINTER WHEAT—The market has ruled fairly steady during the past week, and prices did not undergo any spec at changes. Buyers did not favor many of the offerings, and only a limited trading has been of a limited character. There were no shipping orders and there was nothing encouraging to speak of in the way of business, and it moved only sparingly. Scarcely enough Wheat was received to make a market for the fresh arrivals, prices for which have been little better than nominal. No new cash sales of consequence to report were sold, but they were not taken up very readily, that is, there was no competition among buyers and the Hard Wheat ruled slightly lower. Crop reports continue favorable, and during the week the receipts aggregated 111 cars, against 53 cars the previous week. There were withdrawn from public elevators 68,000 bu and from private warehouses 2 cars. No. 2 Red sold at 82½@82¾c for May price, with a sale of 5,000 bu at 82¾c premium, and at the close was held at 82½c over May, and ranged at 80¾@87½c closing at 82½@82¾c. Corn at close at 82½@82¾c. Fresh arrivals free on board ranged at 82@81 02. No. 3 Red, a choice car fresh receipts free on board sold at 81 00, and ranged at 98c@1 01 for ordinary to choice. No. 4 Red, a choice car fresh free on board sold at 91@95c. No. 3 Hard fresh receipts free on board sold at 82@83c for poor to good and a very choice car of soft yellow Illinois Wheat sold to-day. No. 4 Hard 80@82c.

SPRING WHEAT—Trade has been light and the market has ruled quiet all the week without any special change in prices. A little milling demand existed, but the offerings of a limited character. The few cars of fresh arrivals were taken from day to day, and occasionally a small lot was sold to be taken out of elevator. There has been little change in the situation, and the crop reports continue favorable under the influence of generally seasonable weather. While Wheat is growing well in Roumania rain is needed. Crop conditions in Russia are fairly with a different section, while the weather too dry on the whole. India crops are in good condition. Clearances from both coasts for the week were only 140,000 bu, compared with 1,213,600 bu the week before, and 3,963,000 bu a year ago. The Argentine shipments for the week were 1,040,000 bu, compared with 3,350,000 bu the week before, and 2,000,000 bu a year ago. Argentine shipments since January 1st 43,876,000 bu, against 27,450,000 bu for the corresponding period last year.

CORN—The market closed 1¼@2c lower for the week. The abandoning of the May Corn deal by the principal "long" was not only the big feature of the week, but the only factor of consequence. The bulk of business of "long" May Corn were taken over, and as the "shorts" and others backed away from the offerings, sharply lower prices resulted. The cash trade was quiet during the week, being light and dull. The only cash sales were mere scraps. Offerings were light, with only 1 car reported received. Prices ruled lower, with a fair demand for No. 3 White at 42½c, and No. 3 Yellow at 42½c. No. 3 White sold at 42½@42¾c, and ranged at 42@42½c for ordinary to choice. No. 4 Spring fresh receipts free on board sold at 42@42½c for poor to good, and ranged at 42@42½c for poor to choice.

REGULAR WHEAT—There was more doing than for some time past, and an increase was noticeable in the outside trade. Values were fairly regular and unsettled, and while the changes were not large, they were the most violent. Prices closed 1¼@1¾c lower for the week. There was a wonderful lack of manipulation, the market seeming to hinge entirely on the crop out look in the Spring and Winter Wheat belts. Desired conditions in the Winter Wheat belt ruled rather poor. In the Southwest rain and sunshine was badly needed, while in the Northwest the cry was for dry, sunny and warmer weather. Crop damage reports continued to pour in, but failed to have the effect of bulling the market. The Price Current in its weekly review said that the week was too cold for much Wheat growth, but that the general average of the crop had been maintained. The Modern Miller also said that latest reports as to the Winter Wheat crop in Central Eastern States were pessimistic and seemed to be without little hope for more than half a crop of Wheat, though it was qualified by the statement that it is too early to reach accurate conclusions, and that favorable springing weather may prove a surprise to many. Winter Wheat now believed to have been winter killed, and that the reports from Kansas were more favorable. The Modern Miller said that "under the influence of unseasonably cold weather and freezing temperatures in some sections, Winter Wheat has made slow growth. The crop was already late, and even in two weeks behind an average growth. Moisture has generally been plentiful, but warm weather and sunshine are urgently needed. Crop conditions are poor in Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Oklahoma, and Texas, and a large acreage will be plowed up. Although Oklahoma had the first good rain of the season, lack of moisture and damage by frost have reduced prospects for a good Winter Wheat crop. The best in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Pacific Coast." The Orange Judd Farmer said that Winter Wheat conditions have been fairly maintained, and that the reduction of area in the Red River Valley would be more than made up elsewhere. The worst reports received come from Northwestern Oklahoma and the Panhandle country of Texas, where it was claimed that it would be impos ible to raise an average crop. The weather reports indicated that a radical change in the weather had taken place down there, which with high winds and damaging frosts had caused decided change for the worse. According to the weather bureau, Winter Wheat in the greater and greater part of Kansas and Nebraska Winter Wheat has made good growth, but needs warmer weather. Reports from the Ohio Valley on this crop continue to be unfavorable, and from Illinois and Southern Indiana is indicated, while in Illinois it has made little growth, and its condition is less promising than two weeks ago. Reports from Central and Northern Indiana a large acreage will be plowed up for other crops. On the Pacific Coast Winter Wheat has made splendid growth, especially in Washington and Oregon. A reliable authority in the Northwest in speaking of the progress of Wheat seeding up there says that seeding is now nearer way on the Fergus Falls line of the Great Northern and on the North Dakota, but the Red River Valley will not do any seeding to speak of before May 1, on account of the soil being very wet. The amount of fall plowing done was unusually large in Minnesota, Dakota and South Dakota. The crop acreage will probably be larger than usual. In Nebraska and Iowa on the Great Northern Road, seeding is completed. Indications point to a large crop. The Northwest Farmer in the Wheat area of from 10 to 20 per cent. Reports from Winnipeg are that while the seeding will be somewhat late the seed will go into the ground also in good shape. Indications are said that the acreage will be increased by the additional farmers that have gone into that country. The cash situation has not been as strong as for some time past, receipts being 1,900,000 bu, compared with 31,180,000 bu a week ago and 37,271,000 bu a year ago. The amount of Wheat and Flour (as Wheat) afloat, destined for Europe and the continent, was 37,000,000 bu, a decrease during the total amount of 3,500,000 bu, compared with 32,952,000 bu a year ago. Liverpool stocks increased 358,000 bu for the week, and are now 3,192,000 bu, against 2,834,000 bu a week ago. Local Wheat stocks in public houses are now 2,163,000 bu, compared with 2,129,000 bu a week ago and 2,210,000 bu a year ago. World's shipments were against 10,000,000 bu the week before. For the same period last year they were 9,252,000 bu for this week, 11,040,000 bu last week, and 9,912,000 bu a year ago. Bradstreet's of very little value available supply was a "bear" document itself. It showed a decrease of 817,000 bu for the week, compared with a decrease of 6,925,000 bu a year ago. Receipts of Wheat were light, and that kind of Wheat has had a sharp relative decline in the past two weeks. There was a decrease in contract stock of 48,110 bu for the week, compared with a decrease for the previous week of 91,000 bu, compared with 1,633,716 bu a week ago and 2,911,466 bu a year ago. Total Wheat stocks in all positions at Chicago are 4,617,000 bu, compared with 4,665,000 bu a week ago. According to the very latest crop advices from abroad the weather continues very favorable in the United Kingdom, and on average yield per acre may be expected to be above that of 1903. Prospects are, although, as the acreage will be practically the smallest on record, the total outturn will be much below normal. In France, Germany, Belgium, Spain, Italy and Portugal crop prospects also continue favorable under the influence of generally seasonable weather. While Wheat is growing well in Roumania rain is needed. Crop conditions in Russia are fairly with a different section, while the weather too dry on the whole. India crops are in good condition. Clearances from both coasts for the week were only 140,000 bu, compared with 1,213,600 bu the week before, and 3,963,000 bu a year ago. The Argentine shipments for the week were 1,040,000 bu, compared with 3,350,000 bu the week before, and 2,000,000 bu a year ago. Argentine shipments since January 1st 43,876,000 bu, against 27,450,000 bu for the corresponding period last year.

OATS—The market ruled steady to firm during the past week, with prices ruling higher. Offerings were light, and the demand was fairly good. Trade was in good shape, and prices were higher. Cash sales were light, and prices ruled higher. No. 2 White sold at 35¾@36c, a net loss of 3c, and closed at 35¾@36c. No. 3 White sold at 35¾@36c, and closed at 35¾@36c, a net loss of 3c. September broke from 32¾c to 29¾c and closed at 30¾@30¾c, a decline of 2c for the week. Indications point to a large crop in the Ohio Valley and Northwest was more favorable for seeding. The soil was in good receptive condition and a large part of the area has already been seeded. Reports from the Northwest indicate a decided increase in the area to be seeded. Reports from the East improved by the cessation of supplies there, forcing the trade to take cars to, as it was not to be expected that Oats from west opened Oats would be shipped East by lake. A delay in the opening and the uncertainties as to when boats will start for the East, however, will tend to keep the premium up and supply immediate requirements. This market better demand and there were fair sales of Standard at May prices to be over in store. Receipts were 1,000,000 bu, compared with 1,000,000 bu last week and 705 cars last year. In the sample market prices advanced 1@1½c early, but lost it. Local stocks in public houses decreased 65,774 bu for the week and are 2,230,000 bu, against 1,948,000 bu last year. Stocks in all positions are 4,957,000 bu, against a decrease of 231,000 bu last year. The visible supply increased 8,000 bu, and is 10,340,000 bu, against 9,950,000 bu last week.

RYE—The market during the past week has ruled dull and neglected and prices declined 1@1½c. There was a decline of 2c between the 1st of May and 2nd of July, with a recovery of another decline of 2c. Very little interest appeared to be taken in the market; specialties shipped were of very limited character, and all showed utter indifference. The weakness in other Grains was used to help bring about the unreasonable factory developments in the Rye market. There was no business to speak of, and the little bit in the way of demand all receivers could do was to meet buyers' views if they wanted to sell. A similar state of affairs existed in the speculative market. Sometimes during the week only a few cars of the receipts have been during the week, parties the arrivals had to be sold to speculators to go to store, there not being enough demand from mill consumers to take them. Receipts were 70,000 bu, against 70,000 bu last week and 70 cars last year. The visible supply increased 345,000 bu, and is 1,017,000 bu, against 945,000 bu the previous week and 2,000,000 bu a year ago. The local stocks in store were 320,000 and a year ago was 370,000 bu. No. 2 in store was quotably about 70c early in the week and per nominally down to 69c. Sales of fresh receipts to go to store at 67c; fresh arrivals free on board sold at 69c. No. 3 sold at 68@68½c—outside for a choice car. Future deliveries of No. 2 in store were nominally 70c early in the week and was at 69c and then off to 67c, and closed at 67c sellers. July sold at 65c and closed at 64½c asked and 64c bid.

BARLEY—Only a small volume of business was done. Lack of interest in the market was such as is noticed toward the close of a season. Maltsters were in light attendance on the market. Apparently they did not need to buy, and preferred doing to do so when they could secure good goods. The few cars of good Barley received were disposed of without any trouble. Millstuffs sold in a jobbing way. Prices on purchases made by Morr Barley possibly came in than was shown in the inspection for deliveries are frequently made without cars being inspected. They were bought by sample, and as long as they arrived in that is all that was necessary. To-arrive Barley inactive. Offerings were small; demand restricted to a few cars. Receipts were small. Offerings in net cash offerings were mainly of low-grade Barley and Screenings. Such consignments dull and dragging, and there was little action from the trade. Prices were nominally unchanged. Occasionally there was a spurt of demand for low grades, which was lisby for speculation. Those purchasing evidently did not realize the demand looked for, and buyers did not seem to be in a hurry to take hold of occasional cars. Where Barley was heavy tainted and musty it was especially hard to sell. A little more Barley cleared from New York for export, but no quotable change in prices. Prices were and visible supply, both, however, remain considerably in excess of a year ago. There were 1,000,000 bu, a week ago 12,556 bu and 132 cars a week and 12 cars two weeks ago. Withdrawals were 10,000 bu, a week ago 12,556 bu and two weeks ago 3,500 bu. New York exports of 1,000 bu reported, against 1,000 bu the week before. There was a range of prices as follow: Screenings sold at 37@38c for poor to choice. Barley, mixing or feed, at 39@40c for poor to good, and choice to fancy malting at 41@42c; choice 43@44c. Barley low grade, quotable at 38@40c—common to good, at 44@45c, good to choice, 46@48c; choice, 50@52c; extra fancy and even exceeding lot possibly a shade over.

SEEDS—There was a marked increase in the movement of Timothy Seed and a firmer feeling developed, and the market was strong under further feature of the market. Timothy and Flax fluctuated the changes which came about but the Flax market was the reverse of the other, running steadily in favor of buyers as the week ran on, the course of values during the week. Clover was very quiet, little on sale and steadiness prevailed late selling Seeds were also very quiet, with nothing new.

Timothy—According to the postings both the receipts and shipments gained considerably, estimated at 25 cars as large as for several days. As a matter of fact the cash offerings were at the same time smaller, the lightest for a long time. The volume of open interest business remained limited. In consequence of small offerings a refreshing prevailed and it culminated in 20@25c advance in prices, and of the contract grade were finally were no offerings. Larger posted prices of the same time small offerings and higher pri- is hardly a harmonious situation, and on the other hand, order trade was said to be very moderate. Prompt delivery was in good demand for shipment, however, may have been on account of shipments made on previous contracts. Poor to fancy Seed was quoted early at $2 00@2 80, later at $2 25@2 90; none on the regular market was good enough to bring outside prices. Fair to good improved from $2 40@2 45 to $2 50@2 65, and choice from $2 60@2 65 to $2 65@2 75. Contract spot or April delivery was nominal with the early quotation at $2 80, and later quoted at $2 95@3 00. September was offered early at $3 00, with $2 90 bid; selling orders were withdrawn and as a change $3 15 was later bid. Movement the past week with comparisons was as follows:

Flax—A dull, very quiet market was again experienced. This, perhaps, was nothing new. Values were without essential change for some days, but there came a break of 7@8c. Decline was due to a break in prices in the Northwest, and was the outcome, perhaps, of large stocks, dull trade and perhaps on account of heavy deliveries on May contracts there was considerable realizing. The movement became smaller, here and elsewhere. As a net result the visible regular stock here and in the Northwest decreased 21,000 bu, but the stock is still very heavy. There was 1,805 bu reduction here, with 24,211 bu reported, against 93,557 bu the same time last year. Duluth increased 159,020 bu and had 7,758,760 bu, and Minneapolis after 181,569 bu decrease had 947,450 bu. Total quantity at these points 8,760,411 bu. A few cars of No. 1 Northwestern were sold with an early quotation of $1 16 and a decline to $1 06½ followed; closed at $1 06½. Aside from the few sales of this grade there was no business done. No. 1 ranged nominally from $1 08 to $1 00 and quotations for Rejected dropped from $1 04@1 09 to 97c @1 00, outside for choice Northwestern. April delivery ranged at $1 08 to $1 00 and May opening at $1 09 declined to $1 00; closed at $1 00. September in the same way dropped from $1 15 to $1 08.

Clover—Order business has been moderate. It might have been better, had it not been for cold, unreasonable weather. Posted receipts larger than the shipments. On the open market sales were restricted. But a very small part of the receipts appear to reach open market. Values did not change; they were quoted the same from day to day, and covered a range as follows: Contract spot Seed remains quotable at $10 75. Country lots common to choice, $7 75@10 00; fancy above mixed; mixed with Buckhorn or other weed Seeds, $7 00@8 25; poor cleaned out of Timothy, very foul, down to $3 00@6 00. Such lots as usually come to market when ordinary to good quotable at $8 50@9 50.

Other Seeds—A few lots came on the market. There was some Hungarian and several kinds of Millet. The sales were at prices which reflected no essential change in the market, steadiness quotable for good qualities. The backward spring and unfavorable reports respecting some crops suggests prospects of fair trade for late sowing Seeds but it is too early yet. Values quoted from day to day appear in the table elsewhere given. Movement for the week with comparisons was as follows:

Buckwheat has been inactive, none offered. It is too early for sowing demand; that cannot be expected until about June. For good Wheat there was a nominal quotation of $1 30.

HAY—The receipts for the week were 3,807 tons, against 5,026 tons for the previous week. Shipments for the week were 153 tons, against 34 tons for the previous week. The arrivals of Timothy Hay were quite small during the past week, and a good local demand existed. The season is rather backward and feeders have to depend on Hay as grass is scarce and other descriptions of feed is comparatively high. A firm feeling prevails and prices advanced 50c per ton and the market closed firm. Prairie Hay was rather quiet during the early part of the week. The offerings were liberal and demand only fair. Later, the receipts became smaller and the demand improved. The scarcity of Timothy Hay also caused buyers to give the market for Prairie Hay a little more attention. Prices show no material change, but the feeling was firmer. Quotations at the close ranged as follows: Choice Timothy, $14 00@14 50; No. 1 Timothy, $12 50@13 [illegible]0; No. 2 Timothy, $10 50@11 50; No. 3 Timothy, $8 50@10 50. Choice Prairie, $10 00@10 50; No. 1 Prairie, $9 00@9 50; No 2 Prairie, $8 00@8 50; No. 3 Prairie, $7 00@7 50; No. 4 Prairie, $5 50@6 00. Inside prices on Prairie Hay for State and outside for Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa Hay. Sales ranged at $9 00@15 00 for fair to choice Timothy, $9 00 for Clover Mixed, $6 50 for Clover Hay, $6 50 for State and $7 50@10 50 for Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska Prairie Hay. Rye Straw sold at $4 50 for bot and Oat Straw at $6 50.

COOPERAGE—Trade was limited and an unsettled feeling prevailed. Buyers and sellers were apart in their views. Offerings were moderate and there was little demand from any source. Local packers were not disposed to purchase, as they have ample supplies and are short of storage facilities. Outside orders were small. Some of the trades made were in settlement of outstanding contracts. Ash Pork Barrels were in small request and lower at 75@80c. Oak Pork Barrels were dull and dragging and prices ruled lower at 87½@90c. Lard Tierces were called for moderately and prices ruled lower at $1 25@1 32½, closing at $1 25@1 30. Iron-bound Lard Tierces were in moderate request and quotable at $1 12½@1 15 for six-hoop and $1 22½@1 25 for eight-hoop.

HOGS—There was a fair increase in the supply of Hogs marketed during the past week, and the quality was fair. Market in a general way was fairly active, but somewhat dragging. Packers bought moderately, while the demand on orders from the Eastern markets was rather good. Fluctuations in prices were slight and on the whole range ruled 10@20c lower, and closed around medium figures. Market in a general way rather easy. Sales during the week were made at $4 60@5 20 for light, $4 70@5 05 for rough packing, $4 70@5 30 for mixed, and $4 95@5 35 for heavy packing and shipping lots, with the bulk of the sales at $4 95@5 15 for fair to good averages. At the close about 3,000 Hogs remained in the pens unsold. Pigs were in fair supply and rather good demand and sold at $4 15@4 80, according to size and weight. Receipts of Hogs at the other large Western packing points were somewhat larger, and the quality was only fair.

PACKING—The supply of Hogs was only fair during the past week, with prices fairly well maintained, and business in packing circles was on a moderate scale as the manufacture of Products is somewhat unsatisfactory. Production of Mess Pork made in limited quantities. Lard produced in fair quantities and average yield was good. Only a small proportion delivered in tanks. Domestic cuts of Hams made moderately, and chiefly cured by packers. Skinned Hams made in fair quantities, and only a limited proportion sold from the block. Foreign cuts of Hams made sparingly. Shoulders cut in limited quantities, and a fair proportion sold from the block to the retail trade. Picnic Hams made moderately and the bulk packed by manufacturers. Long Clear Sides and Extra Long Clear Sides made very sparingly. Short Clear Sides cut in very limited quantities. Extra Short Clear Sides made moderately. Short Rib Sides made in only fair quantities by the larger houses. Extra Short Rib Sides made sparingly. Rough Sides met with a little more favor and the production was fair. Bellies made moderately. Backs produced in small quantities. Plates and Butts made sparingly. Loins cut in fair quantities to meet current wants. Foreign fancy and special cuts of Meats made in limited quantities.

PROVISIONS—Considerable interest was manifested in the market for Hog Products during the week just closed. Outside orders were fair and local packers and speculators traded moderately free. The feeling was somewhat unsettled and fluctuations in prices were frequent. Considerable business in transferring contracts from May to July, and a little business was reported in September. "Longs" liquidated rather freely at times, while declines in prices brought "shorts" into the market for fair quantities. Hogs were in larger supply at all the leading packing points and the quality was fair, and prices averaging slightly lower. Returns of the packing of the West for the week indicated a decrease of 10,000 Hogs compared with the returns for the corresponding week in 1903. Foreign Provision markets were quiet and rather slow early in the week, but were stronger with an advance in prices of some descriptions toward the close. Domestic markets were quiet. Receipts of Products were rather free, as packers are selling readily and delivering fair quantities on maturing contracts. Shipments were moderately free, with a larger proportion for export. The stock of all kinds on hand is quite large. Production at present on a moderate scale. Speculative trading during the week was influenced to a considerable extent by the changes in the Grain markets. Early in the week, the feeling was rather easy in the speculative markets, with a general inclination to sell, especially by holders of small quantities, while the demand from all sources was moderate. Prices declined on all the leading articles. At inside figures, there was a fair miscellaneous inquiry, while there was less pressure to sell, and the market exhibited rather more strength. Prices rallied considerably all around. At the improvement there was some inclination to realize, and the market again weakened with moderate declines on the principal articles. Toward the close, the feeling was steadier and prices rallied slightly, with only moderate general trading, and the market closed steady at medium figures. Bulk of the trading was in July contracts. The demand on shipping account was rather light early in the week, and sales were limited. Later, there was some improvement in the demand, mainly for export cuts, and sales were fairly liberal. Holders were not quite so firm in their views, owing to the weakness in the speculative articles and the good supplies on hand. Prices were reduced slightly on most descriptions. Offerings were fair.

Pork—A fairly good business in a speculative way was transacted in Mess Pork during the past week, and the feeling was somewhat unsettled. Offerings were fairly liberal, and the demand was moderately active. Rather a good supply on hand for the season of the year. Transfers of contracts from May to July were made at 17½@20c difference. Early in the week, the feeling was rather easy, with some pressure to sell, and only a moderate inquiry. Prices declined 25@27½c on the whole range. At the decline the demand improved, while the offerings were moderate, and the market exhibited a little more strength. Prices rallied again 25@27½c. Again the market weakened on general realizing, and prices declined 30@32½c. Toward the close the market was stronger again and prices irregularly advanced 20@22½c, but receded again 5@10c, and the market closed comparatively steady. Demand on shipping account was light, and offerings were moderate. Holders generally ask May prices. Cash lots quotable at the close at $11 95@12 00. Other cuts of Pork were in moderate request to fill small orders. Offerings not very large. Prices without material change.

Lard—Rather a good trade was reported in the Lard market during the past week. The feeling was somewhat unsettled, and changes in prices were frequent. Offerings were moderately free at times, and the general demand was fair, but somewhat spasmodic. Foreign advices were rather unfavorable to holders. Stocks on hand considerably reduced. Movement somewhat larger, and production only fair. "Longs" sold fair quantities, and were credited with favoring the selling side to some extent. "Shorts" bought moderately on the receding scale. Transfers of contracts from May to July were made at 15@17½c difference, and there was a moderate business in September. Early in the week, the feeling was rather easy, with a little pressure to sell, and prices receded 12½@15c on the whole range. At the decline, there was a fair general demand, mainly from "shorts," while offerings were moderate, and prices rallied 12½@15c. This advance brought a little more property on the market, and a weaker feeling was again developed, accompanied with a decline of 7½@10c. Toward the close, a little more steadiness was manifested, and prices rallied about 7½@10c, and market closed comparatively steady. The demand on shipping account was fair early in the week, chiefly in a quiet way, and some lots were taken for export. Toward the close the demand slackened again, and a quiet feeling prevailed. Prices ruled at about 2½c discount on May figures, and cash lots closed at $6 55@6 57½. Refined Lard was in moderate demand, and a few sales were made at prices not made public. Loose lots were in rather good request, but the offerings were moderate. Sales were made at 40@47½c discount on May figures, and closed at 40c discount. Leaf Lard was in fairly good demand and a few trades were made at $6 00@6 12½, and closed steady at $6 00. Neutral was in only moderate request, and offerings were fair. Market was rather steady and prices quotable at $7 12½@7 25 for No 1, and $6 87½@7 00 for No. 2.

Short Rib Sides—Quite a good business was transacted in the market for Short Rib Sides, and the feeling was somewhat unsettled and prices irregular. Offerings were moderately free and the demand was fairly active. Stock reported on hand shows a slight decrease. Outside orders were fair, and local trading was moderately active. Manufacture moderate. Transfers of contracts from May to July were made at 15@17½c difference, and occasional trades were made for September delivery. Early in the week, an easy feeling prevailed, and prices receded 17½@20c. At the decline, a fair general demand prevailed, and prices gradually advanced 20@22½c. This improvement tended to enlarge the offerings, and a weaker feeling was developed, and prices settled back 10@12½c. Toward the close, the feeling was steadier again, and prices rallied 10@12½c, and the market closed comparatively steady. Demand on shipping account was light, and there was no particular pressure to sell. Cash lots at the close quotable at $6 25@6 37½ according to weight.

Green Meats—A comparatively small business was reported in Green Meats during the past week, and the undertone to the market was very strong. Offerings were moderate, and the demand was on a limited scale and generally for small quantities. Local curers slow to purchase, and outside orders were light. Prices inclined in favor of buyers. Hams were in light demand, with moderate offerings, and prices ruled about ¼c lower. Skinned Hams were called for sparingly, and were without material change. Shoulders were quiet and prices favored buyers. Picnic Hams were in small request and prices were a trifle lower. Bellies in light demand and prices ruled comparatively steady.

Pickled Meats—A little more interest was manifested in the market for Pickled Meats during the past week, and sales were larger. Buyers for the domestic trade were rather slow to take hold, but toward the close exporters accepted fair quantities of the different cuts, a portion of which was for future delivery. Offerings were fair. Prices rather inclined in favor of buyers. Stocks of all kinds were fair. Hams were in fairly good request, especially light averages, and prices ruled slightly lower. Skinned Hams were in rather good demand, with fair offerings, and prices inclined in favor of buyers. Shoulders were in small demand, and prices were slightly lower. Picnic Hams were in moderate demand, and prices were without material change. Bellies were in light request, and prices ruled steady.

Dry Salted Meats—Only a moderate business was transacted in Dry Salted Meats during the past week, and the undertone to the market was comparatively easy. Offerings were moderate, and the demand was only fair. Exporters made moderate inquiries for small quantities, but accepted only a few lots. Stocks in that quarter are moderate. Inquiry for the home trade rather light. Supplies of all kinds were fairly liberal. Shipments to foreign markets were only fair. Foreign cuts of Hams were in small request and prices were unchanged. Shoulders were in small request and prices ruled about ⅛c lower. Long Clear Sides and Extra Long Clear Sides were inactive and prices entirely nominal. PORK PACKING AND PROVISIONS.

The marketing of Hogs continues to represent moderate numbers. Total Western packing 355,-000, compared with 335,000 for the preceding week, and 420,000 two weeks ago. For corresponding time last year the number was 365,000, and two years ago 350,000. From March 1 the total is 2,585,-000, against 2,415,000 a year ago—an increase of 170,000. The quality in some instances is not being maintained. Prices are lower than a week ago, the average for prominent markets at the close being about $5 00 per 100 lbs, compared with $5 10 a week ago, $5 20 two weeks ago, $7 10 a year ago, $6 85 two years ago, and $5 85 three years ago.

The speculative Provision market has been easy in tone the past week, and the influences surrounding the Provision trade were again in favor of the selling side of the market. Prices for Hogs were lower, the Grain markets were easier and declining, receipts of Hogs were well maintained, and the offerings of Product were fairly liberal. In cash trading there was not much demand, and prices favored buyers. In the consuming centers merchants bought for immediate requirements only. Exporters continue to buy sparingly. The export clearances of Product were light, showing a decrease as compared with the preceding week. Last year the exports for the corresponding week were quite small, so that the comparison with last year shows a slight gain over the same period last year.

The week's export clearances of Hog Products compared with corresponding time last year:

	Past week.	Last year.
Bacon, pounds	7,745,000	9,136,000
Total, Meats	8 273,000	9,800,000
Lard, pounds	8,130,000	5,482,000
Total, Product	16,403,000	15,282,000

Special reports to the Cincinnati Price Current show the number of Hogs packed since March 1, at undermentioned places, compared with last year, as follows:

AUSTRALIAN WHEAT CROP.

The Adelaide correspondent of the Northwestern Miller estimates the yield of Wheat in Australasia for the season of 1903-4 as follows:

	Bushels.	Average.
New South Wales	24,000,000	20
Victoria	28,000,000	12
South Australia	13,000,000	7
Other States	5,000,000
Commonwealth	72,000,000	11

In the 1902-3 season only 12,000,000 bu were reaped, large importations being rendered necessary, the deficiency amounting to 11,000,000 bu to 12,000,000 bu. A production of 72,000,000 bu is easily the highest on record for the Commonwealth. It will be interesting to append a few particulars of the Commonwealth Wheat harvest of recent years:

	Acres.	Bushels.	Average.
1901-2	5,100,668	38 503,499	7.55
1902-3	5,107,954	12,307,059	2.42
1903-4	5,600,000	72,311,150	11.12

The requirements of the Commonwealth for food and seed are about 30,000,000 bu, so that this season there is an exportable surplus of 42,000,000 bu. Some allowance must be made for damaged Grain, but even then it is evident that Australia is in a position to ship freely.

NORTHWESTERN CROP CONDITIONS.

[From the Duluth Commercial Record.]

Conditions for seeding in the Northwest are slightly improved from a week ago, but are still far from favorable in some sections. During the present week seeding has advanced in Minnesota as far north as Fergus Falls and that vicinity. On the Minnesota side of the Red River Valley from Bornesville north conditions are very bad, especially in the vicinity of Moorehead and East Grand Forks. It will be pretty close to May 1 before much seeding is done from Bornesville north. In South Dakota Wheat is all seeded, except the northeast portion.

In North Dakota conditions have improved greatly during the week and by Monday of the coming week seeding will be quite general all over the State, except on the low places in the valley, and the latest date set for that is May 1. All this providing weather remains favorable.

SPECULATIVE OPINIONS.

The financial writer has no business to be engaged in any speculative pool or underwriting scheme, whether on the ground floor or otherwise. His position must be that of the unbiased and independent outside observer. He is representative of the public in the financial district, and though he may lose many opportunities for making money by refraining from personal speculations, he must sacrifice his personal pecuniary interest to his sense of honor and to his supreme duty to his newspaper and the public that reads it.

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Rains are shown the past 24 hours in Winnipeg, Dakotas and Minnesota. Light rains in Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa and Ohio Valley. Trace at Fort Worth. No rain in Kansas or Oklahoma. Temperatures some higher everywhere and considerably higher in Middle West and Southwest. Almost .22 inches rain at Galveston, Tex. Map shows more seasonable temperatures.

The prevalence of rains in the Northwest is an undesirable feature, but the general rise in temperatures is favorable.

Indications are for unsettled weather and scattered showers over this district. Mild temperature will be followed by cooler beyond the Mississippi Sunday night, and probably in this section Monday morning.

The map showed heavy rains are through the Winter Wheat belt and more was predicted. Market at the start acted as if oversold and "shorts" in general covered. Liverpool quoted spot steady to ⅛d lower, and futures ⅛@¼d lower. London ¼@⅜d lower and quoted cargoes on passage quiet and lower to sell. Paris unchanged to ¾d lower. Broomhall cabled that the Continent was taking the larger percentage of the cargoes awaiting at ports for orders. Liverpool stock 3,304,000 bu, increased 112,000 bu, and is now 1,520 000 bu larger than in 1903 Private crop reports from Missouri, Illinois and parts of Indiana were quite "bullish." Minneapolis reported stocks there decreased 110,000 bu since Saturday. Cash sales here small. Exports most limited, and but 13 boat loads accepted at the seaboard. Berlin ⅜c lower. Buda Pesth was up ¼c. Lack of support was a late factor. Receipts at Duluth 5 cars and at Minneapolis 137 cars, a total of 142 cars, against 87 Saturday, 225 cars a week ago, and 283 cars last year. CORN—Was only moderately active, with the bulk of trade late in the session. The feeling manifested was firmer early, but the market broke badly later on and close showed losses of ¼c to 1¼c. The map showed too much rain through Corn belt and more indicated, which with early strength in Wheat tended to impart a better undertone to the market Saturday's sellers and "shorts" led in the buying, while the offerings were very moderate. Some selling of May and buying July at ½c difference More disposition on the part of September "shorts" to cover. CROPS IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

[From Broomhall's Corn Trade News, April 12.]

United Kingdom—The weather in the United Kingdom has continued to be rather cold for the time of year, and generally speaking vegetation is backward. We have also had some further rains, but likewise a fair share of bright sunshine, and at time of writing the temperature is higher and the wind in a drier quarter. Farmers have been able to make further progress with the seeding of their spring crops and are now able to get a much better seed-bed It is thought that the area under Oats will show an increase this year, an increase obtained at the expense of Barley and Wheat. Reports say there are some nice looking fields of autumn-sown Wheat to be seen in various parts, but there are others where the plant is very scanty and sickly looking. Supplies of native Wheat on provincial markets keep very small.

Russia—It is confirmed that the winter crops in the Southwest have suffered rather severely from frost damage, but elsewhere the outlook appears to be fair, and the weather is improving Supplies to the ports are still only moderate, but we continue to hear that good quantities are expected to come down from the interior later. The export movement is fair, the Azoff doing a good share of the business.

Roumania—Braila reports that crop news is favorable on the whole, but there are renewed complaints from districts in the neighborhood of that town Supplies keep quite small, and exports likewise are small.

India—Our latest mail advices give very favorable accounts of harvest prospects, and as far as we learn nothing untoward has since happened. Shipments are liberal and increasing, but we are informed that no offerings are now put forward from Bombay.

Australasia—Shipments keep quite liberal, and although chartering has now slackened considerably, ships are still being fixed to bring Wheat to Europe.

Argentina—Weather conditions are reported to be favorable, and this, no doubt, refers to the gathering of Corn and the moving of Wheat Arrivals of Wheat, and the shipments, are on a large scale, and the quality of the Grain has improved.

France—Some rain fell last week, but generally the weather continues quite favorable for the crops and for agriculture generally; however, a period of fine, warm weather is now desired. Autumn-sown crops continue to receive favorable mention, and recent weather has been favorable to the germination of spring seedings. Farmers continue to offer Wheat sparingly, as they are busy with other work.

Germany—The weather last week was very changeable, and although people are rather inclined to grumble, such weather is, of course, seasonable Some reports of damage have been circulated in America, but our own advices contain no confirmation of this; indeed, some of them are distinctly favorable.

Spain—Fine weather prevails in the Peninsula and crop conditions are improving

North Africa—Reports continue to speak favorably of crop prospects.

Chile—Latest news of the harvest was favorable but little has been shipped so far.

THE HOP SITUATION.

[New York Producers' Price Current, April 23]

Absolutely nothing new has developed in the Hop market during the past week. Brewers are all complaining of being way behind in their sales, and this with the fact of it being license time when they are busy looking after the renewal of licenses they cannot be induced to listen to any talk regarding the purchase of Hops and market is just about at a standstill Remaining stocks are moderate and well under control of strong holders who show no disposition to hurry matters, but quietly awaiting future developments, being confident that as soon as weather becomes settled warm and consumption of beer increases demand will pick up and all the desirable grades wanted. Prices in absence of business are to a great extent nominal, but nothing to warrant any change in the range of quotations. In this State weather conditions continue wintry and growers cannot get at their yards, and are fully three to four weeks behind time. On the Pacific Coast weather conditions are grand and all that growers could desire, and work in the yards is progressing finely.

FALL WHEAT IN ONTARIO.

Every year a number of fields sown to Winter Wheat have to be plowed up in Ontario, and this year appears to be no exception to the rule, as advices from Chatham state that, despite the fact that a portion of the area planted with Winter Wheat in that district will have to be resown with other seed, the crop on the whole has wintered well and, with favorable weather from this out, a good average crop is expected. Taking the Winter Wheat sections of Ontario as a whole, the prospects are said to be excellent for a full yield, although the season is somewhat late. The profitable nature of Wheat culture during the past year has, it is claimed, induced the planting of a larger area than was sown last year

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The weather map shows very heavy rains in Kansas to-day and heavy rains there Saturday and Sunday—over 3 inches at Concordia. Heavy rain in Missouri, Iowa, Illinois and Ohio Valley Rains in Oklahoma and Texas. Southwest has had a drenching for three days. Temperatures as low here as anywhere else. Above freezing in the Northwest and about seasonable elsewhere. Clear in Northwest.

Indications are the storm will continue its movement East, with rain. Fair Tuesday over the entire district. Temperatures will fall in the South, but no particular change Northwest.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

A Paris cable says that a Russian loan of $16,000,000, bearing 5 per cent interest, has been introduced on the Paris bourse. It is quoted at 95.

The Consolidated Rubber Tire Company reports for the year ended Dec. 31 a surplus after expenses of $105,293, against a deficit of $82,535 last year.

The factory of the Empire Furniture Company, Jamestown, N. Y., was destroyed by fire Sunday. The loss will amount to $100,000; insurance, $65,000.

The Trenton Potteries Company has declared a regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent on its preferred stock, payable April 25 to holders of record April 21.

The United Copper Company produced 3,200,000 lbs of Copper in March, making above 10,000,000 lbs of Copper produced for the first quarter of this calendar year.

A dispatch from Austin, Texas, says: "Further experiments in sprinkling Paris green on young Cotton plants have been highly successful in destroying the boll weevil. It is claimed by many that the weevil can be completely destroyed."

The Boston Commercial Bulletin says: "There is little doing in Wool in Boston. Fine fleeces have been sold to a fair extent at about 2c off from the top. Holders are anxious to clean up." Foreign markets are firm, with London advices especially strong on one-quarter blood and a firmer feeling on merinos.

Secretary Langson of the Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce has asked the Government postal authorities to investigate two "commission companies" doing business from Milwaukee offices. Neither of them is connected with the Chamber of Commerce, but both have advertised, offering enormous profits on "puts and calls" business done through them.

A dispatch from Kansas City, Friday, said: "Oklahoma and parts of Kansas received good rains again last night and temperatures are higher to-day. Some parts of Western Kansas got only light rains, but in the main Kansas prospect is such that the right kind of weather from now on can make as big a crop of Wheat as was raised last year. Soft Wheat in Southern Kansas will be ready to harvest in six weeks, and it is in fine condition."

The Denver Stockman says: "The Wyoming Sheep Commissioners are having much trouble with the flockmasters over scab regulations. Some of the sheepmen are kicking because they have been ordered to dip all Sheep, whether showing infection or not. The idea of the board is that if all Sheep are dipped the chances of removing the disease entirely are very much improved. The majority of the sheepmen are with the commissioners, however"

Dornbusch's Buda Pesth correspondent, writing under date of April 2, says: "Holy Week has, as usual, been more than ordinarily quiet in the Flour trade, although this year the market was favored by higher prices for the raw material. New business and deliveries on old contracts were equally insignificant, and the mills will be glad to shut down over the holidays and so improve the position somewhat. Prices of medium qualities are rather easier. Feedingstuffs unaltered."

The year 1903 stands as the high water mark of prosperity in the anthracite Coal trade, according to a report of the geological survey, about to be issued. It says that the tonnage of that year exceeded by more than 6,000,000 tons that of any other year, and that the demand for Coal enabled a fair return to all concerned in the industry. The consumption of the smaller sizes of Coal increased 2,468,694 tons over 1901, despite the opinion expressed at the close of the anthracite Coal strike that bituminous coal had largely supplanted anthracite for steam purposes. The year showed an increase of 15 cents in the average value per ton at the mines. The total production was 66,351,713 tons, valued at $152,036,448. The average price per ton was $2.56; number of men employed, 150,463, and average number of days each man worked, 206.

Cotton in New York had better support and advanced. The Government weather report was rather "bullish" and the market recovered the greater part of yesterday's loss early, but receded again. Closing sales were 7@16 points lower.

Stocks in New York were stronger despite the light trading, and averaged slightly higher for Railway shares. There was less pressure to sell, except in a few instances, and prices responded to moderate buying. Money 1 to 1¼ per cent.

Local Securities were slow and averaged lower. Quaker Oats preferred lost 1 point, and Diamond Match 1⅛, and reacted ½, but other shares were without more than fractional changes. The Can statement was favorable, and induced a little buying, but prices were not affected.

Bradstreet's report of the available supply for the past week shows the following changes:

Eastern Railway officials have not fixed the summer schedule of east-bound Grain rates, as they are unable to agree upon a basis. Some want a rate of 17½c domestic, Chicago to New York, on Grain, or 2½c under present rates. Others think that a decline of 5c, to a 15c basis, would be better to enable the all-rail lines to compete with the lake and rail lines. They claim that there is money in the 15c rate.

Broomhall's weekly foreign crop summary says: "United Kingdom—Spring crops are making favorable progress, but condition Winter Wheat still rather poor. France, Germany, Spain, Italy, Bulgaria, North Africa—Crop outlook continues quite favorable. Roumania—Reports, on the whole, are generally favorable, although mention continues to be made of rain being wanted. Russia—Crop reports still of a varied nature, but generally improving. Interior sellers holding their Wheat firmly. India—Latest advices confirm earlier reports of good crop, but sellers less pressing in offering their Wheat for sale. Australia—Further good rains have occurred for properly preparing the ground for seeding."

The following is an abstract of the weekly weather report issued at Washington to-day:

Over the northern portion of the Spring Wheat region practically no seeding has been done, and in North Dakota, where about half the crop was sown at this time last year, most of the low lands are flooded, and with favorable weather cannot be worked for one to two weeks. Seeding is generally well advanced over the southern portion, being completed over a considerable area in South Dakota and Iowa.

Very favorable reports respecting Winter Wheat received from Nebraska and Kansas, and an improvement is noted in portions of Oklahoma In Missouri the crop has made slow growth and in the States east of the Mississippi River the outlook is less favorable than previously reported, although warm weather caused some improvement in Ohio. Large acreage in Indiana is being devoted to other crops. On the Pacific Coast Wheat has improved.

But little planting done during the week in Corn owing to low temperature east of the Mississippi River. No planting begun in Iowa and Nebraska, north of Ohio River.

In the Southern States Corn suffered from cold weather and is small with irregular stands. Illinois and Iowa seeding nearly finished, and is progressing favorably in Ohio and Indiana. Little done in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Oats seeding is nearly finished and this work is progressing favorably in Ohio and Indiana. Seeding is not yet general in Michigan, and very little has been done in Wisconsin and Minnesota except over southern portion of the last named State. Over southern portion of Central Valleys the reports generally indicate that Oats are making slow growth and in some sections poor stands are shown.

FLOUR—Market continues to rule dull, with no improvement in the demand from any source.

WINTER WHEAT—Very little trade and quotations almost entirely nominal for both in store lots and fresh arrivals. Fresh lots would sell, being in some request by millers and shippers but receipts very small. Feeling firm No 2 Red in store quotable at 95½@96½c and fresh arrivals free on board nominally $1 00@1 05. No 3 Red fresh receipts nominally 95c@$1 02. No 2 Hard fresh receipts quotably 88@92c. No 3 Hard fresh arrivals sold at 85@88c

SPRING WHEAT—Ruled quiet and steady. Some demand from millers and shippers, but only for the fresh arrivals and for small quantities No 1 Northern in store quotably 85½@86½c and fresh arrivals free on board 92@95c No 2 Northern nominally 87@92c No. 3 spring fresh arrivals quotably 85@92c for ordinary to choice. No 4 Spring sold at 65@73c and ranged at 60@85c for poor to good

REGULAR WHEAT—The trade was of fair volume and the feeling mixed and unsettled, with the close showing May ⅜c higher, while the July gained ⅞@1c and September ⅞c Locals sold at the start, the bright weather in the Northwest and lower cables inducing liquidation and "short" selling. The map showed clear weather in Manitoba and the Northwest, but there were excessive rains in parts Illinois and the Ohio Valley Cloudy, warmer weather was predicted for the Dakotas and fair for Minnesota. Liverpool quoted spot La Plata and No 1 Northern off 1d, Hard Kansas ½d lower and futures ¼@⅜d lower. Receipts there the past three days 448,000 bu of which 48 000 bu came from America. London came ¼@½d lower, and quoted cargoes on passage easy, with buyers indifferent. Paris declined ¾@1¾c, and Berlin was ⅛c lower Buda Pesth and Antwerp were unchanged. As the session advanced market had good support from a prominent elevator concern and situation turned stronger on covering by "shorts." The reported break of 3c in May at Winnipeg and sharp declines in the Northwest, as well as Kansas City, started renewed selling pressure and values again turned weaker, but recovered all the decline toward the close. Primary receipts were 134,000 bu under last year Kansas City and St. Louis received 60,000 bu; last year, 194,000 bu; shipments, 116,000 bu. Minneapolis wired stock had decreased 260,000 bu the past three days St. Louis wired that there was only 500,000 bu cash there unsold, which is a reduction of 3 500,000 bu for the month. New York claimed 55 boat loads of Manitoba Wheat had been worked for export, due probably to the decline in values. Stocks here in all positions were reported at 4,589,000 bu, against 4,647,000 bu last week, and 8,205,000 bu one year ago. Contrat supplies decreased 48,115 bu, and are now 943 502 bu, against 2 846,896 bu same date in 1903 Bradstreet's available supply increased 878 000 bu, against 4,752 000 bu decrease one year ago Damage reports from Indiana and through the Ohio Valley were again quite numerous. Illinois crop bulletin construed as "bullish," and was a late "bull" help. Receipts at Duluth 16 cars and at Minneapolis 70 cars, a total of 86 cars, against 142 yesterday, 112 cars a week ago, and 94 cars last year. Local receipts included 14 cars Winter, 2 cars Spring, none mixed, a total of 16 cars, against 78 cars last year Included in above were 4 cars of contract grade. May was weak and at one time nearly 2c under the July, but closed with ⅝c advance July closed ⅞c higher and the September gained ¼c. BREADSTUFFS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

Wheat—Markets here are inactive, and hardly any business passing. The carry-over at the present time is small, and many holders are of the opinion that the same will command a big price before the season closes. There is only one vessel chartered for the balance of the season, and the firm that is to load the same has more Wheat on hand than the vessel can carry. Leading export mills have a large amount of Spring Wheat becoming quite scarce, and what remains in the hands of the growers is a very close estimate of the crop raised, milling several thousand tons each season. Shall have to look after their future wants. Crop reports sh w no change from our previous review, and the outlook for a large crop is excellent, and a great many in the trade predict that it will be the banner crop of the Northwest. Quotations are without change Club Wheat is quoted 3c; Bluestem, 8c, and Valley 81c per bu

Flour—No change in the demand from our previous review can be noted. All markets at present are very dull, and steamers sailing with only small cargoes. The large stocks in China and Japan are being worked off slowly, and when the same shows signs of depletion there will undoubtedly be some demand for more Flour. In the meantime they are doing but little if anything filling their trade to coastwise business and local trade and this is only limited. Shipments to Central and South America are fair, and Central California demand is fairly up to a reasonable extent. Millers there have stocked up quite freely with Wheat from the South, and are able to supply local demand. There is no further call for any shipment to the United Kingdom. Jobbing trade at home is also said to be small. Most of the jobbers purchased quite freely before the late advance in prices. The outlook for any near business at present is not very bright, but a short, dull period will do no harm. We quote export brands $3.50 to $3.60 per bbl; patents from $3.25 to $3.50 per bbl, according to quality and brand.

SOUTH RUSSIAN CROPS.

Condition at the end of March, as specially translated for Bradstreet's:

Consequent upon the extremely prolonged autumn, the winter seasons began late, but was in general rather mild, and in many places in the South it might even be said there was no winter at all, as also almost nothing of the snow that fell or only insufficiently covered therewith. On the Eastern confines the winter passed under more normal conditions, as the snow protection there was more ample. In the Don District, Volgaregion and in the North Kaukasus there were no complaints of the insufficiency of the snow cover.

Owing to the mild weather, the autumn-sown Wheat and Rye have come through the winter more or less satisfactory. The early thaw in January, accompanied by copious rain, completely freed the fields from every vestige of snow and well moist-ned the dry soil. At first there was the hope of an improvement in the young seedlings by reason of the mild and damp spring, and an early commencement of agricultural work was anticipated. However, these expectations were frustrated by very cold weather in February, which caused some frost damage to the tender plants then unprotected by snow. It also led to a suspension of field labor, which had begun earlier than ordinarily. Only in the extreme South and in the Crimea the weather was not cold enough to occasion any material injury to the plants, but in the more northerly districts the cold spell was so protracted that the spring sowings were much later than usual.

Owing to the spring rains the soil was in general sufficiently damp, with the exception of some of the more distant localities where scarcely any rain fell, near the Asiatic shore. The sown area but little moisture in the ground. Under such circumstances the spring sowings are generally expected to be accomplished in relatively favorable conditions, and in those parts where the autumn-sown cereals have suffered the most a more or less considerable area will be devoted to spring Grain.

The condition of the autumn cereals at the opening of spring may be characterized as satisfactory in the Governments of Taurida, Ekaterinoslaf, Kharkoff, Podolia, Volynia and the Don territory, and some parts of the Provinces of Poltava and Kieff; good, in most of the North Kaukasus even in the southeast portion of the Don territory; unsatisfactory, and in some districts bad, in the Governments of Bessarabia and Kherson, and also in the southern districts of the Provinces of Kieff and Podolia, and in parts of Poltava.

INDIAN CROP REPORT.

[Second General Memorandum, Calcutta, Mar. 10.]

The area under Oil Seeds in Northern India is much above the average The acreage in the United Provinces is the largest ever reported, about the same as last year, while in the Punjab there is an advance of nearly 5 per cent, notwithstanding a reduction of 10 000 acres on the preliminary estimate of December. Bengal reports an area approximating to the normal, and in the Central Provinces and Berar, though there is still a large shortage compared with the average of ten years, there is an improvement compared with last year of 28 and 49 per cent, respectively. In Bombay, Flax Seed has increased by 60 per cent since last year and approximates to the average, while Rape Seed has increased by less than 1 per cent and is 7 per cent below the decennial average.

There was general rain from March 1st to 5th throughout Northwestern and Central India which should have been beneficial in the Northwest Frontier and in that Province and the Punjab, except on uninrigated land in the Southeastern districts, there should be a good crop. The divisional reports from the United Provinces vary from a full crop to 82 per cent. Flax Seed being better than Rapeseed. Bengal expects a yield of 91 per cent, and for the Central Provinces and Berar jointly the estimate is 95 per cent The condition in Bombay is reported to be fair, but in Hyderabad where the area under all descriptions of Oil Seed is 30 per cent larger than last year, the increase in the yield is estimated to be only 3 per cent, as the crops suffered from excess of rain, cold and locusts. The Castor crop in Madras is smaller than last year, the acreage being 12 per cent below the average, and is to be expected to give a fair yield amounting to 80 per cent of the normal.

RAILROAD DEMURRAGE CHARGES.

[From the Modern Miller.]

A decision has been handed down by the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia sustaining the rules of the Virginia State Corporation Commission relating to storage demurrage and car service. The court's decision was on an appeal taken by railroad companies from the commission's rulings. The rules cover a large number of questions relating to shipment of goods through common carriers. The commission reserves the right to impose fines and penalties upon transportation companies persistently disregarding the rules or failing to furnish reasonable transportation facilities.

GOOD SEED CORN.

Professor Holden of the Iowa Agricultural College has issued a good deal of strong upon the various phases of Corn culture. The following is a general summary of the various points upon which he has touched during his work among the farmers:

1. It is very important that farmers depend upon home-grown seed Corn for the main part of the crop, and not upon imported seed.

2. They should get seed of Corn for seed which have kernels of as nearly uniform size and shape as possible; otherwise it will be impossible to secure an even stand with any planter.

3. Do not fail to test the Corn thoroughly with the seed to be used, and stay with it until it drops regularly the number of kernels required in each hill.

4 Test the vitality or germinating power of all Corn intended for seed. This is especially important this year.

5. In case any seed Corn is purchased from seedsmen, insist on having it shipped in the ear, either in crates or in barrels.

6. All of this work—that is, the testing of the vitality, the scoring, the shelling and the testing of the planter—should be done before planting time. If put off till the hurry of spring work is on there is danger that it will not be done at all.

WHEAT IN TENNESSEE.

[From Nashville Correspondent of Modern Miller.]

The growing Wheat crop continues to improve and reports indicate good crops. A careful inquiry made in Davidson county gives more than promise than was thought possible there a month ago Late sowing did not come up until spring weather had set in, but wonderful progress has been made since. The result now is to be a very late sown Wheat, which is not showing up well

The opinion is expressed that a large number of Tennessee farmers will stop growing Wheat and turn their attention to Cotton. It is well known that this State marks the southern boundary of the Wheat country and the northern boundary of the Cotton section. Both are raised to a certain extent John M Gray, who has one of the largest and finest farms in the South, in Maury County, has been a large grower of Wheat. He is now in his life planted an acre of Cotton, but announces that he will this season plant 100 acres. W. W. Ogilvie, State Commissioner of Agriculture, says the acreage of Cotton this year in Tennessee will be twice as large as last year.

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The weather map shows clear weather in Manitoba, Minnesota, Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma. There are local showers in Missouri, Iowa and Ohio Valley. There are frosts in Kansas —26 to 32 above. Rains in Illinois and Ohio Valley and Tennessee. Temperatures about the same as yesterday. The Northwest has the clear weather it needs. The rains are excessive from Illinois Eastward

Indications are the storm south of the Ohio will pass away slowly, while the Western disturbance will move across the Rockies It is not probable, however, that it will be felt here before Thursday. Weather in western half of region will be fair and cool to-night and Wednesday.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

A wire from Omaha, Monday, said: "Wheat prospect for Nebraska never better. Oats up nicely all over State. Rains general."

The Grand Trunk Grain elevator, Midland, Ont., was struck by lightning and destroyed Sunday. It had a capacity of 300,000 bu, and was leased by a Chicago Grain firm.

A dispatch from Springfield, Ohio, says: "Hundreds of acres of Wheat are being plowed up. The farmers say the season has changed, and that Wheat is no longer profitable."

From Russia we learn the exports of Flax Seed from Aug. 1 to April 9 have amounted to 4,692,000 bu, against 4,432 000 bu in the previous year, and 2,216,000 bu in 1901-2

The shipments of Flax Seed from India from April 1 to date amounted to 834,000 bu (Calcutta 328,000 bu and Bombay 496,000 bu; against 934,000 bu last season (Calcutta 420,000 bu and Bombay 464,000 bu), and 1,756 000 bu in 1902 (Calcutta 898,000 bu and Bombay 860,000 bu)

Bradstreet's says: "The American liner Westernland, which arrived in Philadelphia from Liverpool, Monday, brought 3,100 bags of Potatoes, while the Merion, of the same line, which arrived several days ago, brought 2,800 bags. After paying on the one consignment, an ample profit is assured dealers"

The Liverpool Corn Trade News of April 9 says: "Our Hamburg correspondent writes that a typical April is being experienced in Germany, and although the weather appears to be too unsettled to be agreeable, there are no complaints as to the crops. Foreign Grain is coming in freely and prices, except for Corn, are quoted 6d down on the week."

The Wall Street News says: "The recent acquisition by the United States Steel Corporation of the Clairton Steel Company is chiefly important in that it adds 50,000 tons per month to the pig Iron producing capacity of the corporation. It does not practically certain that there will be no further necessity for purchase of pig Iron from outside furnaces."

The River Plate Review of March 12 says: "The harvesting of the Corn crop has recently commenced, and the heavy rains that have fallen during the past week has been detrimental to the crop and also to the work. In many Provinces the rains have been so heavy that the rivers have overflown their banks, and much damage has been done."

Along with the announcement of the issue of $37,000,000 New York City bonds comes the report of a Philadelphia municipal issue of $16,000,000. The Philadelphia bonds will be 3½ per cent, maturing in thirty years. It is expected that the Philadelphia issue will be announced within a few days. It is interesting to know that New York City is advertising the May 5 sale in the London newspapers.

The New York Financial Chronicle reports that the annual report of the Ann-Chalmers Company will show net earnings in excess of the amount already paid, although indicating a less prosperous business than in the previous year. The cash working capital in excess of all current liabilities and reserves will be about $7,000,000. The company has no mortgage or floating debt, and there is no intention of issuing bonds.

The Pig Iron committee of the United States Steel Corporation will meet with the Valley furnace owners, Monday, at Pittsburg A preliminary meeting was held Saturday. The Steel corporation wants to buy enough Pig Iron to make up its requirements, but wants a low delivered price. The Steel corporation wants the product at $13 per ton, whereas the last big allotment sold to the corporation brought $13 85 per ton. The Pig Iron on which the Steel corporation had an option was held at $13 25. The furnace operators allege that conditions are such that a higher price should be paid.

The Liverpool Corn Trade News of April 7 says: "The weather in France continues to be unsettled, but it does not appear to have hindered seeding work very much, except, perhaps, in the North. Reports regarding the winter crops are still quite favorable. Country markets have been influenced by the holidays; prices quoted about unchanged, but lose easier At yesterday's Paris weekly market sales were likewise quoted unchanged from the week previous in view of the excellent crop prospects, but millers are looking for a decline when grower have finished seeding and have time to renew threshing."

The head of a Chicago brokerage house has been personally advised by a director of the Pressed Steel Car Company regarding the payment of the next dividend on the common stock of that company. The part of the letter touching on the subject says: 'Of course the board must determine from time to time what shall be fixed and believe the payment will be continued, especially since dividends now due are simply those payable out of earnings of the previous fiscal year. For that reason I feel warranted about the action on the common stock." The board of directors will meet about the middle of the present week.

Berlhohn of April 8 says: "Our Odessa correspondent writing on March 24 says that continued dull Grain market, although Wheat holders refused to give way. The weather remained unusually cold for the time of year, and the condition of the autumn-sown crops has not improved, being described as very poor. In the Crimea, however, the reports were more satisfactory. The Nicolaieff and Azof markets were also very dull, but the supplies of Wheat at Rostoff on hand fairly large, viz, 3,602,000 bu in the mouth ending March 14 The stock of Wheat at Odessa on March 1 was reduced from 4,480,000 bu against 4,0 0 000 bu on Feb. 14, 8,538,000 bu on Jan. 14, and 1,616,000 bu on March 14 last year."

The Manual of Statistics in its April supplement says: "All the indications now point to an early money market disturbance, and a panic in summer months. This is not in itself an assurance that bigher prices for securities will result, but there is the estimation of Wall street and the other markets, as a result of which a rather positive liquidation of holdings of bonds and stocks or successful 'bearish' attacks by manipulative operators. It cannot be concluded that there will be a 'bull' market. The public, indeed, is not recovered from the distrust and disinclination to speculate created by the crumbling of industrial stock values and the aggressive attitude taken by railroad corporations. Nevertheless the signs are much more favorab e than they have been, and markets for securities may be considered as in a healthy state."

A circular was distributed in New York, Monday, making an appeal to the stockholders of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company to organize and investigate the methods of the management, which is dominated by the Amalgamated Copper Company interest, the latter owning about 75 per cent of the Anaconda stock. The circular was prepared by a Boston party. It presents many figures and gives the net earnings of the last four years as f llows: $7,305,000 in 1900, $5,575,000 in 1901, $1,289,-000 in 1902, and $1,000,000 in 1903. Concluding, it says: "It is strange that the net profits of this company should have fallen off so abruptly and so severely with the death of Mr. Daly, who up to his demise was president and manager of this company." A dispatch from Butte says the Anaconda mine has resumed operations after being closed down for three weeks while improvements and repairs were being made in the shaft.

A Minneapolis dispatch, Tuesday, said: "Conditions are fine for seeding. Prospects are for an increased acreage, there being less alarm about the Wheat not getting seeded before May 1."

Local Securities were more active, a larger number of shares being handled and a higher average was made. Can preferred, Quaker Oats preferred, and Pneumatic Tool recorded good gains.

Stocks in New York closed strong with moderate gains. There was selling of Steel by "bear" interests, but it was well absorbed and failed to affect the list in general, which was well supported. Money 1 to 1¼ per cent.

The San Francisco Commercial News says: "The estimated yield of Wheat in California, based on the Department of Agriculture figures of acreage and percentage, is slightly over 1,000,000 tons. East bound rates are to be reduced May 2 to 17½c on Grain for domestic and 13½c for export, Chicago to New York, with the usual differentials. This is a cut of 2½c on domestic and 1½c on export, making rates ½c lower than last summer. The export rate on Flour is to be reduced from 16½c to 15c.

The Milwaukee Commercial Letter says: "Reports to the Kansas Agricultural Department state that recent rain was general over four-fifths of the State, and that Wheat conditions are improved 20 per cent over Secretary Coburn's report as of April 1. This would place the crop now in perfect condition."

Broomhall cables: "The 'bullish' weekly crop report caused a steady opening to Wheat at Liverpool with prices ¼d higher. Most of this was lost as the result of free offerings and a poor inquiry for cargoes. Firmness of Corn in the American markets yesterday was the cause of the steady opening of Corn, and later, futures gained on small Argentine offerings."

A report from Minneapolis says: "Wheat seeding will be finished later than usual, but observers who have studied the weather and crops for many years believe that since buds have not yet burst nor other vegetation advanced, there has been no loss to the farmers in this delay, and that when the growing season opens seeding will be completed and the plant ready to take advantage of the weather."

The Chicago Drovers' Journal says: "Hog receipts of late have been considerably away from traders' estimates, Monday's run being 10,000 to 15,000 larger than many estimates made last Saturday, and all were greatly surprised at the actual total of 31,5 4 received Tuesday. Spring work was supposed to be occupying farmers' attention in most places, and while prevailing prices may prove attractive in view of many fears that the range will go lower the general opinion among most traders favors moderate receipts during the next week or two."

REVIEW OF TO-DAY'S MARKETS

FLOUR—The market is very dull; still there is a slightly better inquiry, but no increase in sales. Prices steady.

WINTER WHEAT—Ruled rather firm, but prices without special change. Very little trade and quotations almost entirely nominal for both in store lots and fresh arrivals. Fresh lots would sell, being in some request by millers and shippers, but receipts very small. Feeling firm. No. 2 Red in store quotable at 96½@97⅛c, and fresh arrivals free on board nominally $1 06@1 07. No. 3 Red fresh receipts nominally 95c@$1 02. No. 4 Red, a poor car, sold at 80c. No. 2 Hard fresh receipts quotably 88@93c. No. 3 Hard fresh arrivals sold at 85@86½c.

SPRING WHEAT—Ruled quiet and steady. Some demand from millers and shippers, but only for the fresh arrivals and for small quantities. No. 1 Northern in store quotably 86½@87⅜c and fresh arrivals free on board 92@95c. No. 2 Northern nominally 87@92c. No. 3 Spring fresh arrivals quotably 85@92c for ordinary to choice, with sale of car of fair Wheat at 89c. No. 4 Spring sold at 63@85c and ranged at 60@85c for poor to good.

REGULAR WHEAT—The trade was of good volume, with rather more outside interest. Feeling, while nervous, was somewhat stronger, and the close showed advances of ⅛c to ⅜c. Market started out with locals arrayed on the selling side, the showers and milder weather Southwest, and clear and warmer conditions Northwest being the dominant influence. At the decline, and around 84c to 84⅛c for July, prominent professionals bought freely and situation turned stronger. The strength in Corn and Oats, and numerous claims of damage to Winter Wheat in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan were "bull" helps. Tiffin, Ohio, millers were reported as paying $1 05 for cash Wheat. Advices from Oklahoma and Texas were "bullish" and also aided the advance. Liverpool quoted spot unchanged and futures steady to ⅛d lower. London quoted April up 1¾d, and deferred months ⅛d lower. Paris quoted spot 2¼c lower and futures ¼d higher. Antwerp was unchanged. Part of the early selling was by the Southwest and some of the late buying by the Northwest. Primary receipts were 134,000 bu less than a year ago. St. Louis and Kansas City had 45,000 bu, against 99,000 bu last year, and shipments 81,000 bu. Northwest cars were 38 cars smaller than same day in 1903. Exports were limited and only 10 boat loads were accepted at the seaboard. The forecast is for showers and warmer weather in Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Minnesota and Iowa. Fair and warmer for Illinois and Indiana; showers and warmer Thursday for Minnesota. Minneapolis wired that reports this morning showed very favorable weather through the Northwest and seeding in full progress in Manitoba, Minnesota and the Dakotas, except in the Red River Valley. The Government weekly crop bulletin was considered rather "bullish" on the spring seeding outlook. "Shorts" in some instances were a little disturbed at the recent attitude of a prominent local elevator interest which has given the old July good support of late. Minneapolis wired stocks there had decreased 410,000 bu the past four days. The strength in the Northwest markets was one of the "bull" helps. Seeding in the Red River Valley is not expected to be finished before May 15. Berlin closed unchanged and Buda Pesth ⅜c higher. Receipts at Duluth 5 cars and at Minneapolis 58 cars, a total of 63 cars, against 86 yesterday, 118 cars a week ago, and 101 cars last year. Local receipts included 10 cars Winter, 1 car Spring, none mixed, a total of 11 cars, against 51 cars last year. Included in above were no cars of contract grade. There were also 13 cars and no bu from unlicensed elevators. The estimated receipts for to-morrow were not reported. The withdrawals to-day were 6,000 bu. Receipts at Western points were 183,525 bu, against 317,793 last year. At Eastern points 9,291 bu, against 306,702 bu last year. Shipments from Western points were 178,046 bu against 240,747 bu last year, and from Eastern points none, against 223,071 bu last year. Shipments of Flour were 37,500 brls. Exports of Wheat in Flour were equal to 168,790 bu.

Future Deliveries of Regular Wheat—Good trade and closing higher.

APRIL—Entirely nominal; closing about 97c.

JULY—Old Style—Sold at 83⅞c and 85¼@85⅜c. Opened with sales at 84⅜c to 84½c; sold to 84⅛c, to 84¼c, to 83⅞c, to 84½@84⅝c, to 84⅜c, to 84⅛c, to 84¼c, to 84⅛c, to 84⅝c, to 85¼@85⅜c, to 84¾c, to 84⅞c, to 84½c, to 84¾c, and closed at 84¾c sellers.

JULY—New Style—Sold at 82¾@82⅞c and at 84⅛c. Opened with sales at 83¼c to 83⅝@83½c; sold to 83c, to 83⅛c, to 82¾@82⅞c, to 83½c, to 83⅜c, to 83⅛c, to 83¼c, to 83½c, to 84c, to 83⅝c, to 84⅛c, to 84½@83⅝c, to 83⅝c, to 83⅜c, to 83¾c, and closed at 83¾c sellers.

SEPTEMBER—Old Style—Sold at 80¾@81⅝c. Opened with sales at 81c to 80¾c; sold to 81¼c, to 81⅛c, to 81⅜c, to 81c, to 81⅝c, to 81½c, to 81⅛c, to 80⅞c, to 81⅛@81¼c, and closed at 81⅛@81¼c.

SEPTEMBER—New Style—Sold at 79¾@80½c. Opened with sales at 79⅞c to 80c; sold to 79¾c, to 80⅛c, to 80c, to 80½c, to 80c, to 80¼c, to 79¾c, to 80c, and closed at 80c bid.

CORN—A good trade and the feeling, while rather nervous and unsettled, was stronger on the whole, and the close ½c higher for May, while July gained ½c, and the September ⅜c better. Commission houses were good buyers, one concern in particulars absorbing a good share of the July offerings, part of which came from a prominent warehouse interest. Cables were firm and the cash situation was considered legitimate, which tended to impart strength and induced "shorts" to cover. On the advance May came out in fair-sized quantities and prices settled back. Liverpool quoted spot unchanged and futures ¼d higher. London claimed there was very little inquiry for cargoes. Receipts were 146 cars, with 22 cars contract, and 9 cars and 13,500 bu contract was transferred from private to public elevators to-day. The weather was better, there being less rain, and temperatures were milder. Showers were indicated for Kansas and Nebraska, and fair and warmer weather for Illinois and Indiana. Freight rates were advanced from the West, while rates to the East were reduced some. Western receipts were 366,000 bu, or the same as a year ago, while the shipments were 125,000 bu and 512,000 bu respectively. Local arrivals were 212,000 bu and the shipments 63,000 bu. Exports were limited to 16,000 bu, and 7 boat loads were accepted at the seaboard. Cash inquiry is improving, but sales as yet moderate. Car lots were in better demand and moderate supply. Feeling stronger, and prices 1@2c higher. No. 2 sold at 47⅝@48⅜c and closed about 48c. No. 2 Yellow closed at 49½@50c. No. 2 White sold at 47⅝@48¼c. No. 3 sold sold at 47⅛@47¾c and closed at 47½c. No. 3 White sold at 47½c. No. 3 Yellow closed at 49c.

Corn by sample Was in good demand and small supply. Feeling stronger and prices 1@2c higher. Sales on track and free on board: No Grade sold at 35@41c. No. 4 at 45½@48¼c. No. 3 at 47½@49c. No. 3 Yellow at 48¾@51c. No. 2 at 48@50½c. No. 2 Yellow at 50@51c. No. 3 White at 47½@48¾c. No. 2 White at 48½@49c. Billed through: No Grade at 40@42½c. No. 4 at 46@47½c. No. 3 Yellow at 49c.

APRIL—Inactive and nominal close 48⅜c.

MAY—Sold at 46½@47⅜c. Opened at 46¾c to 47c and sold at 46½c, to 47⅛c, to 46⅞c, and closed at 46⅞c bid.

JULY—Sold at 48¼@49⅛c. Opened at 48¾c to 48⅞c and sold at 48¼@48⅜c to 48⅝c, to 48⅞c, to 48½c, to 48¾c, to 48⅝c, to 49⅛c, to 48¼c, to 48¾c, to 48⅝@48¾c and closed at 48⅝@48¾c asked.

SEPTEMBER—Sold at 47⅞c and 48½@48⅝c. Opened at 47⅞c, sold to 48¼c, to 47⅞c, to 48⅜@48¼c, to 47⅞c, to 48¼c, to 48½@48⅝c, to 47⅞c, to 48¼c, and closed at 48⅛c.

DECEMBER—Sold at 43⅞@44⅜c. Opened at 43⅞c to 44c, sold at 44⅛c, to 44c, to 44⅜c, to 44c, and closed at 44c.

OATS—Were excited and advanced with active trading and closed at ⅝@2c higher, or ¼@⅜c below the top figures. The news was "bullish." Small receipts, 53 cars, with expectations of light arrivals to-morrow; also decreasing stocks and unfavorable crop reports from Illinois were the "bull" factors. There was a renewal of the heavy buying to cover "shorts" in all months and a general scramble for the reduced offerings. The Illinois crop bulletin said growth was small and some replanting necessary. Weather predictions were for warmer. Withdrawals were 60,300 bu. Standard and receipts were cancelled for 100,164 bu. There were 5 cars Standard out of private houses. Seaboard clearances, 22,103 bu. Arrivals were 23 cars. Car lots, to go to store, were 1@2c higher. Standard in store closed about 39⅝@40c, as to location. A reduction of equal to ¾c per bushel in East-bound rail rates was more than offset by the advance in futures, and cash business was small.

Oats by sample were scarce, owing to unusually small receipts, and met an increased demand. Prices advanced 1@2c and the market cleaned up early. Sales on track and free on board: No. 4 White sold at 37@40c. No. 3 at 39c. No. 3 White at 40@41c. Standard at 43c. No. 2 White at 43½c. Billed through: No. 4 at 37½c. No. 3 White at 40½c. At the river: No. 4 White at 34@37½c. No. 3 White at 37@38½c.

Future Deliveries of Contract Oats—Were excited and higher.

APRIL—Held at ¼c over May. Closed about 39⅝@39¾c.

MAY—Active. Sold at 37¾@39⅞c. Opened at 37¾c to 38c, sold to 39⅞c, to 39⅜c, to 39½c; closed at 39⅝@39½c.

JULY—Increased trading. Sold at 36½@38c. Opened at 36½c to 36¾c, sold to 36½c, to 38c, to 37½c, to 37⅝@37¾c at close.

SEPTEMBER—Active. Sold at 30¾@31⅝c. Opened at 30¾c to 31c, sold to 31⅝c, to 31¼c, to 31⅜c at close.

RYE—The market was quiet and steady. There was a little more desire to purchase, even some nibbling for round lots of cash in store, but buyers and sellers could not quite agree on price and nothing was done. Feeling quotably firm. There was only one car received. There were withdrawn from private warehouses five cars and out of public elevator 8,000 bu. No export clearances from the seaboard. No. 2 in store was nominally about 66c and fresh arrivals quotably 67c. No. 3 fresh arrivals quotably 62@64c. A car of No. 4 sold at 56c.

Future Deliveries of No. 2 Rye—Was quiet. May 67c bid and July 64c bid; no trading.

BARLEY—Little was done. Barley of all grades very sparingly offered. A firmer market for Oats caused a fair demand and a strong market for Screenings, feed and mixing Barley. Malting grades salable, feeling firm especially for good qualities. The market favored sellers. Only 6 cars inspected in. There was a quotable range of prices as follows: Screenings 28@35 for poor to choice. Barley—low grade feed or mixing at 30@38c outside good weight. Malting, low grade, 40@42c, fair to good sound, 45@48c, good color, 50@55c, and fancy nominally above.

SEEDS—Were either steady or firm all around. There were no weak spots. There was some improvement in the case of Timothy, and Flax reacted from yesterday's decline. There were no other changes.

Timothy—Market firm. There was about 5c advance. More interest was shown, but it was centered mostly around new crop, or September delivery Seed. Of old Seed the offerings remain small. Some held cars came on sale but fresh arrivals remain scarce. Contract spot was $2 90 bid and $3 05 asked. September delivery sold at $3 25 and that remained bid at the close a little was offered at $3 27½. Country lots fair to good, quotable at $2 55@2 70, choice nominally $2 75@2 80, rough Seed $2 40@2 45 and country lots on the whole range $2 25@2 90 for poor to fancy—outside for fine, unhulled; extra fancy possibly a shade over.

Flax—A firmer feeling came over the market. There was about 1c reaction from recent decline in prices. Offerings were very small, but that was no new feature and did not cause the change; it was a turn to improvement in the Northwest which brought it about. Local receipts 4 cars or 3,400 bu, and 2 cars or 1,460 bu were taken out. Minneapolis got 2 cars and Duluth 22 cars. No. 1 Northwestern was quoted as nominally $1 06½. No. 1 at $1 00 and Rejected nominal at 96@99c, outside for choice Northwestern. April delivery nominally about $1 00. May delivery sold at $1 00 and that was bid. July delivery held at $1 02½. September held at $1 06. May and July changed at 2c premium for latter.

Clover—With the season practically over only a few straggling orders are received, and it is the same way with the offerings. Tone of the market about steady, and former prices could be obtained. Market for contract grade nominally $10 75. Country lots, common to choice, $7 75@10 00, fancy above; mixed with Buckhorn or other weed Seeds, $7 00@8 25; poor, cleaned out of Timothy, very foul, down to $3 00@6 00. Such lots as usually come to market when ordinary to good quotable at $8 50@9 50.

Other Seeds—Were quotably steady and unchanged. Nothing on sale but some ordinary quality of Siberian Millet. Hungarian, common and light color to choice, dark, quotable at $1 15@1 65. Common Millet $1 00@1 40 for poor to fancy. German Millet, $1 00@1 40. Siberian, 85c@$1 05. Broom Corn and Early Fortune Millet, 80@95c. Mustard, 85c@$1 05. Buckwheat easy: good quality, $1 30.

HOG PRODUCTS—A fairly good trade was reported in Hog Products, and the undertone to the market was rather firm in a general way. Offerings were not very large, and a good miscellaneous demand prevailed. Less doing in May contracts, as operators are gradually evening them up. Hogs were in rather good supply and lower, but this feature apparently had little influence on the market. The steadiness in Grain had some influence on the market in a general way. Packers were credited with favoring the buying side and orders from outside parties were moderate. Prices ruled higher on all the leading articles and, while extreme figures were not fully supported, the market closed rather steady. Receipts of Hogs at the leading Western packing points were estimated at 86,600, compared with 66,000 one year ago. Foreign markets were rather steady with light trading. RELATIVE COST OF HOG PRODUCTS.

[From the Cincinnati Price Current.]

It is impracticable to compile a table indicating the relative value of leading articles of Hog Product on the basis of cost of Hogs, which would be a permanent guide in these particulars, owing to the changes frequently occurring in the relation of these values, as well as some variation in the proportions of Product made. On March 1, 1904, Chicago prices were about $7 15 per 100 lbs for Green Sides, $6 60 for Green Shoulders, $9 40 for Green Hams, and $7 00 for Lard in tierces. On this basis, calculating Sides at 36 per cent, Shoulders 10 per cent, Hams 11 per cent, and Lard 14 per cent, of live weight of Hogs, and that the remainder of the Product, or offal, covers the cost of manufacture, these values represent $5 22 per 100 lbs for Hogs, alive, and relatively for the various prices stated for Hogs, as shown in the following compilation, indicating cost of Green Sides, Shoulders and Hams, Lard in tierces, per 100 lbs, and Mess Pork, per barrel:

Hogs, Live.	Sides, Green.	Shoulders, Green.	Hams, Green.	Lard, tierces.	Pork, brls.

SAMPLING AND INSPECTING GRAIN.

The officials of the Chicago Board of Trade express their views as follows in reference to the proposed changes in sampling and inspecting Grain:

"The sampling and inspection of Grain in this market by various official samplers, acting independently, is more or less unsatisfactory, not, however, owing to any inefficiency or disqualification of the official samplers themselves, but to an utter absence of system or of concerted action as to rules or methods to be observed in sampling Grain.

"In view of such conditions it would seem that there could be no doubt as to the desirability of inaugurating a system based on strictly business principles for the official and economical sampling of Grain, and of holding the head of the proposed Grain Sampling Department responsible for a strict and impartial performance of the duties of his office.

"The establishment of such a department under the direct supervision of the Grain Committee of the Board would place official samples above and beyond the influence of individual interests, and by cordial co-operation with the State Grain Inspection Department, maintain a uniform and proper standard for all grades of Grain. This could not be otherwise than signally beneficial to all interests concerned and would raise the standard and increase the reliability of Grain inspection in this market. Certificates issued by a department so established and controlled would be recognized as authoritative and reliable by the trade, both in foreign and domestic markets.

"In the formation and administration of this department it is not designed to deprive the buyer of any of his rights to examine the Grain which he purchases or of delegating that right to any individual or unofficial sampler that he may select; but it is not proposed to give official sanction to any certificates of Grain samples not issued by the proposed Grain Sampling Department under the supervision of the Grain Committee of the Board."

GRAIN RATE WAR SETTLED.

[From the Chicago Inter Ocean.]

The Grain rate war between the Western railroads was finally settled, Tuesday, at a meeting of executive officers. Under the basis adopted rates on Wheat to Chicago will be the same from all Missouri River points—12c per 100 lbs. Heretofore, under normal conditions, the rate from Omaha to Chicago has been 2c higher than the rate from Kansas City.

The Northwestern Railroad has taken the stand that it cannot maintain two sets of rates on Grain, one known as a "local" and the other as a "proportional" rate. On account of this attitude of the Northwestern the reduction in Grain rates from Omaha to Chicago forces a reduction in the rates from Iowa points to Chicago. The other roads in Iowa strongly opposed a reduction in rates from points in that State, but the Northwestern refused to change its policy and they will be forced to meet its rates from all competitive points in Iowa. The Northwestern believes that because of the reduction in rates Iowa Grain will be shipped to Chicago instead of seeking an outlet via the Gulf.

Under the new basis the rate on Wheat from Kansas City to Chicago is 6c less per 100 lbs than the rate to the Gulf ports. The rate from Chicago to New York on Wheat for export is reduced to 13½c, the summer basis in effect May 2, making a through rate from Kansas City to New York via Chicago of 25½c, against a rate of 18c from Kansas City to the Gulf. With an advantage of 7½c in the rail rate, it is certain that the Gulf ports will continue to divert Grain traffic from the Atlantic ports.

Temperatures this morning generally some higher, and weather is clear in the Northwest, West and Southwest. There are rains in Missouri and Ohio Valley. There are frosts in Kansas—at Wichita 14 and at Concordia 38. There is quite a rise in the Northwest temperatures. Map generally more favorable.

Fair weather indicated. Temperatures will rise. May become unsettled on eastern slope of mountains Thursday.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

The Montreal and Boston Copper Company has issued its report for the year ended Dec 31, 1903. The operating account shows a loss in operations of $50,000 during the year.

Nine railroads have thus far reported their gross earnings for the third week of April, five showing decreases from last year and four increases. The net decrease amounts to $21,551.

The City Auditor of Cincinnati, Ohio, Monday, awarded the $330,000 twenty-year 4 per cent street improvement bonds and the $250,000 4 per cent twenty-year sewer bonds at 106 43.

The Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal Company is to be the holding company to rule railway interests in the Middle West. The bonds of the new company are to be secured by a controlling interest in the stock of the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad.

It was announced, Monday, that the First National Bank of Boston will soon absorb the National Bank of Redemption. The plan of combination calls for the liquidation of the Redemption bank. The consolidation will represent an institution with a capital of $2,000,000, a surplus of $2,100,000, and deposits aggregating about $35,000,000.

The Cincinnati Breweries Company, of London, England, reports for the year ended Dec. 31, 1903, a net profit of £11,247, as against £3,528 in 1902. After deducting £10,281 interest of prior lien bonds and debentures and adding to this charge the debit balance of £10,131 brought forward from last year, there remains a debit balance of £39,167 to be carried forward.

The Michigan State Telephone Company, Monday, declared its first quarterly dividend on preferred stock. On June 1 1½ per cent will be paid to stockholders of record May 1. The Michigan State Telephone Company was organized recently to take over the properties of the Michigan Telephone Company, which fell into the hands of the bondholders under foreclosure proceedings.

A new railroad, to be known as the Egyptian Coal Railroad Company, has been organized in Carbondale, Ill. The new line will run from the Mississippi River through the counties of Jackson, Williamson, Franklin and Jefferson and at Mount Vernon will connect with both the Louisville and Nashville and the Frisco system. It will pass through the Southern Illinois Coal fields.

The Wabash Railroad Company has arranged for the loan of $6,000,000 on an issue of an equal amounts of three-year 5 per cent notes. The proceeds are to be used for terminal improvements in Pittsburg and elsewhere, and represent in part at least the share of the Wabash company in the syndicate operations in connection with these improvements. The notes have been taken by two financial institutions in New York City.

The annual meeting of the American Can Company was held in New Jersey, Tuesday. The financial statement issued showed net earnings more than double those of the previous year, though hardly justifying 5 per cent dividends on the preferred stock. Yet it was announced that the dividend time was to be changed from semi-annual to quarterly and there were hopes that the full 7 per cent on the preferred stock could be paid soon.

A press dispatch from Tacoma says: "With between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 bu of Wheat held in Eastern Washington warehouses, the millers of this State are scarcely able to secure enough Grain to keep their mills running. They are buying from hand to mouth as needed, being unwilling to purchase in large quantities at present high prices. Every export mill in the State is being compelled to cover Flour orders of importance by buying Wheat."

Dornbusch's Buda Pesth correspondent, writing under date of April 12, says of Flour: "We have had another week of complete absence of business. No transactions of any importance have occurred, and the deliveries on old purchases were almost suspended. This has led to a further increase of the stock of Flour, notwithstanding the curtailment of the output. Exporters have taken a wagon load here and there. Feedingstuffs are slow with sagging prices."

An official of the Canadian Improvement Company, which is reorganizing the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, says that the Speyer loan will be paid off as soon as the necessary details can be carried out. The securities of the underlying companies that have been held by the Speyer syndicate as collateral will thus be released. The official further states that the plants of the company not already in operation will be opened as soon as possible. He adds that every step will be taken to utilize the properties to the fullest extent.

Dornbusch of April 11 says of the French crop outlook: "The weather during the past week ended as it began, with rain. This helps to develop the growing plants, as well as to germinate the seeds sown, at the same time a spell of dry and warm weather would be much appreciated just now. As a whole, the crops are in a very satisfactory condition and the mild weather during last month has practically made good the damage caused by the excessive rains in February. Sowing operations are completed in the Central Provinces."

Frederick Leyland & Co (limited), the first British line purchased by J. Pierpont Morgan when forming the shipping combine, has issued a report for the thirteen months ending with December. The directors say that, even after drawing $1,317,500 from the reserve, it is only possible to pay the preferred dividend for six months. This withdrawal reduces the reserve to $325,000. The directors attribute this result to the epidemic of foot and mouth disease in New England last year, stopping shipments of Live Stock therefrom, and to the inadequacy of Atlantic freights.

A Boston dispatch says: "Practically all interest in the Wool market is now directed to the West, where dealers are buying largely of the new crop. The course of prices thus far has been a great disappointment to the trade. Prices have been from ½c to 1c above last year for the same clips. Dealers here declare that indications point to practically a repetition of last year's experience, when the prices paid were so high as to cut off the year's profits. Territory Wools are well cleaned up. Pulled Wools are quiet. Foreign Wools have shown more activity."

The report of the general meeting of the stockholders of the United Alkali Company at Liverpool has been issued. The net profits for the year were stated to be £202,635. From this an interim dividend had been paid on preference shares and a similar distribution at the time of the meeting makes 7 per cent paid during the year. To debenture redemption fund account £15,000 was transferred and a balance of over £80,047 was carried forward. The chairman said the American works were not, as reported, a failure, though they had not been as successful as had been hoped.

The sales manager for Jones & Laughlin Steel Company says of the Steel trade: "The improved condition of the Steel business is maintained. There is a good demand for billets and bars, and a fair demand for structural Steel and plates. It is safe to assume that the mills will be kept busy during the next six months; in fact, billets and Steel bars are scarce. The belated demand for structural Steel in Baltimore is asserting itself to some extent, and there is confidence in the immediate future of business both from that city and New York. The adjustment of differences in New York promises an early increased demand."

Vice Chancellor Bergen, at Newark, N. J., Monday, denied the application of the Continental Trust Company for an injunction restraining the Northern Securities Company from distributing its assets in accordance with the plan formulated by order of the directors within a week after the United States Supreme Court rendered its decision declaring the formation of the corporation unconstitutional. This is the so-called Venner suit, and has no connection with the pending suit in the United States Circuit Court in which Winslow S. Pierce and E. H. Harriman are complainants.

The Colorado Fuel and Iron Company has started its Steel rail mill at Pueblo, Colo., and after a long shut-down is again a competitor for rail orders. The company is said to have enough rail orders on which specifications have been given to keep its rail mill going for several months. Most of its orders are for quick delivery and from roads in its immediate territory. Colorado Fuel and Iron has a rail capacity of about 400,000 tons per annum. The railroads in the territory served by it require fully that many rails every year under ordinary conditions. When important extensions are being made the amount required is greater.

The Times of Argentina of 14th ult. says that the prospects for the coming Corn crop are not quite so bright, the general impression being that it will fall short of last year's crop. Other advices from Buenos Ayres to the 18th of March report that the Corn crop is expected to be a very good one this season. The excessive rains of the previous week caused some apprehension, but since three days the weather has been very fine, and if it continues field work will be much facilitated. Reports from the northern part of the province of Buenos Ayres, which is largely under Corn, state that the rains have done no damage to the seeds, the crop prospects being excellent.

The weekly Weather Bureau report says of Cotton: "Planting is general over the northern portion of the belt and is nearly finished in the central and southern portions, where chopping is in general progress. The early planted in Texas and Florida receiving its first cultivation. Over most of the Central and Eastern districts the stands are unsatisfactory and much replanting will be necessary. Low temperatures and drouthy conditions have retarded germination very generally in the Central and Eastern districts. Planting is about finished in Texas, except in central and southwestern portions of the Cotton area, where some fields of Wheat ruined by drouth are being planted to Cotton.

The petition for a writ of certiorari in the case of the Chicago Board of Trade vs. the Christie Grain and Stock Company was granted by the Supreme Court of the United States Monday. This will bring the case to the Supreme Court for review. It involves the right of the Board of Trade to exact compensation for its market quotations, which the Circuit Court of Appeals at Kansas City decided it could not do on account of the fact that the transactions from which the quotations result are a species of gambling, and therefore illegitimate and undeserving of the protection of the law. The Board contends that its business is that of an exchange hall only, and the contention is made that the legal contest grows out of a desire of so-called "bucket shops" to use the Board's quotations.

The Corn Trade News of April 13 says: "A Reuter's telegram from Melbourne announces that the total yield of the last Grain harvest in Victoria amounted to 44,011,000 bu, which compares with 29,000,000 bu, the previous biggest yield, in 1900. A recent estimate by the Melbourne Leader gave the Wheat crop as 27,000,000 bu, or 7,500,000 bu above the previous best crop, and if this is correct there would be some 17,000,000 bu of Oats, Barley, etc., a not unreasonable quantity. The Leader gave the surplus of Wheat as 20,000,000 bu, and the New South Wales surplus has been recently estimated at 17,000,000 bu, while South Australia must be reckoned to have 10,000,000 bu. If these quantities are anywhere near correct there must be a lot of Wheat still to be shipped, for the total so far is only a little over 16,000,000 bu."

The Mark Lane Express of April 11 says: "Since April came in the weather has been very much in accord with farmers' desires, for there has been plenty of opportunity to get on with spring work, and at the same time the winds have been keen enough to prevent any undue precocity in vegetation. The reports to hand since the Easter holidays leave little doubt as to the extent to which Oats are being sown this season. The area under that crop will probably show an increase in all the three kingdoms, while the areas under both Wheat and Barley will show a decrease. The tendency to increase the pasture area at the expense of arable is not likely to be arrested this season. The average prices made for British Grain are so low that farmers are not encouraged to sow, and but for the place of the cereals in various rotations and the constant demand for straw the returns of cereal cultivation would be even lower than they actually are."

No export business at the seaboard to-day.

Estimated receipts of Hogs for to-morrow, 18,000.

Consols closed at 89 for money and 89 1-16 for account, a gain of 5-16.

The Suy levee at Louisiana, Mo., has broken, and 30,000 acres of Wheat land are under water.

A report from Quincy, Ill., Wednesday, says: "Wheat prospects fine; the plant shows good healthy growth."

Argentine shipments for the week estimated at 3,200,000 bu Wheat, and 800,000 bu Corn. Weather again unfavorable.

Average cost price of Hogs at Chicago, Wednesday, was $4 94, against $5 00 Tuesday, $5 06 a week ago, and $6 89 a year ago.

Local Securities were slow, weak and lower, except for Can and Boxboard preferred, which gained ½. Canal and Dock declined.

Minneapolis wired: "Country millers continue to buy cash Wheat in this market and are paying good premiums to get it. Stocks have decreased 560,000 bu so far this week."

A Minneapolis dispatch, Wednesday, said: "Wheat seeding is progressing favorably and outlook much more encouraging over the entire territory to Winnipeg."

The Weather Bureau reports showing ice conditions on the Great Lakes, under date of April 26, say the Straits will open about May 1, but that navigation in Lake Superior will be at least ten days later.

The Northwestern Miller says: "Crop reports from the Ohio Valley continue to be very pessimistic, while those from the Southwest speak more encouragingly of present conditions and future prospects."

Cotton in New York was active, and prices receded. Cables were weaker, and the weather South improved. There was good selling early, and on the break liberal buying. Closing prices were 4@8 points lower.

The Liverpool Corn Trade News of April 15 says: "News of the French crops continues to be quite favorable. The fields of winter Grain have a fine appearance and the spring crops are starting well and it is thought the area under Spring Wheat has been increased."

A new basis of Grain rates, making the rate from Omaha to Chicago 2c higher than the rate from Kansas City, may be adopted by the Western railroads. Other roads are trying to induce the Northwestern to consent to an arrangement which will render unnecessary a big reduction in Grain rates from Iowa points.

In Stocks in New York the features were the advance of 6 points in Anaconda, and steadiness in the Steel shares. The balance of the list showed little change. The announcement that the Norfolk and Western proposes to issue $35,000,000 new bonds, led to some selling, but failed to weaken its Stock materially. Money 1@1¼ per cent.

The Cincinnati Price Current reports the packing of the West for the week at 445,000 Hogs, compared with 355,000 for the week previous and 405,000 for the corresponding week in 1903. Aggregate packing since March 1 reported at 3,030,000 Hogs, compared with 2,820,000 for the corresponding time last year—an increase of 210,000 Hogs.

A dispatch from Washington says: "The $10,000,000 due to the new Republic of Panama by the United States will be paid to-day in two drafts—one for $9,000,000 to the order of the Minister from Panama to the United States, who will arrive here in June, and one for $1,000,000 to J. P. Morgan & Co., as fiscal agents of the Republic of Panama."

The Cincinnati Price Current, in its weekly crop summary, says: "Winter Wheat prospects were barely maintained, or slightly lowered, the past week, the more unfavorable reports from the East fully, or slightly more than, balancing improvements in Western sections. Bulk of Oats seeded. Little change in acreage. Rather unpropitious start. Large acreage of Corn expected."

Bromhall cabled from Liverpool: "Report that a bumper crop of Wheat would be raised in Kansas offset a better demand for cargoes that has developed, and a quiet opening resulted, with prices unchanged from last night. Trading very slow, and no changes occurred. Covering by May 'shorts' caused opening advances in that future of Corn, and during early trading further gain of 1c occurred in sympathy with firmness of spot market."

"We get good reports on crops this week," said an official of the Atchison to-day. "Oklahoma is not going to produce a normal crop, but along our lines it is picking up wonderfully. There was much talk of half a crop, but with decent luck, State may raise 70 to 80 per cent. In the proximity to our lines it is much improved during past week, though many sections are still bad. State of crop in Kansas is fine. The plant has been well soaked and is coming along well. Western part of State is somewhat behind."

REVIEW OF TO-DAY'S MARKETS

WINTER WHEAT—Was firm and prices quotably higher for soft Wheat, while Hard Winter Wheat ruled steady and unchanged, with moderate trading. Fresh arrivals were taken by millers and shippers and 2,700 bu No. 2 Red was taken out of store to go to Eastern millers at 13½c over May price free on board. No. 2 Red in store ranged at 99c@$1 00, and fresh arrivals free on board nominally $1 00@1 05. No. 3 Red fresh arrivals nominally 96c@$1 02. No. 2 Hard fresh arrivals free on board quotably 88@92c. No. 3 Hard fresh receipts sold at 83@86c, and No. 4 Hard at 80@84c.

No. 1 Northern in store quotably 86¾@88⅝c and fresh arrivals free on board 92@96c. No. 2 Northern nominally 87@92c. REGULAR WHEAT—Just a fair trade, but market at the same time was quite active and sentiment rather "bullish." All things considered, the market was strong, and the close showed the May 1⅝c higher, while old July gained 1⅛c and new September ⅝c. One of the pit features was the buying of new July by spreaders, who were long on new September. Locals led in the early buying on the crop news. The Price Current was "bullish," claiming that Winter Wheat prospects were barely maintained, or slightly lower than a week ago. Cables were rather indifferent, however, and early crop news from Southwest construed as "bearish." The advance was checked on selling by prominent local elevator concern. Liverpool quoted spot steady and futures ⅛@¾c higher. London was steady to ⅛d better. Paris advanced 2c on spot, while futures were ½d lower. Antwerp was unchanged. Berlin advanced ⅜c. Weather map was most favorable, much warmer and generally clear, except light rains throughout the Ohio Valley. The forecast was for fair weather in Indiana and Illinois; showers for Missouri, Minnesota and Iowa; cloudy for North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas. Minneapolis wired: "Weather clear and fine all over the Northwest; much seeding being done outside valley; valley land drying faster than expected." Another message stated country millers continued to buy cash Wheat, paying good premiums, and that stocks had decreased 560,000 bu so far this week. Wayne County, Indiana, wired 50 per cent of the Wheat crop was plowed up and sown to Oats. Primary receipts were 287,000 bu smaller than a year ago. Kansas City and St. Louis received 25,000 bu, against 6?,000 bu last year, and shipments 145,000 bu. Receipts July 1 to April 25 aggregate 206,978,000 bu, against 232,111,000 bu in 1902-3, and 217,150,000 bu in 1901-2. Flour output for the week was 2?7,16? brls against 3?5,015 brls in 1903. Clearings again small and no boat loads were accepted at the seaboard. Louisiana, Mo., reported 30,000 acres of Wheat inundated and ruined. Duluth wired there was no shipping demand and that seeding in North Dakota would be finished by May 10, and predicted the three States would raise 50,000,000 bu more Wheat than they did last year. Part of the late buying was credited to the Southwest, one large line being covered. Argentine shipments this week estimated at 3,200,000 bushels. Receipts at Duluth 6 cars and at Minneapolis 59 cars, a total of 65 cars, against 63 yesterday, 73 cars a week ago, and 98 cars last year. Local receipts included 1 car Winter, 7 cars Spring, none mixed, a total of 8 cars, against 16 cars last year. Included in above were no cars of contract grade. There were also 4 cars and no bu from unlicensed elevators. The estimated receipts for to-morrow were not reported. The withdrawals to-day were 8,000 bu. Receipts at Western points were 154,000 bu, against 411,694 last year. At Eastern points 74,500 bu, against 225,540 bu last year. Shipments from Western points were 251,010 bu, against 349,103 bu last year, and from Eastern points none, against 32,788 bu last year. Shipments of Flour were 15,842 brls. Exports of Wheat in Flour were equal to 70,289 bu.

CORN—Was fairly active with undertone rather firm, and the close showed the May unchanged, while July lost 1-16c and September gained ⅛c. There was fair commission house buying and professionals purchased the July, the cash situation and firmer cables being "bull" helps. At the advance offerings were freer, led by elevator interests and several of the late conspicuous buyers. Receipts were 140 cars, with 49 cars contract, and 88,000 bu and 15 cars contract were switched from private to public elevators. Deliveries on May contracts are estimated at 3,000,000 bu. Liverpool quoted spot firm and unchanged to ½c higher and futures ½@⅝d higher. There was some inquiry for boats to load and the rate is said to be satisfactory at 2c, but the trouble is to get the captains to come down from Milwaukee. About 400,000 bu said to be under contract for loading. Straits are expected open May 1 and navigation about the 10th. The Price Current summary said "Unpropitious start: large acreage of Corn expected." Kansas City wired "Finest kind of weather for planting Corn in this territory." Southwestern markets at the same time were all stronger. Weather was more favorable and seasonable conditions indicated. Western receipts were 168,000 bu, against 215,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 270,000 bu, or same as in 1903. Local arrivals were 109,000 bu and shipments 89,000 bu. Exports were 93,000 bu and no boat loads were accepted at the seaboard. Weather in Argentina cabled as unfavorable and shipments this week are estimated at 800,000 bu. Car lots were in good demand and offerings were moderate. Feeling was stronger and prices were higher. No 2 sold at 48¼c and closed about 48¾c. OATS—Were excited and higher. At their best prices were up ⅝@1⅞c, July leading. At the close May showed a gain of ⅝c and July 1¼c, while September was unchanged. The "bull" impetus was the placing of shipping orders for 1,000,000 bu Standard and withdrawal of 102,900 bu Standard, and cancellation of receipts for 171,000 bu. Charters were for 200,000 bu, and stocks in store are expected to show a large decrease for the week. Receipts are small, 38 cars, and a light run is expected to-morrow. Seaboard clearances 28,000 bu. Cash sales were 100,000 bu Standard, part at ½@¾c over May in store. Car lots to go to store were steady to 1c higher. No 3 White at 40@42½c. Standard at 42½c. No 2 at 40@40¼c. No 2 White at 44½@44½c. Billed through: No Grade at 36c. No. 4 at 38c. No. 4 White at 38@38c. No. 3 at 38c. No. 3 White at 39@39½c.

Future Deliveries of Contract Oats—Were active and higher.

SEPTEMBER—Active. Sold at 31⅜@32c. Opened at 31⅜ to 31⅝c, sold to 32c, to 31⅝c at close.

RYE—The market jumped into sudden life with a 2c advance for May, followed by a further advance, and 2c over the opening trade was bid. The offerings were light and parties who were "short" were anxious to cover. It was a speculative market helped by the advance in other Grains, although it was claimed that a quantity of Rye had been worked for export at New York. There were no receipts here and 16,000 bu were withdrawn from public elevators. No export clearances reported from the seaboard. No 2 in store and fresh arrivals nominally about 70c. No. 3 nominally 63@68c.

Future Deliveries of No. 2 Rye—In good demand and offerings light. Prices were advanced 4c for May and 2c for July. May sold at 69c and later 7?c bid. July closed at 6? bid.

BARLEY—Was quotably firm. Owing to continued very meagre offerings trading in spot cars was limited—unimportant. All grades were favored with some demand, so that all were salable. Late advanced prices were obtainable. Some to arrive Barley was sold and there seemed to be some inquiry for other lots to arrive. Offerings also light and such lots firmly held. Twenty-six cars inspected in, and 2,570 bu No 4 were taken from store. For screenings there was a quotable range of 30@36c for poor to choice, with a round lot in store sold at 32½c. Barley, low weight, feed or mixing at 40@39½c outside; good weight. Malting, low grade, 40@42c, fair to good sound, 45@48c, good color, 50@55c, and fancy nominally above.

SEEDS—There was a steady to firm market for Grass Seeds, with new crop Timothy again a shade higher. The Flax market was inactive, with nominal prices a shade higher.

Timothy—Firmness was again present in this market. A further advance of 2c in September delivery developed. Otherwise no essential change was noted, but for cash Seed there also was a firm feeling, especially on the part of sellers. September delivery sold at $3 30 and that remained bid. Contract spot or April was delivery nominally $2 90. Cash Seed was quotable as follows: Country lots, fair to good, at $2 55@2 70, choice nominally $2 75@2 80, rough Seed $2 40@2 45 and country lots on the whole range $2 25@2 90 for poor to fancy—outside for fine, unhulled; extra fancy possibly a shade over.

Flax—A further upturn in values in the Northwest carried the market here to ½@1c improvement. There was at the same time an absence of business aside from what was done in changing May delivery Flax to July: this was done at 2c difference in prices in favor of the latter. Sellers in the regular way were scarce: in fact, there were none, and this prevented trading. Little Flax moving at this point, only 1 car or 850 bu received and 1 car or 599 bu taken out. Minneapolis got 11 cars and Duluth 26 cars. No. 1 Northwestern was quoted as nominally $1 07½. No. 1 at $1 03½ and Rejected nominal at 97c@$1 00, outside for choice Northwestern. April delivery nominally about $1 00½. May delivery was nominally $1 00½. July delivery was $1 02½ bid. September nominally $1 06½@1 07.

Clover—Remained inactive on account of there being no offerings. The market could not be quoted otherwise than nominally steady. Contract spot Seed nominally $10 75. Country lots, common to choice, $7 75@10 00, fancy above, mixed with Buckhorn or other weed Seeds, $7 00@8 25, poor, cleaned out of Timothy, very foul, down to $5 00@6 00. Such lots as usually come to market when ordinary to good quotable at $8 50@9 50.

Other Seeds—Siberian Millet was offered, not very good, and held above the views of buyers. Nothing else on sale. General market unchanged. Quotable: Hungarian, common and light color to choice, dark quotable at $1 15@1 65. Common Millet $1 00@1 40 for poor to fancy. German Millet, $1 00@1 40. Siberian, 85c@$1 05. Broom Corn and Early Fortune Millet, 80@95c. Mustard, 85c@$1 05. Buckwheat easy, good quality $1 30.

HOG PRODUCTS—Quite a good speculative business was transacted in the market for Hog Products, and the feeling was somewhat unsettled. July delivery met with most favor. Hogs were in good supply and sold at lower prices, but this feature had only a little effect on the market. Grain markets were stronger in a general way, and was a factor in the market. Early the market was rather firm, with fair miscellaneous buying, and prices ruled higher on all the leading articles. Packers were credited with accepting fair quantities, and outside "shorts" bought moderately. At the advance, there was some inclination to realize while the demand slackened, prices settled back considerably all around, and closed easy. Market in a general way closed steady around inside figure. Receipts of Hogs at the leading Western packing points were estimated at 79,500 compared with 45,500 one year ago. Returns of the packing of the West for the week exhibited an increase of 40,000 Hogs, compared with the returns for the corresponding week in 1903. Foreign markets were quiet. Cumberland Sides quoted 6d lower. Domestic markets were quiet and prices steady. Receipts of Products were liberal of Lard and Meats about 24 cars. Shipments were moderate of Lard and Meats about 86 cars. Inquiry on shipping account was moderate and offerings were fair. Sales were not very large, and prices fairly well maintained on all descriptions.

Mess Pork—Rather an active business was reported in Mess Pork, and the feeling was unsettled. Offerings were fair, and the demand was moderately active. "Shorts" bought fair quantities. Market opened rather steady at the closing prices of Wednesday, but a good general demand, with some competition for the offerings, and prices advanced 5@7½c. After the early orders were provided for, there was more inclination to sell, and prices declined 25@30c on the whole range and the market closed comparatively steady. Bulk of the trading in July contracts. Shipping demand was moderate, and offerings were small. Cash lots were quotable at $12 10@12 15.

MAY—In only moderate request and offerings were not very large. Sales were made at $11 95@12 25. Opened at $12 17½ to $12 20, sold to $12 25 to $12 10, to $12 12½, to $11 95 and closed steady.

JULY—Offerings were fair and the demand was quite good. Sales were made at $12 25@12 52½. Opened at $12 47½ to $12 50, sold to $12 52½, to $12 40, to $12 47½@12 45, to $12 40, to $12 42½ to $12 40 to to $12 45, to $12 37½ to $12 40 to $12 27½, to $12 30 to $12 25, and closed steady.

Lard—Considerable interest was manifested in the Lard market and trading was quite active. Offerings were fair and the demand was good, especially from "shorts." Foreign advices were unchanged. Market opened rather steady, with fair trades at the closing prices of Wednesday, and a stronger feeling was developed, accompanied with an advance of 7½@10c. Later, there was considerable pressure to sell, and prices gradually settled back again 12½@15c, and the market closed comparatively steady. Inquiry on shipping account was light and offerings were moderate. Cash lots were quotable at $6 72½@6 75. Loose lots in fair request, with moderate offerings. Prices steady at about 55c discount on July figures. Leaf Lard in fair request and offerings were moderate. Prices were quotably steady at $6 12½. Neutral in only moderate demand, with fair offerings. Prices quotably steady at $7 12½@7 25 for No. 1, and $6 87½@7 00 for No. 2.

MAY—Inquiry rather light and offerings were moderate. Sales were made at $6 72½@6 82½. Opened at $6 82½, sold to $6 75, to $6 77½, to $6 72½, and closed steady.

JULY—Offerings were moderately free and the demand was rather active. Sales were made at $6 87½@7 02½. Opened at $6 92½ to $6 95, sold to $7 00@7 02½, to $6 97½ to $7 00 to $6 92½, to $6 95, to $6 92½, to $6 95, to $6 87½, and closed steady.

ADVISABILITY OF BUYING SEED CORN.

[C P. Hartley, in Year Book of Department of Agriculture.]

Many growers entertain the idea that the growing of the same Corn for years on one farm will cause it to "run out." Such is not the case. It is the lack of attention to seed selection that causes the deterioration and not the continued growing of the same Corn on one farm. It is true that the Corn on many farms does become poorer from year to year. Such is likely to be the case where any farmer who gives no attention to seed selection or the detrimental effects that may follow cross pollination, or mixing, starts with highly bred seed and expects the Corn to retain indefinitely its good features without yearly attention to the principles of proper seed selection. It is the inherent tendency of plants to vary that makes improvement possible, and whether the strain of Corn grown on any particular farm shall become poorer or shall become better year by year depends on whether seed below or above the average of the strain is yearly selected. Carefully conducted experiments prove that it is possible to make Corn poorer in quality and productiveness by the selection of seed from poor individuals; and those who use their best Corn during the winter and plant such as is left in the spring, and those who eat as roasting ears the earliest and best ears in the patch and take their seed from such as remain, are constantly repeating these experiments. It is no wonder their Corn becomes poorer, or, as it is commonly expressed, "runs out."

It is deemed highly advisable to improve a Corn in the district and on the kind of soil where it is to be afterwards grown. It is true that a well-bred variety may sometimes be sent hundreds of miles from the place where it was improved and there be found superior to the native varieties with which it comes in comparison, while, on the other hand, a change in the conditions of soil and climate may cause a change in the Corn or its habits of growth so that a valuable variety for one State may be worthless for another State. For this reason extensive importation of seed Corn from another locality where the soil and climatic conditions may be different should not be made without first testing the variety on a small scale.

To produce a desirable grade of seed Corn requires considerable attention and work, but the better quality and larger quantity of Corn that will grow from it will more than pay for the labor. Any Corn grower who has not the time, ability or a suitable location to grow and select seed Corn of a high grade should each year buy his seed and willingly pay several dollars a bushel for it, but he should be sure that the seed he buys has been properly bred and selected. One safeguard in buying is to insist that the seed be delivered as ear Corn. Sellers of seed Corn offer several reasons for their unwillingness to ship seed Corn on the ear, but if honestly expressed the chief reason would be that by so doing they are unable to dispose of poor and small ears. When viewed in the proper light, there are no good reasons that will prevent the selling and shipping of seed Corn on the ear, and certainly as much profit can be made by selling good seed Corn at an advanced price as by selling for seed purposes and at low prices Corn which it is unwise for anyone to plant. The reform can best be accomplished by all who buy seed Corn insisting that it be delivered on the ear. Growers can then at least know from what kind of ears their seed was shelled. Seedsmen find it to their profit to meet the demands of their patrons, and if the demand for unshelled seed Corn becomes great they will of necessity meet the demand. As soon as it becomes the universal practice to accept no seed that has been shelled a great step will have been taken toward the raising of the average production per acre, for it will take from unscrupulous men one means of imposing upon the growers by the sale of poor seed.

Properly grown and selected seed will often produce 15 bu more Corn per acre than unselected seed of the same variety. A bushel of seed will plant 6 or more acres, so that, estimating Corn at 30c per bu, such seed Corn bears a money value of $27 per bu.

*Minnesota, Dakota and Iowa mills outside of Minneapolis and Duluth.

The Flour output last week increased 27,300 brls. Even then it was small. This week thirteen mills are in operation and should there be no stops the production promises to approximate 180,000 brls. For the same week in 1903 the output was 311,480 brls.

Seldom have the Minneapolis mills experienced a duller business than that of last week. Small as was the output, sales of Flour were probably even less. Buyers appeared to expect lower prices, and with the declining Wheat market, and the large stocks of Flour in the hands of middle men, they were apathetic to the extreme. Some mills having considerable Flour booked, found it difficult to get the buyers to order it out. Millers are giving very little attention to export trade. As fast as Wheat declines importers seem to reduce their bids and to keep well under the limits of millers. A single small lot of Patent was reported worked last week. Clears are slow of sale, and though prices have in some instances been lowered sixpence, it seemed to elicit no attention from foreigners. Of course the output is small and the mills have comparatively little of these grades to offer.

Prices of Patent have been reduced 10c during the week. The range of quotations now is $4 65@4 90 per 196 lbs in wood f. o. b. Minneapolis.

The range of Eastern prices, April 26, asked by Minneapolis mills for Patent in wood was: Boston rate points, $5 35@5 60, New York rate points, $5 30@5 50; Pittsburg rate points, $5 10@5 25; Baltimore rate points, $5 2 @5 40. Philadelphia rate points, $5 25@5 50; Albany rate points, $5 30@5 50; Rochester and Syracuse rate points $5 25@5 50; Buffalo rate points, $5 10@5 25; Michigan, $4 85@5 10 in sacks; Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin, $4 65@5 10 in sacks; Missouri points, $4 65@4 90 in sacks.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Union Station, Harrisburg, Pa., was damaged by fire to the extent of $75,000 to $100,000, Tuesday.

The New Century Zinc and Lead Mining Company of Galena, Kan., has declared its regular monthly dividend of 1 per cent, payable May 1.

LINSEED OIL ON THE CONTINENT.

[From Dornbusch, April 13.]

COLOGNE April 12. -The slow but steady decline in the price of Linseed Oil, which has been going on for months past, has brought the trade within measurable distance of the record low prices of 1897 and 1898. It was in June of 1897 that Amsterdam quoted 14 florins per 100 kilos, and the German crushers sold Oil at 28@29 marks. Spot Oil at country mills is to-day quoted 32½@33 marks per 100 kilos naked, in wagon loads, but the situation is totally different now from then. In 1897 the market was depressed by the enormous supplies of Oil, when mills on the Lower Rhine held stocks of from 150 to 203 wagon loads. To-day the contrary may be stated. None of the German crushers have any stock of Oil worth speaking about. The mills have been crushing throughout the autumn and winter to the utmost capacity, and even now the output is the largest possible, and in the face of this complaints are still heard of belated delivery on contracts, the same as happened throughout the winter. The normal situation is dullness in the winter months. The low prices have stimulated consumption to an unusual degree, and this absorption of Oil will no doubt continue to grow in the near future.

AGRICULTURE IN GREAT BRITAIN.

[From the London Agricultural Gazette, April 11.]

There has been steady progress in seeding, and there is now the prospect of a finish being made in fair time. The later sowings have been carried out under better conditions than the early operations. Farmers who cultivated a field repeatedly until it has been got into fair condition, instead of hurrying in the seed lest rain should stop work for a time and run cultivated soil into a state of mud, will be well rewarded. Not only have they secured a better tilth for their Grain by their policy, but they have also killed weeds to a great extent, by bringing them to the surface, where exposure to sunshine and drying wind has caused them to perish. Reports on Winter Wheat and other crops sown in the autumn are still generally unfavorable, though the recent weather has promoted growth to a moderate extent.

NORTHWESTERN WHEAT CONSUMPTION.

[From the Northwestern Miller April 27.]

The attached table shows the output of Flour and approximate consumption of Wheat at Minneapolis and Duluth together with that of 39 "outside mills" with a daily capacity of 30,210 brls, from Sept. 1, 1903, to April 23, 1904:

	1903-04 Flour, brls.	1903-04 Wheat, bu.	1902-03 Flour, brls.	1902-03 Wheat, bu.
Duluth	741,765	3,351,500	1,081,240	4,865,500
Totals	15,442,355	69,491,000	16,337,650	73,519,500

These figures represent the approximate consumption of 4,028,500 bu less Wheat this year than in 1902-03. This has occurred from the mills of Minneapolis and Duluth turning out 1,384,400 brls less Flour, equal to 6 229,500 bu of Wheat, than last year. In contrast, the outside mills have increased their output to the extent of 489,105 brls, or equal to 2,201,000 bu of Wheat.

GROWTH OF LIVE STOCK IN CANADA.

Ten years ago in Ontario, Canada, there were reported 2,057,882 head of Cattle, valued at $47,718,025. In 1902, the number was 2,562,584, an increase of less than half a million but the value had increased to $63,517,342. Swine, again, ten years ago, were valued at $6,6.2,129, while to-day they are worth $11,262 265, an increase of nearly 80 per cent. Horses have also increased in value to the extent of $5,000,000, while all farm property, including buildings, implements, and Live Stock, totals over one billion dollars in cash.

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Weather conditions this morning very favorable. Temperatures much higher and no precipitation except a few light rains in the Ohio Valley. Mercury yesterday showed maximums in Manitoba of 62 to 76, in Minnesota and Dakotas 64 to 74, in Iowa and Nebraska 62 to 70. These are almost summer-like.

It is clear all over the Spring Wheat and Corn and Oats territory. Conditions are ideal for seeding and farm work and the warmth for growth.

Indications are for fair weather. No extensive rains indicated. Temperatures will continue to rise slowly.

During the month of March, Belgium imported 4,376,000 bu Wheat and exported 872,100 bu. The net import in the eight months ending March was 32,248,000 bu, compared with 28,080,000 bu in the corresponding period of last season.

St. Louis wired, Wednesday: "A prominent man here says: 'I don't believe Texas, Kansas, and Oklahoma will raise within 40,000,000 bu of the Wheat they raised last year, no matter how favorable conditions may be from this on.'"

During the last half of March, Germany imported 2,432,000 bu Wheat and exported 4 8,000 bu. The net import in the eight months ending March was 40,496,000 bu, compared with 42,360,000 bu in the corresponding period of last season, and 52,856,000 in 1901-02.

During the month of March, France imported 784,000 bu Wheat for home consumption. In the eight months ending March the net quantity was 9,544,000 bu, compared with 7,920,100 bu in the corresponding period of last season, and 5,312,000 bu in 1901-2.

Bonded stocks in French ports at the end of March included 1,816,000 bu Wheat, against 1,496,000 bu the month previous, and 744,000 bu on March 31, 1903. Besides the bonded stocks, 1,528,000 bu were held on temporary admission account, against 8,208,100 bu a year ago.

Thirty day coaches, several dining cars, and one private car were destroyed in a fire which burned the coach shop of the West Albany, N. Y., shops of the New York Central Railroad Tuesday, entailing a loss of $250,000.

An official of the Illinois Brick Company says the volume of brick sold this year has exceeded the corresponding period of 1903 by fully 25 per cent. There is an immense aggregate of new buildings, mostly small projects, such as two-story flats, in Chicago and vicinity.

One of the largest implement works in the country has received over one hundred reports from its agents, and writes as follows: "Shortage 100,000,000 bu Wheat east of Kansas City. Not over half crop in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. Seeding three weeks late in Northwest. No old Wheat in farmers' hands east of Mississippi River."

Reports of ninety-eight railroads for February show an increase of 3.6 per cent in gross earnings as compared with the gross in the corresponding month last year, but a decrease of 8 3 per cent in net earnings. For eight months, from July 1, 1903, the same roads increased their gross 7.4 per cent and their net 2.75 per cent.

A Philadelphia dispatch says: "We learn that a number of Philadelphia and New York capitalists have in progress of formation an Asphalt company destined to be a formidable rival to the General Asphalt Company. The new company will be incorporated under the laws of New Jersey, with a capital of $2,000,000. The company will do a general paving and contracting business."

Ubert K. Pettingill, member of the firm of Pettingill & Co., advertising agency of Boston, and of the Dr. Greene Nervura Company, both of which concerns are in the hands of assignees, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, Tuesday. His liabilities are $190 000 with assets of uncertain value. One of the principal creditors is the Mechanics' National Bank to which is due $62,000.

Among the stories current in New York concerning United States Steel preferred was one that a "bull" pool formed in the Stock about a month ago will be dissolved May 1 and the market for the Stock will miss the support of the pool brokers. This pool was said to have been formed on early and positive information in regard to the dividend declared on the preferred Stock and is said to have made some profit on its operations.

It is reported that the directors of the Northern Pacific Railway Company will meet shortly and declare a dividend for the quarter of 1½ and ½ per cent extra. As is generally realized, while the present merger litigation in the New Jersey courts is pending, the Northern Pacific can pay dividends only to those holders who have constituted the minority interest in the company since the formation of the Northern Securities Company. There is nothing, however, to prevent the payment of the dividend to the minority holders of Northern Pacific stock. The dividend paid Feb. 1 last was 1½ per cent.

The reasons assigned for the passing of the preferred stock dividend of the Allis-Chalmers Company are that, pending a reorganization of the managment and the completion of certain plans for enlarging the scope of the company's output, the directors feel that it would be unwise to pay out profits. It is believed that no bond or stock increase will be needed, and that with the assistance of such a strong board of directors as the Allis Chalmers Company possesses there will be no difficulty in placing on advantageous terms an issue of notes to provide the company with funds to carry out the proposed plans.

Although the payment of $40,000,000 by this government to the Panama Canal Company is expected to be made this week, the money will not be distributed in Paris until next November, the company being required to advertise six months for bondholders to turn in their securities in order to obtain their proportion of the purchase money. A large amount of the bonds now traded in readjusted issues are owned by New York firms. One house alone bought $2,000,000 of the bonds recently, and the head of the house said he understood that J. P. Morgan & Co. were also heavy holders, and estimated that of the $40,000,000 to be paid in Paris fully $.0 000,000 will be returned to New York on the final distribution.

"Owing to the very late opening of navigation and also to the fact that the labor situation on lake vessels has not yet been settled, and apparently no endeavor has been made to settle it," said a Chicago commission man, Wednesday, "the demand for Oats from the East will be very likely turned toward Chicago, our Oats here being more available to the market for all rail shipment than from Duluth or Minneapolis. Our stock of Oats in store is being rapidly reduced, and I believe will so continue. The stock of Oats in private warehouses here is less than last year, while our stock in public warehouses is larger than last year, but receipts of Oats are so small that it is my opinion we are going to see a very rapid reduction in stocks."

A director of the Erie says: "The Erie Railroad Company suffered during the last winter what might almost be called a series of disasters. Last October the first reverse came in the flood conditions at Paterson. This was followed in the winter by the serious Susquehanna flood. Then on top of these two sources of loss in business came the extremely severe winter, which is now barely over. Much of the business we lost we can never regain. For instance, Erie is the largest of the milk carrying roads, and that business is an important item in our earnings. At various times during the last winter we were prevented from carrying into New York City our usual shipments of milk. That lost freight, of course, can never be regained. We have now offering all the business we can handle, but no safe prediction can be made yet as to the spring or summer."

"Reports indicate that good progress has been made sowing small Grain and in preparation of soil for Corn planting," says J. R. Sage, in the Iowa weather crop bulletin. "In fully three-fourths of the State seeding has been practically completed, but in limited portions of all districts this work has been somewhat retarded by unfavorable conditions of the soil. Quite probably this may result in some decrease in acreage of the Oat crop, in comparison with the area that would have been sown under better conditions. Very good advancement has been made in plowing and preparing ground for the Corn crop, the acreage of which promises to be much larger than last year. Germination has been much retarded by cold weather, and some fears are expressed of damage to early-sown Grain by freezing, but the loss from that cause will be very small. On the whole, conditions are materially better than at the close of April, 1903."

Interest rates in Chicago range from 4 to 5 per cent. Money is abundant at the banks and the question of rates is governed simply by the character of the loan wanted. The Modern Miller says: "Warmer weather has benefitted Winter Wheat crop where the condition was not too greatly lowered to respond to sunshine and warm weather. East of the Mississippi River the prospects are poorest, and in the extreme Southwest, including Texas and the Territories, it is a settled fact that the crops will be short. Best yields are looked for in the States of the Missouri Valley and the Pacific Coast. General condition shows little, if any, improvement during April. Loss by floods in bottom lands will not be large, according to present conditions."

The Orange Judd Farmer says: "Current reports from a sufficient number of Wheat growing counties to be indicative of the general situation show that the condition figures reported on April 1 were too high. There is now opportunity to form definite judgment, and local examination shows that the Wheat prospect in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana is much lower than was believed early. In some parts of the Ohio Valley the crop is practically a failure. The condition in Illinois, Missouri and Kansas is slightly lower than a month ago, in spite of generally favorable April weather. The general average condition for Winter Wheat is lower than the April figures indicated. Spring Wheat seeding has made good progress everywhere except in the Red River Valley, where it is seriously delayed. Cold, wet weather is delaying germination. Oats seeding is practically completed except in the northern belt. The soil condition was fairly good and with warm weather the crop should come forward rapidly."

FLOUR—The market is quiet, but indications point to a better business in the near future.

WINTER WHEAT. Ruled very firm. There was a sharp demand from millers who, being unable to secure enough fresh arrivals, have bought in store Wheat and taken to Hard. The fancy prices asked for soft Wheat has induced millers to buy Hard. No. 2 Red in store nominally $1 00@1 02 and fresh arrivals free on board nominally $1 0.@1 05. No. 3 Red fresh receipts free on board nominally 95@$1 02. No. 2 Hard out of store free on board sold at May price and fresh arrivals at 91¼c. No. 3 Hard fresh receipts free on board sold at 85½@89c. No. 4 Hard choice Wheat sold at 84c.

SPRING WHEAT. A firmer feeling existed and prices at the close 1@2c higher. A good demand existed and some round lots in store—40,000 bu—were sold. Millers were unable to get enough fresh arrivals, and were induced to take hold of the elevator lots. No. 1 Northern in store sold at ¼@¾c over May prices, and ranged at 89⅞@90¾c and fresh arrivals free on board quotably 93@96c. No. 2 Northern nominally 90@94c. No. 3 Spring fresh receipts free on board quotable at 85@93c for ordinary to very choice. No. 4 Spring sold at 78@80c for fair to good.

REGULAR WHEAT. Just a moderate trade, resting prices showing May ⅞c higher, the July gaining ⅜@½c and September ⅜c. Sentiment was mixed, with the early tone easy, influenced by the fine weather, liberal Argentine shipments and fact that cables did not respond to yesterday's advance on this side. The weather in the Northwest was fair and warmer, with very little precipitation anywhere. Showers and warmer weather generally predicted for the West, Southwest and Northwest. Liverpool quoted spot steady and futures ⅛d lower to ⅛d higher. Receipts there the past three days 301,000 bu and only 8,000 bu from America. London was steady to ¼d higher. Paris spot ⅛c lower, futures up ⅛c. Antwerp unchanged. Berlin closed ¼c higher and Buda Pesth ⅜c higher. Argentina shipped 3 421,000 bu, making 47,320,000 bu since Jan. 1, against 20 860 000 bu one year ago. Visible there reported at 4,418 000 bu, last week, 5,560,000 bu; year ago, 4,008,000 bu. At the decline locals and the Southwest bought with considerable freedom, the weekly report of a local crop expert as well as the Modern Miller summary being construed as "bullish." Receipts were light in all directions and total movement 250,000 bu less than a year ago. Kansas City and St. Louis received 80,000 bu, against 162,000 bu last year, and shipments were 92,000 bu. Receipts in the Northwest were 92 cars smaller. Minneapolis wired: "Think country elevator stocks May 1 will be small. Have talked with the managers of several companies and they say their houses are practically all cleaned out." Stocks at Minneapolis are expected to decrease 700,000 bu this week. Another Minneapolis message read: "Warm and clear throughout Minnesota and the Dakotas, seeding general; seeding commenced north of Red River Valley." Duluth stocks are expected to increase 15,000 bu. New York reported further pressure of Manitoba Wheat and claimed European bids do not come up. Exports were moderate and total for the week 1,010,000 bu, against 3,418,000 bu for the corresponding week in 1903. At the close the seaboard reported 5 boat loads accepted. Milling news from Milwaukee and Minneapolis was more encouraging to "longs." Flour sales being larger. Cash sales here were about 100,000 bu. Receipts at Duluth none, and at Minneapolis 71 cars, a total of 71 cars, against 60 yesterday, 129 cars a week ago, and 163 cars last year. Local receipts included 7 car Winter, 2 cars Spring, none mixed, a total of 9 cars, against 82 cars last year. Included in above were no cars of contract grade. There were also 7 cars and no bu from unlicensed elevators. The estimated receipts for to-morrow were not reported. The withdrawals to-day were 11,500 bu. Receipts at Western points were 133,219 bu against 382,844 last year. At Eastern points 22,500 bu, against 311,726 bu last year. Shipments from Western points were 102,060 bu against 201,755 bu last year, and from Eastern points 167,800 bu, against 154,073 bu last year. Shipments of Flour were 6,79 brls. Exports of Wheat in Flour were equal to 197,405 bu.

CORN—Moderately active, the close being ⅛c lower for May, the July losing ⅛c and September ⅛@¼c. Trade was mainly local and on the professional order, the market being dominated to some extent by the action of Wheat. The start was easy, influenced mainly by the fine weather map, but the offerings were well taken and situation turned steadier, but at 49c for July commission houses had considerable for sale and the price again weakened, selling to 48½c. Argentine crop news was unfavorable, cash values were firm and Wheat stronger, all of which tended to impart strength to the market. OATS—Were actively traded in with an unsettled feeling. Prices receded ⅜@⅞c at the start on fine growing weather but advanced ¾@1⅛c on renewed buying by the same interests that have led for several days. Toward the last selling by early buyers carried prices off and May closed at a net gain of ⅛c. July ⅛c and September at a loss of ⅛c. The latter was affected by the good weather and the former by the small receipts and by the reduction in stocks. Cash sales were 185,000 bu part Standard at ⅛c over May in store. The tie-up of vessel interests is against large shipments by lake. Receipts for 37,000 bu Standard cancelled. Withdrawals were 101,000 bu and 7 cars Standard were taken from private elevators. Arrivals were 30 cars, with a moderate run due to-morrow. Seaboard clearances were 11,000 bu. Car lots to go to store were steady to 1c higher. Standard in store closed at 40½@41c, as to location.

RYE. Was quiet and held firmly. There was some demand, but holders indifferent about selling and asked higher prices. Receipts very small, only one car. There was withdrawn from public elevator 6,000 bu. No export clearances from the seaboard. No. 2 in store nominally about 71½@71c and car lots fresh arrivals about 70@71c. No. 3 sold at 67½@68c and No. 4 at 65c.

Future Deliveries of No. 2 Rye. Quiet and firm. May was exchanged for July at 3c difference at 72c for May and at 69c for July. May closed 71c bid and July 68c bid.

BARLEY. The market was firm. There has been some advance in prices this week, and full late values could be obtained. Malting Barley, either spot or to arrive, in demand. Few spot cars offered and also little to arrive on sale. Some good Barley was wanted for pearling. The lower grades were salable to mixers. There was nothing but what would sell. The market was in good shape. Only 14 cars in. Values to a considerable extent nominal, owing to small business. There was a quotable range as follows: Screenings at 30@36c for poor to choice. Barley—low grade feed or mixing at 37@39c outside good weight. Malting, low grade, 40@42c; fair to good sound, 45@48c; good color, 50@55c, and fancy nominally above. To-arrive sales were made at 45@48c.

SEEDS—All lines remain quiet. No change noted in any of the several Grass Seeds. There was a further advance in prices in the Flax market.

Timothy—There was no trading. On the cash market no offerings appeared. Former prices were obtainable and steadiness quotable. Some inquiry for new crop Seed, September delivery, existed, and late advanced quotation was bid. The little on sale was held above. It was an inactive market with a strong tone. Contract spot or April delivery remained nominally at $2 95. For September delivery $3 30 was bid and $3 35 asked. Cash Seed quotable. Country lots, fair to good, at $2 75@2 70, choice nominally $2 75@2 80, rough Seed $2 40@2 45 and country lots on the whole range $2 25@2 90 for poor to fancy; outside for fine, unhulled; extra fancy possibly a shade over.

Flax. A firm feeling again prevailed. It was due to continued favorable advices from the Northwest. Offerings remained exceedingly limited. Some demand existed. Prices show 1@2c advance for cash and near futures, and July sold 1½c higher. There was some demand for better, and orders could only be filled by paying such an improvement. Little Flax moving. Local receipts 2 cars or 1,700 bu, and taken out 2 cars or 2,110 bu. Minneapolis got 2 cars and Duluth 11 cars. There was a sale of No. 1 Northwestern at $1 08½. No. 1 nominal at $1 01 and Rejected nominal at 98c@$1 00, outside for choice Northwestern. April delivery nominally about $1 01. May sold at $1 01 and closed at that. July delivery sold at $1 01 and closed there. September was held at $1 18.

Clover. Scarce and very quiet. In this and offerings both of the small volume customary toward the closing of the season. Values nominally steady and unchanged. Contract spot Seed remains nominally $9 75. Country lots, common to choice, $7 75@10 00, fancy above, mixed with Buckhorn or other weed Seed $7 00@8 50, poor, commercial lots of Timothy, very foul, down to $3 00@6 00. Such lots as usually come to market when ordinary to good quotable at $8 50@9 50.

Other Seeds. Some Siberian Millet of common quality was sold at 85c; it was Seed white, but been held over. There were no fresh arrivals on sale. In a general way the market was quotably unchanged. Hungarian, common and light color to choice, dark quotable at $1 10@1 60. Common Millet $1 00@1 40 for poor to fancy. German Millet, $1 00@1 4. Siberian 85c@$1 05. Broom Corn and Early Fortune Millet, 80@95c. Mustard, 85c@$1 15. Buckwheat easy, good quality, $1 50.

HOG PRODUCTS. A fairly good speculative trade was reported in Hog Products, and the feeling was somewhat unsettled. Outside orders were moderate and local trading was good. Offerings were quite liberal and the demand was only moderate. Early, there was a little pressure to sell, due to good receipts of Hogs and lower prices and a moderate decline in prices was established. Later, there was a fair general inquiry, while the offerings were lighter, and there was a fair recovery in prices all around. Toward the close, the market weakened, owing to considerable liquidation generally, and prices declined sharply. Market closed comparatively steady. July delivery met with most favor. Receipts of Hogs at the leading Western packing points estimated at 71,000, compared with 50,200 one year ago. Foreign markets were quiet and quotations were reduced 6d on Cumberland Sides and 3d on Lard. Domestic markets were quiet. Receipts of Products were fair—of Lard and Meats about 24 cars. Shipments were fairly large—of Lard and Meats about 120 cars. Inquiry on shipping account was moderate and there was no particular pressure to sell. Holders rather firm in their views. Sales were moderate, and prices rather inclined in favor of buyers.

Mess Pork—Trade was fair in the market for Mess Pork, and the feeling was somewhat unsettled. Offerings were quite liberal and the demand was moderately active. Market opened rather easy, and prices were 10@15c lower, and this was followed by a further reduction of 2½@5c. Later, rather more steadiness was manifested and prices rallied 7½@10c, but toward the close declined sharply 12½@15c, and the market closed comparatively steady. Shipping demand was light and offerings were moderate. Cash lots quotable at $11 70@11 75.

MAY. In moderate demand and offerings were fair. Sales were made at $11 70@11 87½. Opened at $11 80, sold to $11 85, to $11 82½, to $11 77½, to $11 87½, to $11 70, to $11 72½, to $11 70, to $11 70@11 72½, and closed steady.

COMPANIES AND TRADES UNIONS.

The war between capital and labor has in recent years assumed an aspect of irreconcilability, each side demanding of the other unconditional surrender. Corporations are combining for the purpose of crushing trades unions, and trades unions are combining for the purpose of bringing corporations into subjection to their will. On the one side we hear representatives of capitalist denouncing trades unions as "un-American"; on the other we hear representatives of trades unionists denouncing corporations as tyrannical and monopolistic.

Yet there is no essential difference in principle between the organization of capital in the form of companies and the organization of labor in the form of trades unions. The company is simply a combination of many individuals to accomplish something which they would be unable to perform individually. It is an aggregation of many individuals, and of many small blocks of capital, in order to carry on some great business enterprise. Each individual puts in a certain proportion of the money required, the shareholders then vote for certain persons to represent them in the management, these directors meet and elect certain officers, who perform the executive functions of control.

The trades union is a combination of many workers to accomplish something which it could not be impossible for each, acting individually, to attain. Coming together, they form an organization not unlike that of the company, except that it is not incorporated. It has its members in a certain proportion of its wages to defray the expenses; each union elects certain representatives to some central council, and this council elects executive officers or officials for control

It is difficult, therefore, to discover any essential difference in principle between the company and the trades union. If the one be permitted to exist as essential to modern industry and commerce, there is no reason why the other may not also be permitted to exist as essential to the welfare of thousands of workers. The trades union in the form of companies is necessary for capital; there is no reason why labor should not also adopt the same method to make itself equally strong and more effective. The corporation, therefore, which strikes at the principle of organization as carried out by the trades union is really striking at the same principle as applied to capital. The trades union which strikes at the principle of organization as exemplified by the corporation is striking at the same principle which is at the base of its own existence.

A trust is a corporation which aims at a monopoly, and sometimes secures it. The trades union which, by methods of coercion, by intimidation, by boycotts, and by violence, seeks to control the labor market, is no different from a corporation trust. Both aim at monopoly; one, if some manufacturing or transportation branch of business, the other, of labor. The trust of capital which strikes at the trust of labor, and the trust of labor which strikes at the trust of capital, are two evils which, in endeavoring to destroy each other, succeed only in disturbing, injuring and oppressing the people of the country.

The problem which confronts the United States to-day is not how to crush the corporation or how to destroy the trades union, though that is the way that thousands of agitators are talking. The problem is how to preserve the principle of organization in capital and in labor, and make both the more effective in advancing the welfare and comfort of the people of the country, and at the same time to prevent them from combining in an oppressive monopoly, and adopting, on the one side, methods of corruption, of secret rebates, and measures of war to destroy competition and attain special privileges, and, on the other, methods of violence, boycotts, and a denial of the inalienable right of every man to work.

This problem may possibly be worked out through conflict, but that means devastation and loss. The extremists on both sides, the men who insist upon unconditional surrender, may fight each other until they are obliged to lay down their arms in sheer exhaustion, and then they will have to come together on a basis of mutual recognition of each other's rights of organization. But this conflict could be avoided if the extremists who would de-troy the organizations of labor, and the labor leaders who would destroy the power of corporations, would realize the inevitable consequence of a war of extermination, and come together upon the same basis of mutual recognition of each other's rights, which could be the only result of conflict. Each side would then have the idea of making itself master of the situation. An unconditional surrender could only lead to tyranny or anarchy.

Although there were several days of the past week in which the temperature was mild and quite favorable for growth, they were generally followed by temperature which was abnormally cool. Rainfall was plentiful over nearly all of the Grain growing districts, and excessive in the lower Ohio and Eastern Kansas. Reports received lately on the condition of the growing Wheat crop indicate that in Indiana the outlook has declined materially and that in Ohio and Illinois the appearance is slightly less favorable than previously. In Eastern Kansas and Missouri the previous rather favorable condition of the crop has been maintained, although there have been reports from several localities from overflows. In Nebraska the outlook is favorable. Taking the situation as a whole, the Winter Wheat prospects have not been maintained, perhaps slightly lowered during the past week, the more unfavorable reports from the east of the Mississippi River fully and perhaps slightly more than balancing the improvement noted from the West and Southwest. Late reports from the Pacific Coast indicate favorable progress of the Wheat crop there.

Latest reports from the Spring Wheat States indicate that Wheat seeding is mostly done in the Southern portions, but retarded by the cold, wet weather in most of the Northern portions of the area. The week has not been favorable for proper germination and growth of that already sown. A better condition is expected with warmer and drier weather.

The bulk of the Oats crop has been seeded, but is not starting propitiously, owing to the cool, wet weather. Although there has been some increase in acreage in Indiana and Ohio the crop as a whole is not likely to prove much if any above an average success.

Plowing for Corn is making moderate progress and recent correspondence continues to reflect expectations of a large acreage.

Telegraphic reports received regarding the interior movement of Grain indicate that little is being done in any of the Grains

The marketing of Hogs has become more liberal in numbers. Total Western packing 445,000, compared with 358,000 for the preceding week, and 355,000 two weeks ago For corresponding time last year the number was 465,000, and two years ago 335,000. From March 1 the total is 3,030,000, against 2,820,000 a year ago—an increase of 210,000 The quality is fair to good, the latter predominating. Prices are lower, prominent markets at the close averaging about $4 90 per 100 lbs, compared with $5 00 a week ago, $5 10 two weeks ago, $5 80 a year ago, $5 05 two years ago, and $5 70 three years ago

The speculative Provision market was rather unsettled the past week, the trend of prices was moderately upward. At the close yesterday the high point of the week was reached, in sympathy with the strength in the Grain markets, which trade set in after a steady decline each day previously. The general surroundings of the trade, aside from the influence of the Grain markets, was in favor of the selling side. Hogs were in more liberal supply and prices lower. Domestic markets ruled quiet and foreigners bought sparingly. Packers delivered rather freely on contracts, and the export clearances of Product were rather light, but show a slight gain over the preceding week and an increase over the corresponding week last year.

WHEAT IN THE SOUTHWEST.

[Kansas City Cor. of Northwestern Miller.]

Splend d Wheat weather prevailed over all the Southwest through nearly all of last week Two or three days were rainy enough to be much like winter weather, but the cold was accompanied by general rains which caused the combination to be given a glad welcome. The rain was general over all of Kansas and extended into Nebraska. In Nebraska there was a good deal of snow, and in Central Missouri the snowfall was the heaviest of the winter. Warm, bright weather succeeded the storm, and cushed the Wheat to take the great, vest possible advantage of the recently received moisture.

In Kansas, the present precipitation extended further west than any previous rain and was vastly beneficial in the western counties where there has seldom been moisture, or, at best, but a light sprinkle, for over two years. While that was despaired of by some is expected to make rapid advancement. In all the western half of the State the drill rows can still be clearly traced across fields where but this can safely be taken to mean a late harvest as to assume that it means a short one. On the whole, Kansas Wheat prospered during the week and the outlook is much better than a week ago. Nearly all the talk is of a big crop.

In Oklahoma, Wheat is in prosperous condition in the northern part, as far south as Enid on the Rock Island and Kingfisher on the Santa Fe. Below a line drawn through those two places the condition is less promising and in the southwestern part the outlook is reported as unsatisfactory.

Missouri Wheat is in good condition. The effect of the snowstorm with Wheat far advanced in growth has not yet been ascertained, but it is not likely to be bad.

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

It is generally fair and warmer—just the conditions desired. There is a fine parade of March in Platte, a trace at Dodge City and a light rain at Texas. There are light rains in Ohio Valley. With these few exceptions it is fair and decidedly warmer It is favorable for Spring Wheat and for Corn and Oats.

Indications are the storm West will advance Eastward slowly accompanied by extensive showers. It will reach western lake region Saturday, Temperatures will be warmer in Missouri River Saturday, but will rise in western lake region and central valleys

A Minneapolis dispatch, Thursday, said: "Seeding in North Dakota is quite general to-day. The weather is perfect. Seeding somewhat backward, but really not exceedingly late. They have sown Wheat as late as last year and had a good crop harvest With a continuation of the present weather seeding will be general all over the North-west next week"

After hearing the report of the executive committee on the result of its three days' conference with the advisory board of the Masters and Pilots, the meeting of the Lake Carriers' Association in Cleveland, Thursday, adjourned to allow time to obtain the proposition of the Masters and Pilots for a season contract and wage scale and issued notices to that effect. The situation now is a complete deadlock.

The London Statist in its issue of April 16, in commenting upon the dividend of 2 per cent declared on Reading second preferred stock, says: "Last year, when the dividend was made with certainty with respect to the future, there are factors in the environment of the Reading Company which render not only possible, but probable, the maintenance of permanent dividends upon its preferred stocks.

A Duluth party who was in Chicago, Thursday, said: "By Saturday night, with the present weather, 90 per cent of the seeding in the Northwest will have been finished, and it will all be in by May 10, and the acreage will be largely increased. I believe farmers in the Northwest have more Wheat than usual at this season. I expect that the three Northwestern States will raise 50,000,000 bu more Wheat than last year."

It was announced, Wednesday, that the Colonial National Bank of Boston will be absorbed by the newly organized Commonwealth Trust Company. The plan provides for the liquidation of the bank and for its president's appointment as one of the trust company. The bank's board of directors also will serve in a similar capacity in the trust corporation. The trust company will have $1,000,000 capital and a surplus of $500,000.

The Buenos Ayres Standard of March 20 says: "The Chief of the Division of Agriculture, Dr. Lahitte, has informed the Minister of that department that it would be necessary to postpone for the want of railway wagons for the transport of the Grain accumulated at the stations, and that the warehouses and 'tinglados,' having been insufficient to protect the enormous piles of bags from the frequent rains of the past few weeks, thousands of tons of Grain have been rendered unfit for exportation or for home consumption."

The first seeding report issued by the Canadian Pacific Railway's crop inspectors from stations on the main line and the branches in the central division The report deals with the commencement of seeding at points ranging in latitude from Portage la Prairie to Calgary. The general tone of the report is to the effect that seeding will start on May 1, and there is some complaint of delay the ground being too wet. The reports also encourage a large increase in the acreage. Spring operations are almost two weeks later than last year.

It is reliably reported that the Wisconsin railroads will return to the practice of giving free re-consignment to Stock shipped over their lines. Stock to the market. Opposition to the practice originated in the Southwest, where it is claimed this privilege has been abused by Stock shippers to some local ends. It is said, had, sold these tickets to country merchants and others who desired to go to the markets Much pressure has been brought by Stock shippers in the Missouri River to have the privilege restored, and the Wisconsin lines have yielded.

The Brunswick and Birmingham Railroad has been placed in the hands of a receiver upon petition of E. C. Machen, formerly president of the road. The order was granted by Judge Speer of the United States Court for the Southern district of Georgia on Saturday at Macon. Machen alleges that the road is indebted to him in the amount of $5,000 for services rendered. The Atlantic and Birmingham is restrained from turning over securities of the Brunswick and Birmingham to the Knickerbocker Trust Company of New York.

The current gossip in New York is that many of the officers of the subsidiary companies in the United States Steel Corporation have been ordered out their holdings of the preferred, with the expectation of buying back at lower prices, or they have sold the stock "short." One prominent Pittsburg Steel maker is reported to be "short" of a large block of the stock several points below its present quotation The practical men who are most familiar with the steel business are at present the most pessimistic prophets of the immediate future of the Steel corporation.

Gross earnings of all railroads in the United States reporting to Dun for April to date are $12,039,285, a decrease of 0.6 per cent, as compared with the corresponding period last year. Practically the same roads in March reported a loss in earnings of 1.3 per cent. There is clearly a loss in tonnage, but this is not surprising, considering the established facts in leading trades. The Grain movement West is less than in April of last year, while the coal movement Eastward is probably less than one-half the total movement a year ago. There is some irregularity in earnings this year, almost all the gross reports losses.

New York Central Railroad interests declare that they have not received from the stand taken regarding the price of Steel rails. They have asserted for some time that $28 00 per ton was an extravagant figure, and that they would do with their present supply for the needs of this year, rather than pay this price. Early in the year they contracted with the Lackawanna Steel Company for 10,000 tons of rails at $28 00 per ton. The amount was absolutely necessary and was purchased only for that reason. They now say that the lines of New York Central east of Buffalo can get along without more rails for 1904 if they have to, and that they will not be large buyers until the price is lowered.

Judge MacMahon of Toronto has granted an order to wind up the Canada Woolen Mills Company. There were creditors' claims presented to the court amounting to over $60,000, besides a claim by the Dominion Government for $50,000. Under the powers of E. T. Carter issued a writ against the company for $29,000 on notes for goods supplied. This company recently decided to sell their plants at Hespeler, Carleton Place, and Lambeth They claim to have been doing business at a loss for several years because of the British preference One of the directors is quoted as saying that creditors will get in full, but that shareholders will get nothing, losing $1,000,000. The total claims represented in court amounted to $600 000, including $80,000 by Long & Bisby of Hamilton.

A prominent Pittsburg Steel interest is quoted as saying: "Bessemer Pig iron is being shaded, and prices in various lines are weakening. No open sales have been reported, but it is possible to secure finished material at concessions Orders from the West for Wire and Wire Nails have been materially reduced since last month. Certain offerings from the United States Steel corporation are somewhat discouraged over the outlook. Orders for March and April are satisfactory, but business during the third quarter of the present year will be light unless there is an increase in the demand very soon. Net earnings for April will be good, but many well posted men are of the opinion that the earnings will be much less than those for the second quarter will not be over $16,000,000. At Pittsburg even money has been offered that the next dividend on Steel preferred will be reduced."

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

CHICAGO, FRIDAY EVENING April 29, 1904.

The money market is easy, and rates were lowered. Loans are being made at 4 to 5 per cent, and the larger banks are well loaned up. They are making no complaint about demand, and claimed to be getting 4½ per cent in many instances for round lots. The small banks are not finding it as easy to keep their money employed, and occasionally shade rates. Bank reserves are not abnormally large, except in New York, where the surplus held by a few banks has accumulated materially for some time past. The light movement of Grain has cut off the demand for currency from the West and there is more money coming in than going out. In New York rates are 1 to 1½ per cent on the Stock Exchange and 3 to 4½ per cent on time loans. Gold exports exceeded $8,000,000, mostly Paris and about $35,000,000 is expected to be shipped before the movement is over to cover the Panama Canal payment.

New York exchange was firmer at 20c to 25c premium and closed at 25c.

Foreign exchange was irregular, with bankers supplying a good part of the demand. Shippers' sixty-day documentary sterling bills on London range at 484½ to 485 and closed at 484½.

Cotton in New York averaged higher. Crop reports were "bullish" and indicating an unfavorable start and the indications pointed to "bullish" developments in the old crop months without the menace of manipulation. Spot houses were good buyers of the near months and "shorts," commission houses and foreigners took new crop deliveries and prices responded more readily to the buying and the "bullish" influences, but at the last prices weakened on improved weather and the close was at losses of 23 to 154 points for the week.

Local Securities, although slow with a lower trend of values in the opening days of the week, became more active and a larger number of stocks were handled by traders, with irregularity during the closing days. The American Can Company's statement was a good one, showing about 5 per cent earned on preferred stock, and the buying induced by its publication lifted prices over a point. Biscuit shares were well held. Diamond Match was not materially affected by an adverse decision in its suit against the Union Match Company, of Duluth, to restrain its use of machines under claims of an infringement of Patents. Pneumatic Tool and Illinois Brick were advanced. The Brick company reports sales 25 per cent in excess of last year's. Bonds were more active and firm.

Stocks in New York, although in the hands of professionals, sold to a higher range, but closing figures on the entire list were at moderate losses for the week. Large exports of Gold to Paris had no effect. The "bear" interests were aggressive in Steel shares but failed to accomplish much in the way of declines. Crop reports were not taken with alarm by Wall Street, and it is disposed to wait better weather before making a decided move on either side, and there has not been enough sunshine to fully determine how the crop will be later, and Wall Street is never pessimistic over crop scares in April. There were no striking developments in the Industrial shares except in Steel, which shows a material decrease in business although the Iron industry of the country is in fairly good condition. Total sales on the New York Stock Exchange for the week were 1,068,000 shares, compared with 1,726,000 shares the previous week, and 2,159,000 shares last year.

Business with the mercantile interests is spotted. Improved weather in some sections brought more demand for goods, but purchases were in small lots. The season is late and the spring business in Dry Goods has fallen below last year's, but in Clothing and Shoes there is little change. The reassorting trade that usually comes at this time is extremely light, as interior merchants who bought early in the season in anticipation of a large business have not realized it. The unseasonable weather retarded purchases by consumers. The buying of pig Iron was confined mostly to small lots, but there are indications that the United States Steel Company will be in the market again shortly for 100,000 tons or more, and prices show a steady undertone. Production is large, 90 per cent of the producing capacity of the country being in operation. Finished materials were taken hold of fairly by consumers. One lot of 4,000 tons of structural material was placed in Chicago. Implement makers are buying bar Iron and Steel for next year's requirements. They have had a good spring business and export sales of implements have been large. A statement of car purchases by railroads of the country show a decrease of 74 per cent as compared with the buying in 1902, when more orders were placed for cars in October of that year than for the greater part of the past year. Light and heavy Hardware passed into consumption freely and prices were steadily held. Lumber and building materials were moved more actively, improved weather being the stimulus. In other lines of the jobbing trade the distribution of goods was fair. Collections are running a little slow.

COMMERCIAL.

Business in commercial circles on the Chicago Board of Trade was fair during the week just closed. Outside interest was rather more marked, orders from the larger speculative centers showing some increase in numbers. Local professional operators were more aggressive in backing their ideas as to future values and the leading markets experienced frequent fluctuations. Transactions in Grain are still confined chiefly to May, July and September contracts and prospective supplies, weather conditions and the situation abroad the principal dominating influences. Board of Trade authorities this week came to an amicable agreement with the State Inspection Department over the selection of the Appeal Committee. The State Inspection officials have agreed the Board of Trade shall select two members of the Appeals Committee. This accomplishes something that the Board of Trade authorities have been seeking for a long time and is expected to solve the question of the Board of Trade having something to do as to the manner of grading the Grain here. The United States Supreme Court on Monday consented to review an important bucket shop case. This will result in the Board of Trade getting a decision from the highest court in the land on the points which are so important to the institution, its right to control its own quotations and its right to withhold from bucket shops. The decision will involve a distinction between the Exchange and the illegitimate concerns which use its quotations for irregular purposes. The Washington decision, which, it is hoped, will be within a year, will settle all the claims for the whole country and for all time.

Crop news from abroad the past week indicated conditions were more satisfactory. Favorable progress was reported with spring crops in the United Kingdom, but the condition of Winter Wheat is said to be very poor. Reports from France, Germany, Spain, Italy and Bulgaria were quite favorable. Rain is needed in Roumania, but some improvement in the crop outlook was reported in Russia. A good crop is assumed in India, and in Australia further good rains have occurred, which will leave the ground in good condition for seeding.

In this country the weather was more seasonable, but temperatures still below normal for this time of the year. Growing crops are making only fair progress, but Oats seeding and Corn planting made fair headway. Through the Central West the Winter Wheat plant is making slow growth, the season being late. Floods in the Southwest caused a moderate area to be abandoned, while in the West the outlook is more assuring. Advices from the Pacific Coast continue favorable. In Indiana and Ohio a considerable area is being devoted to other crops. In the Southern States Corn has suffered some by low temperatures, and the stands are small and irregular. In the Northwest seeding made fair progress, excepting the Red River Valley, where excessive moisture has retarded such work. Seeding, too, was well advanced in Manitoba and a large area will no doubt be put in this Spring. Conservative authorities in the Northwest predict the yield in the three States will exceed that of last year by 50,000,000 bu.

The movement of Grain from the farms and interior elevators was again light the past week. This is naturally due to the fact that farmers were anxious to take advantage of the bright days for field work, and then again the late depreciation in values made holders reluctant in parting with their Grain held at country stations. In the Southwest offerings were meager, and the same was true in the Northwest. In many sections growers are very independent in their views. The movement of Grain Eastward was moderate. The larger shippers are still inclined to await the opening of navigation. Western Grain rates were lowered and Eastern rates advanced this week, the same to become operative on May 2. Charters were limited, though considerable Grain is under contract. The rates offered are satisfactory, but the trouble has been to get the captains to come down from upper lake ports. The straits are expected to be open by May 1 and navigation set in by May 10. The export movement was light, but the amount of Flour and Wheat on ocean passage continues to enlarge, while that of Corn is being reduced. Bookings at the seaboard were most limited. According to the official weekly supply of Grain in the United States and Canada, compiled by the Secretary of the Chicago Board of Trade, there were decreases in the supplies of Wheat, Corn, Oats and Rye, and an increase in the stock of Barley. Bradstreet's exhibited a moderate increase in the stocks of Wheat, while Corn and Oats decreased, compared with rather liberal decreases for the corresponding week in 1903.

The principal speculative markets on 'Change were fairly active the past week. Wheat, Corn Oats attracted a good deal of attention, and rather a good business was reported in Hog Products. The feeling was again quite mixed, and sentiment very decided and fluctuations frequent. Weather conditions and conflicting crop advices were again the dominant influence in the Grain markets. Outside interest was rather more marked in all cereals, and locally the trade was more general. Operators at the same time were more inclined to accept moderate profits, getting in and out of the the leading markets, causing rather sharp changes. Prices averaged higher than the close last Friday. Seeding operations in the Northwest was a potent factor in Wheat. Hog Products were moderately active, and prices on the whole ranged higher. Packers were again on both sides of the various markets. Considerable business in the way of transferring May contracts to July at the current differences, and more interest noted in September. Values at times were affected to some extent by the action in Grain. Packing of the West for the week exhibited an increase of 40,000 Hogs compared with the returns for the corresponding week in 1903. The aggregate for the season to date is now reported at 3,630,000 Hogs, compared with 2,820,000 for the corresponding week last year.

There was a fair trade in cash Grain, the demand for most descriptions showing some improvement. Offerings were very moderate and sales more readily effected. Wheat was in limited supply with the inquiry fair. A few small parcels of No. 2 Red were sold, some of it equal to 18½c over May free on board cars, to go to outside milling points. No. 1 Northern sold at ½@¾c over the May. Corn was in good demand and yellow still commands a considerable premium over mixed. Several cargoes were taken by Eastern buyers, the market being on a legitimate shipping basis. Oats, too, met with an increased demand and were scarce. Rye was much stronger and very little offering. Malting Barley was firm. Hay was quiet. Demand only fair and the offerings a little larger. Prices comparatively steady. Grass Seeds were steady and Flax was easy. The cash demand for Hog Products was rather light and the offerings only moderate. Exporters were not inclined to do much business, and buyers for the home trade accepted only small quantities. Holders were rather firm in their views. Hogs in moderate supply and prices easier. Cattle were marketed in fair numbers and prices favored buyers. Sheep were in fair supply with prices comparatively steady.

FREIGHTS—Eastbound rail rates on Grain are to be reduced 2½c on domestic and 1½c on export shipments on May 2. Western Grain rates are being adjusted in a way that will require a reduction of local rates through Iowa. The new tariff is as follows:

To—	From Chicago. Domestic.	Export.	From Miss. River. Domestic.	Export.
Boston............	19½	14½	21½	16
New York.........	17½	13½	19½	16
Philadelphia	15½	12½	17½	15
Baltimore	14½	11	16½	14½
Newport News...	14½	11	16½	14½

Flour rates are to be 17½c domestic and 15c for export. Provisions are 30c per 100 lbs, Chicago to New York.

Rail rates at and east of Buffalo to the seaboard are to be restored April 30 pending a settlement by the Inter-State Commerce Commission as arbitrator. The rates to New York will be 4c per bu on Wheat, 3¾c on Corn, 3½c on Barley and 3c on Oats.

Ocean rates on Grain are slow and easy with very little demand. Rates on Grain are ½@¾d per bu from New York and ½d from Boston. Through rate on Wheat from Chicago to Liverpool is 10 ½c per bu and Corn 10¼c. Flour 19c per 100 lbs and Provisions 35¾c per 100 lbs.

A little chartering has been under way at 2c for Corn and 1½c for Oats to Buffalo. Straits have not opened and the Lake Carriers' Association has not adjusted its labor troubles.

FLOUR—Prices have been marked up 10c all around during the past week. While the demand is not an active one the inquiry is much better, coming largely from those sections of Indiana and Ohio where many bad crops reports come from and from the East. The reselling of Flour seems to be about over. Supplies in jobbers' hands are growing smaller day by day and as local millers are running only on part time and consignments almost nil, and buying as well as the selling side of the market is becoming more anxious. The large department stores at Chicago report, their stocks decreasing. The manufacturers stocks are also decreasing and the outlook is for a better market all around. The lateness of the seeding in the Northwest, which it is said will not be finished before May 15 has had more or less to do with the better Flour market. The interior millers of the Northwest and Southwest are offering Flour sparingly and want to be assured as to the price. As to the export trade the inquiries are more numerous and small lots of Flour are selling day to day but generally speaking the bids from across the water out of line. Dornbusch's Buda Pesth correspondent, writing under date of April 12, says of Flour: "We have had another week of complete absence of business. No transactions of any importance have occurred, and the deliveries on old purchases were almost suspended. This has led to a further increase of the stock of Flour, notwithstanding the curtailment of the output. Exporters have taken a wagon load here and there." The following table will show the revised figures for the week:

MILLSTUFFS—Ruled very quiet during the past week for want of offerings. There has been a good demand, and there would have been no difficult in selling had there been any on sale. Feeling firm. Bran in bulk quotably $17 00@17 50 per ton and in 100-lb sacks, sacks included, about $18 00@18 50 per ton.

WINTER WHEAT—There has not been much doing in this market during the past week, but this was owing partly to the very small receipts, as well as to the very firm feeling on the part of holders. Only a few cars of fresh receipts were offered on the market and these were taken by the usual buyers millers and shippers. The in store lots of Wheat have been held very firmly and generally above the views of buyers, and in the case of No. 2 Red practically off of the market. Buyers bid 10c over May prices without getting any of this Wheat. A small lot sold free on board 13½c over May. Only 261,000 bu No. 2 Red remains in the public elevators here, against 1,160,000 bu in store one year ago. With so light a stock in store and virtually none of this grade coming, holders expect to realize a greater premium, believing that the Wheat will be wanted by millers very badly before new Wheat arrives that will be suitable for grinding. However, the high premiums asked has driven some of the millers to using Hard Winter, sales of which were made in store. Crop conditions do not show much of any change, there being some improvement in the Southwest, caused by rains, while in the South conditions are no better. The receipts for the week aggregated 47 cars against 113 cars the previous week. There were withdrawn from public elevators 22,200 bu, and from private warehouse 22 cars. For No. 2 Red in store 1c over May price was bid and 12@14c premium asked, and on this basis ranged at 98¾@98c, to 99c@$1 02, but only one sale made, while fresh arrivals free on board ranged at $1 00@1 05 depending on quality, with sale of a car load at about $1 05. No. 3 Red fresh receipts free on board ranged at 95c@$1 03. No. 4 Red sold at 80@85c. No. 2 fresh receipts free on board ranged nominally 88@92c. No. 3 Hard fresh receipts free on board sold at 85@88c and No. 4 Hard at 8 @85c.

SPRING WHEAT—Trade has been of a limited character most of the past week and prices show a decline of 1@2c, but ruled stronger and the decline was recovered. A little milling demand existed—it has been of a limited character. The few cars of fresh arrivals were taken from day to day, and occasionally a small lot was sold to be taken out of elevator. There was no shipping business, but the high prices asked for Winter Wheat turned millers to No. 1 Northern, of which a few lots were sold at the close. The receipts have been small and scarcely enough Wheat arriving to make a market for the fresh arrivals. The receipts of the week aggregated 18 cars, against 55 cars the previous week. There were withdrawn from public elevators 35,000 bu. and 27 cars from private warehouses. No. 1 Northern in store ranged about the same as May until Friday when sales were made at ¼@¾c premium, and was quotable at 85½@86c to 85⅞@90¼c, and fresh arrivals free on board nominally 8 @95c. No. 2 Northern fresh arrivals free on board ranged nominally 85@92c. No. 3 Spring fresh arrivals free on board ranged nominally at 85@92c for ordinary to choice hard variety. No 4 Spring fresh receipts sold at 65@86c for ordinary to choice.

REGULAR WHEAT—Was fairly active and decidedly nervous the past week. While the trade is still mainly local in character there was more evidence of outside interest this week and sentiment was greatly divided. Fluctuations were sharp and frequent, with the close showing the May 1c higher, while July gained ⅜@¾c, and September lost ⅛c. The situation at the opening of the week was weak and lower prices were established, May selling off to 85¼c, while old July touched 81⅞c, and new September 78¾c. The price was helped only temporarily by the floods in the Southwest, the "bearish" statistics and weakness abroad, both in the United Kingdom and on the Continent, more than offsetting the effect of the same. Weather conditions in the Northwest, too, were more favorable for seeding operations, and this fact added to the "bearish" sentiment. Fine weather was reported at Winnipeg, with seeding going on in most places in that section. A Minneapolis dispatch, Tuesday, said: "Conditions are fine for seeding. Prospects are for an increased acreage, there being less alarm about the Wheat not getting seeded before May 1." One report from Minneapolis said: "Wheat seeding will be finished later than usual, but observers who have studied the weather and crops for many years believe that since buds have not yet burst nor other vegetation advanced, there has been no loss to the farmers in this delay, and that when the growing season opens seeding will be completed and the plant ready to take advantage of the weather." Weekly world's shipments were about as anticipated at 10,511,000 bu, compared with 9,352,000 bu the previous week, and 11,136,000 bu one year ago. Quantity on ocean passage increased 2,600,000 bu to 48,960,000 bu, which is 15,296,000 bu larger than on same date in 1903. The visible supply decreased 173,000 bu, compared with 1,706,000 bu decrease same week in 1903. Total is now 31,190,000 bu, against 35,565,000 bu in 1903 and 40,449,000 bu in 1902. Local public stocks decreased 15,600 bu, and are now 2,658,000 bu, against 5,592,000 bu same date last year. Stocks here in all positions reported at 4,589,000 bu, against 4,647,000 bu last week, and 8,255,000 bu one year ago. Contract supplies decreased 48,115 bu, and are now 913,502 bu, against 2,846,866 bu same date in 1903. Bradstreet's available supply increased 878,000 bu, against 4,752,000 bu decrease one year ago. The break of 3c in May at Winnipeg and sharp declines in the Northwest, as well as Kansas City, started renewed selling pressure, and values turned decidedly weak. Around 83c for old July there was buying by prominent warehouse interests which caused "shorts" some uneasiness and there was a rush to cover, which advanced the price to 86½c. New September sold to 80⅞c and old to 82c. The Price Current, Modern Miller and Orange Judd Farmer reports were all construed as "bullish." One of the prominent houses at Duluth wrote as follows: "We need a new crop and need it badly, this year. We want no accident to either winter or spring crop, and neither outlook is good at present, but both possess qualities of restoration. Manitoba prices have suffered severely under liquidation. Their July Wheat, which sold at $1 10 last winter sold at 87c this week. They have a surplus pressing for export, and it has depressed their market below American parity. We anticipate no such pressure in our section, as we believe the American millers need all the Duluth Wheat available." Private crop advices from Ohio and Indiana, as well as from Oklahoma and Texas, came in a most sensational strain and also imparted a more "bullish" tone to the market. The Government weekly crop bulletin was construed as "bullish", claiming that over the northern portion of the Spring Wheat region practically no seeding has been done, and in North Dakota, where about half the crop was sown at this time last year, most of the low lands are flooded, and with favorable weather cannot be worked for one to two weeks. Seeding is generally well advanced over the southern portion, being completed over a considerable area in South Dakota and Iowa. Very favorable reports, however, respecting Winter Wheat were received from Nebraska and Kansas, and an improvement is noted in portions of Oklahoma. In Missouri the crop has made slow growth and in the States east of the Mississippi River the outlook is less favorable than previously reported, although warm weather caused some improvement in Ohio. Large acreage in Indiana is being devoted to other crops. On the Pacific Coast the crop has improved. Broomhall's weekly foreign crop summary said: "United Kingdom—Spring crops are making favorable progress, but condition Winter Wheat still rather poor. France, Germany, Spain, Italy, Bulgaria, North Africa—Crop outlook continues quite favorable. Roumania Reports, on the whole, are generally favorable, although mention continues to be made of rain being wanted. Russia—Crop reports still of a varied nature, but generally improving. Interior sellers holding their Wheat firmly. India—Latest advices confirm earlier reports of good crop, but sellers less pressing in offering their Wheat for sale. Australia—Further good rains have occurred for properly preparing the ground for seeding." The Mark Lane Express of April 11 said of the crop situation in the United Kingdom: "Since April came in the weather has been very much in accord with farmers' desires, for there has been plenty of opportunity to get on with spring work, and at the same time the winds have been keen enough to prevent any undue precocity in vegetation." Receipts at primary markets this week fell short of last year, and the total between July 1 and April 25 aggregates 206,978,000 bu, as against 232,111,000 bu in 1902-03, and 217,150,000 bu in 1901-02. Exports this week were small at 1,010,000 bu, and the total since July 1st 141,714,000 bu, against 186,692,000 bu in 1902-03. Bookings at the seaboard were limited to Manitoba lots, which were much lower in price. Argentine shipments were again liberal at 3,424,000 bu, and the total since January 1st aggregates 47,820,000 bu, compared with 29,866,000 bu one year ago. The visible there is reported at 4,418,000 bu, against 5,560,000 bu last week, and 4,008,000 bu one year ago. The following table exhibits the exports of Breadstuffs from the following countries from July 1, 1903, to April 23, 1904, compared with the corresponding period in 1902-03:

CORN—The trade in Corn the past week was of fair volume, and the market active and considerably unsettled at times. The feature at the start was the further weakness in May, which at one time was down to 45c, a break of 12¼c from the high point a while back. At one time the price was 2c under the July. July ranged 46⅝@49⅜c and closed at 48½c bid, or ¼@⅜c better than last week. September sold between 46½c and 49c and rested at 48@48⅛c, as against 47⅞@48c last Friday. The situation the opening days was weak and liquidation by tired "longs" a feature. The better weather for the movement, fair quality of the arrivals and generally "bearish" statistics were among the depressing influences. The principal May "long" sold that delivery freely and affected the entire list. May sold to 45c, July to 46¾c and September to 46½c before the break was checked. Around these figures "shorts," both large and small, came into the market and buying for investment was more in evidence. Prominent professionals become more friendly to the market and the buying was of good character; May rallied to 47¾c, July to 49⅜c and the September to 49c. The big interests, so right on the short side of Corn, were evidently satisfied to take profits. One professional and his partners were large buyers on Tuesday, a million or more, and influential houses advised covering. This interest has been astonishingly right on the coarse Grain, shorting Corn at high prices when an elevator concern was a "bull" in it, and holding to the "short" side even when it looked as if there might be a fight on in the May. The late steady decline brought the market down to a shipping basis and was one of the "bull helps, also the talk of delayed planting. Argentine crop news, too, was not of the best, the quality of the new yield being poor, owing to excessive rains at harvest time. The Times of Argentina of 14th ult. said that the prospects for the coming Corn crop are not quite so bright, the general impression being that it will fall short of last year's crop. Other advices from Buenos Ayres to the 18th of March report that the Corn crop is expected to be a very good one this season. The River Plate Review of March 12 said: "The harvesting of the Corn crop has recently commenced, and the heavy rains that have fallen during the past week have been detrimental to the crop and also to work. In the upper Provinces the rains have been so heavy that the rivers have overflown their banks, and much damage has been done. The Buenos Ayres Herald of March 20 said: "The result of the Corn crop in Santa Fe in general is satisfactory, the only apparent drawback at present being a scarcity of labor; colonists are compelled to pay large wages and offer special inducements in order to obtain hands. World's shipments were 1,907,000 bu, compared with 1,874,000 bu the previous week and 2,972,000 bu one year ago. Quantity on ocean passage decreased 1,457,000 bu to 6,331,000 bu, as against 7,611,000 at same date in 1903. The visible supply decreased 392,000 bu, against 510,000 bu decrease same week in 1903. Total is now 8,866,000 bu, against 7,731,000 bu in 1903 and 6,888,000 bu in 1902. Local public stocks increased 288,000 bu and now include 5,120,000 bu, against 2,657,000 bu same date in 1903. Contract stocks increased 340,961 bu and now include 4,822,804 bu, compared with 2,005,453 bu same date one year ago. Stocks here in all positions are reported at 9,064,000 bu, against 8,944,000 bu last week and 4,242,000 bu one year ago. Bradstreet's available supply decreased 766,000 bu, compared with 1,231,000 bu decrease same week in 1903. Foreign markets showed no decided tendency either way. Receipts at Liverpool were moderate and the stock reported 1,132,000 bu, compared with 1,140,000 bu last week and 363,000 bu same time one year ago. The Government weekly weather crop bulletin was construed as "bullish," stating but little planting done during the week in Corn owing to low temperature east of the Mississippi River. No planting begun in Iowa and Nebraska, north of Ohio River. The Price Current, however, predicted a large area of Corn would be planted this spring. Receipts at Western primary markets were fair and local arrivals this week 1,144 cars, with 237 cars or 20 per cent contract. Last year for the same week 748 cars were inspected in and only a limited quantity was up to the speculative standard. Western freight rates were advanced and Eastern rates reduced somewhat the past week, the new tariff being operative May 2. Shippers could possibly have done a larger business but for the scarcity of lake tonnage. Exports were small the past week at 190,000 bu and the total since July 1 aggregates 48,912,000 bu, compared with 55,315,000 bu for the corresponding period in 1902-3. The new business booked at the seaboard was small. Argentina shipped 592,000 bu this week, making 11,032,000 bu since January 1, as against 2,063,000 bu for the same period last year. The visible there is now reported 848,000 bu, compared with 521,000 bu last week and 742,000 bu one year ago. Car lots sold well this week and yellow Corn still commands a good premium, as will be noted in the table on the following page.

OATS—Started weak with a declining tendency on liquidating sales and in sympathy with other Grains, but turned strong and advanced decidedly under covering by the largest "shorts," who took the "long" side after getting in. The selling pressure was reduced and the scramble to buy on the part of the smaller "shorts" made a rapid advance of 2½c to 4½c from the low point. The entire list moved up and conditions suddenly turned from "bearish" to "bullish." Receipts are running very small, being only 236 cars for the week, compared with 346 cars for last week and 939 cars for last year. Interior holdings have been reduced, which accounts for the small receipts. Stocks here are being moved out, over 1,000,000 bu of Standard Oats are under orders for shipment and 350,000 bu were loaded into steamers for shipment at the opening of navigation. There was free cancellation of receipts in public houses and stocks in public and private houses decreased 630,000 bu last week and are 4,228,000 bu. Stocks of contract Oats decreased 259,000 bu, and are 2,680,000 bu. Rail rates to the East were reduced equal to ½c a bu. Local consumers bought small lots from store, as they were unable to supply their wants on track. In the sample market offerings were light, not enough for local requirements and prices were off with futures about 1½c early, but reacted 3c. Exports for the week were 121,400 bu, compared with 188,000 bu last year. The visible supply decreased 172,000 bu and was 9,912,000 bu, compared with 8,504,000 bu last year.

RYE—There has been only a light trade in this market during the past week and no change of consequence occurred in prices until Thursday when the market suddenly advanced 2c for July and 4c for May delivery. Interest in the market has been lacking, and at times quotations were entirely nominal, but on Thursday some buying orders came on the market, and under light offerings prices advanced easily. No shipping business was reported, although several round lots were withdrawn from elevators, possibly on some direct transaction or moved out by the holders. Certainly nothing was done in public. Millers and manufacturers seemed to be in need of very little Rye, and taking the market all in all it has been very quiet. There has been no particular or special desire to sell and offerings were limited all week.

The less violent fluctuations in other Grains helped towards holding the market steady. The receipts for the week aggregated 15 cars, against 21 cars the previous week. There were 41,001 bu withdrawn from public elevators and 23 car loads and 5,600 bu taken from private warehouses. Export clearances from the seaboard none. Visible supply increased 26,000 bu and was reported at 1,043,000 bu, against 1,017,000 bu the previous week and 1,137,000 bu one year ago. The local stock in store was 335,000 and a year ago was 449,000 bu. No. 2 in store was nominally 68c to 70c and fresh arrivals free on board quotably about 67@70c No. 3 fresh receipts free on board sold at 63@68c. No. 4 sold at 56@62c. Future deliveries of No. 2 Rye trade has been light. May sold at 67c. then at 69c and later 71c bid. July sold at 64@66c.

BARLEY—There was only a small supply on the market the past week Arrivals were very moderate, and a part of the arrivals were delivered on previous sales or on to arrive sales. The offerings also comprised mainly car lots of low grade Barley and Screenings. Everything on sale worked off very smoothly. Gradually the feeling seemed to become stronger, with the result that there came about 2c advance in prices. Oats firmed up somewhat, and this kept mixers on the market Past accumulations of low grades have disappeared and the offerings came out of the daily arrivals. Malting Barley was actually scarce. So little of it offered that maltsters gave the market only passing attention They were at the same time willing to purchase, and the market was quotably firm, especially for good to choice quality. To arrive lots sparingly offered; when there were any they were firmly held. The visible supply exhibited 149,000 bu reduction, but it is still twice as large as a year ago, being 2,858,000 bu, compared with 1,356,000 bu the same time last year. Local regular stock decreased 19,687 bu, and 249,942 bu were reported; last year there was no stock left in public houses here. During the week 107 cars were inspected in, against 133 cars a week ago and 132 cars two weeks ago. Taken out 43,800 bu, the previous week 10,700 bu and two weeks ago 12,356 bu. Toward the end there was a range of prices for the several kinds as follows: Screenings 30@36c for poor to choice. Barley—low-grade feed or mixing at 30@36½c, outside good weight. Malting, low grade, 40@43c; fair to good sound, 45@48c; good color 50@55c, and fancy nominally above.

HAY—The receipts for the week were 4,238 tons, against 2,807 tons for the previous week. Shipments for the week were 161 tons, against 158 tons for the previous week. A quiet and steady market was experienced during the past week for Timothy and Prairie Hay. The receipts were only moderate, and a fair local demand existed for the best grades. Medium and common grades were a little slow. No inquiry on shipping account. Prices exhibit no material change. Quotations at the close ranged as follows: Choice Timothy, $14 00@14 50; No 1 Timothy. $12 50@13 00; No. 2 Timothy, $10 50@11 00; No. 3 Timothy, $8 50@10 50. Choice Prairie. $10 00@10 50; No. 1 Prairie, $9 00@9 50; No. 2 Prairie, $8 00@8 50; No. 3 Prairie, $7 00@7 50; No. 4 Prairie, $6 00@7 00. Inside prices on Prairie Hay for State and outside for Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa Hay. Sales ranged at $8 00@15 00 for poor to fancy Timothy, $6 00@7 50 for State and $8 00@10 50 for Arkansas, Kansas and Nebraska Prairie Hay. Straw was in good demand and light supply and prices higher. Rye Straw sold at $11 00, and Oat Straw at $6 50@7 00.

SEEDS—Firmness prevailed in the Timothy market and a fair degree of interest in new crop Seed was shown. All Grass Seeds were steady to firm, with offerings in every case very small. The business done in Flax was mainly in changing May to July. There was little else, and Flax prices, while tending down early, recovered later on.

Timothy—Movement fell off materially. This might be regarded as natural, for the season was getting late. Of fresh arrivals only a small quantity came on sale. Some stored lots came out, and were sold at the same time, such lots were usually very firmly held; most holders were not willing to accept current prices. The market generally was firm. There remained enough demand to absorb everything on sale. Seed of good quality especially was favored in the demand There developed about 5@10c advance in prices, after which for country lots there was a range as follows: Fair to good was 2 65@2 70, choice nominally $2 75@2 80, rough Seed $2 40@2 45, and country lots on the whole range $2 25@2 90 for poor to fancy—outside for fine, unhulled; extra fancy possibly a shade over, or up to $3 00. The contract grade was nominal early at $2 90, while later this figure was bid; nothing was done, for there was no desire to sell except at a high price, $3 05 being asked. More interest was centered about new-crop Seed, September delivery. For this there was an opening quotation of $3 20, with some sold, and later up to $3 30 was paid and bid.

Flax—The market after having been anchored for some time to about the same prices finally broke away, and the past week witnessed an irregular course. There was a dip of 1½@2c, and then a reaction. Final quotations were at 1@2c net improvement, for cash and near futures, and July finally closed 2½c better. There was some demand for latter, where May holders were seeking to change over. Changes from May to July were made at 2c premium for latter. Aside from this manner of trading very little was done. The changes in values were due to changes in the Northwest, rather than to the influence of supply and demand. Offerings in the regular way were exceedingly small. Arrivals light and hardly any cash Flax came on sale. There was no change in local stock last week. Northwestern visible supply showed about 10,000 bu net reduction; Duluth showing 106,000 bu increase, and Minneapolis 116,000 bu decrease. There were reported at Chicago 24,201 bu, against 87,065 bu a year ago. Duluth had 7,894,933 bu, and Minneapolis 831,152 bu. No. 1 cash ranged nominally at $1 00, to 98½c, to $1 01. No. 1 Northwestern was $1 06½ early, declined to to $1 05½c, and reacted to $1 08½. Nothing was done in Rejected; it was 97c@$1 00, then quoted at 95@97½c, and finally 96c@1 00, outside prices always for choice Northwestern. April delivery was quoted at $1 00, later at 98½c. and finally at $1 01. May was much the same, changing from $1 00½ to 98c, to $1 01. July was nominally $1 00½, to $1 00, to $1 01. September from nominal opening of $1 06, declined to $1 05½ asked, and then improved to $1 08 asked. Receipts in this market for the week were 20 cars, and output was 8,323 bu.

Clover—Posted movement of Colver was smaller than for several weeks. The market ruled exceedingly quiet. It is getting rather late in the season for Clover. Trade may continue in a small way for some time, but it is not expected to be important. Arrivals and offerings have been small. A steady market has remained and values were not subjected to any variations. Contract grade was entirely nominal at about $10 75 and Country lots common to choice, had a quotable range of $7 75@10 00; fancy above; mixed with Buckhorn or other weed Seeds, $7 00@8 25; poor, cleaned out of Timothy, very foul, down to $3 00@6 00. Such lots as usually come to market when ordinary good quotable at $8 50@9 50.

Other Seeds—Little was done. No change in prices took place. It was just such a market as has been experienced for some time past. An occasional lot of one kind of Seed or another would come on sale and go within the range of former prices. The offerings, at the same time, were of no significance Values quoted from day to day are in the table elsewhere given. Movement for the week, with comparisons, was as follows:

Two weeks ago	634 715
Same time last year	157,132

Buckwheat has remained nominal. The market was without offerings. Good quality was quotably $1 30.

COOPERAGE—Very little interest manifested in the Cooperage market, and trade extremely light. Offerings of all kinds were fair, but there was no particular demand from any source. Local packers not inclined to purchase, as they have ample supplies, and only accept lots where they are on the "bargain counter" Outside orders small. Ash Pork Barrels in limited request, and prices quotable at 80@82½c for small lots. Oak Pork Barrels were quiet and easy at 90@95c. Lard Tierces were dull and slow sale, and prices were quotable at $1 25@1 30. Iron-bound Lard Tierces were quiet, and quotable at $1 12½@1 15 for six hoop and $1 22½@1 25 for light hoop.

HOGS—A fairly good supply of Hogs was marketed during the week just closed—slightly larger than during the previous week—and the quality was fairly good. Receipts were mainly from sections where farmers are about over with their rush of spring work. Market in a general way was quite active. Packers purchased with considerable freedom, and shippers provided for a fair number of orders from the Eastern markets. The feeling was rather firm early in the week, and prices were fairly well supported temporarily. Later, there was less competition for the offerings, and a weaker feeling was developed. Prices gradually receded 15@20c, and the market closed rather steady at the decline. Sales during the week were made at $4 50@5 12½ for light, $4 50@5 00 for rough packing, $4 55@5 20 for mixed, and $4 75@5 25 for heavy packing and shipping lots, with the bulk of the sales at $4 50@5 10 for fair to good averages At the close about 4,000 Hogs remained in the pens unsold. Pigs were in good demand, and changed hands at $3 90@4 65, according to size and weight. Receipts of Hogs at the leading Western packing points were fairly liberal, and the quality generally improved.

PACKING—With a fairly good supply of Hogs at the Yards, and prices inclining in favor of buyers, there was a little more activity manifested at the packing houses, the manufacture of Products was somewhat enlarged. Mess Pork made in very small quantities. Other cuts of Pork made moderately. Lard produced rather freely, and the average yield was a trifle larger. Only a small proportion delivered in tanks. Domestic cuts of Hams were made in fair quantities, and only a small proportion was delivered from the block. Skinned Hams cut moderately, and chiefly cured by manufacturers. Foreign cuts of Hams neglected. Shoulders cut in only moderate quantities, and a fair proportion delivered from the block to the Fresh Meat trade. Picnic Hams made in fair quantities, and a moderate proportion delivered from the block. Long Clear Sides and Extra Long Clear Sides made in very small quantities. Short Clear Sides made sparingly. Extra Short Clear Sides cut in moderate quantities. Short Rib Sides made to some extent by the large houses who have outstanding contracts. Extra Short Rib Sides made in small quantities. Rough Sides met with some favor, and the production was slightly enlarged. Bellies made moderately. Backs cut in limited quantities. Plates and Butts made sparingly. Loins cut rather freely for current wants. Foreign fancy and special cuts of Meats neglected.

PROVISIONS—Rather a good speculative business was transacted in Hog Products during the past week. The feeling was somewhat unsettled and prices irregular—operators being between two fires—the stronger Grain markets on one side and the rather liberal receipts of Hogs, accompanied with lower prices, on the other side. Outside orders were fair, and not for very large quantities, and local speculators and packers were considerably interested in the market. It was evident that "shorts" were inclined to cover their outstanding contracts, and packers at times were disposed to purchase fair quantities At the advancing scale, it was evident that traders in moderate quantities were disposed to realize, and trading dragged somewhat. At outside figures there was some pressure to sell from miscellaneous sources, and a weak feeling was developed. Prices gradually receded on all the leading articles, and the market closed comparatively steady. Quite a good business was transacted in transfering contracts from May to July at the current differences Toward the close, trading in May slackened somewhat, and it was evident that contracts were evened up or provided for. Rather more doing in contracts for September. Hogs were fair supply, and prices inclined in favor of buyers, especially during the latter part of the week. Returns of the packing of the West for the week compared with corresponding week in 1904, exhibited an increase of 40,000 Hogs. Foreign Provision markets were not so strong, with light trading, and only slight changes to note in prices. Domestic markets were rather quiet with trading chiefly in small quantities. Supplies of all kinds are fairly liberal for the season of the year. Manufacture of all kinds were moderate. Receipts of Products from interior were fairly liberal, while the shipments were only moderately large. Exports for the week were not quite as large as reported for the corresponding week in 1903. There was a fair inquiry on shipping account, but buyers were a little slow to meet the views of sellers. Exporters appear to have withdrawn from the trade for the present, while merchants in the distributing markets were not disposed to purchase to any extent—merely providing for current wants. Holders not pressing much property for sale, though interior packers rather inclined to sell. Prices exhibited little change, and the volume of trade was moderate.

Pork—A good business was transacted in Mess Pork during the past week, but the feeling was somewhat unsettled. Offerings were moderately free and the demand was rather active A good share of the trading was in July contracts, though May met with some favor, and occasional trades were made for September. Transfers of contracts from May to July were made at 25@30c difference. Stock on hand quite liberal for the season of the year. Early in the week, the feeling was rather easy with a limited demand and prices ruled 7½@10c lower. At the reduction, there was less pressure to sell, while the demand from miscellaneous sources was quite good. Prices irregularly advanced 37½@12½c on the whole range. At the advanced, "longs" were inclined to realize, and a weaker feeling was developed. Prices settled back 52½@57½c, and the market closed comparatively steady. The demand on shipping account was moderate, and offerings were fair at about May figures. Some local packers accepted a few round lots for the jobbing trade. At the close cash lots were quotable at $11 70@11 75. Other cuts of Pork were called for moderately, and offerings were rather light. Prices were without material change.

Lard—A fairly good speculative trade was reported in the Lard market during the past week and the undertone in a general way was stronger than for the other speculative articles. The production was fair and stocks on hand are moderately large for the season of the year. Foreign markets were stronger and prices in that quarter were slightly higher. Domestic markets steadier. Offerings in a general way were not very free. while a good miscellaneous demand prevailed, though somewhat spasmodic. "Longs" realized on moderate quantities toward the close, while "shorts" and packers were credited with purchases early in the week. Trading in May slackened somewhat, while July met with considerable favor, and scattering trades were made in September. Transfers of contracts from May to July were made at 15@17½c difference. Early in the week the feeling was not very firm, though the changes in prices were slight. Later, the demand was quite brisk, and prices irregularly advanced 25@30c on the whole range. Toward the close, the feeling was easier with some pressure to sell, and prices settled back 27½@30c, and the market closed comparatively steady. Inquiry on shipping account was light, and offerings were moderate. A few trades made at about May figures for regular -closing at $6 57½@6 60. Refined Lard was in moderate demand, and a few sales were made at prices not made public. Loose lots were in rather good request, but the offerings were limited. Quotable at 55@57½c discount on July figures, and closed at 55c discount. Leaf Lard was in fairly good demand and a few trades were made at $6 06¼@6 12½, and closed steady at $6 06¼ Neutral was in only moderate request, and offerings were fair. Market was rather steady and prices quotable at $7 12½@7 25 for No. 1, and $6 87½@7 00 for No. 2

Short Rib Sides—Rather a good business was transacted in Short Rib Sides during the past week, more particularly in contracts for July. Offerings were moderately free at times, and the demand was fairly active, especially from "shorts." Outside orders were not very large, while local operators were considerably interested in the market. Manufacture of Product was moderate. Transfers of contracts from May to July were made at 17½@20c difference. Rather more doing in September contracts. Early in the week, the feeling was not very strong, and there was a little pressure to sell. Prices declined 5@7½c on the whole range. At the decline, the demand improved in a general way, while there was less pressure to sell, and prices were advanced 25@27½c, with frequent fluctuations at the advancing scale. Toward the close, there was some inclination to realize, and a weak feeling was developed. Prices gradually receded 25@30c, and the market closed steady at inside figures. Demand on shipping account was light and offerings were moderate. At the close, cash lots were quotable at $6 12½@6 25, according to weight.

Green Meats—Trade was moderate in the market for Green Meats during the past week, and there were no particular changes to note. Offerings were moderate, and the demand from all sources was somewhat limited, and generally for small quantities Local curers were backward about purchasing, and outside orders were small. Prices ruled rather steady. Hams were in rather light request and prices ruled steady. Skinned Hams were in moderate request and prices were a little more favorable to sellers. Shoulders were in limited demand, and prices favored sellers. Picnic Hams were called for sparingly and prices were a trifle higher. Bellies were in small demand and prices ruled steady.

Pickled Meats—Less interest was manifested in the market for Pickled Meats during the past week. The domestic demand was moderate, and for small quantities. Export demand has fallen off, and advices from abroad indicated an easier feeling in that quarter. Supplies of all kinds are quite large for season of the year, but holders are not pressing much property for sale. Hams were in fair request, especially the medium and heavy averages, and prices were unchanged. Skinned Hams were in fair demand, with moderate offerings, and prices ruled about ⅛c higher. Shoulders were called for in small quantities and prices ruled steady. Picnic Hams were in rather good demand and prices favored sellers. Bellies were called for sparingly at about former figures.

Dry Salted Meats—Trade in Dry Salted Meats was on a limited scale during the past week. Orders were moderate, and for small quantities, while there was no particular pressure to sell. Exporters were slow to take hold, and the domestic inquiry was comparatively light Holders were rather firm in their views, owing to the stronger tone to the speculative markets. Supplies of all kinds are quite large. Shipments to foreign markets were fair. Foreign cuts of Hams were quiet and prices nearly nominal. Shoulders were in light request and prices inclined in favor of buyers. Long Clear Sides and Extra Long Clear Sides were inactive and prices entirely nominal.
